Rural Youths Become Foreign Ambassadors

The season has arrived when International Farm Youth Exchange delegates spread good will among farm families throughout the world. Four "IFYE's" from Michigan are already abroad, while a fifth will leave in September. Four foreign visitors recently arrived here.

"Success of the IFYE program helped encourage the Peace Corps," Mary Woodward, assistant state 4-H Club leader at Michigan State University, points out.

IFYE is a people-to-people program financed by 4-H Clubs, the Michigan 4-H Foundation and free-will contributions. The National 4-H Club Foundation conducts the effort in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service.

The nation-wide program has "exchanged" about 2,750 young people over its 15 years. About 20,000 families have been hosts to the delegates. A total of 61 Michigan youths have gone to some 4 countries, while 119 exchangees from about 50 countries have lived with about 330 families in the state.

Michigan delegates who left this month include Sharon Ries, Tecumseh, to Formosa; Beverly Malnar, Ewen, to Japan; Jeannie Stewart, Cheboygan, to Turkey; and Ferdinand Thar, Decatur, to Israel. They will return home next December and January.

Robert Harter, Carson City, will go to Nepal in September.

Visitors from abroad in the IFYE program this summer will be members of farm families from England, Ireland, India and France.

State 4-H Club conference at

They will attend the annual Michigan State University in July.

Juveniles Give Entertainment for Lenawee Pomona

The Juveniles presented a program for the Lenawee County Pomona Grange held at the Lime Creek Grange hall June 13. June being Juvenile month the program was in charge of Mrs. Lyle Whelan, County Juvenile Matron.

It included a vocal duet by Denise and Keith Hodges from Gorman grange.

The program was in the form of an imaginary trip through Holiday Time for the year.

The first number sung by a group from Tipton Grange was entitled "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" represented Valentines Day in February. Brenda Allen played a saxaphone solo "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover" for St. Patricks Day in March.

For April, the "Easter Parade" was sung by a group of girls wearing Easter bonnets. For May, "M-O-T-H-E-R" sung by the group. For June, a poem was read by Linda Beebe of Rome grange entitled "When Pa was a Boy."

For July, Shirley Allen and Karen Davenport played a clarinet duet, "Battle Hymn of the Republic". For August, Greg Luce played "Home on the Range" on the piano.

School Days was sung by the group for September. For Thanksgiving Day in November, they sang "Count Your Blessings."

For December, they sang "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer." The program was concluded by "Auld Lang Syne" for New Years Eve.

The Juveniles were taken down stairs for games and prizes.

The regular meeting of Pomona was held and the memorial was presented by the Pomona officers.

'Veteran of the Year' Sought

Michigan's 1,500 local veterans posts were urged today to rush nominations for the 1962 "Veteran of the Year" to the Michigan State Fair.

The state's outstanding veteran will be chosen from these nominations and honored on Veterans Day, Saturday, Aug. 25 — the second day of the 113th annual Michigan State Fair, Aug. 24 through Sept. 3.

This was announced by Walter A. Goodman, state fair general manager, and William Stephen of the Michigan Consolidated War Veterans Council.

Application blanks may be obtained by writing to the Veterans Day director, Michigan State Fair, Detroit 3.

The winner will be chosen for his contributions to civic, community and veterans affairs during the past year. A committee of veterans and citizens, named by the sponsoring groups, will select the winner.

Because many veterans posts restrict activities during the summer months, they are urged to act immediately

All veterans and auxiliary members will be admitted free until 3 p.m. to the State Fair on Veterans Day.

Rev. and Mrs. Hannevik Planning Vacation Trip

BRITTON — The Rev. and Mrs. Gustav Hannevik of the Congregational Christian Church of Britton have completed plans for a long-awaited vacation.

They will leave Tuesday, June 26, via jet from the Metropolitan Airport at 5 p.m. and arrive in London seven hours later.

They will stop in Oslo, and then on to Bergen, Norway, where they will visit friends and relatives.

They plan to return home August 9.

Guest speakers will fill the pulpit each Sunday for the morning worship services during their absence.

The congregation hopes to have the new church parsonage completed by the time Rev. and Mrs. Hannevik return from their vacation trip.

NEWS of Britton

Surprise Waits End of Vacation

BRITTON — What a way to end a vacation!

How? Oh, just finding out that you'd won a 1962 Falcon Squire station wagon, list price $2,998.25.

This is the way it was for Mrs. William Higgenbotham who got the top award in the recent Top Value Stamp and Kroger Sweepstakes.

The Higgenbotham family had been vacationing for two weeks in Terre Haute, Ind.

They returned June 8, at 3 a.m., bone-weary from the drive.

Everyone was still fast asleep that morning at 10:15 when the telephone rang. It was a neighbor, Mrs. Rene Gubbe calling, asking Mrs. H. if she knew about the Falcon.

She said that if Mrs. Higgenbotham would check in her mail box, she'd find a note left by a representative of the contest sponsors.

Sure enough, there it was.

Mrs. Higgenbotham journied to Toledo last week for a little ceremony in which she officially accepted the prize.

It arrived just in time since the family, with two cars, was getting ready to replace the older model.

Now all that is done for them.

In the Sweepstakes, half a million entries were dropped off at the 34 Kroger stores in the Toledo Division, of which the Tecumseh store is a part and where more than 10,000 coupons were deposited.

"It was an exciting, wonderful experience," said the winners, "I'd like to thank Top Value Enterprise and Kroger for this opportunity."

The Higgenbothams have lived in the Britton area at 5260 Hoagland Rd. for five years. Mr. Higgenbotham is employed at Monroe Auto Equipment Co.

RIDGEWAY

The Commission on Education of the Ridgeway and Britton Methodist Church are completing plans to hold a united Vacation Church School which will be held July 11 thru July 20.

✓

The United Workers class will meet June 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sturtevant.

✓

A Migrant Ministry Volunteer training session will be held at the Ridgeway Methodist Church, June 21 at 7:30 p.m. All the Churches in this area are invited to attend.

✓

The MYF will have a weiner roast June 22 at 7 p.m. at the Raymond Bird home. All the young folks are invited to come and bring their own buns and weiners.

✓

The Rev. Robert A. Mitchinson has been reappointed to the Ridgeway Methodist Church for another year, he has finished his schooling and is home for summer vacation.

✓

Mr. and Mrs. Tyler Redmond of Tecumseh called on the Wright family last Monday. Mrs. Ernest Wright has received word of the birth of a great nephew born to Mr. and Mrs. James E. Wright of Jonesboro, Ark.

✓

Mr. and Mrs. Norman De Jonghe and family from Azalia called on his mother, Mrs. Maria De Jonghe, last Sunday.

✓

Father's day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wilcox were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cross of Rochester, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wilcox of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilcox of Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cross have been visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wilcox, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cross of Britton. They expect to return home Thursday.

Extension Club Planning Picnic

BRITTON — The Maconette Extension Club answered roll call by "Your Ideal Vacation" at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Otto Miller.

Mrs. Donald Schroeder, vice chairman conducted the business meeting.

The annual family picnic will be held July 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hintz beginning with a potluck dinner.

There will be no August meeting. The September meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Walter Rowe, when the group will do cross-stitch work.

After the business meeting the women worked on tote bags.

Connie Kahle Is Honored With Shower

BRITTON — Connie Kahle, whose coming marriage to Fred Lewis is July 8, was guest of honor Friday evening at a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Clarence Schroeder.

About 30 guests were present.

The gifts were listed by Mrs. Robert Shelton of Milan.

Bride bingo was played. Winning prizes were Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Lawrence Ash, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. John Griffin and Mrs. Joe Naugle.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake, coffee and punch were served from a lace-covered table centered with bouquets of red roses and daisies.

Mrs. Raymond Kahle and Mrs. Paul Lewis poured.

Mrs. Schroeder was assisted with the shower by her mother, Mrs. William Gibson.

The closing program for the Vacation Bible School will be at 7:30 p.m. Friday. All are welcome to visit the handcraft exhibits and refreshments after the program.

Say You Saw It In The Herald

BRITTON—Richard McCrate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCrate, was graduated from St. Rita's Hospital School of X-Ray Technology in Lima, O. Friday.

Mr. McCrate has accepted a position at Saginaw General Hospital.

He is a 1960 graduate of Britton-Macon High School.

Rohrbacks Welcoming Grandson

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rohrback received word June 13 of the birth of a grandson, Mark Harold Robertson.

Mark weighed 8 pounds 8 ounces upon his arrival at Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Robertson of Utica are the parents.

Mrs. Robertson is the former Beverly Rohrback of Britton.

Jaycees Plan Paper Drive

Jerry Watson is the chairman of a paper pick-up Sunday, July 1, sponsored by the Tecumseh Jaycees.

Anyone wishing to donate old papers may place them on his front porch or near the curb and they will be picked up.

If the papers could be tied it would be helpful to the volunteers, who will start the pick-up at 1 p.m.

This Lad Really Loves To Draw

Give 12-year-old Bobby Prettyman a piece of paper and some crayons and you'll soon have a fetching drawing.

Bobby has been cartooning "ever since I can remember."

His mother, Mrs. Lee Prettyman, says Bobby was about two when he began to draw.

The Prettyman home at 113 S. Democratic St. bears evidence that there's an artist lurking about. Nearly every wall is loaded with Bobby's work.

Bobby, who is partially handicapped in sight and hearing, can sketch almost anything, but favors animals.

He is an avid TV viewer and especially likes the Hathaways and as a result chimps have become one of his favorite subjects.

"Did you know a monkey's hands reach lower than his knees?" Bobby asks.

Woody Woodpecker is another of Bob's models and he can bat out one in a few seconds.

About four years ago, Bobby invented his own cartoon character, "Silly Willy," and he does story panels about him.

Another creation, "Patty Problem and the Twins," keeps Bobby busy searching for new ideas.

In his machine-gun fashion, Bobby notes that "the twins rarely wear anything but pajamas."

He talks as fast as he draws.

Because of Bobby's handicaps, his parents had him enrolled in George Washington School at Marion, O., which has a sight-saving room and is the home of Mrs. Prettyman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Lyon. He attended classes there for four years.

When special education was introduced in Lenawee County two years ago, Bobby was able to enroll at Patterson School and take regular classes and also special work from Mrs. John Pobuda.

Getting enough paper for Bobby has always been somewhat of a problem but several years ago Mrs. Prettyman struck upon the idea of obtaining the ends of newsprint rolls from The Herald, which will run several hundred feet and measure up to 72 inches wide.

This is cut up and provides ample stock for Bobby — for a while at least.

Then there are a variety of other sizes and sheets of paper, even the backs of wall paper sample books.

In addition to his artistry, Bobby is a prolific reader, or to quote him, he "reads like crazy, man."

BOBBY PRETTYMAN OF TEN DRAWS IN ASSEMBLY LINE FASHION ON LONG SHEET OF PAPER

Tecumseh Was Settled Back in 1827

Tecumseh was settled in 1824. The first township meeting was held April 27, 1827 in the home of Joseph W. Brown.

Later meetings were held in other homes and in the school located on the site of the present city hall.

Tecumseh was the county seat with the first courthouse built in 1832 in what is now known as Adams Park.

In 1838 an act of the first legislature transferred the county seat to Adrian.

The building then was used for three years by a branch of the University of Michigan and the Tecumseh Literary Institute, a private high school, until 1856 when a high school was built on N. Ottawa St.

Offices of the village clerks were in their homes or business places, until the late Wade L. Jones, clerk for several years, had the first office in the former Lilley Bank building after the bank's closing during the depression.

During hard times the basement of the council building, now used by the Fire Department, was rented for apple storage. The building also was used for band practice and the fire chief and his family occupied the upper apartment as living quarters.

These quarters now house a Civil Defense station with 200 beds for emergency use.

In 1934 the Tecumseh Products Co. came to the city. It produced 12,000 refrigerator compressors that first year.

Under the direction of Ray Herrick, Frank Smith, Curtiss Brown, Jens Touborg, Bill Sage and Clyde Giltner, the company became the largest manufacturer of refrigerator units in the world.

This past year over three million units were produced.

Tecumseh also is home of a novel and well-proved experiment in community improvement.

Each year the city takes part in a community fund drive, just as other cities in the state and nation. However, after the budgets for the charitable and service organizations are filled, the money left over goes into a fund administered by a separate foundation.

The past several years' accumulation was spent this year on a new library to serve Tecumseh and nearby communities which cooperates with the city in the drive.

The library will serve the entire Tecumseh Public School District, which covers more than 90 square miles and schools more than 3,000 students.

Senior high school and nearly all elementary school children are housed in post-World War II buildings. The former senior high was refurbished for the junior high facilities.

Clyne (Ted) Durst, Con-Con delegate from Adrian, appeared before the group June 18 and spoke on the proposed new state constitution.

He mentioned the flexibility and economy which the new constitution promises in streamlining government departments, better control of the budget, education, local government and taxation.

He said that it was everyones duty to acquaint themselves with the new constitution and decide by their own judgement at the polls.

The Exchange Club members wish to thank all those who made this years Dawn Patrol a success, about 700 people were served a ham and egg breakfast.

Proceeds will be used to purchase "The Freedom Shrines", which will be installed in the new public library when it is dedicated.

Romney Explains Slant on Income Tax

GEORGE ROMNEY

"In itself the enactment of an income tax would not solve anything other than the state's deficit," said George Romney, Republican hopeful for governor, at a recent Detroit Press Club gathering.

"Urgent as it is, the state's deficit is not the only problem. We have three problems of greater fundamental importance.

"They are:

"1—Fundamental revision of our total tax structure.

"2 — Thorough administrative and fiscal reform.

"3—Stimulation of economic growth or more jobs.

"Fundamental tax revision must achieve reduction of the proportion of the total tax carried by low income families, additional revenue for local government, relief on property taxes and a reduction of the taxes paid by business to the level of competing industrial states.

"Achievement of these objectives requires a complete revision of our state's tax structure which the mere enactment of an income tax would not accomplish," the candidate said.

Mr. Romney pointed out that efforts at fundamental tax revision have been blocked because such efforts have dealt only with tax reform and the meeting of deficits.

"From experience I know that success in solving a fiscal mess involves more than just increasing income or revenue," he stated.

"It consists of doing a thorough job in three areas:

"1 — Determining essential state services.

"2 — Maximum efficiency and economy in providing essential services.

"3 — The method of raising the revenue to pay for essential services.

"It is my conviction that only leadership that will tackle, without bias or limitation, the total task of administrative and fiscal reform can secure the support of the people and their representatives in carrying through needed tax reform as an element of a complete program," he stated.

"In light of the bigger issues involved it is unfortunate that public controversy has been aroused just over the question of whether or not we shall have an income tax," the candidate added.

"This controversy has become intense and bitter because of its inept handling in the past as well as failure to deal with it as part of the state's overall fiscal and job problem.

"While I do not believe the state's job, fiscal and tax problems can be solved without the enactment of an income tax, it is not clear that we need higher taxes.

"If total administrative and fiscal reform indicates the need for an income tax as part of revenue reforms I shall not hesitate to include it as a part of the total program of meeting Michigan's need for more jobs and to work out its fiscal mess," Mr. Romney concluded.

Tecumseh's Newest Park Opens This Week

Tecumseh is a city of many lovely parks. The newest one will be officially opened Thursday evening when Kiwanis Club members hold their regular weekly meeting at the new Community Picnic Grounds, which they have developed and equipped. Guests at the session will be wives and children of the Kiwanians, plus city officials and members of the Parks and Recreation Board. Also on hand will be the city's new full-time recreation director, John Henderson. The Community Picnic Grounds park is located along Evans Creek, just off Maumee St., north of the high school. Last summer Kiwanians cleared the area and this spring they built wooden picnic tables and installed permanent metal cooking grills. The public is invited to use the park at any time.

Bruce Foundry Battles Back

Even as firemen were ending their three-hour job of fighting the near $250,000 blaze at Bruce Foundry Thursday morning, company officials were making preparations to get back into production.

A three-way telephone hookup connected General Manager Richard Duffin and Plant Superintendent Lawrence Worth in the office here with Bill Bruce, the owner who was in Chicago.

The trio mapped plans to move into the unused "aluminum" building where aluminum casts were made during World War II.

Their fast action contributed greatly to the foundry staying in business and protecting the jobs of the firm's 66 employees.

By Saturday, castings were being poured, and Monday production hit 27,000 pounds of grey iron castings, an amazing 90% of regular operations.

Twelve of the foundry's 16 molders were in operation.

Ten of Bruce's more than 120 customers called in to say they were standing firm. None have reported a desire to change sources for their castings.

Half of Bruce's 50 x 400-foot main building was a twist of rubble after the early-morning fire.

City Policeman Don Rodehaver was making a routine patrol at 4:20 a.m. when he spotted the blaze through a west foundry window.

But even with his instant radio report, and immediate action by Tecumseh's fire volunteers, the fire had a good foothold by the time firemen arrived. Every one of the city's 21-man volunteer unit and its three trucks were on hand, along with nine Clinton firemen, who brought one truck.

DESTROYED in the blaze were $24,000 in finished castings, which were ready for shipment to Tecumseh Products Co. The castings were in the north end of the foundry, where the fire apparently started.

Also destroyed were two Clark lift trucks and two machines used to clean the castings. These four items accounted for about $30,000 of the estimated $250,000 loss.

The foundry was insured.

The south half of the building, where most of the molds are cast, was not as seriously damaged as the north part. Most of the molding machines there, constructed of cast iron, were undamaged.

Most of the firm's wooden patterns, which number in the thousands, were stored in a warehouse about 100 feet from the main building, and also were unscathed. About 200 patterns in current use were destroyed.

The company office, in a separate structure, was untouched.

The 50-horsepower compressor which operates the molding machines was saved, along with a new overhead crane installed in the south section three weeks ago. The northern overhead crane was destroyed.

No one was injured in the fire.

☆

THE 50-YEAR-OLD Foundry, owned by Bill Bruce for 20 years, employs 66, and makes grey iron castings for use by refrigeration manufacturers, automative and machinery builders.

It has customers here, in Detroit, Jackson, Muskegon, Fort Wayne and as far away as Texas.

Bruce works on two shifts, pouring castings during the day. The night shift of 12 men moves the casts into the finishing and shipping department — the area gutted in the fire—prepares them for shipping, then reconditions the sand for the next day's castings.

Two sand cutters were on duty as usual until 3 a.m. Firemen surmised that the fire started soon after they left.

TECUMSEH FIREMAN POURS WATER INTO THE BLAZING INFERNO

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

It isn't often that laymen take vows of silence. I have.

Mine came at the start of the current Cub League baseball season with my son about to begin his first season of play.

The act is a determination on my part to keep my big mouth shut during ball games — no mean chore.

I have promised to cheer at the contests, but never to catcall or barb the boys or umpires.

So far, so good.

Maybe it would be a good thing if a few more parents took a quick look into the possibility of doing the same thing.

This week we run a guest editorial, written by our city recreation director, John Henderson.

It deals with the problem of parents being too vocal at kids' ball games. John's comments should cover the subject for the season.

☆

Whenever there is a major fire in town, as there was at Bruce Foundry last week, folks can again be thankful for the caliber of fireman and equipment our city has.

Aided in this case by Clinton, the 21-man Tecumseh Dept. did an excellent and fearless job.

☆

Press day for The Herald will be moved up one day next week because of the July Fourth holiday.

All notices and news stories should be delivered or phoned in 24 hours earlier than usual.

The Herald staff will work Saturday in order to have the next issue printed and in the mails Tuesday afternoon.

Drive Called Off

"Please don't place paper on the curbs and porches Sunday, July 1."

The Tecumseh Jaycees are hollering loud and long.

The paper company has all the paper it can use and the Tecumseh group has no place for storage.

It is necessary to postpone the paper pick-up which Jaycees hoped to conduct this weekend.

The committee regrets the inconvenience to residents of the community and hopes to complete the project at a later date.

Products Man Surprised When Pals Weed Garden

"I just didn't know there were that kind of people left," said George Watters, Jr. of Adrian recently.

Surprised and pleased Mr. Watters found his faith in mankind renewed when a group of his fellow employees at the Tecumseh Products Co. descended on his large garden on Shady Lane in Tecumseh to clean out the weeds.

He was taken ill and admitted to Bixby Hospital shortly after the garden was planted.

Unable to cultivate or care for the small plants, Mr. Watters was delighted.

He is grateful to Robert Wood, Harry Hans, Walter Wiemer, Gale Sanderson, Richard Lask, Richard Westgate and Bernie Bishop, all of the Engineering Department and Sam Preston from the main gate at the Products, who made up the clean-up crew.

Mrs. Wood served coffee after the weeding was completed.

Park 'Key' Presented to Mayor

Forty-six attended the dedication June 21 of the new Community Picnic Grounds, located along Evans Creek north of the high school.

Fred Nash, president of the Kiwanis Club, presented a large gold key, tied with ribbon, to Mayor Harold Easton who in turn presented the key to John Henderson, recreation director.

Ed Nelson, Gordon Garlick, John Hamilton, Carl Lamb, Gene Tuckey and Royal Welch, represented the city at the event.

Several expressed appreciation for the work of the Kiwanis and Mr. Henderson pledged his cooperation in caring for the new facilities.

Richard Meyer, who will assume the presidency since Mr. Nash is moving from the area, said, "We are not done yet. We expect to place more tables along the creek. We hope to extend the park to the corner of Herrick Park Drive, north of the creek.

Teen Club Holds Dance

A Teen Club dance will be held at the Community Center Saturday evening, according to Tom Dickinson, president.

Beginning the first week in July, dances will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings only.

Other officers of the club are:
Vice-president—Buzz Beland
Secretary — Pat Lawson
Treasurer — Janice Whelan

Hay Ride, Dog Roast and Dance

Fifty-six members and parents of the Raisin Cane 4-H Club enjoyed a hay ride, weiner roast and dance June 23.

Leslie Calhoun drove the tractor and the chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. George Halberstadt, Leonard and Larry Cote.

The roast and the dance were held at the Cote home where the garage was gayly decorated with colored lights, paper records and musical notes by Mrs. Cote, Christine and Onalee Cote, Larry and Jane Jenkins and Chuck Calhoun.

A twist contest was won by Onalee Cote and David Irelan and Debbie Cote and John Irelan.

Second place winners were Kathy Jewell and Kit Finnegan.

A "Name That Tune Game" was won by Larry Jenkins, Chuck Calhoun, John Irelan, Debbie Cote and Susan Ford.

VFW Auxiliary Has Delegates

Mrs. Lloyd Stites, Mrs. Gaza Kish, Mrs. Joseph Laszlo and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, president of the Hall-Slater VFW Post Auxiliary, were delegates to the Department Convention at Sault Ste. Marie over the weekend.

It has been announced that the post and auxiliary picnic will be held at the Eaton Rapids National Home Carnival July 15.

A total of $345.70 was realized from the recent Buddy Poppy sale, according to Mrs. Laszlo.

She thanked the volunteers and contributors for helping to make the sale a success.

Chicken Dinner

Members of the Church of God will hold a public chicken supper in the parsonage at 603 Pearl St. at 5 p.m. Friday, June 29, beginning at 5 p.m.

Donations of $1 will be accepted.

Jottings on Fire

Fred Brighton always has his wife wake him when the sirens go off to call Tecumseh's volunteer firemen.

Last Thursday, when he learned where the fire was, he rushed from his S. Union St. home to the foundry, jumped into a tractor standing by the loading dock and drove both tractor and trailer to safety.

Mr. Brighton, a Bruce employee, also tried to rescue the lift trucks, but smoke drove him away.

☆

Bruce Foundry owner Bill Bruce was on a combined business-vacation trip with Mrs. Bruce in Chicago. He was looking at some foundry equipment.

The company's business has been growing, with new accounts added recently and the new machine was needed to help handle bigger jobs.

☆

One window not broken by the fire was shattered by the owner's son, Bradley Bruce. He broke an office window in order to reach a telephone and call Richard Duffin, general manager of the firm. He also phoned his father in Chicago.

☆

Perry Satterthwaite, who operates Hayden Fuel and Supply Co. across the street from the foundry reacted in his usual neighborly manner and loaned a dump truck to help haul debris from the burned-out building.

The foundry truck and the Hayden truck carted away more than 100 loads.

Sprightly-Paced Comedy

A sprightly-paced comedy, "Under the Yum Yum Tree" by Lawrence Roman, will be presented by the Clark Lake Players on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 28, 29, 30 and July 5, 6 and 7.

The plot concerns the tribulations of a pretty college girl who has just moved out of a dormitory and into an apartment house with a view at the window and a wolf at the door in the person of a girl-crazy landlord).

Dr. Robert Kobs plays Hogan, the landlord, a part created on Broadway by Gig Young. Sally Haynes appears as Irene Wilson, the college girl.

In the supporting cast are Bill Reed as Dave Manning; Marcia Butterfield as Irene Austin; and Charles Keeling and Charles Phebus.

Director of the Clark Lake Players is William McAnallen; technical director, Bob Armstrong, assisted by Bob Tolan. Sally Haynes is box office manager.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. and reservations may be made by calling the box office (Lakeside 9-9141) between 4 and 8 p.m. daily except Sunday.

Future presentations scheduled for the Clark Lake Playhouse are "Send Me No Flowers", "Marriage-Go-Round", "The Third Best Sport" and "Annie Get Your Gun."

'Reclining Figure' Opens Tuesday at Irish Hills

For its second production starting Tuesday, July 3, The Irish Hills Playhouse will offer "Reclining Figure."

It's an urbane spoof of the world of art, featuring crooked dealers, millionaire collectors, and dedicated forgers.

First presented in New York in 1954, the original production was produced by Martin Gabel and Henry M. Margolis, and directed by Abe Burrows.

The Irish Hills Playhouse, this area's first professional summer theatre since the Saline Mills Theatre closed in 1957, is offering a five-play, 11-week season under the direction of Jay Kleindorf.

The shows are produced by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Burns.

With a cast recruited mainly in New York, "Reclining Figure" will feature Clinton Dunn as a poor but nearly-honest young art dealer, Walle Welle as a sympathetic milloinaire, Rachele Fernandez as his daughter, and Patrick Christie as the father of all corrupt art dealers.

The rest of the cast includes David Richmond, Vito Weeda, Joan French, Roger Held and Michael McClatchey.

The theatre is located on US-12 near the State Park. Curtain is promptly at 8:30.

Final performance of "The Play's The Thing" are Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening.

Products Union Plans Session on Contract

Stanley Samonek, president of the United Products Workers Union, announced that a meeting of all members will be held Thursday from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the union hall on S. Maumee St.

Members will be asked for suggestions for the new contract which takes effect Sept. 1.

The financial status of the union and the assessment of union dues will be discussed.

Sydney M. Eisenberg of Milwaukee, Wis. has been retained as general counsel of the local union.

Friends Choir To Hear Record

The choir of the Tecumseh Friends Church will hold a chicken barbecue at the church Thursday, June 28, at 7 p.m.

Those attending will bring their own chicken, table service and a dish to pass.

Mrs. Swainson Visits County

Mrs. John B. Swainson will be entertained in Lenawee County July 18.

Plans for the governor's wife were started June 20 when the Lenawee County Democratic Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Eugene Harbaugh in Cement City.

Mrs. Mary Fox, coordinator for the governor's re-election campaign, spoke on the drive. Mrs. Fred Groth and Mrs. Arthur Schneider will head the campaign in Lenawee County.

Mrs. August Breckel, chairman of registration, spoke at the meeting.

Yo-Yo Contest Set Friday

A Yo-Yo contest, probably the first ever held in Tecumseh, will be held this Friday night from 6:30 to 8, in front of Gamble and the Woolworth Stores.

Youngsters and oldsters are encouraged to participate and need only to register at the sponsoring stores. Everyone is eligible.

A representative of the Duncan Co., makers of Yo-Yos, will judge the contest and award prizes to the winners.

Mixed Golf

Mrs. Clifford Collins and Dr. Robert Bowers won first low net in the Friday night mixed doubles league.

Mrs. Austin Miller and Max Smith won second low net and Mrs. Frank Owen and Art Geisenhaver won third low net.

Low puts were won by Mrs. Chester Beach and Austin Miller.

Kiwanis Club members grossed $97 in their cotton candy and snow cone operation in front of Lamb's Pharmacy during the Moonlight Sale.

They netted $77.

For the statistically-minded, this means 418 cones and 385 cotton candies.

Hustling the merchandise were Ken Blumerick, Gene Tuckey, George Schumm, Ed Loop, Dick Myers and Dr. George Burkhard.

☆

"Pink cool" is the slogan for this week.

☆

Winner of the three-piece luggage set, given by Van-Mers Dept. Store at the Moonlight sale, was Phyllis Simon, 3824 Munger Rd.

☆

Mrs. Jerry Filter, rural Britton, will always be a special person to Ilene Schafer, who opened her Country Side Beauty Shop Monday.

Mrs. Filter was Ilene's first customer.

☆

"Bet you can't get those three together again this week," was the comment of one Herald reader recently.

He was referring to the front page picture of some youngsters watching the memorial day parade printed in a recent issue.

"Why" came the quick query.

"Because that little guy with the potato chips is in the Azores."

It seems the "little guy" is Scotty Baker and he and his mother, Ruth, left Tecumseh shortly after Memorial Day to be with his dad, Robert Baker, who is stationed with the Air Force on an island just off the coast of Spain.

☆

Tim Neill, Tecumseh Products safety director, was on hand at the Bruce Foundry fire a little before 6 a.m., serving hot coffee to firemen.

Obviously dressed in a hurry, Tim appeared attired as if he were on a refrigerator raid about 2 a.m.

The fellows certainly appreciated his thoughtfulness.

Bancroft Cleaners is making its third move in less than a couple of years—going into the former Dean's Boys & Girls Center.

☆

When Tom Barton, son of the bulk oil dealer, went to refill his dad's truck Monday night, the big tank which is just across the street from a minor league diamond, was surrounded by parked cars. It proved a chore getting in place for refilling operations.

A spectator chirped, "That will teach Jim to put his plant next to the field."

(For the newcomer, the tank has been there for many years, the diamond opened last week.)

Six is definitely the key digit at the Gruber households in the area this week.

On the 26th day of the sixth month of 1962 the sixth grandchild, the first girl to be born in 60 years in the family, arrived at Herrick Memorial Hospital at 7:25 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gruber of Paul's Trailer Court are the parents and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gruber of rural Tecumseh are the grandparents.

Mrs. Martha Bruns who lives at the Gruber's is the great grandma and great, great grandma Carolyn Bruns is living at the Washtenaw County Hospital in Ann Arbor. She is now 102 years young.

The infant was named Marie Kathleen after her grandmother. She has two brothers, Danny and Dennis.

Rita Crosby Exchanges Vows with Ron Siwik

Low arrangements of white blossoms graced the altar of St. Elizabeth Church June 23 for the wedding of Rita Kay Crosby and Ronald A. Siwik.

Fifteen-branch circular candelabra filled with white candles were faced with the same blossoms in cascade bouquets tied with white satin bows.

Palms were used as a background and the family section was marked with emerald foliage and white bows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Crosby of 305 E. Pottawatamie and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Siwik of Kalamazoo.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins performed the ceremony at noon. Wallace Whiting was the soloist. On the arm of her father, the bride approached the altar in a gown of white silk organza over tulle and taffeta. Pearl-traced Chantilly lace outlined the neckline and short sleeves.

The floor-length skirt was trimmed with lace appliques and featured side panels edged with lace, giving an apron effect over the back fullness that swept into a chapel train.

Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a lace and pearl crown.

The bride carried a lace-covered prayer book topped with a crescent arrangement of phalaopsis orchids.

Mrs. Kenneth Bortel was matron of honor. Rae Lynne Crosby, Rosemary Siwik and Mrs. Charles Jameson were the bridesmaids.

All were dressed alike in blossom pink embroidered organza over taffeta fashioned with rounded neckline and short sleeves. The ballerina-length skirts were full with scalloped edges and they wore matching circlets with tiny veils on their heads.

They carried cascade arrangements of day pompons with tiny pink rosebuds and tulle.

Phillip Driscoll and Thomas Gray, cousins of the bride, carried the rings on lace-covered pillows.

James Siwik served as his brother's best man and the guests were seated by Ronald Luteyn, Brian Perey and David Crosby.

Pink and white summer flowers were used in decorating the St. Elizabeth school auditorium for the reception for 250 guests.

The tiered cake was topped with a dainty white heart and each of the serving tables was centered with arrangements of miniature bride and groom backed with large lace hearts and wedding bells.

Those assisting with the serving were Mrs. Edwin Lewis, Cathy Cornell, Karen Johnson, Anne Wallace, Mrs. Fred Saxton, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Betzoldt and Mr. and Mrs. John Donovan.

Mrs. Harry Weakly was the serving hostess, Mr. and Mrs. James Fielder were hosts at the church, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Whiting and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lovette were hosts for the reception.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and received her BA degree from Western Michigan University. She is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority and is teaching in the Plymouth school system.

The groom received his bachelor's degree from Kalamazoo College and is a sophomore in medical school at the University of Michigan.

A rehearsal dinner was held in the Bostonian dining room.

MRS. RONALD SIWIK

Anne Rebottaro Weds Charles Jameson

Nine attendants and a tiny flower girl preceded Anne Rebottaro as she approached the altar of the St. Elizabeth Church June 16 to become the bride of Charles William Jameson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rebottaro of 6901 Centennial Rd. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker of Adrian.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over tulle and taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves.

The floor-length lace skirt had a full cathedral train detailed with handmade roses.

Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a lace and pearl crown. She wore a diamond drop, gift from the groom, and carried a white cattelya orchid with ivy attached to her prayer book.

Her gown and those of the attendants were made by Maude Bell.

Mrs. Donald Bailey was the matron of honor.

Cathy Cornell, Mary Guidobono, Rita Crosby, Mrs. Jack Mraz and Mrs. Diane Fleming were the bridesmaids.

Kathleen Rice, Susan Frederick and Mickie Jo Terry were junior bridesmaids, while little Rose Marie Rebottaro was the flower girl.

David Vanderpool was the ring bearer.

Mrs. Bailey and the five bridesmaids were gowned alike in sheath dresses of orchid lace over taffeta with short sleeves, rounded necklines and scalloped hemlines.

Their headpieces were single matching satin roses.

The junior bridesmaids were dressed alike in white silk organza over taffeta with short sleeves and full skirts.

John McClure of Jackson was the best man and guests were seated by Charles Rebottaro, Gary Olsaver, Carter Raymond, Dave Patterson and Mike Slaughter.

MRS. CHARLES JAMESON

A wedding dinner was served to 300 guests at the Products Union Hall, where an evening reception was also held.

Those assisting at the dinner and reception were Carol Rebottaro, Cindy Frederick, Norma Luce, Mrs. Lavern Frederick, Mrs. Thoams Rice, Mrs. Anthony Rebottaro, Mrs. Harvey Gravelle, Mrs. Louis Rebottaro, Louis Rebottaro Jr. and Billy Frederick.

A tiered cake topped with orchid blossoms with a base of four heart shaped cakes was served.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Adrian College and is employed as a language teacher in the Adrian schools.

The groom is a graduate of Adrian College and is a junior at the Ohio Northern University law school.

The couple will make their home at 416 State St. in Adrian after a wedding trip through the south.

A rehearsal dinner was held in the Lenawee Country Club.

Rosila Cook, Paul Williams Are Married

Rosila Rae Cook and Paul Raleigh Williams were married June 9 in Clinton.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ida Cook and Clyde Cook, both of Tecumseh.

The grooms parents are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Williams, also of Tecumseh.

Shirley Creger and Ernest Clemons were the attendants.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Williams are making their home at 503 N. Evans St.

Lutherans To Convene For Merger

During June 28-July 1 Detroit's Cobo Hall will hold the constitutional convention of the Lutheran Church in America.

There are about 75 million Lutherans in the world. In North America they number more than eight million.

The newly organized Lutheran Church in American will have over three million members.

The Lutheran bodies which will be merged now are the ULCA, the Augustana, the Suomi Synod and the American Evangelican Lutheran Church.

Locally the Gloria Dei Evangelical Lutheran Church, which belonged to the ULCA, now will be a member of the LCA.

Dr. Laszlo Gero, pastor, and Al Tonneberger as lay-delegate will represent the Gloria Dei Church in the convention and many members will be there as visitors.

Holy Communion will open the convention Thursday, followed by meetings and a sacred music concert.

Saturday evening a convention banquet will be held, when the Missouri Synod former president will be an official guest.

Sunday morning services will be held. The Thanksgiving Service starts at 4 p.m. Sunday.

The LCA will fully operate from Jan. 1, 1963.

Power Class Has Meeting on Island

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cameron, located on an island in Evans Lake, was the setting for the June party of the Power Class of the Tecumseh Friends Church.

June 23, class members and their families met at the shores of the lake, and were ferried across to the island by the Cameron's private launch.

A potluck supper was served to 26 class members and guests on the porch of the hosts' home. Later the group enjoyed such outdoor activities as swimming, fishing from the pier, and hiking about the island.

Ray Sommers was in charge of devotions for the evening, and spoke to the class members around the theme "Your Chastening by God is Necessary for You."

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wilson, daughter and son-in-law of the Camerons, were in charge of arrangements for the evening, and concluded activities with several group games.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Spohr will plan the next meeting of the Power Class.

Marlys Arnold To Be Married in September

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Arnold, 107 S. Oneida St., announce the engagement of their daughter, Marlys Elaine, to William Charles Butterman, son of Harry N. Butterman of Columbus, O. and the late Mrs. Butterman.

The bride-elect attended Eastern Michigan College and Michigan State University, and is employed as a secretary at Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus.

Mr. Butterman received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Ohio State University and is now a candidate for a Ph.D. degree from Ohio State.

A September wedding is planned.

Platts Entertain Tipton Card Club

The Addie Kemp Past Chiefs Club met at the home of Mrs. Richard Platt last Wednesday evening with Mrs. Garrett Linger as co-hostess. After the business meeting, cards were played with Mrs. Roy Benedict winning high prize and Mrs. Lyle Bailey winning low prize. The mystery gift was drawn by Mrs. Verle Miller.

William Wright Is Delegate

William Wright, Tecumseh druggist, attended the 79th annual convention of the Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association last week at Houghton Lake.

The convention was held Monday through Wednesday, and the local druggist was a delegate representing the Lenawee-Hillsdale Pharmaceutical Association.

On City Fields of Play

HELPERS NAMED

Tom Fagan, new football coach at Tecumseh High School, is now in charge of grass mowing, maintenance of diamonds and supervision of umpires.

Working under his direction will be Gary Roberts, Ray Newton and Jim Curth.

☆

UMPIRES CHOSEN

A clinic for prospective umpires was held in which rules were discussed and a film on the art of umpiring was shown. Umpires for the coming year are:

Tim Sisson
John Oberlin
Don Baird
Dave Blanden
Phil Radant
Jim Curth
Ray Newton

☆

SWIMMING

Don't forget that every Tuesday and Thursday night is family night from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The whole family can get in for 75 cents.

We made a mistake last week. We are not going to have competitive swimming but competitive swimming classes. These classes will be held from 5 to 6 p.m. every evening.

PONY LEAGUE

A six-team league for boys, ages 13 to 15. Four teams are from Tecumseh, one each from Deerfield and Britton. Games are played on the Pony League Field and at sites in league towns. Sixty or more boys.

☆

PEE WEE LEAGUE

Just getting under way for boys ages 7 to 9. Each team will be coached by one of the men working in the program. Registration and play began June 25. The boys will be playing with a regulation size baseball made from softball material, and will hit off a batting "T."

COLT LEAGUE

Just getting under way for boys ages 15 to 17. Registration took place at the Center June 15. This is new in Tecumseh. We are having equipment and scheduling problems but feel we are off to a good start and very optimistic.

☆

BLOOPER BALL

Organization and scheduling will be done this week. They will play one night a week under the lights at the softball diamond. League play will begin the week of the 25th.

☆

TOT LOT TALK

The Tecumseh Acres Tot Lot, supervised by Carol Hand, was a big success for the first week. The children enjoyed the softball games, checkers, handicraft, and croquet.

The winners of Wednesday's relays are Sandra Harper, Susan Drake, Becky Storms, Wanda Richardson, Johnny Rathke, Gus Nelson, and Steve Hallerveck.

On Friday, we had a seven-team checker championship game. The winners are Linda Gray, Barbara Storms, Robert Wood, John Drake, John Getting, David Frayer and John Frayer.

The first day at Patterson was in full swing, with about twenty youngsters present. Inactive and active games were played. There are handicrafts available, and Scott and Debbie Elliott are two of the first to make coin purses. They are doing a fine job.

The big event of the week however, evolved around the varied types of relays which were held on Wednesday. The winners were John Roberts, Jeri Ihlen doy, Susan Beardsley, Rits Jacobs, Lee Purkey, and Jack Curtis. There were also team relays included.

We hope to see more youngsters come to Patterson, supervised by Linda Baldwin.

☆

MAJOR LEAGUE

Eight teams make up this league. The age group is from 9 to 12, with 15 or more boys to a team. Each squad is handled by an adult and teams play each night Monday through Friday. One hundred and twenty boys are in the league now.

☆

MINOR LEAGUE

Eight teams also make up this league. There are 15 or more boys to a team. These are boys of lesser ability than those playing in the Major League. If an opening exists in the Major League then each Minor League manager submits the name of his best player in that age group, then one is picked and sent up to the Majors.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Clarence Beach was an extremely surprised papa Thursday when he returned to his residence about nightfall to find his house on W. Shawnee filled with 35 guests.

They were there as the result of unique announcements sent out by his friends. The printed cards read:

HOWDY WRANGLERS
I'm Clarence Beach's brand new stallion
Topsy Beach is my Mom's name
I was born at 8 a.m. June 15
I'm exactly six hands high
Mom was assisted by mid-wife Buck Maynard.

The little Shetland colt was called Topsy Turby and the event Thursday night was a shower of tie ropes, curry combs, halters, brushes, oats and corn, blankets and other articles for the baby.

When Clarence recovered from his surprise he joined the others around a table uniquely centered with a saddle, lariats, grain boxes filled with sandwiches and potato chips.

Milk buckets filled with ice tea and lemonade flanked other appointments including kerosene lamps and ear corn.

Tim Neill and Buck Maynard made the arrangements for the party assisted by Mrs. Maynard and Mrs. Beach.

√

Max Smith and David Holden are employed at the Country Club in Lansing for the summer.

Kathleen Condit Weds Airman Danforth

BRITTON—Kathleen Sue Condit became the bride of Airman 3/c James G. Danforth Friday evening in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. William Weinlander at the North Blissfield Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Condit of 4475 North Blissfield Hwy. and the James E. Danforths of Tecumseh.

Vera Jean Smith provided nuptial music and accompanied Sharon Smith, soloist.

The bride chose a floor-length sheath gown of satin with a scalloped scoop neckline trimmed with lace and seed pearls.

A detachable overskirt swept into a chapel train was attached to a cummerbund with three self fabric roses at the back waistline.

She wore a matching pill box trimmed with tiny seed pearls and topped with a rose rolled edge of illusion.

She carried a cascade arrangement of Frenched carnations centered with a cluster of tiny pink roses outlined with strands of ivy.

A diamond pendant, gift from the groom, was her only jewelry.

Mrs. Patrick Brower of Ypsilanti served as her sister's matron of honor.

Jamie Danforth was the junior bridesmaid.

Cliff Haas was best man and the guests were seated by Pat Brower of Ypsilanti and Richard Seagert of Britton.

A reception for 150 was held in the church basement with Janice Haas, Bertha Burgin, Mrs. William Osburn, Nancy Brown, Kathy Studnicka, Joyce Brown and Joanne Smetka assisting.

The newly married couple will make their home in Biloxi, Miss. where Airman Danforth is stationed at Keesler Air Force Base.

Both young people are graduates of the Britton-Macon High School. The bride has been employed at Hodges Drug Store.

A rehearsal dinner was given by Mrs. Nell Gray Wednesday evening in her home in Britton.

Freshmen Spend Two Days at WMU

BRITTON — More than 2,500 freshmen who expect to enter Western Michigan University for the first time next fall are spending two days this summer in visiting the campus.

Among those visiting the campus is Douglas Brablec.

Dean Paul L. Griffeth and his staff of counselors have arranged an intensive program of counseling, advance registration including the payment of a part of their fall fees, and a bit of social life. They will thus clear up many of their early fall duties and know the campus a little better when they arrive.

When they return to the campus in September it will be to start classes almost immediately without the usual days of orientation and registration.

Guests Come from California

House guests for the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schober and family were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Plummer, and son Jerry from Diamond Bar, Calif.

Gloria Dei Will Install Flags Sunday

On occasion of its merger into the Lutheran Church in America and of the coming Independence Day, Gloria Dei Evangelical Lutheran Church will install the Christian and the American flags during the worship service Sunday, July 1.

Stands for the two flags were made and donated by Charles Gross in memory of his father and his wife's, the late Charles Emanuel Gross and Henry William Schoenlein.

Flags were donated by the Men's Club.

Flag bearers for the ceremony will be Charles Gross and Don Buell, president of the Men's Club.

Arthur Schwartz will be the guest soloist accompanied by Nancy Ehlert, organist.

The Rev. Dr. Laszlo Gero will use "One Lord, One Faith, One Birth" as his sermon topic.

Presbyterian Church Plans

Vacation church school will be held at the Presbyterian Church in Tecumseh the weeks of July 9 and 16.

The time will be from 1 to 3 p.m.

Those between the ages of four and 14 are invited to participate in this summer experience.

Parents bringing kindergarten children (ages 4 and 5) are asked to come with the children on the first day to register them.

The pulpit supply schedule for the summer is:

July 1 — Dean Lewis Brumbaugh, Adrian College

July 8 — Dr. John Dawson, President of Adrian College

July 15 — Dr. Dawson

July 22 — Dean Brumbaugh

July 29—Dr. John Marvin, editor of 'Christian Advocate'

August 5 — Dr. Marvin.

Truth Held

How the Christ, Truth, brings freedom from sickness and sin will be brought out at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

Rebekahs Have Card Party

A good attendance marked the card party given by the Rebekahs Saturday evening at the IOOF Hall on Green Hwy.

High prizes were won by Mrs. Margaret Devlin and Roger Pawson.

Low prizes were won by Mrs. Ruth Baldwin and Henry Mueller.

The door prize was won by George Green and the traveling prize by Grant Dunsmore.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jean Stauffer, Mary Allshouse, Mrs. Jess Nichols, Mrs. Alice Collom, Mrs. Carroll Frost and Mrs. Opal Brady.

The July meeting of the Macon Usher's Club will be held at the home of Robert Osborne, Monday, July 2, at 8 p.m.

Members Feast on Ice Cream

Thirty-four persons attended the Wit and Wisdom Club annual gathering at the Iron Creek Church. The Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Brazee were hosts.

Featured at the party was Rev. Brazee's annual contribution of rich, tempting homemade ice cream.

They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Mel Partridge, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Munger.

A general quiz prepared by Clara Waldron and Mrs. Ralph Comfort from the "Quiz Kids" program of a few years ago was presented by Mrs. Comfort.

Two teams were selected for the quiz, the Wits and the Wisdoms.

The Wosdom rated far ahead of the Wits.

One of the questions asked was, "Name the metal which most efficiently conducts electricity.

The books stated that silver was the correct answer but one of the wiser members said that platinum is correct.

Bancroft Moves Across Street

Bancroft Cleaners will move practically across the street this weekend and set up its pick-up location just east of the Strand Theatre building, next to Osborne's Dept. Store.

Owner Bernard Bancroft says the dry cleaners will be accepting business as usual Monday. The business is presently located next to Adrian Federal Savings and Loan.

Boy Is Injured Behind Store

Five-year-old Daniel C. Laws escaped serious injury last Saturday afternoon when an automobile driven by Robert Langmeyer, 9103 N. Union St., hit him while the boy played in the alley behind Baldwin Hardware.

Langmeyer, according to Tecumseh police, drove into the alley to purchase some supplies at the hardware store. On pulling away, his car hit the young lad, who was playing in a water puddle.

Collins - Corkery ambulance took him to the hospital, where he was treated for abrasions and released.

Fathers Day Has Surprise

Mrs. Donald Brown of Clinton delivered her 10th child Father's Day evening at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

This was the Brown's first son, after nine girls.

Mrs. Brown took little Donald LeRoy Jr. home to his sisters Wednesday.

Mr. Brown is a construction worker in Ann Arbor.

COMING JULY 3 "THE RECLINING FIGURE"

Indian Nine Wins Pair

In Pony League play last week, the Indians of Tecumseh posted two wins and one loss.

Kirk Lucas nursed a five-hitter as the Indians downed Deerfield, 8-7, with first baseman Bill Schulze getting two-for-four.

Joe Caterina had a triple for the winners.

The Indians edged the Eagles, another Tecumseh entry, 3-2, with Randy Work getting credit for the win as he allowed four blows and struck out 11.

In this game, Schulze nailed two for three. Doug Wilcox of the losers also had two-for-three.

The Indians lone loss came at the hands of Tecumseh's VFW, 7-2. Sheldon Pease permitted six hits as his mates collected nine, two of them by Stanley Lewis.

Indian hurler Scott Edwards picked three men off base and his right fielder, Kenny Bagby, pounded out two hits in highlights for the defeated team.

Deerfield stopped Tecumseh Products, 4-1, in other Pony loop play, with Randy Dotson twirling a two-hitter.

The Tecumseh Eagles squad hung up two victories, 15-3, over the Products and, 8-6, over Britton.

(Note: Managers in this league are asked to file complete records of each game, using first names. Forms can be picked up at The Herald office.)

Chuck Newell's team, taking two from Dean Hamilton's group, moved into second place.

The teams play two rounds each Thursday night at Macon.

Other match results were William Walker over Gerald Baker, Bernard Fisher over Merlin Schultz and Ben Gillies over Wendell Reum.

Team standings now are:

Graham Film To Be Shown

Billy Graham in "Decade of Decision," the Man, his Message and his Methods, will be shown at the Devils Lake Drive-In Sunday, July 1 at 9:15 p.m.

Los Angeles, Times Square, Yankee Stadium, Australia, Washington, D.C., and just outside the Communist East Zone will be pictured as well as many faces and testimonials, all reported by Dave Garroway.

Dr. Frederick Milkie, psychiatrist from Toledo, O. and well known in this area is in the film.

Also, the Drive-In itself is mentioned.

Music will be renewed by the Drive-In vocal and brass ensembles.

The Drive-In is located three miles east of US-127 and three miles south of US-223 at Devils Lake. No admission charge is made for these Sunday programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wilkin and children, Mike and Jan, were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Wilkin in Onsted Sunday for a family dinner.

Everetts Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Everett of 6003 Billmyer Rd. were entertained Friday evening at Hathaway House by their daughters, Mrs. Arthur Eaton and Mrs. Donald Parrett, and their sons-in-law.

The occasion marked the 50th anniversary of the Everetts, who were married June 24, 1912.

Guests also included Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Partridge and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Murphy of Britton.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Everett entertained at open house for their grandchildren and great-grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Eaton and three sons of Blissfield, Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Schroeder and two children of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. David Kirkby of Ann Arbor, Larry and Merly Eaton, Bruce, Margie and Mary Parrett, all of Tecumseh.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett were born in Plymouth, Mich. and lived there until their move to the Tecumseh area 33 years ago.

Tri-Town Club Fetes Member

Fourteen members of the Tri-Town Extension Club attended a surprise personal shower honoring Sharon Henkel, whose marriage to Larry Kanous of Britton will be solemnized in August.

Mrs. David Ousterhout and Mrs. Richard Whelan were the co-hostesses at the Ousterhout cottage at Wamplers Lake, June 18.

Swimming preceded the pot-luck supper. Appropriate games were played after the meal.

The July 16 meeting will be held at the Kampmueller cottage at Marr Lake.

Evergreens Planted by Club

Mrs. Harry Richard as hostess to the Little Garden Club for the June Meeting. Eighteen members were present for the discussion of the Club's coming flower show, "World's Fair Impressions."

"Space Needle", "Monorail", "Journey into Space" are among the class arrangement titles.

Rules and horticulture classes will be available at the July 17 meeting.

Mrs. Earl Baldwin and Mrs. Bill Clausen, committee co-chairmen, announced the purchase and planting of two evergreens by the War Memorial.

They also planted red, white and blue flowering plants in the planter for color at the Memorial during the growing season.

Another step in civic beautification was undertaken by the Civic Committee in announcing a "work bee" June 27, at Herrick Park School, to weed and mulch the shrubs and plantings.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Wilber Andrews.

A tour of Mrs. LeRoy Heilman's test gardens will be the program for the July meeting. Members are to bring a box lunch for the 1 p.m. meeting.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

A HAPPY ENDING

With so many sad tales of unsuccessful robin rearings, I was not about to jinx our birds by talking about them. Now, however, I think it is safe; the little birds have 'flown the coop.' This was an extremely good robin year—three nests nearby.

The first family, mentioned several articles ago, built in the backyard elm tree.

During the first spell of tree-house living, we enjoyed watching them build.

Using mud from the creek-bank they quickly had their house in living condition; unfortunately a prolonged drop in temperature kept me inside day after day and we lost track of our back-yard dwellers.

In due time though, two baby robins appeared and oh my, but they were young.

Feathers fluffed out, short stub-by tail, head all mouth, and the trade-mark of their kind, the cherry red breast, heavily streaked but the red completely lacking.

The white-fronted youngsters were not lacking voices however —it was surprising how loud they screamed.

The parent birds taught them how to find their own snacks but of course it was much easier to holler and beg.

I sometimes think the old birds jabbed the food into those open mouths just to keep the youngsters quiet.

About this time, a pair of robins set up housekeeping in the tree by Doctor's driveway.

How hard they worked at building the nest—actually I'm not sure whether they is proper, we couldn't see whether the male or female did the work but let's be charitable and credit them both.

Mud from the creek-bank was again the ready-at-hand material; it hardly seemed they had quit carrying that when we noticed them flying to the nest with billfuls of dangling worms.

☆

WE THINK our robins work hard but really it's a snap compared to what some of their brethren go through to build a nest.

Late one afternoon Ida and her family watched a robin labor—she first hopped through the freshly cut lawn picking up a billful of grass-clippings.

Taking them to the bird-bath, she swished her bill back and forth, thus getting the grass thoroughly wet.

Then she flew to the flower garden where, still 'holding tight' she wollered the clippings through the loose dirt and made mud.

First class building material but certainly the hard way of getting it.

☆

THE ROBIN family we were most concerned over proved once again that they knew more about their business than we did.

When we saw Mrs. Robin in her wild-cherry tree nest it seemed terribly unsafe and vulnerable.

The tree stands between our fence and the road, the nest was tucked into a crotch only four or five feet from the ground.

It seemed easy prey for kids, cats or anything, but fortunately our fears were groundless.

This was the most fun, for although we missed the construction, much of the family raising we did observe.

Her bright beady eyes followed us everywhere—there is nothing like being made feel unwelcome in your own yard.

☆

AFTER THE eggs hatched, the parents had the tremendous job of feeding their brood.

Before our movements had been openly watched, but now the birds so obviously ignored us that we just knew we were being closely kept track of.

Neither one, no matter how their bills bulged, would go directly to the nest—it was funny to see how 'casual and indifferent' they were.

They hopped around the yard, sat on the telephone wire and walked along the fence; they simply didn't want us to see them go home.

So it is that unlike some of our friends, we have had the good luck of having each of our robins' nests have a happy ending.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITORS:

I am an average taxpayer as most people are in this city, but I sure am an irate one.

I am wondering how long it will be before the few in this city will be telling whether we have to lay or stand in bed to sleep.

When we were called on and told about the curb and gutter, we were asked to sign a petition. I told them I couldn't afford it for a couple of years, then I was told in no uncertain terms that he wou[illegible] see to it that the council would force it on us, and one thing was certain, our neighbor had money, and she would never miss it, also that it would raise the value on our property and in the future the street would be improved.

I have seen many of these so called improved streets and I don't think that even a small town like Ridgeway would have them for a gift.

I have asked the town for some tree removal in front of our place, but that's the most ridiculous thing they ever heard of but they can come along and force things on you that you can't afford.

They have a meeting set up about the curb and gutter for protests, but to go to such a meeting would be a strict waste of time as they will force the curb and gutter on us anyway.

I think it's about time the people that own or are buying property in this town have a little to say about their own belongings.

Horseshoe Pitchers Compete

The Hudson Grange Fair, at the new high school grounds on N. Maple Grove Ave., Hudson, is to be the scene of both the Hillsdale and Lenawee County Horseshoe Tournaments Saturday, July 7, starting at 9 a.m.

The tournament is sponsored by the Hudson Grange Fair and is sanctioned by the Wolverine State Horseshoe Pitchers Association.

All horseshoe players in the Hillsdale or Lenawee County areas are invited to attend and participate. Deadline for entering is 10 a.m.

Players will be required to take the 50-shoe qualifying tests, counting three points for each ringer and one point for each shoe within six inches of the stake. There will be various classes, depending upon the qualifying scores attained by the players.

The Men's Division will comprise those 18 years and over. Boys 17 years and under will compete in the Junior Division.

If enough interest is shown, there will also be a separate tournament for the women Trophies will be provided for each of the County Champions.

An entry fee is charged the contestants to defray the cost of a trophy and other prizes. All players are requested to furnish their own horseshoes. Regulation horseshoes can be purchased at the fair for those who do not already have them.

The county tournament is a part of a state-wide horseshoe promotion program.

The Michigan State Championship Tournament is scheduled at Grand Rapids Aug. 25.

A special invitation is extended to all horseshoe players in the Hillsdale and Lenawee County area and throughout the state to participate in one or all of he tournaments sanctioned by the state association.

Additional information may be secured from Otis Saeter, regional director, at 15981 Denby, Detroit, or from Secretary Irwin Carlbery at 4094 Remembrance Rd., N. W., Grand Rapids, 4.

Cheese Joins Instant Food Conveniences

EAST LANSING—Now it's instant cheese.

Two Michigan State University food scientists, C. M. Stine and R. L. Bradley, have developed improved powdered versions of cheddar and blue cheeses, and they are expected to be on the market soon.

Just like other instant foods, the directions will be: add water, then stir.

The researchers predict uses for the powdered cheese in au gratin potatoes, Welsh rarebit, soup and vegetable garnishes, macaroni and cheese dinners and chip dips. Or they can be used in powdered form for flavoring in such dishes as casseroles, soups, pizzas or souffles.

No refrigeration will be necessary.

The researchers reported on their findings at the annual meeting of the [illegible] Science Association at College Park, Md. early this week.

John Browne Earns Title as Marksman

Specialist 4/C John T. Browne, son of Mrs. William Browne of 332 N. Union St., recently achieved recognition as a top Army marksman by qualifying for the expert marksmanship badge during range firing with the Army's new M-14 rifle in Germany.

The M-14 will replace the M-1 rifle, carbine, Browning automatic rifle and M-3 submachine gun.

It packs the fire power of a light-machinegun, can be fired both automatically and semiautomatically and fires the standard 7.62-millimeter NATO cartridge.

A liasion specialist in Battery C of the 4th Armored Division's 14th Artillery in Furth, Germany, Specialist Browne entered the Army in April 1960 and was stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., before arriving overseas the following October.

He is a 1959 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

'Arks For Sale' in Scots Paper

Mrs. James L. Thomas of 9589 Clinton-Macon Rd. recently brought an issue of "The Nairnshire Telegraph," a paper published in Scotland, to the Herald office.

Mrs. Thomas corresponds with Mrs. R. M. Davidson of Nairn.

In contrast with papers published in America, all classified advertising appears on the front page. Some read like this:

"Six Chicken Rearing Arks for sale

"Bee Candy—1s 9d lb. Heards High Street

Past Chiefs Entertained At Cottage

Mrs. Henry Kempf and Mrs. Fred Whelan entertained members of the Past Chiefs Club at their cottage at Vineyard Lake Friday evening.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Ervie Raymond conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Kempf read the 23rd Psalm as a memorial for Mrs. Myrtle Brollier.

Games were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Bert Aten, Mrs. Lynn Hubbard, Mrs. A. J. Todd and Mrs. Duncan Oliphant.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Meetings were recessed until September.

The engagement of Alice Marie Covell to Robert F. Marsh is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Covell of 507 W. Logan St. Mr. Marsh is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Marsh of 410 E. Logan St. No date has been set for the wedding.

Extension Group Goes Hawaiian

Fourteen members of the Progress Extension Club dressed for the occasion attended a Hawaiian luau June 18 at the home of Mrs. Ronald Purple in Ridgeway.

Dinner was served to guests, seated on pillows, from a mat gayly decorated with a straw hat centerpiece filled with fruits.

Candles, shells, colored lights, and palm trees enhanced the setting made by Mrs. Purple and Mrs. Kennard Wise, who also promoted a scavenger hunt for entertainment.

Chicken Hawaiian, individual salad boats and tuna yaki were served.

Aug. 6 a family potluck supper at the Vineyard Lake County Park will take the place of the regular meeting.

Off to Wisconsin

Richard Hubbard returned to Crivitz, Wis. Friday after spending a week with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hubbard. Additional guests Wednesday and Thursday were Douglas and Timothey Schilling of Monroe.

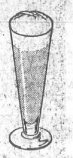
The Friendly Store

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862. . . the same year that

IN MICHIGAN, hearing of the gallant fighting of the 1st, 4th, 5th and 7th Michigan regiments against the Confederacy, folks all over the state toasted their troops' bravery with foaming steins of beer.

For then as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment to our state. The Brewing Industry pays more than 16 million dollars in taxes to Michigan each year, money that helps support our parks, hospitals and schools.



TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

THAT COMPACT CAR MAY BE FUN FOR YOU
But My Compact Refrigerator is for the Birds!

Are you still getting along with a small, out-dated Refrigerator that needs messy defrosting?

NEW REFRIGERATOR-FREEZERS END ALL DEFROSTING

Today's modern, "carefree-design" refrigerator-freezers end all defrosting in both refrigerator and freezer sections. This means no frost ever—on food packages, ice cube trays or walls—no defrosting drudgery ever—no scraping, no chipping, no prying, no messy pans of water to empty (or spill). And, the handsome refrigerator-freezer models beautify every kitchen. The interior arrangement is planned for spacious food storage and easy access to food supplies. In addition, the new refrigerator-freezers will:

- Store enough fresh and frozen foods to last for weeks—conveniently at your fingertips.
- Save extra trips to the market.
- Keep leftovers fresh and tasty until needed.
- Save money because the large freezer compartment allows you to buy meats, vegetables and baked goods when prices are low.
- Give you peace of mind because you can store enough for hungry family and unexpected guests.

Constitution Would Eliminate Spring Election

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This report, prepared from information furnished by the Constitutional Convention public information office, outlines highlights of changes in the proposed new Michigan Constitution. Summaries of each Article will appear in subsequent weeks).

Article II — Elections—which is Article III in the present Constitution, eliminates much legislative detail and a mass of outmoded provisions.

A major revision does away with the spring election and provides that all except special elections shall be held on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November of the even years. An exception would be if congressmen have to be elected at a different time, due to the action of Congress. An attempt to move the spring election up to November in the odd years was balked.

The Convention rejected the 18 or 19-year-old vote on the grounds there was no great demand for a lower voting age.

☆

A NEW section would set aside the law which gives legislators an incumbency designation on the ballot — a practice delegates felt was unfair to opponents.

Other than judicial, incumbency designation would be limited to cases where there are candidates for the same office with the same or similar surnames.

Another section recognizes that issues and candidates for president are the same throughout the country. In addition to waiving the six-month residence requirement for otherwise qualified voters moving into Michigan, the Legislature could let former Michigan residents vote absentee for president if they are not eligible to vote in their new state of residence.

☆

AS IN the old Constitution, when it comes to voting on the issuance of bonds, only persons having property assessed for taxation, or their spouses, may vote, but there is added a provision that the same qualifications shall apply to those who vote for increased millage for more than a five-year term.

When the question is on an increase in millage for less than five years, any qualified elector may vote, as at present.

A new section permits, but does not require, the Legislature to exclude from voting two groups felt to be unsuitable: the mentally incompetent and jail or prison inmates.

The many provisions of the old Constitution about gaining or losing residence for voting purposes by being in the military service, attending college, and so forth, are deleted from the new document and left for the Legislature to regulate.

DeLisles Reach Silver Year

Mr. and Mrs. Edward DeLisle celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Sunday by attending 7:30 mass at St. Elizabeth Church and having their marriage blessed.

Their children invited neighbors, friends and relatives to an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. at the DeLisle home at 500 Seminole Dr.

Anne Manick and Edward DeLisle, both of Wyandotte, were married June 26, 1937 by Fr. Clarence Darsey at St. Patrick's Church in Wyandotte. They have 10 children.

Guests Given Flag To Mark National Day

Miriam Nixon was hostess for eleven members and three guests of the Past Noble Grands Club recently.

Mrs. Nixon presented each of the guests with a flag in keeping with flag day.

The guests were Mrs. Ernie Topps, Mrs. Carroll Frost and Mrs. Boldt Sarvey.

Cards were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Topps, Mrs. Alice Collom, Mrs. Orin Beevers and Mrs. Jesse Nichols.

Peach cream pie and toasted pinwheel sandwiches were served.

A Grateful Company and Its Employees Say 'Thank You'

The management and work force of Bruce Foundry are sincerely grateful to the many folks who lent their help in our fire of Thursday, June 21.

First of all, we thank Tecumseh Policeman Don Rodehaver, who alertly spotted the blaze and sounded the alarm.

We will always be indebted to the courageous Tecumseh Volunteer Fire Department and the members of the Clinton Volunteer Group who helped to contain the trouble and save our other buildings. They did a marvelous job. Their gallant efforts, over a three-hour period, helped preserve our business and jobs.

We likewise thank the many people who have called and offered assistance, since the time of the fire.

To all of our more than 120 customers, who have stood firm and not turned over their business to other foundries, we express heartfelt gratitude.

By dint of close cooperation and considerable hard work, we were back in partial production by the weekend and Monday our molders poured 27,000 pounds of grey iron castings, which is almost 90% of regular capacity.

Scouts Save For Camping

Boy Scout Troop 73 of Tecumseh is preparing for summer camp this year at Lake Washington by selling savings stamps at 10 each so boys do not have to have their total $15 in all at one time.

Parents and their boys are urged to attend to payment soon as possible so the scoutmaster can prepare a grocery list and menu for camp.

Parents having questions on this matter or any scout activity may call Scoutmaster Fred Filber at HA 3-3651.

All scouts are asked to be sure to attend all meetings Wednesday night at the Scout cabin as they will pertain to summer camp activities.

The dates for this years camp are Aug. 5-11.

The engagement of Marilyn E. Whelan to Richard J. Blue of Flint is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Whelan, of Tipton. The wedding will be solemnized in the Tipton Community Church July 7 at 2:30 p.m. Miss Whelan is an elementary teacher in the Flint public schools. Mr. Blue is employed at the Chevrolet plant in Flint.

3 from Tecumseh at Girls State

Debbie Holden, Connie Schneider and Sheila ONeil are attending Girl's State at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor this week. Mrs. Laine Holden accompanied the girls there last Tuesday.

Rep. Meader To Run Again For Congress

Rep. George Meader is a candidate to succeed himself for a seventh term as representative in Congress from the 2nd Congressional District of Michigan.

Rep. Meader also announced the appointment of an executive committee of the Meader for Congress Coimmittee. Members of the committee in the four counties of the 2nd Congressional District will be announced later, he said.

In announcing his candidacy Rep. Meader made the following statement:

"The New Frontier has been in power long enough for its pattern to be evident not only from voluminous and often conflicting statements but from its actions.

"Basically, the bureaucracy is demanding more money and more power and has displayed a willingness to exercise that power rashly and ruthlessly at the expense of individual rights and economic freedom.

"If the American people return a rubber-stamp Congress this fall, we will probably see a rate of growth of bureaucracy and a rate of loss of individual liberty unequalled in our country's history."

Rep. Meader will be among the Republican members of Congress honored at a GOP Congressional Dinner in Washington Friday.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be the featured speaker at the dinner, which will kick off the Republican Party's drive to capture control of the House of Representatives this fall.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

The Trouble? Parents!

(Editor's note: A recent incident at a Cub League baseball game prompted Recreation Director John Henderson to write the following article, which we feel makes an excellent editorial.)

After the first week of play in the city's Cub League has been successfully completed, we have found where our troubles lie.

We have had no difficulty with the boys and managers' sportsmanship, or questioning the decision of the umpires.

Actual running of the games has gone smoothly as they should. Then you should ask, "Where does the trouble lie?"

Answer: Parents!

It seems that some parents come out of the stands and openly question the decision of our umpires. Some adults receive their enjoyment out of heckling and harrassing the other team.

Usually, the play in question affects their boy. We have found the value the boys and managers place on the game is entirely different than that of the parents.

Overall the parents have been extremely cooperative. But we speak of that small handfull which spoils it for the rest of the group. This group is placing too much undue pressure on these boys.

Many times a lad does not have to make an excuse for an error — dads already has done it for him.

The philosophy which should be shown to these boys — and is being done by the managers — is that of good sportsmanship, RESPECT, play as a team and put forth a good team effort.

We have in Tecumseh one of the best programs in the United States and the men behind this are one of the best organized groups in our city.

So let's let the boys play their own ball game and leave the Cub League to the Cub Leaguers.

Majority Want Chamber To Continue

The nearly-completed survey of Chamber of Commerce membership by Charlie Butler has brought out many interesting facts.

More than 100 business places and individuals have so far been contacted.

√ Only two did not want any Chamber.

√ Two were indifferent.

√ One wanted a county-wide organization.

√ One suggested a greater Tecumseh Chamber to include nearby small towns.

√ Ninety-five percent wanted a full-time secretary. Seventy-five percent of these said, "If we could afford it."

√ Four wanted a part-time secretary.

√ Four wanted work done by a volunteer committee.

√ Ninety percent wanted to pay less than they had in the past.

√ Fifteen said they were too busy to work on committees.

√ Seventy-five percent wanted more industry.

√ Sixty percent wanted more employment.

√ Most retailers say the past business promotions were good. A few wanted more of these.

√ Sixty percent voted for everyone to join the Chamber.

√ Most discord was over past dues being too much.

√ There was criticism over lack of unity and efforts of the merchants .

However, most of so called feuding on Main Street failed to show up.

SOME typical comments:

"Promote good will and boost the city."

"Give a booster division."

"More cooperation among businessmen."

"If you start a project, complete it."

"Get rid of parking meters in lots."

"More factories — work harder on this."

"There should be a meter study to compare with other communities."

"Horse sense in policing present Main Street meters."

"Lax relationship between the Chamber of Commerce and the city government."

"Unity and effort much needed."

"Go back to Saturday night opening."

"Revive the old Wednesday night shows."

"Expand our shopping area."

"Meet, greet and welcome new people in town."

"Have a qualified secretary."

"Hire a man who can unify the town."

"Promote a better business climate in town."

"Have an educational plan first."

"What is a Chamber of Commerce?"

MR. BUTLER has drawn the following conclusions, which he feels will make the Chamber a success:

Every business, industry, professional personal and loyal individual must be taken into the Chamber.

Dues for the individuals might be $10 to $25 yearly; small business, $25 to $50; large business $75 to 100; industries $50 and up.

A quick canvass shows there would be enough income under this plan to provide for a full-time secretary, Mr. Butler notes.

"I think this must be done," states Mr. Butler, "or at least 100 must pay $100 a year to have a secretary and this is what has killed it before.

"I think that a secretary should mostly be a leg man, calling often on the members and helping and encouraging them as his first job.

"He must constantly promote the efforts of advertising Tecumseh with such slogan as, 'Try Tecumseh First', 'Shop in Tecumseh', 'Come Shop with Us', 'We'll Get It If We Haven't Got it,' " he adds.

Mr. Butler explains that some customers in the past have been embarassed too often by merchants being out of stock and being unwilling to get items.

"I think the boss must go to work—lead, instill more dedication and loyalty in his employees, [illegible] business basis, be more sincere in service.

"He must honestly ask himself the question, 'Am I a qualified retailer?', but principally work in harmony and trust with other merchants.

"Finally, I think too many younger merchants expect too much, too soon—that is part of their dissatisfaction.

"This is a continuous effort, the golden reward, a home, family, education for children, save enough for old age, this is the final goal. It takes a lifetime," he concludes.

Santers Go to Colorado after Trip

First Lt. and Mrs. Richard Santer and daughter, Carolyn, have returned to Fort Carson, Colo., last Thursday after a two-week vacation with Mrs. Santer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Boyce, and other relatives in Detroit.

Mrs. Santer is the former Ruth Boyce.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

One of the year's big athletic events is almost with us—the second running of the Tecumseh Pancake Race.

It's slated for Friday, Aug. 3. This happens to be the date of the merchant's annual free pancake supper, which is being held in conjunction with the yearly sidewalk carnival.

Some fun.

If this year's race—patterned after the one that has been staged in Olney, England for more than 500 years—is half as fun as last year's it will be a real ball.

A 415-yard course is run by feminine contestants. Each one carries a griddle with a pancake in it. At four points along the course, each gal must flip her cake over a ribbon and catch it coming down the other side.

She can't continue until the toss-and-catch has been completed.

Last summer's racers had the crowd in stitches.

So, girls, start working out for the 1962 event.

Rumor has it that there may be a real neat prize given the winner this time.

☆

Jim McKenna is blushing a bit these days.

He brought in a report of the recent Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation Board of Trustees meeting.

In it, Jim wrote that two new Trustees had been named and we printed that Ken Conway and the Rev. Paul Brantingham got the nod—even dug up pictures of the pair.

But Jim made a slight slip, the second person selected was Ron Dillingham, not the Rev. Mr. Brantingham.

We feel for Jim, having made the same route a few times ourselves.

Catholic Teens To Start Club

All Catholic young people in the area of high school age are invited to attend the organizational meeting of the St. Elizabeth CYO teen club.

It will be held at St. Elizabeth School Wednesday, July 18 at 7:30 p.m.

Purpose and objectives of the organization will be explained by members of a steering committee of Catholic teens, which have met three times to map plans.

Mark Vaillencourt will act as chairman.

Following the business portion of the evening, a hay ride will be held.

400 Property Owners Will Pay $26,500 for Sidewalks

By JIM LINCOLN

Over 400 Tecumseh property owners will receive letters from the city this week about installing new sidewalk on their property.

The city-wide project of approximately 53,000 square feet of new walk will cost about $26,500.

Property owners will have the choice of putting in the walk through a licensed sidewalk contractor and with a permit, or let the city do it.

The permit will cost the owners one-half cent per square foot. If the city installs the new walk, the cost will be put on next July taxes with a 20% markup over the contractor's price.

James Fielder's bid to the city for sidewalk installation was low at 50c a square foot. Property owners may contract with him or any other licensed contractor.

Cal Zorn, city engineer, has inspected walks throughout the city during the past few weeks and marked walk for replacement with red paint. Some residents already have had their sidewalk taken care of.

☆

IN OTHER Council action:

► Curb and gutter installation on W. Potawatamie was approved for scheduling.

► Approved a sidewalk's contractor license to Oscar Meads.

► Authorized signing contract with Michigan Mutual Liability Co. for employees compensation.

► Letters from Charles Ireland and R. D. Elbertson, Birmingham, for installing septic tanks were referred to City Manager Ed Nelson.

► Approved a fireworks permit to Elvah Phillips.

► Authorized Michigan Curb and Construction Co. of Plymouth to install about 2,200 lineal feet of curb this summer.

Austerity Program Continues

Austerity program at the Tecumseh schools appeared certain to continue for the 1962-'63 term.

This was brought out at the school board meeting Monday night.

Only the teachers will receive additional benefits and those approved will not cost the schools extra money.

Considered, but rejected, were:

► Return junior high to six-hour day.

► Increase school library budget.

► Increase custodial staff.

► Purchase new furniture and equipment.

► Buy two new busses.

The estimated total cost of these additions was $25,500. If accepted, the cost would have been paid from additional state aid for '62-63, amounting to between $33,000 and $39,000.

☆

PERSONNEL policies affecting the teachers included use of accumulated leave for legal or business matters, attendance at a funeral, emergency leave for three days without a doctor's certificate, and accumulation of leave at the rate of 10 days per year up to 30 days; thereafter, the rate to be five days per year for an unlimited amount.

Another policy adopted for the teachers concerned qualified teachers requesting new assignments or reassignments in their major fields. ☆

IN OTHER action at the lengthy board meeting, members:

► Elected Aden Mead, president; Dwight Hodges, secretary; Ralph Comfort, treasurer.

► Approved hot lunch program at the high school only, with lunches to cost 35c.

► Approved business manager to do all banking, manage petty cash fund, sign payrolls and check.

► Requested investigation for bonding employees, problems related to the library before the schools start operating it, and a township error in allotting part of the Tecumseh School District to Clinton, which received additional tax money for an area not in its district.

☆

SUPT. JAMES McDOWELL reported that the schools need only one teacher to complete the staff. A secondary math position is still open.

New teachers employed are:

Frank Graham, high school business education.

Lucille Bailey, first grade, Tipton.

Elizabeth Ann Knapp, first grade, Tecumseh Acres.

Ray Newton, biology, high school general science, assistant football coach.

William Rayburn, high school math.

Susan McCall, high school English.

Joyce Ferguson, first grade, West Branch.

John Fennel, fifth grade, Ridgeway.

Janet Bleich, third grade, West Branch.

Dorothy Strobel, second grade, West Branch.

Dorothy Tombaugh, sixth grade, Patterson.

Barbara Laneheart, junior high, phys ed.

West Branch school will be used for regular first, second and third grades. Special education classes held there last year will be moved to the Sutton School.

All expenses for special education are paid by the state and county education departments.

Joyce Takes New Name, Role

Joyce Wilbar is now Julie Parrish.

As happens to most movie starlets, Joyce has undergone a name change.

The former Tecumseh girl, now cracking the movie world, has made the change legal, so start addressing your fan mail to Julie Parrish.

Julie went west after being named Patricia Stevens Young Model of the Year. For capturing the title, she received a one-movie contract with Jerry Lewis.

Miss Parrish was slated for a small bit in "It's Only Money," but director Frank T. Jin decided Julie was worth a better role and he gave her some lines.

Then the director introduced her to a chap named Jack Cummins, who is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer producer and he had Julie enrolled in a studio talent school.

Following the drama course, she was auditioned by MGM and expects parts in some studio TV series and a part in the next Elvin Presley picture.

Besides this, Julie will appear in the next Lewis film, entitled "Jekyl and Hyde," which goes into production this summer.

Julie will play hostess in a couple of weeks to one of her former Tecumseh High School classmates, Diane Fox, who is swinging through California on a West Coast vacation this month.

Diane reports that Julie has a TV series called "Ben Casey" been dating a fellow by the name Should be an interesting re- of Vincent Edwards, who does union.

HER DREAMS ARE COMING TRUE

Bruce Back in Complete Operation

By TOM RIORDAN

Bruce Foundry was back in 100% operation Monday for the first time since the disasterous fire of 10 days earlier.

At the same time, owner ... Bruce was turning down a "tempting offer" from Grand Rapids to move the operation there.

Officials from the Kent County city were after Mr. Bruce from the moment they heard of the blaze and "have been on my neck ever since" he explained.

"But this is our home and we're not interested in moving away," added Mr. Bruce, who has owned the foundry since 1936.

Insurance adjusters met with Mr. Bruce Tuesday to work out payment for the loss and engineers were also on hand to study roof restoration, which will be started shortly.

A 200-foot section of the roof on the main building was completely destroyed in the fire.

As news about the building developed, the employee CIO union was making some, too.

They voted Monday to extend a 5% cut in pay, first taken Jan. 22, 1962 for six months, to Sept. 1, 1963.

The decision to accept lower wages was based on the workers' desire to see Bruce Foundry stay competitive in its pricing and to continue on a five-day work week.

Bruce has been five-day for four years, which is unusual in current foundry operations, where most are open fewer. ☆

MR. BRUCE reported that Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce officials visited him with suggestions of a new location here, but he concluded it would be cheaper to repair the present setup.

Gross business for the local foundry has been climbing steadily in recent years to its current $750,000.

"It shouldn't take too long to hit a million," the owner predicts.

Sales agencies for the foundry have been set up in Cleveland and Pittsburgh and four new customers recently added to the firm's more than 120.

As of this week, all 66 employees were working and the firm's 16 molders were in full operation.

Second Bee Set at School

July 10 at 9 a.m. the Little Garden Club will have another work bee at the Herrick Park School.

All members and any other interested persons are invited to take part in weeding and mulching the shrubs on the school's grounds.

Co-chairmen, Mrs. Earl Baldwin and Mrs. Bill Clausen, report over a third of the clubs members took part in the first work session.

Members participating were Mrs. Wilber Andrews, Mrs. Baldwin, Mrs. Paul Burns, Mrs. Richard Colson, Mrs. Carlton Cook, Mrs. Clausen, Mrs. Howard Fury and Mrs. William Schroer.

Chorale Arrives In Ireland

Robert Bonner of Tecumseh with the Michigan Youth Chorale has arrived in North Ireland.

Bangor Castle and grounds were photographed from many angles yesterday, when the 70 American boys and girls making up the Chorale were accorded a civic reception by the Mayor of Bangor, Alderman Charles A. Valentine.

Also received at the Town Hall were the American Consul-General and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Goodman.

"The Mayor recalled the visit of the Chorale of three years ago and assured the visitors that Bangor people were looking forward to the concerts which they would give in the town."

The Michigan Youth Chorale is a part of the Youth of Understanding Teen-Age Exchange Program sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches since 1951.

This year more than 300 students have gone overseas to live with European families for the summer.

From North Ireland they go to Keswick, England; then to Tunbridge Wells, England. On the Continent they visit Amsterdam, Holland; Berlin and Oldenburg, Germany.

Wright Named Chairman

William Wright was named chairman of the Tecumseh Library Board last week at the board's annual meeting.

The board met first at the new library to inspect work on the building and grounds, then adjourned to the old library for the business session.

Mr. Wright replaces Joseph Galazzi as chairman. Mr. Galazzi has served two years in the post, the limit allowed under board bylaws.

Mrs. Laine Holden ended two years as vice-chairman, and Mrs. Gordon Comfort was named to the post.

Although the board will not meet again officially until September, members will be busy. Already scheduled are a tea for teachers just before the new school year opens, and an open house the first Sunday of October.

The tea, held in conjunction with the pre-term meetings of the school system, will introduce teachers and other school personnel to the new library.

The library board commended librarian Mrs. Julie Fosbender for her annual report, showing a tremendous upsurge in use of library facilities.

The report also showed that the function of the library is changing. Where once some 85 per cent of the library books circulated were fiction, now about 65 per cent are fiction, with the remainder from the fields of history, biography, politics, religions, self-help and the other myraid fields library books cover.

In other business, the board discussed final arrangements for library equipment in the old and new buildings.

Library Report Tells Of Bigger Circulation

Ideas, blueprints, furniture, ground breaking and all the other details of planning and building a new library will make 1961-1962 a year to remember, states librarian Mrs. Julie Fosbender in her annual report to the Library Board.

Circulation has increased by approximately 7,000.

"If we were to look at this for a 20-year period," she explains, "we would find that in 1941-'42 the circulation totaled 10,000. In 1951-'52 it showed a 100% increase or 20,000.

In 1961-'62 there was an increase to 60,000.

'We also find that 20 years ago 80% of the adult books taken were fiction, this year 56% fiction and 44% non-fiction.

"Gradually the use of the library has changed from one of almost pure recreation to a combination of recreation, study and research, she points out.

Book collections have jumped from 10,296 in 1941 to the present 18,000 volumes. "The book collection is still our greatest need," she states. "While our book budget was low this year, we were able to add a number of books through gifts of various people and book memorials."

Staff changes included the addition of Mrs. Gladys Meyer as a parttime clerk-typist and Philip Miller as a student assistent. Linda Refner, who recently married, left in the fall

The Library Board met 10 times during the year. Resignations were accepted from Mrs. Jens Touborg and Allen Russell. Mrs. Gordon Comfort and Dr. Harold Ocamb were appointed to the Board.

Summer reading club and story hour were held in 1961, with record membership in each reported.

'School libraries have done an excellent job under Mrs. Elnora Blanks and Mrs. Katharine Suydam," says Mrs. Fosbender. "This year has seen the cataloging of all audio visual materials in the elementary schools."

Ad Changes Late

Two price changes for this week's A&P ad arrived too late to be made. Cantaloupes are three for 75c instead of 23c each. Sweet corn is 59c a dozen, instead of six ears for 39c.

Tipton Church Holds Sessions

TIPTON—Each Monday and Thursday evening at 10, members and friends of the Tipton Community Church are invited to attend a prayer and Bible Study session in the church office.

The plan is to start promptly at 10 and finish no later than 10:45 p.m.

Eight County Farms Receive $50,000 from Government

Forty Michigan farms received more than $5,000 each under the federal feed grain program.

Eight of these were in Lenawee County.

The eight received checks totaling $50,950.

The money was given for diverting acres from feed grain production to conservation uses.

Farmers had to cut at least 10 per cent of their feed grain acreage in order to qualify for federal crop supports.

Although the 1961 program reduced American feed grain surpluses for the first time in years, Congressional reaction to the large payments may affect the program's future.

Lenawee County farms listed in the Agriculture Department's compilation of the 3,800 U. S. farmers receiving more than $5,000 were:

Driggs Dairy, Palmyra, $5,183

Clark Engel, Palmyra, $7,269

Norman, Dean, Lee and Amelia Keller, Blissfield, $5,312.

Merle Kerr, Britton, $5,576.

Mueller's Inc., Deerfield, $7,153.

Schwyn Brothers, Blissfield, $6,463.

Leon Squires, Britton, $6,090.

Richard Walters, Blissfield, $7,904.

In addition, a Milan farmer, Albert E. Heath, received $5,077. Washtenaw County had three farms listed, two near Ann Arbor and one near Ypsilanti, and Monroe County had a farm listed at Erie, where Victor Morrin received an $8,655 check.

In all, some $765 million went into the feed grain program. Payments ranged up to the $94,092 paid to the Farmers Investment Co. of Tucson, Ariz.

Michigan farmers getting the higher payments were few, compared with other states.

Texas was tops, with 1,008 receiving more than $5,000 — and including 31 who received more than $20,000.

In the Midwest grain areas, Missouri led with 400 farms getting more than $8,000. Illinois had 378, and Iowa 374.

While some of these payments ranged up to $64,000, most varied from $800 to $3,000

Three Michigan farms received more than $10,000, one each in Vandalia, Niles and Pinconning.

Speedway Busy Place This Week

This is a busy week for stock car racing fans who patronize Manchester Speedway.

Two programs are on tap:

► Evening of July Fourth, there will be a Trophy Race, with fireworks and the give-away of a Shetland pony at intermission

► On Friday, the regular program will be held. Highlight that night will be free rides in stock cars for youngsters.

Both nights, time trials will begin at 7 and races beginning at 8:30.

The Speedway is north and west of Clinton off M-52.

Grace Lopez and Deloss Bates Marry

Grace R. Lopez and Deloss C. Bates II were united in marriage Saturday morning at the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church when the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins read the nuptial Mass.

The couple received Papal Blessing.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Avelardo O. Lopez, 4253 Billmyer Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Deloss C. Bates of Durand, are parents of the groom.

William Froberg of Mt. Clemens was his brother-in-law's best man and the guests were seated by Larry and Richard Lopez, John Siler and Johnny Uranga.

The bride was radiant in a princess styled gown of ivory peau de soie featuring a V-neckline, long tapered sleeves and an intermission length skirt which swept into a chapel train.

She wore a Chantilly lace mantilla and carried a lace-covered prayer book topped with a white orchid corsage in a cascade of ivy.

☆

ROSEMARY HANAMEY of Boston, Mass. was a maid-of-honor in a white dress styled with an embroidered organdy bodice.

She carried a crescent bouquet of white Butterfly roses and Camellia foliage.

Libby Mudgett was the flower girl, carrying a white nylon and satin basket filled with daisies and rose petals.

James Gribble of Adrian was the ring bearer.

Nearly 500 attended the reception on the lawn of the bride's home where Gail Mally of Birmingham, Mary Ann Coe of Bay City, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Uranga of Milan and Charles Fischer of Adrian assisted.

☆

FOLLOWING a wedding trip to the World's Fair on the west coast the couple will make their home at 805 East Huron St. in Ann Arbor.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph Academy and received her bachelor of science degree at Mercy College of Nursing in Detroit.

She is employed as psychiatric nurse at the University Medical Center at Ann Arbor.

The groom is a graduate of Durand High School and is a student at the University of Michigan, School of Dentistry.

A rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents for members of the wedding party.

MRS. DELOSS BATES

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Good news arrived at the Herald office from Wilmington, Cal., last week concerning the daughter of a former Tecumseh resident.

Margaret Williamson Lepon wrote with justifiable pride of her oldest daughter, Phyllis, who has graduated with distinction from Stanford University in Germany.

Miss Lepon also was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the national scholarship honorary society.

She was admitted to Stanford with "Honors at Entrance" in 1958. A Hispanic-American studies major, Miss Lepon was a contributor to the Hispanic American Report and to the 1961 Collier's Encyclopedia Yearbook and was initiated into Sigma Delta Pi, national Spanish Fraternity.

With 68 fellow students, she spent a week each in Rome, Vienna, Berlin and Brussels. During another vacation, Miss Lepon toured the Scandinavian countries and British Isles.

Since December, she has been living in Madrid, teaching languages and doing commercial interpreting and translating.

Miss Lepon is spending this summer at San Sebastian, famous resort on the coast of Spain.

Miss Lepon is the granddaughter of the late Mrs. Charles H. Williamson. Her father is a doctor.

It is so nice to hear from friends of earlier days and the Herald staff appreciates the closing words of Mrs. Lepon, "My, how the paper has improved."

The welcome mat is out for news of other far-off friends as well as those at home.

Lana Wright Marries Larry Wittrup

Lana Fern Wright and Larry Allen Wittrup were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at the Methodist Church by the groom's father, the Rev. Allen Wittrup, and the Rev. Lazlo Gero of the Gloria dei Lutheran Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wright of 312 W. Kilbuck St.

The groom's parents have recently moved to Okemos from Tecumseh.

Mrs. Donald Bush of Macon was at the organ to accompany Linda Dean, soloist.

White gladioli and majestic daisies filled the altar vases, and cathedral baskets of the same blossoms with palmetto foliage marked each side of the chancel entrance.

Palms and candelabra formed a background for the kneeler.

The bride entered the aisle on the arm of her father wearing a white colonial style gown of lace and organza with portrait neckline, long tapered sleeves and a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was attached to a tiny crown. She carried a white Cattelya orchid with cascades of stephanotis and ivy.

Cynthia Poley, Vera Michajlenko and Barbara Wittrup were the bride's attendants, wearing ballerina-length gowns of orchid taffeta with embroidered nylon puffed sleeves.

Their headpieces were white satin leaves with nylon tulle centered with a purple orchid.

Each attendant carried a white fan with two purple orchids and cascades of ivy.

Marie and Michael Plotts were the flower girl and the ring bearer. Marie was dressed in mint green nylon with a flower hat and carried a nosegay of white Pinocchio roses, pompons and ivy.

Stanford Bratton of Pittsburgh was best man. Tom Wright, Roger Wittrup, Allen Dickinson and Ted Harvey seated the guests.

About 400 attended the wedding and reception held in the social rooms, where Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wiemer and Mr. and Mrs. George Wittrup were the hosts.

A five-tiered cake encircled with fern and orchid glamellias was served from a large circular table skirted with white taffeta and swags of nylon tulle with glamellias and orchid ribbon used in corsage fashion at the top of the table.

Punch tables were enhanced with large brandy snifters filled with floral arrangements of the wedding colors.

Eighteen close relatives assisted at the reception.

After a week in northern Michigan, the couple will make their home at 402½ W. Chicago Blvd.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Cleary College in Ypsilanti. She will be employed at the Bildwell Co. near Meyers Airport.

The groom is a graduate of Birmingham High School and will be a senior at Adrian College in the fall.

A rehearsal dinner was held at the Methodist Church.

MRS. LARRY ALLEN WITTRUP

Lois Mattis Speaks Nuptial Vows

Lois Mattis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Mattis of rural Adrian and Gerald R. Krout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krout of Tipton were united in marriage June 30 at the home of the bride's parents.

The Rev. Lorren Krout of the Lutheran Church of Rosebud, Texas, performed the ceremony before 16 guests.

The bride in a floor-length gown of white organza and lace with bustle back descended the open stairway to meet her father who gave her in marriage.

She wore a shoulder-length veil attached to a rhinestone tiara and a strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

She carried a bouquet of daisies and rosebuds with ivy.

Ruth Krout, sister of the groom, was the bride's only attendant wearing a ballerina length blue nylon chiffon gown, matching hat with circular veil and carrying a bouquet of pink daisies.

Douglas Mattis, brother of the bride, was the best man.

After a trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will make their home at 2021½ Tyrelle St., Clinton.

The bride is a graduate of Onsted High School and attended Siena Heights.

The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at Hoover Industries in Saline.

Those assisting at the reception were Sally Hunt, Sharon Hill, Mrs. Jack Allen, Norma Luce and Mrs. Charles Matthews

Guests attended from Onsted, Tipton, [illegible], Brooklyn, Hudson, Toledo, O.; Baltimore, Md.; and Rosebud, Texas.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

The contemplated destruction of St. Peter's Episcopal Church Tecumseh, has been brought to my attention by a member of the parish who is deeply concerned in the preservation of this building, one of the oldest parish churches in the middle western part of our country.

The disposition of old St. Peter's legally is the responsibility of the parish and the vestry of St. Peter's. Being quite conscious of their prerogative, it is with some diffidence that I write in support of a desire, shared by many, that the old structure be preserved. As an Angelican and an architect, interested both in the liturgical and architectural heritage of our Church, perhaps I may be permitted to voice my opinion on this subject.

Few, if any, parishes in our diocese are confronted with the responsibility and the privilege of inheriting so rare an architectural treasure. Because of the infrequence of this circumstance, it is easily understood that there would be an honest difference of opinion on the subject.

Normally an old parish church of less historic value and architectural merit is demolished without a second thought and its obliteration causes nothing but a tear or two based upon pure sentimental attachment to structure, for personal reasons.

In this instance we deal with a matter of real architectural significance. This parish church represents one of the finer early periods of architectural accomplishments in our country, the Greek Revival. Its proportions are good and its detail is restrained and typical of the work of the period.

From an architectural viewpoint there is at much reason for the preservation of St. Peter's as there was for the restoration of the Bruton Parish Church at Williamsburg. In one sense, one could even acknowledge greater reason because of the dearth of such architectural treasures in this territory compared with the Atlantic coast states.

If the desire for a new parish church has developed because of the growth of communicant strength, the instituting of two, three, four, or five Holy Communion services on Sundays and other Holy Days would provide for the enlarged parish or perhaps an addition to the present structure might be considered more favorably by the parish. Other needed parish house facilities could be meticulously designed in the same architectural style as part of the solution to the problem. These are matters which the parish and the vestry must weigh carefully and decide.

The purpose of this letter is to reinforce the opinion of many, with all the strength which words can convey that St. Peter's Church is a building of historic architectural significance which should be restored to its original beauty.

It is to be hoped that the parish will cherish their heritage and preserve it.

Sincerely,
Arthur K. Hyde

THE NUMBER OF PIGS FARROWED THIS FALL will depend to a great extent on how you feed your sows during breeding. In college tests, sows fed a high level of antibiotics farrowed 10.4 pigs per litter compared with 8.4 pigs among sows not receiving any. Number of pigs weaned averaged 8.5 and 7.8 in favor of the antibiotic treatment. Feed about one-half gram of aureomycin or terramycin per sow per day for 10 to 21 days at breeding time — one gives about as good results as the other.

KEEP HOG SHIPPING LOSSES DOWN. Shrink can vary all the way from 0.5% to 4% in hogs depending on how they are handled. Be especially careful when temperatures climb to 80 degrees and above. Load animals and ship early in the morning where possible. If also helps to put wet sand or crushed ice on the floor of the truck. Make up a full but comfortable load — either over or underloading can increase shrink 15% to 20%.

HAVING TROUBLE ACCOUNTING FOR YOUR GASOLINE CONSUMPTION? Better check the way your fuel is stored if you are. Evaporation losses mount during hot weather unless proper precautions are taken. Locate fuel tanks in shady areas and paint them white to reflect the heat. Another thing — ask your local supplier to provide you with a pressure valve. A valve helps maintain tank pressure at about 3 pounds, thereby stopping evaporation of the more volatile portion of the gasoline.

DON'T NEGLECT NEW MEADOW SEEDLINGS. After you've combined your small grain most forage seedlings will stand a better chance for survival if you clip the stubble and remove the straw. Sweet clover is an exception — clipping is likely to damage it.

BEFORE THE ASHES COOLED—Even as the ashes smoltered in the Bruce Foundry fire 10 days ago, Grand Rapids was attempting to lure the business to come to that city, reports owner Bill Bruce. But Mr. Bruce has turned his back on such a proposal, preferring to rebuild in Tecumseh. Clean-up operations saw more than 100 truck loads of debris hauled away from the badly-burned main building. The foundry was going at 100% capacity by this week.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

WINDOW PEEPERS

Turn about is fair play, they say, and since I do much bird and squirrel watching, it is probably only fitting that they occasionally take a peek at me.

By far the most exciting window-peeper we have had in some time was, believe it or not, a great big handsome Baltimore Oriole! Well, he wasn't actually that big, only about seven inches long, but he was certainly handsome.

And so close, too! The casement type windows were rolled open and the bed was pulled around so as to get full benefit of every breath of soft summer breeze.

Suddenly that seventh sense, which has 'stood me in good stead' before, triggered an alert. I looked outside and wow! Clinging to the bottom of the window was Sir Baltimore Oriole.

A most undignified position but being upside down showed off his brilliant orange tummy and jet black head. Such a gorgeous bird—we were thrilled almost speechless.

No, not almost—I was speechless. I couldn't even call Ida's attention to our visitor. He flew away much too quickly but with his head cocked as it was and his bright beady eye staring curiously inside, I hope he had as good a look at me as I did of him.

☆

SO NOW we knew there were orioles around whereas before, it had been only a suspicion. Several flashes of brilliance had perhaps been the Baltimore's and unless my 'tin-ear' was really playing tricks, I thought I had recognized snatches of their song.

His song vaguely resembles a robin's and, of course, if a pair were homesteading nearby, he would be whistling all sorts of encouragements to his hard working, nest weaving wife.

Several days later Lord Baltimore was back. The mulberries were ripening and he joined the blue-jays, cat-birds, robins and grackles.

What a feast they all had! (There are many things to be said against mulberry trees but the birds certainly enjoy them!)

Monday, June 25, was a most exciting day. About nine o'clock Ida said there was something different on the fence—a bird, obviously young, but what was it?

Before we could even think of getting me to the front window, the newcomer had flown high into the mulberry tree.

It happened so fast that Ida had only an impression of a larger than a sparrow bird and a peculiar yellow-orange-green color.

☆

NEEDLESS to say, I was most anxious to see the stranger; I looked and looked but the foliage is so thick that even though the tree was full of birds, I could hardly tell what any of them were. How aggravating!

Several times I thought I saw him but, oh, why did he have to move so fast? Morning was wearing on and I was wearing out when suddenly there was a commotion in the wren-tree.

A bird flew to a nearby limb and although much of him was hidden behind the tree's exceptionally large leaves, I had a good peek at his wing and breast.

The latter was an odd combination of green, yellow and orange; on the grayish wing was a distinctive white bar. A baby Baltimore Oriole!

So it is that a thrilling bird adventure all started with a Baltimore Oriole who, for some reason or other, turned window-peeper.

OBITUARIES

● MRS. LESTER ROGERS

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Green-Dunn Funeral Home for Mrs. Lester Rogers, 82, of 704 W. Chicago Blvd., who died Monday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where she was admitted Saturday morning.

TOT LOT NEWS

HERRICK PARK

The special feature of the week at the Herrick Park Tot Lot was a checker tournament. About eight children participated in this event.

The winner was Mike Fowler. Mike will compete against the winners of the other tot lots.

The handicraft material and model planes and cars came in this week and the youngsters spent most of their time putting these together.

☆

SHADY LANE

The children at Shady Lane the past week played softball and checkers.

Thursday we had a picnic and decided on having one every Thursday for the rest of the summer.

The older boys and girls are a big help at the Tot Lot.

☆

NELSON FIELD

At Nelson Field this week children have been making model airplanes, turtle purses, coin purses and comb cases. They were busy at this for three days.

Checker champion is Sam Starkey.

☆

PATTERSON

Besides playing games, the youngsters have spent a great deal of time on handicrafts.

Tim Prettyman and Bonnie Hand have been working putting model sports cars together. Model planes have been popular also.

Larry Getz, Scott Elliott, John Getz and John Dustin have constructed airplanes.

Jackie Leonard and Beth Curtis have made a purse and a comb case.

Couples Golf Scores Totaled

Mrs. A. L. Miller and Ed Christison won low putts at the Friday night couples golf and buffet at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Mrs. Homer Colson and Dale Bowen won first low net.

Mrs. Chester Beach and Mrs. A. L. Miller won second and Mrs. Al Merz and Art Geisenhaver won third low net.

Health Study Checks Fallout

Atomic fallout in this area is being checked as part of the Tecumseh Community Health Study.

Each week, samples of soil, air, rain, raw milk and grass are collected from the Art Eaton farm, east of Tecumseh.

These are analyzed in the School of Public Health for fallout count.

To date, the amount here is similar to national readings, according to Charles Pelletier.

BLOOPER BALL

Last Wednesday night saw the Blooper Ball League get off to a good start. Play was fast, furious and tiring. Home runs were blasted by Stu Costigan for Wallys Wonders and Gunder for Henkles Clippers.

GIRLS SOFTBALL

The Senior girls lost their first game of the season to Adrian 16-6.

Mary Jo Mensing and Bonnie Staulter shared pitching duties, together allowing only 7 hits.

The team lost the game on errors.

The leading hitter for Tecumseh was Bonnie Staulter with two hits for two times at bat.

Merchant Ball Team Is Rolling

After dropping its opener, the Tecumseh Merchants baseball team in the Adrian Twilight League has been rolling.

Tecumseh clobbered Clayton, 17-1, with Dave Rainsberger tossing a one-hitter.

Against Ace Hardware, the local nine posted a 16-2 margin. Norman Richard was the winning hurler.

In another slugfest, Tecumseh dropped Clayton, 13-3, Larry Lopez being the winning hurler.

Larry Johnson banged out a home run and two singles in three trips to bat with Lopez also haveing three-for-three.

Lopez fanned seven and the game was called at the start of the sixth inning because Tecumseh was ahead by 10 runs.

Tecumseh faces Adrian Legion Thursday evening at Riverside Park in Adrian. This is the one squad which has beaten the local nine, coached by Earl Yoakum.

Clarence Homer is leading the Tecumseh hitting attack with a rousing .857 average.

Just Wait Until July 26

Tecumseh senior girls softball team will attempt to get back on the winning track Friday evening when it meets the Girls Training School nine at Adrian.

In three seasons — including this one — the locals have posted 23 wins, against only two losses.

Tecumseh has won the Southeastern Michigan Girls Softball championship two years running.

Coach Carol Kapnick's gals were surprised last week by Adrian, 16-6.

A flock of errors spelled the major reason for the upset. Coach Kapnick expects to have things tightened up by Friday and especially for the July 26 rematch of the teams.

The Southeastern Michigan League was formed mainly as a result of Carol's efforts to get teams in various cities interested in a slate of summer competition.

It started with three teams and now has blossomed into eight. Crews are fielded in Britton, Deerfield, Dundee, Hudson and Napoleon as well as the others mentioned.

Miss Kapnick's veteran players include:

Carol Hand, catcher
Sheila O'Neil, shortstop
Mary Jo Mensing, pitcher
Linda Staufter, first base
Cindy Murphy, second base
Judy Ball, third base
Bonnie Staulter, left field.

Newcomers are:

Margie Parrett, center field
Mary Ann Allen, right field and pitcher
Diane Lake, center and left field.

This season the girls are outfitted in navy blue bermuda shorts and white knit shirts, thanks to 11 merchant sponsors.

Bonnie currently leads the hitters with a lusty .700 average, followed by Cindy, who is banging the apple at a .583 clip.

Games in Tecumseh are played on Recreation Field, beginning at 6:15 p.m.

Places Shift in Products Golf League

Robert Beevers' team moved back into second place in the Tecumseh Products Golf League, last week, taking two rounds from the team captained by Chuck Newell, which moved back to third.

Danny Goller's team retained its hold on first, taking two from William Walker's group.

Merlin Schultz' team took two rounds from Ben Gillies', Wendell Reum's two from Bernard Fisher's, and Dean Hamilton's two from George Backer's group.

Several scores in the 30s were shot, including K. Barron's 37, one over par, and low for the week.

Team standings as of June 28 were:

TEAM	W	L
Goller	18	4
Beevers	15	7
Newell	14	8
Gillies	12	10
Reum	12	10
Walker	10	12
Schultz	8	14
Hamilton	8	14

Tiger Tutor Eyes Britton Lad

BRITTON — If Ron Mastie works just a little harder at polishing his talents as a baseball catcher, there's a reason.

The bronzed 16-year-old Britton-Macon High School junior has been singled out for his abilities on the diamond by a veteran Detroit tutor.

A week ago, as Britton played a twin bill in the Free Press league with Pinckney and Battle Creek, Perry Deakin was a spectator.

Mr. Deakin, who administers the loop, was impressed with Ron and gave him some tips on catching, throwing and hitting.

Then he invited the Britton youth to Detroit for a special workout at Northwestern Field.

☆

FOR TWO hours, Ron went through his paces under the watchful eyes of Mr. Deakin, who told Ron to keep working hard at baseball and if he needed any help to ask for it.

Then Mr. Deakin invited Ron, his brother, Dennis, and their dad, Henry Mastie, to watch the Tigers beat the Indians, 4-0, sitting in a box behind the Tiger dugout.

Before the game, Mr. Deakin visited the Tiger lair and came back with an autographed ball for Ron.

Following the game, the party was taken by Mr. Deakin to the Detroit Yacht Club for dinner.

Ron is now looking forward eagerly to an August date when there'll be a session in Tiger Stadium between Free Press League players and an all-star squad selected from young men attending recent Tiger tryout camps around the state.

☆

RON SEEMS to have at least one major problem — he loves too many sports.

Mr. Deakin has advised him to give up football, which could injure him for baseball.

Ron has been an outstanding Tory athlete ever since enrolling as a freshman. He has been first-string grid quarterback for two years, won a varsity letter in basketball and track last year, as well as baseball.

In track he ran the 880-yard event, was a member of the mile relay team and performed in the high jump, taking six first places in Tory meets last spring.

His best time in the 880 was 2:14.1.

Baseball has been his strong suite for many years. Ron joined the Little League in Ann Arbor when only seven, started to catch when he was 12.

The Mastie family moved to Britton in 1956. Mr. Mastie is a driver mechanic at the Chrysler Proving Ground in Chelsea.

Reception for Minister and Family

BRITTON — The WSCS met last Wednesday evening at the Britton Methodist Church.

The group decided to have a reception for the new minister, The Rev. Paul Sullivan, and his family, Sunday, July 8 in the Britton Park, immediately following church school.

Each family is to bring fried chicken, a dish to pass, beverage and table service.

Mrs. Gerald Richards led the devotions and Mrs. George Forsyth the program on "The Ecumenical Deaconess and Missionary."

The next meeting will be at the church Wednesday, July 25 at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Ivan Olds will be in charge of the program and Mrs. Clay Croll of the refreshments.

Proof Copy of Con-Con Text Here

A proof copy of the complete Address to the People, which has been prepared for submission to the Con-Con delegates when they reconvene at the Kellogg Center in East Lansing on Wednesday, Aug. 1, is available at The Herald.

Carrying the title, "What the Proposed New State Constitution Means to You," the material is contained in a 112-page booklet.

Included is a complete text of the new document showing new language as well as deleted words.

Brief comments on the convention's action follows each section of the new constitution. Concluding pages of the booklet list sections which have been eliminated from the present constitution.

All delegates have been mailed copies of the booklet and their suggestions for change or correction will be considered and acted upon at the Aug. 1 session.

The text will be loaned to any interested person.

Matrons Hear Florida Guest

Mrs. Melvin Smith of Lakeworth, Fla. was present at the meeting of the Past Matrons Club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Driffil in Tipton.

Fourteen members and a guest, Mrs. Percy Boyd of Detroit, were entertained as Mrs. Smith told of her experiences in Florida since she and her family moved there two years ago.

She presented each past matron with two sets of shell earrings which she had made.

The Smiths are guests of her parents in Adrian until July 5.

A cooperative supper was served buffet style from a lace-covered table enhanced with candelabra and flowers.

Monday Club Board Has Tea

Officers and members of the executive board of the Tecumseh Monday Club were entertained at a tea Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. B. Brock on W. Logan St.

Mrs. Clifford Knudson, retiring president, received a gift from the group.

St. Michael's History Told

The Rev. Jack Warner presented a program concerning the history of St. Michael's Episcopal Church and the surrounding community at Cambridge Junction Thursday for members of the Lenawee County Historical Society.

The pastor of the church spoke following a chicken dinner served by women of the church to about 80 attending.

A tour of Frontier City complete with stage coach robbery concluded the day's activities.

Mrs. Louis S. Schneider is president of the society this year.

Others from the area attending were Mrs. Joe Rice, Mrs. Oren Feight, Mr. and Mrs. William Kuster, Elmer Pocklington, Mrs. Dan Birdsall, Mrs. Dewey Sturtevant, Mrs. Guy Pocklington, Mrs. Truman Rentschler, Edith Ingersoll, Bertha LaPointe, Purnell Osburn and Jennie Satterlee.

Others attending were Lillian Cannon, Mrs. W. J. Morse, Mrs. Norman McConnell, Mrs. F. S. Anderson, Edyth Shull, Mrs. Nina Heath, Mrs. Charles Haughn and Mrs. Veva Connor.

Car Sales Jump 33% in 4 Months

A Michigan Department of State survey shows that 981 new cars were sold in Lenawee County during the first four months of this year.

During the same period 132,218 new automobiles were sold by dealers throughout Michigan.

Secretary of State James M. Hare pointed out that sales of both new and used cars brought in $23,110,009 in sales and use tax revenue during the first third of the year.

"This," Hare said, "is over six million dollars more than the $17,065,589 collected during the same period in 1961. This 33 percent increase points to an unusually high sales year despite the disillusionment in Wall Street and the ups and downs in other sectors of our economy."

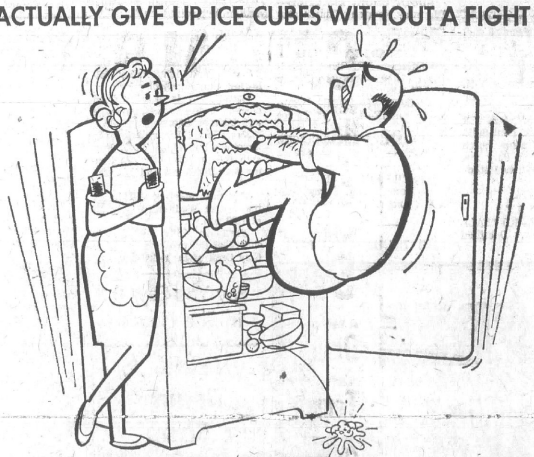
I'VE HEARD ABOUT NEW Refrigerator-Freezers THAT NEVER NEED DEFROSTING AND WILL ACTUALLY GIVE UP ICE CUBES WITHOUT A FIGHT!



Are you still getting along with a "too small", "out-dated" Refrigerator that needs messy defrosting?

NEW REFRIGERATOR-FREEZERS END ALL DEFROSTING

Today's modern, "carefree-design" refrigerator-freezers end all defrosting in both refrigerator and freezer sections. This means no frost ever—on food packages, ice cube trays or walls—no defrosting drudgery ever—no scraping, no chipping, no prying, no messy pans of water to empty (or spill). And, the handsome refrigerator-freezer models beautify every kitchen. The interior arrangement is planned for spacious food storage and easy access to food supplies. In addition, the new refrigerator-freezers will:

- Store enough fresh and frozen foods to last for weeks—conveniently at your fingertips.
- Save extra trips to the market.
- Keep leftovers fresh and tasty until needed.
- Save money because the large freezer compartment allows you to buy meats, vegetables and baked goods when prices are low.
- Give you peace of mind because you can store enough for hungry family and unexpected guests.

3 Take Year-Round Program at Ferris

BIG RAPIDS — Jane Dillon, Richard Holdridge and Jim Neitling of Tecumseh are among the record number of students taking advantage of Ferris Institute's full-scale instructional program this summer.

► Dick is a sophomore in refrigeration in the Trade and Industrial Division.

As the key to the Ferris emphasis on year-around operations, the fourth-quarter (summer) program permits students to accelerate their education.

For example, enrollees in one of the college's four 10-week programs can complete their studies in three years through participation in the summer sessions.

Miss Dillon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dillon, Rick is he son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Holdridge and Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Neitling.

Nutritionist Seeks Low-Fat Dairy Herd

"The dairy industry may have to produce a higher proportion of skim milk and find other outlets for butterfat — even if it is used only for axle grease."

This is the opinion of a Michigan State University foods and nutrition researcher, Dr. Dorothy Arata. She challenges the dairy industry to use its ingenuity in facing the overweight problem in America which has contributed to decreased sales of milk.

"According to the most recent statistics, one out of every three Americans is overweight," she says. "The problem is a serious one. The strain on the cardiovascular system is obvious. Regardless of any other consideration, it would be an excellent idea for one out of three of us to reduce the number of calories we consume."

Dr. Arata points out that fat contains more than twice the number of calories than an equal weight of carbohydrate and says it's just good sense to cut calories by reducing fat in the diet.

"Consumers have a perfect right to do this," she declares. "It is the responsibility of the producer to make it possible."

"For years," she continues, "we have bred livestock for high butterfat content for the milk. It would be just as simple to reverse the process and breed for low butterfat content."

Dr. Arata does not feel that milk should be cut out of the diet. "I know of no food which is as nutritious as milk," she adds.

"I drink two quarts a day," she says, "and have every intention of continuing to do so until I have a very good reason not to. I hope the dairy industry continues to produce high quality milk, even if a greater per cent of their product must be skim."

BUILDING PERMITS

Tecumseh Township has zoning regulations and a permit is needed to build, alter or repair any dwelling. A first floor plan is required which will be kept by Building Inspector.

Permits should be secured before construction is started.

No House Trailers will be lived in, any place in Tecumseh Township, except in Trailer Parks.

Also required is an electrical permit for any type wiring. This permit can be secured from the City Engineer of Tecumseh.

Nebraska 4-H Members Will Stay One Week in Lenawee County Farms

Twenty-one Nebraska 4-H members and three sponsors arrived at the Lenawee County Fairgrounds Saturday to be guests of Lenawee families for one week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ries and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Billau and family of Tecumseh will be hosts to Sharon Mayes and Sherry Wecker.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Marks and family of Ridgeway will be hosts to Shirley Messersmith.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Forsyth of Britton will be hosts of Bob Tschacher.

Others will live in Adrian, Sand Creek, Jasper, Morenci, Deerfield, Palmyra, Manitou Clayton, Onsted and Berkley, O.

The 4-H'ers came by chartered bus from Box Butte County, Nebraska with a population of about 13,000.

Diversified agriculture is carried on with ranches and farms varying greatly in size with the largest about 10,000 acres.

The major crops there are wheat, small grains, sugar beets, field beans, potatoes and some corn.

The 4-H exchange program is considered by 4-H officials as an excellent opportunity for 4-H members to improve nation-wide understanding, broaden experiences and create lasting friendships.

Federation Hears Pleas

Twelve from Tecumseh attended the annual picnic and meeting of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs June 27 at the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Jasper.

Mrs. Parker Tagsold of Blissfield and Martha Pfund of the Lenawee Youth Center spoke on the needs of the home, asking for money donations or furnishing for a room.

Those attending from here ere Mrs. J. Fred Rector, Mrs. Albert Todd, Mrs. Albert Jahn, Mrs. Truman Rentschler, Jennie Satterlee, Mrs. Ralph Westgate, Mrs. Roland Mohr, Mrs. Herbert Murphy, Mrs. Dale Tingley, Mrs. J. Cleon Mason, Purnell Osburn and Mrs. W. W. Waldron.

License Lack Brings Fine

Clarence Randolph, 44, pled guilty to failure to pay his license fee as required by the county sanitation code.

He paid $14.30 in preference to serving three days in jail.

The complaint was signed by the county sanitarian.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

I Am Old Glory!

For more than nine score years I have been the banner of hope and freedom for generation after generation of Americans. Born amid the first flames of America's fight for freedom, I am the symbol of a country that has grown from a little group of thirteen colonies to a united nation of fifty sovereign states.

Planted firmly on the high pinnacle of American Faith my gently fluttering folds have proved an inspiration to untold millions. Men have followed me into battle with unwavering courage. They have looked upon me as a symbol of national unity.

They have prayed that they and their fellow citizens might continue to enjoy the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness for which I stand.

So long as men love liberty more than life itself; so long as they treasure the priceless privileges bought with the blood of this Nation's forefathers; so long as the principles of truth, justice and charity for all remain deeply rooted in human hearts, I shall continue to be the enduring banner of the United States of America.

I AM OLD GLORY!

Youngsters Must Get Shots

It is an established fact that to avoid epidemics of preventable contagious diseases, 80% of the children in any given community must be adequately immunized.

At present Dr. Eleanor Skufis and the Lenawee County Public nurses are conducting an immunizing survey.

Early findings show that well over 50% of the babies born early in 1960 had their first "three baby shots" for diptheria, lock jaw, whooping cough, and polio, but did not return to the doctor for the booster injection and the small pox vaccination.

Dr. Skufis urges that the parents return to their doctor for these.

"Remember that three persons had paralytic polio in this county last year," she said. "Also several pre-school children (who had never received any immunizations) have whooping cough at the present time.

"All children entering school this fall must be adequately immunized—if they had their original series of baby shots and booster vaccination at 18 and 24 months, they need a booster and re-vaccination before school starts. "If the child has had no previous immunization, these "shots" should be started immediately," the doctor advises.

"Remember as a parent you will never forgive yourself if you fail to protect your child against the crippling effects of polio or the other contagious diseases," she adds.

"The doctors of this county still offer to immunize all medically indigent children and adults if the parents present a slip proving indigency from the Welfare Department," she concluded.

'Courage of His Convictions'

If any one phrase was used to describe Don Benedict, it would be "He has the courage of his convictions."

Classmates in Tecumseh High School knew this, when he argued with teachers over a point.

If he felt he had a good argument, he would make it. He dug into library references until he had his point made, to his satisfaction, and to the sometimes rueful satisfaction of his teachers.

He was sure of himself, proving it whether in class or on the pitcher's mound for local ballgames.

As he grew older and left Tecumseh, his convictions grew, too.

He was a ministerial student when America headed into World War II. As such, he was exempt from the draft. Yet, he refused to have anything to do with preparations for war. He refused, along with 10 other young students, to register for the draft.

The others gave in, but Don Benedict went to prison for his beliefs.

Today, he still is battling for his beliefs. But now he has thousands of friends and co-workers behind him.

He is the Rev. Donald Benedict, director of the Chicago City Missionary Society.

The Chicago Daily News - Chicago Life Magazine, recently devoted several pages to Rev. Benedict, with graphic photographs showing the good works of his organization.

The publishers sent permission to use this story, along with the Chicago Daily News of him.

THS Graduate Does Unique Work in Chicago

Who is this man? He drove trucks, worked nights in bakeries, sweated in factories. When other young men were in college, he was in prison. He moved to a storefront in New York's East Harlem slums, where his frequent companions were teen-age gangs, alcoholics and dope addicts.

He was always fighting something — often the constituted authorities. His mind bubbled like a fount with ideas that earned him the hard-bitten dislike of some churchmen.

Who is he? Adventurer? Criminal? Vagabond? Hardly. Today he is one of the most respected men in church, social welfare and organizational circles.

He is the Rev. Donald Benedict, the angry young man of the Protestant Church.

☆

HIS LIFE'S work has been a movement — equally prayerful and activist — to bring Protestantism to the down-and-outers who don't find much Christian comfort in a Winnetka sermon on overabundance.

Today the Rev. Mr. Benedict, a good-looking, husky 44, is director of the inter-denominational Chicago City Missionary Society, 29 S. La Salle. On his wall is a huge blackboard with a map of Chicago painted on it.

On the map are marked, much like politicians' wards, the society's centers in the city. But the Benedict story started 14 years ago in East Harlem, one of New York's perennial trouble spots, where there are few Protestant centers and only maps of turbulent police districts.

Benedict hails from Tecumseh, Mich. He was in prison for pacifism during World War II. After attending Union Theological Seminary, he moved to East Harlem, New York City, to "identify with the masses" — a precarious pastime at best.

With several other young ministers he set up church in a rundown storefront. "It was no gimmick," he says. "Nor an answer. It was just an attempt to bring the church outside its walls to the people."

At the first service there were two people — one came because she had won $10 on the numbers racket the day the church opened and considered it a good-luck omen.

FROM THESE modest walls, the East Harlem Protest Parish, as it came to be called, reached out in God's name in programs of Christian education, social protest and citizen training.

Its grass roots experience in dealing with the neighborhood narcotics trade is now being used, for instance, in the city's planning for a 100-bed hospital for teen-age drug addicts.

The parish attack on dope started with a play, "Dope," written by a seminary girl. Parishioners built a portable stage and carried it through the streets, giving the play where they could set down the stage. "The tenements were the balcony seats, the Rev. Mr. Benedict says, reminiscing:

"This play opened up floodgates of discussion on the problem. The people saw for the first time that the church was being close and accepting." The parish was then able for the first time to get addicts to come for help. And parents were organized to prevent their children from using dope.

☆

TO COPE with the peculiarly discouraging problems of ministering in the inner city, Benedict set up his revolutionary movement, along certain new structural lines, such as:

► A group ministry with group disciplines that have since been used across the country. In the worship discipline, ministers and members worshiped every day at the same time.

In the economic discipline, the pastors shared available funds according to their numbers of children. They met once a week to meditate on and discuss the life and work of the parish.

And in the political discipline, members of the parish discussed the political situation widely, then decided to swing their collective weight behind one candidate.

► "Cell groups" of Christians in apartment buildings, where neighbors met in their buildings for personal prayer groups, thus helping to cement the community.

"An original idea?" Rev. Benedict scoffs, "Hardly. It was in the Book of Acts."

As the parish matured, it began dealing with a host of slum problems — everything from police brutality to slum landlords to hospitals that wouldn't accept poor, though dying, people.

Once when the Rev. Mr. Benedict helped expose unutterable housing conditions in Harlem, the city housing department retaliated by informing him to get out of one of his storefronts because "It is not an authorized place of assembly."

"Neither are the storefronts your political parties use for club [illegible]," he retorted. The order was dropped.

☆

TODAY the Rev. Mr. Benedict is widely looked upon as the promising young activist of urban Protestantism. His ideas have spread to form the West Side Christian Parish in Chicago, the Inner City Protestant Parish in Cleveland and the Wider City Parish in New Haven, Conn. In Boston and Denver, similar parishes are being formed.

There is an immediacy about Benedict that wastes no breath. He doesn't talk in sweet, churchlike tones. He and his wife have reared four daughters in the slums and they know the problems there. Yet he looks deceptively as suburban and temperate as the young market researcher on the 5:15 to the exurbs.

As director of the society, he oversees more than a dozen projects, many of which bear his stamp of originality — Casa Central (a wide-ranging center for the Spanish-speaking), the Lawndale project (200 storefront churches working together), Pleasant Valley Farm (city children and suburban children camping together).

"He puts together rebellion and church structure," says a young minister who works with him. "He's important because in his work you can express dissatisfaction but stay within the fold."

☆

"THE INNER city," the Rev. Mr. Benedict asserts, "is really a gift to Protestantism. It has made us re-examine. It has made us aware we are in need of radical renewal."

He constantly repeats the need to reunite the frequently divorced sense of commitment of the church and the skills of social work.

He pointed to the case of an alcoholic he had worked with for several years in Cleveland. One night the man's wife called the Rev. Mr. Benedict to their apartment; the husband was about to commit suicide.

After Benedict wrested the razor from his hand, the man cried out: "Why do you follow me around like this for three years? Who sent you?"

"This," says the Rev. Mr. Benedict, with a small sigh of satisfaction of the sort he rarely allows himself, "is the kind of question evoked from people when the church is in action. When he asks this kind of question, the church has the real possibility to say who indeed has sent us."

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Should Franklin D. Roosevelt be one of your favorites, don't read "Roosevelt's Road to Russia."

This is a book that makes your flesh creep and your teeth throb.

George N. Croker, the author, admits he is bias in his approach. After reading what Mr. Croker has gathered from various respected sources, it's easy to understand why.

To make a brief summation, the book condemns FDR for selling out his own nation to gain the admiration of Stalin.

His deeds bred the ills of today.

Mr. Croker is a California lawyer, a former Assistant United States Attorney and was an army officer during World War II. He was educated at Stanford University and Harvard Law School.

His book deals primarily with the various conferences FDR took part in — Casablanca, Teheran, Yalta, Quebec.

Among his sources of information are Elliott Roosevelt, who accompanied his father on most of the missions and wrote a book about the experience; Winston Churchill, Gen. Hap Arnold, Gen. John Deane, Cordell Hull, a variety of American and foreign newspapers, Gen. George C. Marshall, Robert Sherwood and dozens of others.

Author Croker contends that Roosevelt's vanity, his desire to keep being re-elected and his fantastic craving to please Stalin were the president's downfall.

What is worse, his fellow countrymen suffer to this day for his actions of those war years.

Roosevelt's constant companion, Harry Hopkins, receives the back of Mr. Croker's hand, too. Mr. Hopkins was always at FDR's elbow, even lived in the White House.

Secretary of State Hull reveals that he was not invited to attend the vital conferences, but Harry was there every time.

According to the author, FDR based his war strategy on what Stalin wanted.

That was why British and American forces invaded Normandy and later US troops came in through Southern France, instead of striking at the Balkans, or as Churchill noted, "the soft under belly of Europe."

Stalin had his reasons. He didn't want any other nation slipping into Central Europe. He wanted this for Russia after the fighting was over.

Despite Churchill's opposition to the cross-Channel thrust, FDR stood firm with Stalin.

The term "unconditional surrender" was another of Roosevelt's spur of the moment bon mots. He made the comment at a press conference in Casablanca.

Churchill wrote later that the President's words came "with some feeling of surprise."

This closed the door for any negotiated peace and meant that Germany and Japan would have to fight on until almost completely destroyed.

But FDR seemed always to be reaching for the dramatic — no matter what the after effects.

The real treachery came at Yalta. Germany was nearly finished, the end of the Pacific conflict was in sight.

FDR knew the atomic bomb was a 99% certainty, he knew his military men had the Pacific under control, yet he closeted himself with Stalin and practically begged Russia to enter this war.

Previously, Stalin told Averill Harriman that Russia would fight Japan—after Germany was defeated and if America would equip a Russian Far East force of 1,500,000, send 3,000 tanks, 75,000 motor vehicles and 5,000 airplanes.

Harriman, knowing what his chief was willing to do for Stalin, agreed on the spot.

Now at Yalta, "Uncle Joe" allowed as how he'd like a few more concessions from FDR in their behind-closed-doors session if Russia was to fight Japan.

"Russia was to annex South Sakhalin and the Kurile Islands, gain possession of Dairen as an 'international' port and the naval base of Port Arthur under a long-term lease.

"The Manchurian railroads were to be put under a 'Soviet-Chinese Co.' which was to safeguard 'the pre-eminent interests of the Soviet Union'; and the status-quo in Outer Mongolia' (which by infiltration and pressure had been turned into a puppet of the Soviet Union) was to be preserved."

The writer points out, "Obviously, no part of this price was Roosevelt's to give. And such back-room trading was a butchery of the Atlantic Charter."

However, FDR nodded ready approval.

Russia did enter the Pacific war, as promised — "six days before Japan surrendered and two days after the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima."

"Her contribution to Japan's defeat was nil," Mr. Croker states.

Admiral Leahy, who was the senior staff officer at Yalta, said ". . . our war against Japan had progressed to the point where her defeat was only a matter of time and attrition. Therefore, we did not need Stalin's help to defeat our enemy in the Pacific."

Lacing the pages of the book are the names of Alger Hiss, Harry Dexter White and other known communists, who had high positions in our war-time government.

Turns out that White penned the infamous Morgenthau Plan, which advocated turning Germany into a pasture land, dismantling and smashing all industry and resources.

Henry Morgenthau was Secretary of the Treasury and White his top assistant.

"The plan got an "OK, FDR," but eventually was dumped.

The story of Hiss, high-placed State Department man who betrayed his country, is well-known.

They all played parts in the administration of FDR.

LUCKY 13—Christine Cote counts Friday the 13th as "her day." She was born on a Friday the 13th and this week will be celebrating her 13th birthday anniversary on Friday the 13th. Christine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cote, 4393 Comfort Rd.

Sewer Line Nears Completion

Another phase of the 1954 plan for Tecumseh sanitary sewers is reaching completion.

A $24,000 interceptor line is going in from the disposal plant on E. Chicago Blvd. near the city limits to the new Faraday, Inc. plant.

Its installation was stimulated by the coming of the new industry, but this sewer will also serve a large residential area.

All told 4,000 feet in length, it contains both 15" and 12" sections. Some 660 feet, near the disposal plant, run overhead in corregated pipe.

The sewer will service two subdivisions, Indians Hills and Tecumseh Small Farms, or a total of about 160 residential lots

By adding the spur, the lift station at S. Union St. and Russell Rd., will be eliminated. It will also relieve the Patterson St. sanitary line.

A 12" water line, at an estimated cost of $15,000, is being installed as far as the new factory. It too is part of the eight-year-old master plan for sewer and water lines.

Eventually, it will loop into the W. Russell Rd. and E. Evans St.' lines, which presently are both dead ends.

Details about the coming move of Faraday, Inc. to Tecumseh appear on the front page of the second section.

Exchange To Stage Cookout

Exchange Club members will hold a stag cookout at North Lake, near Chelsea Thursday, July 19.

Chow call will be between 6:30 and 7 p.m. Those attending will bring their own table service.

Directions to the lake will be sent to members. Car pools are planned.

The Exchange Board of controls appointed new committees for the year. These are expected to be ready for distribution at the first meeting Sept. 10 at Eagles Hall.

Rebekah Lodge Holds Initiation Friday, July 20

Rebekah Lodge initiation will be held Friday evening, July 20.

Members of the Dexter Lodge will be guests and will exemplify the degrees, reports Mrs. Roy Allshouse, the Noble Grand.

Members were urged to attend the IOOF-Rebekah Blood Bank meeting July 17 at Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Connin were welcomed, having been absent for some time because of illness.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Allshouse and committee.

Race Winner Opens Training for 1962 Event

Attention girls from 18 to 88. If you like adventure and exercise, start making plans to compete in Tecumseh's second annual pancake race.

To be run in downtown Tecumseh Friday, Aug. 3, the event will be a feature of the merchant's annual free pancake supper and sidewalk sale.

Defending champion Bonnie Kellogg Sniffen, 423 W. Cummins St., is already making training plans and expects to be in top shape by race time.

This year's first-place winner will receive a 6 Transistor, complete with carrying case, batteries and earphones, donated by Wolf's Tire and Appliance shop.

Second, third and fourth-place finishers will each get one-year subscriptions to The Herald.

☆

THE QUAKER OATS and Staley Syrup folks, who donate materials for the supper, will present a quantity of their products to the winners.

As an added attraction this year, there will be a preliminary race for teen-age girls, 15 through 17.

In a pancake race each contestant carries a griddle, complete with hot cake. At various points along the track there are ribbons running overhead across the lane. The girls must toss the pancakes over the ribbons and catch them coming down.

Full rules and regulations regarding the race will appear in next week's Herald.

At last summer's pancake supper, more than 2,500 guests were fed, despite rainy weather much of the afternoon.

This time, the regular sidewalk sale will be held the same day as the supper, with merchants displaying bargain items at outside booths up and down Chicago Blvd. from 9 until 9.

Co-chairmen of the event are Don Martin, Jr. of Gambles and John Day of Woolworth's.

2 Graduates Are Heading For Germany

Niels Hansen, German exchange student, will go to Chicago Sunday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bonner.

From there he will head for San Antonio, Texas to visit his uncle and then to Mexico City to see his brother.

He expects to board a ship at Vera Cruz for Germany.

Adolf Petrus, another exchangite from Germany, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. James Barton, will be among those attending a farewell party at Northville, Mich. July 17.

From there, Adolf will go to Montreal, to leave by boat for his home July 19.

A surprise party was held Tuesday evening at Wamplers Lake for Adolf by a number of his Tecumseh friends.

Visit GI Son

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kelley have returned from a visit with their son, Lowell, at Fort Bragg and his sister, Mrs. Howard Porter, and family in Gainsville, Fla.

Government Leases Park

The federal government has taken a one year option on Adams Park as the site for the city's new post office.

Cost of the land will be $20,594 and will be included in the bid price for construction of a post office.

The contractor will receive a long-term lease on the structure, owning it and the land.

Pension Plan OKed for City Employees

Tecumseh now has a retirement pension plan for city employees.

Final approval came at the last Council meeting.

A total of 9% of the payroll will be paid into the City Pension System — 6% by the city and 3% by employees.

Current annual payroll runs about $135,000 for the city's approximately 35 employees, making the city's share about $9,000.

Under the retirement plan, which officially began July 1, 1962, prior service of up to 10 years will be included.

Formula for the plan works in this manner:

Average annual wage for the last 10 years of employment times years of service times 1%. Regarding the prior service, it is average wage times years of service times ¾%.

Taking a hypothetical case, an employee who is now 39, has 10 years prior service, is earning $4,700 and who will work until he is 60 (when he may retire), would receive $1,339.50 per year from the city, plus his Social Security benefits.

Should he continue to work until age 65, his yearly payment would total $1,574.50, plus Social Security.

☆

THE PLAN will be administered by a five-man board, including two city employees, two members of Council and one citizen-at-large.

According to the ordinance, the mayor will appoint the first two city employees. Beginning in 1963, these two will be elected by city employees each year.

Mayor Harold Easton named City Engineer Cal Zorn and Police Chief Murell Clark to these board positions.

Council selected Mayor Easton and Bob Bonner as its representatives and then named John Surratt, manager of Adrian Federal Savings & Loan, as citizen-at-large boardman.

Billy Pope, son of Mrs. A. R. Pope, has returned from a visit with his grandmother, Mrs. A. G. Link, in Toledo. Eddie Pope is now a houseguest of Mrs. Link.

Group Offers Counter Plan for Downtown

An amendment altering the proposed traffic routes of the Master Plan was presented to the Tecumseh Planning Commission Tuesday night.

Harry Duncan, spokesman for Logan St. residents, some of whom were present, said the alternate plan would handle all traffic in the forseeable future and asked the Commission to take it under consideration.

The amendment would leave Logan St. as it is now eliminate a proposed mall on Chicago Blvd. from Pearl to Maumee. Two malls would be constructed one block north and one south off Chicago Blvd. on Evans St.

Mr. Duncan suggested canopies from the stores' fronts to the curb and new pedestrian walkways to Chicago Blvd. the two downtown parking lots east of Evans.

He said a walkway just east of Brant's 5 & 10 could be constructed to one lot, and another, possibly by removal of a building in the vicinity of Hodges Drug Store, to the southeast parking lot.

☆

A PETITION containing approximately 30 businessmen's names was presented to the commission.

The petition objected to the diverting of traffic around the business district and obstructing traffic through the district on Chicago Blvd.

The spokesman remarked that the Master Plan's proposed one-way traffic on Logan and Pottawatamie would be fast and noisy, and would depreciate the values of the two residential districts.

An executive or closed meeting of the commission will be held prior to Aug. 14, when the final hearing of the Master Plan will be held.

The meeting will include city officials Ed Nelson and Cal Zorn, and architect A. J. Smith, who was in charge of the Master Plan.

Attendance Records Are Being Attained

Seven families attended the annual picnic of the Christian Workers Class recently.

Members decided to purchase the Primary Department classroom attendance records for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lask will be the nominating committee for a slate of officers.

The next meeting will be held Friday, Sept. 28 at 6 p.m. in the Youth House with Mr. and Mrs. George Halberstadt as hosts.

Mrs. H. L. Prettyman will present the devotions.

WSCS Training Day Is Planned

A training day for officers of the WSCS of the Methodist Church Circle chairman and members of the nominating committee, will be held at the Grass Lake Methodist Church Saturday, July 14 from 9.45 a.m. to 3 p.m.

More details of the meeting are available from Mrs. Ed Beal.

Pastor Leads Congregation into New Church Sanctuary

The Rev. Charles Bancroft, pastor of the Barberton, O. Friends Church, led his congregation to the sanctuary of a new church Sunday, July 8.

Services have been held in a school building since 1909. The building program was begun before the Rev. Mr. Bancroft took up his pastoral duties there in September of 1957 and has progressed steadily under his guidance.

The minister is the son of Mrs. George Bancroft, 111 Hiawatha St., and the late Mr. Bancroft.

He is a graduate of Tecumseh High School, Cleveland Bible College and Baldwin-Wallace University.

He was ordained at the Ohio Yearly Meeting at Damascus, Ohio.

The new church has a seating capacity of 370 and space for 15 classrooms with a parking lot for 70 to 80 cars.

The dedication of teachers and officers and communion was held Sunday with classes convening.

A dedication of the church will be held at a later date.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Manwaring were among motorists caught in the screeching halt of traffic near Boyne City last week when a seven-mile stretch of US-131 was covered with thousands of roofing nails.

The Manwarings were on their way to a convention of insurance representatives from the Southeastern Mutual Co. when one of the huge nails went into one tire and two in another.

Highway Department officials said that apparently a large truck loaded with the roofing nails had dropped them all along the stretch of highway.

Since the nails have a head nearly an inch in diameter, the majority of them landed with the spike up.

State Police cleared the highway with brooms, sweeping most of one night.

A Highway Department magnet crane picked up nails from the shoulders of the highway.

Harold Green sold a suit, a few years ago, to a man of German decent who lived some miles north of here.

Recently the gentleman died and his wife sent the suit to her brother in Germany. It was a perfect fit. The man liked it so much he tried to locate another one, but couldn't.

A few weeks ago, he wrote his sister and instructed her to buy him another, sending along his measurements in centimeters.

Harold had to transfer everything into inches and then have necessary alterations made.

The widow will be taking a trip to Germany in a few weeks and she'll take the suit with her, making several people quite happy, including Harold who is pleased over his international business.

Brooklyn, Mich. was the scene of a bang-up celebration July 4, when the 130th anniversary of the village was held.

During festivities which began at daybreak and ended with fireworks at night, the new history of the village, located at the junction of M-50 and M-124, was on sale for the first time.

It was written in two sections by Mrs. Reginald Angus, wife of a Tecumseh Products Company employee, and Marian Palmer Greene.

Mrs. Angus says she spent more than 2,000 hours during a five-month period searching abstracts and reconstructing events of the past to write the book, "What's Past Is Prologue."

Mrs. Angus makes mention of her very understanding husband, whom she met while on a group expedition to Walker's Tavern Museum at Cambridge Junction.

The second section written by Mrs. Greene is entitled "Reflections in the Raisin River."

Photographs are from the collection of Paul Totten.

Birthday Party Is Real Surprise for Alvin Brazee

Following worship services at the Iron Creek Church, 80 members and friends gathered in the dining room to assist the pastor, the Rev. Alvin Brazee, in celebrating his 75th birthday anniversary.

Tables for the dinner, a complete surprise to the minister, were attractively decorated with summer flowers.

Homemade ice cream and a three-tiered decorated cake were featured at the bountiful dinner with Mr. Brazee cutting the cake.

Elmer Pocklington of Ridgeway, lifetime friend of the pastor, reminisced. Mr. Brazee told his friends that with 34 years of ministry with them, his heart strings are entwined with theirs.

Deborah and Deanne Kuhl of Adrian, two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kuhl sang two selections.

Eileen Disbrow and Mrs. Brazee sang "Whispering Hope" accompanied by Mrs. Harold Fisk at the piano. Tom Cushman led in the singing of old songs.

Mrs. Dora Hardman and daughter, Louise, of Detroit; Elmer Pocklington and Mrs. Dan Birdsall of Ridgeway; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Damon and Edith Ingersoll of Tecumseh; Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Scudder of Saline, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Noggle and Mrs. Alma Matteson of Brooklyn Mrs. Margaret Smith of Somerset and Marjorie Fisk of Maquoketa, Iowa were among the guests from away.

Mr. Brazee expressed his appreciation to all who made his anniversary such a happy and memorable occasion.

Some Persons Are 'Patrons of Religion'

Excerpts from the sermon to be given Sunday by the Rev. Blair Bashore, pastor of the First Baptist Church. It is entitled "The Heart of Personal Religion".

"Suppose you strip your religion down to its barest essentials—what will you find?

"What are the motives—the impulse—the drive which underlies and produces a life of faith? Would you find that you were a 'patron' of religion rather than a religious Person?

"A Christian person has 'a thirst for God and seeks satisfaction for this thirst'.

"The Psalmist tells us that one who seeks satisfaction in his life for that thirst is—'As a hart longs for flowing streams, so longs my soul for Thee—O God. My soul thirsts for God, for the living God.'

"Self-sufficiency sometimes makes it hard to acknowledge a sense of incompleteness. Pride makes us content to be only, patrons of religion.

"The motive in the soul's thirst is important. I know many who claim that God is especially accessible while fishing, or while walking the long fairways of a golf course, and I know too, they are bluffing.

"The Psalmist tried all the ways of so-called worship, but could not get away from the memory of the rich and abiding experience he had with God while worshiping in the Temple.

"Let's examine our personal religion, just a moment and see if we can honestly say, 'My soul thirsts for God, for the living God,' " said the pastor.

The Rev. Raymond Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Adrian will be the preacher here for the first three Sundays in August.

Chamber Should Include Everyone in a Community

(Editor's note: A long-time Ford dealer in Tecumseh, Mr. Butler recently donated his time to the Chamber of Commerce in order to help survey the membership. Previous articles in The Herald have pointed out what he learned. This one deals with basic facts about a Chamber of Commerce.)

By CHARLIE BUTLER

Many people have asked, "What is a Chamber of Commerce?"

A lot of folks think a Chamber is a promotional device for stores only.

That's not true. It actually takes in the entire community. You and I need it to protect our investment in our homes, businesses and jobs — for our family and friends.

Everyone is officially or unofficially a member of the community's Chamber of Commerce —paying or not, active or not.

Every business, manufacturer, professional man and woman and other loyal boosters should be allowed and expected to belong to the Chamber.

They should hold membership with a dues schedule which would be within their ability to pay.

Here is where the hitch has always come before in the Tecumseh Chamber: how much should I pay?

Most of the past bickering among merchants was that they were "expected to pay as much as so and so." Thus, a few were asked to pay too much.

"What did the Chamber ever do for me?" many ask.

Mister, a Chamber of Commerce is you and me and we should not only pay our proportionate part, but work, plan and boost in every way, especially back up the officers.

They were elected by the membership to lead the group and they do it for free.

When you talk about the Chamber of Commerce you talk about yourself. Either speak well of it or do something yourself about its ailments — like giving some of your precious time.

A successful Chamber of Commerce, we believe, is a continuous, loyal and unselfish effort by every man, woman and child in a given community.

And this job can hardly be delegated.

Tecumseh has been good to its citizens — let's get together and do something for Tecumseh.

EVERYONE LOVES THE PONY—Bobby Aten, (left), nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aten, 904 River Acres Dr., was delighted to win this Shetland pony in the drawing at the Manchester Speedway July fourth. He said, "Pinch me, I must be dreaming." Bobby and his sisters, Debbie, 10; Julie, 3 and Michele, 6 will enjoy rides on "Nippy" at the Ford Mudgett farm, where the pony is being kept for the summer. In the fall, Nippy will be transferred to the Aten children's grandfather's residence in Tipton. Wayland Kahle is Mrs. Aten's father.

Mary Mensing Hurls 2 Wins for Gals Nine

The Tecumseh girls softball team got back on the winning track by rolling over Girls Training School, 22-3, last week.

Mary Jo Mensing was the winning pitcher, striking out six.

Linda Stautter and Carol Hand each had four hits in five times at bat.

Monday evening, the girls tied for first place by defeating Hudson, 4-3.

Hudson and Tecumseh are tied for first place, each winning five and losing one.

Linda Stautter and Marge Parrott had perfect record at the plate. Mary Jo Mensing was the winning pitcher.

The girls travel to Dundee Thursday evening. Their next home games are Monday, July 16 against Napoleon and Tuesday evening against Sand Creek, a non-league game.

30 Cars Compete in Cub Scout Pinewood Derby

Approximately 30 cars were entered in the Pinewood Derby June 25 when Cub Scout Pack 72 met at Herrick Park School.

Individual workmanship was shown in the shapes and colors of the racers.

Competitive heats were run for each car. In den competition winners were:

Den 1—Tommy Smith, first; Craig Damon, second.

Den 2—Bruce Baaske, first; John Rumpf, second.

Den 3—Zig Zorn, first; Bobby Merz, second.

Finalists were Tom Smith, first; Bruce Baaske, second, and Zig Zorn, third.

Appropriate prizes of Cub Scout knives and flashlights were presented to the winners.

Police Chief Murell Clark was the official judge. Cubmaster Lothair Hardesty was assisted by adult officers of the pack.

Door Prizes Being Given

Door prizes are being awarded at the weekly card parties held Saturday evening at 8 p.m. at the Tecumseh Grange Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wonderly have charge of the events.

Those attending bring cookies and sandwiches for refreshments.

Charlene Sowers Roy Allshouse Are Winners at Cards

High prizes went to Charlene Sowers and Roy Allshouse at the Rebekah card party Saturday evening in the IOOF Hall.

Marie Raymond, Roger Pawson received the low prizes.

Mr. Allshouse also won the door prize. Traveling prize was won by Mr. Pawson.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Helen Pawson and committee.

CYO Teen Club Holds Meeting

First meeting of the newly-forming St. Elizabeth CYO Teen Club will be Wednesday, July 18 in the school.

All Catholic youngsters of high school age are invited.

Members of the steering committee, who have been mapping plans for the group, will explain its objectives.

The session begins at 7:30 and following the business, the group has planned a hay ride.

Marilyn Whelan Speaks Vows with Richard Blue

Marilyn Whelan and Richard J. Blue were united in marriage July 7 by the Rev. Paul Frederick at the Tipton Community Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Whelan of Tipton and Mr. and Mrs. Albert O. Blue Sr. of Flint.

Gold altar vases were filled with white gladioli and Shasta daisies. Large baskets of the white blossoms and blue Majestic daisies and natural palms softened the setting.

Mrs. Harold Every accompanied Janice Whelan, cousin of the bride, who sang three selections.

On the arm of her father, the bride approached the altar in a white silk organza and lace gown with street-length full skirt and lace jacket.

A sequin trimmed lace crown held her shoulder length veil of illusion in place.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white pompons centered with yellow roses and edged with white tulle and miniature ivy.

☆

MRS. GERALD FOX was her sister's matron-of-honor in a lace street-length dress of blue dacron.

A blue bow held a white veil trimmed with sequins in place on her head and she carried a white lace fan with dainty crescent of yellow carnations, white daisies and blue florets.

Richard Lee Carrilo of Riverview was best man. Wesley Whelan and Jerry Fox seated the 150 guests.

Darlene Whelan was the flower girl and Terry Fox was the ringbearer.

Mrs. Roger Borton of Fayette, O. registered the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Whelan were hosts for the reception in the church parlors. Mrs. Wesley Whelan and Judy Standridge cut the bride's cake.

Others assisting were Wreitha Miller, Patsy Walton and Mrs. Rodney Bird, serving punch and coffee. Mrs. Raymond Platt, Mrs. Fay Luce, Mrs. Grover Swarts and Mrs. Mary Titley also assisted.

Following a week's trip to northern Michigan the couple will make their home in Flint.

THE BRIDE is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Michigan State University. She is employed as an elementary teacher in the Flint school system.

Her husband is a graduate of Flint Central High School and attended Flint Junior College.

A rehearsal dinner was given at the Tipton Coffee Shop by the bride's parents.

Connie Kahle, Allen Lewis Marry

BRITTON — The Rev. O. E. Priest read the double ring ceremony Sunday afternoon at the Congregational Christian Church when Connie Jane Kahle and Allen Fred Lewis spoke their wedding vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kahle, Britton and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lewis also of Britton.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing a full-length white satin dress with lace bodice and a lace insert in the skirt.

Her bouquet was white gardenias and she wore pearls and earrings, a gift of the groom.

She also wore a gold bracelet that was a wedding gift to her great grandmother.

Her veil was finger-tip length held in place with a white satin bow.

Mrs. Larry Crittenden of New bury, Ohio was the matron-of-honor.

☆

BRIDESMAIDS were Christine Roshong of Toledo, O. and Mrs. Howard Fillmore of Dearborn.

The bride's attendants were dressed in identical yellow dresses of chiffon over taffeta and they carried baskets of daisies and wore a wreath of daisies in their hair.

Susan and Sandra Waldfogel, three-year-old twin cousins of the bride from West Des Moines, Iowa, were the flower girls.

They wore identical yellow dresses, carried small baskets of daisies, and wore a daisy wreath in their hair.

David Lewis of Holton, Mich. served his uncle as ring bearer.

Charles Hazen of Milan was the best man, the ushers were William Kahle, brother of the bride, Dale Lewis, brother of the groom and Dennis Deck of Ypsilanti, cousin of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kahle chose a blue lace dress, white accessories and her corsage was of yellow and white rosebuds.

The groom's mother wore a navy blue dress and her corsage was yellow and white rosebuds.

Mrs. William Raeburn was the organist and accompanied Mrs. LaRue Waldfogel and Catherine Roshong, who each sang.

About 350 guests attended the reception held at the Britton-Macon Area School immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. William Lennon, Sharon Clark, Mrs. Walter Roshong, Mrs. Wheeler Callender, Mrs. Worden Kahle, Mrs. Norine Walter, Mrs. Forrest Barrett, and Mrs. Cecil Servoss helped at the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are on a short trip in upper Michigan.

After their return, they will live in rural Britton.

The bride is a senior at Eastern Michigan University.

The groom attended Western University and is now engaged in dairy farming with his father.

A rehearsal dinner was given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lewis at St. Peter's Episcopal parish house, Tecumseh.

Scout Mothers Plan for Boy's Camping

BRITTON — The Boy Scout Mother's Club met Tuesday evening at the Britton Library to complete plans for the trip which the scouts will take in August.

Mrs. Art Sommers conducted the meeting in the absence of the leader, Mrs. Norman Yarckow.

Scoutmaster Robert Auten explained the trip in detail to the mothers and told them of the routes they plan to take, camps and [illegible] in which they will stay, necessary clothing and other items the boys should take and how to pack them.

They also made plans for their annual rummage sale and ask that members start saving their good used clothing, household items and other articles of value. The dates will be announced later.

After the meeting the group called on Mrs. Yarckow and surprised her with two cakes, one for Mrs. Yarckow, the other for her new baby girl, Cindy Lou, to show their appreciation for all her work in scouting.

Mrs. Yarckow was presented with a gift of money [illegible] which she purchased a walker for Cindy Lou.

She also turned in her resignation as leader for the club.

Rohrbacks Celebrate 25 Years

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Rohrback of Britton celebrate their silver anniversary July 17.

TOT LOT NEWS

NELSON FIELD

Checkers and pick-up sticks were enjoyed by the children this week.

Handicrafts is the most popular activity. The children have learned much about braiding.

HERRICK PARK

This week the children have been busily working on leather crafts and plastic lacing.

Mike House is busy making a special gift for his mother.

Checkers, Old Maid and pick-up-sticks have been the popular games.

The special event of the week was a picnic held Friday. After the picnic a pick-up-stick tournament was held. Mark Kemp is the champion with David Ward the runner-up.

SHADY LANE

For the past week, Linda Gray, a loyal member of the tot lot, has been in the hospital. All the children from here wish her good luck and are waiting for her return.

PATTERSON

The winner of the checker championship is Patrick Wanyzeck.

He will compete with the other tot lot winners for the Tecumseh Tot Lot Checker Championship.

Ann and Susan Beardsley are making turtle coin purses. The Sancho sisters are finishing comb cases.

This week's special event at the Tot Lots will be a Pet Show Friday.

Awards will be given for the Smallest, Cutest, Shaggiest, Largest, Most Unusual Pet, Best Trick, and Best Groomed. The times are as follows:

Shady Lane — 9:30
Nelson Field — 10
Herrick Park — 10:30
Patterson — 11

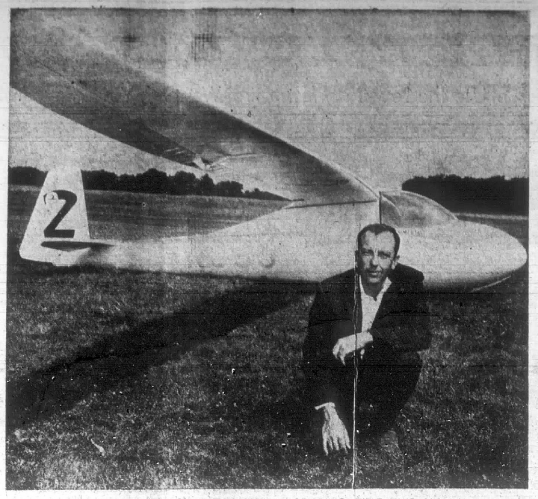
Team 3 romped over Team 2 by the score of 11-6. The winning pitcher was Debbie Black, who also helped win her own game by getting three hits in three times at bat.

Diana Holcomb was the other leading hitter for the winners also getting three for three.

The following girls have been chosen from the Junior girls softball team to play the Tecumseh Senior girls team Tuesday, July 24 at 6:15 p.m.: Bev Eggleston, Gail Lister, Gladys Hartley, Carolyn Purple, Cathy Hall, Beth O'Neil, Pat Wilson and Debbie Black.



JIM SMITH WILL DEFEND HIS NATIONAL SOARING TITLE THIS MONTH

Smith Wins Another Trophy

Architect Jim Smith of Tecumseh captured another first-place trophy Saturday by leading competitors in the annual Midwest Soaring Meet at Adrian.

A speed dash to Napoleon, O., decided the final standings of the meet. Poor weather conditions forced pilots to consider-able effort to keep their motorless sailplanes aloft.

Mr. Smith earlier won a trophy for placing first in a Memorial meet in Richmond, Ind.

His next competition will be to defend his National Soaring Champion title at El Mirage, Calif.

The national meet, which draws international competition, will be the latter part of July and first two days of August.

Results of this meet will help determine who will represent the United States at the 1963 international competitions in Argentina.

Program aids remained at Center camp each night with Mrs. Creger.

Thursday, visitors day, a progressive dinner was served to 120 including guests at the Center camp.

Friday the program aids conducted a staff hunt with prizes awarded.

Ice cream was served at closing.

Scout fathers set up and broke camp for the girls.

Lead Narrow In Products Golf League

Only three points separate the top three teams in the Tecumseh Products Golf League.

Robert Beevers and Chuck Newell led the teams in last Thursday's play with scores of 37, one over par.

Danny Goller's team split rounds with Wendell Reum's, scoring one point each.

Other teams all won or lost both rounds played Thursday at Macon.

Results were William Walker's team over Merlin Schultz' group, Chuck Newell over Bernard Fisher, Dean Hamilton over Ben Gillies and Robert Beevers over Gerald Baker.

Standings now are:

Pony League VFW Nine Wins Two Close Games

Tecumseh's VFW entry in the Pony League posted two victories this week

VFW nipped Britton, 15-14, on the Tory diamond Monday.

Mac Meyers was the winning hurler, allowing seven hits. Nick Herbert was his battery mate.

First baseman Henry Mensing slapped out three base hits in four trips for the winners and Britton's Bill Prochaska had two-for-three. All told, Tecumseh had 10 base knocks and Britton seven.

THERE WAS another close one Tuesday, VFW edging the Tecumseh Eagles, 8-7.

Sheldon Pease was on the mound, permitting only three hits.

Catcher Hebert banged out two-for-three to pace the winner's seven-blow attack.

Brad Hatch, second sacker for the Eagles, clicked for two bingoes in four appearances at bat.

Newells Win Father & Son Golf Tourney

Torrid-shooting Chuck and Jim Newell captured the annual Tecumseh Country Club Father & Son tournament Sunday.

The Newells combined for 66 and 67 rounds with handicaps. Actual strokes were 75 for Mr. Newell and 77 for his son.

In the members and caddie dvision, John Costello and left-handed Corky Squires posted 70 and 69, with handicaps, to finish in first position.

Their gross scores were 90 and 84.

Jim Newell's 77 gave him medalist honors for the young men with Corky's 84 ranking second best.

Chuck Newell and Rex Willnow tied for member honors on 75's.

Twenty-eight teams competed in the event, which was twice interrupted by showers.

Following the tournament, the players staged a hamburger cookout.

Trophies will be awarded to the winners.

Merchant 9 Stopped By 2-Hitter

Doug Nelson of the Adrian Legion babeball team spun a two-hitter in stopping the Tecumseh Merchants, 3-0, in Adrian Twilight League play last week.

He fanned six over the seven-inning route.

Larry Lopez, working on the hill for Manager Earl Yoakum's Tecumseh crew, gave up only five safe blows, but a walk and two errors, followed by Andy Fisher's double proved fatal in the first frame.

Tecumseh's Norm Campbell rapped out a two-bagger and Jack Lewis nailed a triple for Adrian.

Next Tuesday, Tecumseh plays host to the same club on Recreation Field diamond at 5:45 p.m.

Airman James Hartsell is home from Germany for a 30-day leave. He will be stationed at Rapid City, S. D. after his furlough.

$235,000 Tripmaster Loss

Final tabulations on the crash of the Air France Boeing-707 jet at Orly Airport Paris, France show that of the 121 Americans killed in the tragedy, 11 were insured by ACCO Tripmaster policies.

The total amount of these policie carried by these 11 persons was $235,000. The policies had been sold by five separate agencies in the Atlanta area.

This tragic loss of life again highlights the valuable role trip insurance can play in the business or vacation travel plans of everyone.

Long recognized as the best trip insurance coverage available, ACCO's TRIPMASTER policy not only provides coverage for Travel Accidents and Baggage losses but sickness as well.

With the heavy summer travel season here and the fall travel season just around the corner, now is the time to contact clients and sell them TRIPMASTER protection.

Clients will welcome the added peace of mind this protection provides and appreciate the thoughtfulness of the agent who takes the time to suggest it.

ACCO TRIPMASTER policies issued through the Vern Manwaring agency provide $5,000 accident and $500 medical protection for only $2 per week — issued from one to 180 days.

Patrons can select up to a $50,000 policy.

Learn About Government

"Now I think I can understand government," said Debbie Holden, one of three Tecumseh young ladies who attended the recent Wolverine Girls State.

Held on the campus of University of Michigan, the 10-day session was also atttended by Connie Schneider and Sheila O'Neil.

"The 420 girls who attended were so willing to be friends and work hard," impressed Miss Schneider.

"The two conselors from the University's political science department were wonderful," explained Miss O'Neil.

The trio will report in September to the American Legion Auxiliary, which sponsored them.

All agree that Girls State was an impressive experience. The friends they met, the songs they learned and the information they amassed about state government was well worthwhile.

Connie was appointed city manager of Barnes City and elected county coroner of Schrumps County.

Sheila was appointed health inspector of Benjamin City and welfare director of Dunn County and elected state senator and president pro-tem.

Debbie was councilman for Crakes City, which won the Citizenship Award, also elected to the House of Representative and named to the liquor control commission.

The girls learned how the senate and house are run, how to use voting machines, how to stage a political convention.

They also picked up considerable knowledge on parlimentary procedure.

Girls State delegates were selected by the Auxiliary from a list of potential candidates submitted by Tecumseh High School, based on scholastic and leadership achievements.

Clark Players Will Present 'No Flowers'

When hypochondriac George Kimball overhears his doctor speaking of a dying patient, George jumps to palpitating conclusions and hastens to "settle his affairs."

In noble but nervous innocence he starts the comical chain of events which provides the action for "Send Me No Flowers," the Clark Lake Players" presentation scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 12 13, 14 and 19, 20, 21.

In the role of George Kimball is Ronald McClumpha. Judy Kimball, his wife, is played by Eleanor Sneden. Also in the cast are Allen Russell, Peter Blake, R. Z. Rosenfeld, Mike Cantine, Pat Riley, Barbara Word and Duard Worden.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. and reservations may be made by calling the box office (LAkeside 9-9141) between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. daily except Sunday.

Future entertainment at the Clark Lake Playhouse will be "Marriage-Go-Round," "The Third Best Sport" and "Annie Get Your Gun."

Top Notchers Entertained

Sandy Beal performed routines for about 30 members of the Tecumseh Top Notchers 4-H Club June 26.

The meeting was held at the home of Sue Ilieck.

Linda Oberlin and Cindy Caterina made and served brownies and punch for refreshments.

Judy Purkey and Diane Ries provided outdoor games.

Another meeting for club achievement will be held at the home of Linda Oberlin.

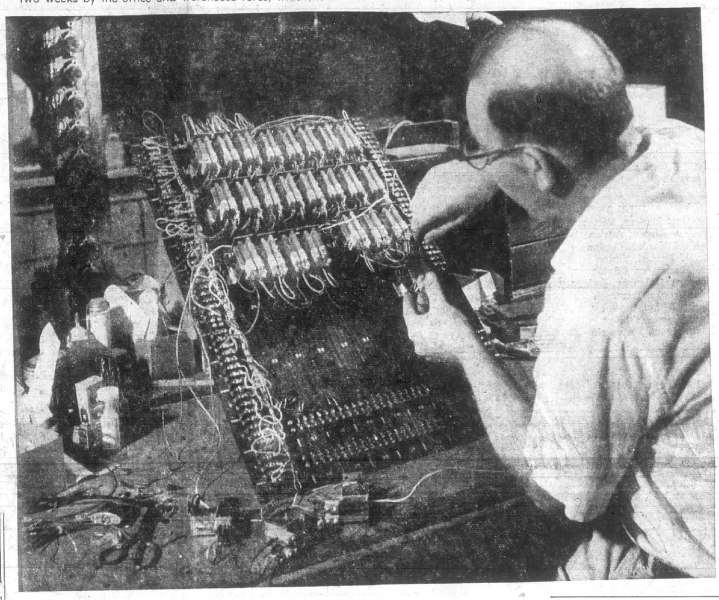
MOVING DAYS ARE COMING—This is the way the Faraday, Inc. plant will look in Tecumseh later this month. Moving operations from Adrian will begin July 30 and continue for two weeks, the regular vacation period. About 150 employees in production and production support will begin work here Aug. 13. They'll be followed in another two weeks by the office and warehouse force, which numbers 60. By Labor Day, the firm is expected to be in 100% operation here. After the company is fully settled in its spacious new building, there will be several open houses so that residents can inspect their newest industry. In the photo below, veteran Faraday employee William "Red" Murrell of Blissfield is shown wiring a relay control panel, one of the nearly 1,500 products made by Faraday.



TIPTON NOTES

The Senior and Junior High Fellowships of the Tipton Community Church will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. to go on a hayride. Following the ride, there will be an hour of folk games and refreshments. Everyone from next year's seventh grade on up is invited.

Vacation Bible School will be held from July 30 to August 3.

Next Sunday, the Church Library will be opened and will open each week at 9:45 a.m.

Starting Monday, July 9, the Boy Scouts will meet Mondays at 7 p.m. The day has been changed in order to allow the Rev. Paul Frederick to be at the meetings and help with the troop.

The Franklin Extension Club will entertain a guest club for a picnic at Hidden Lake Gardens July 19 at 12:30 p.m. Each member is to furnish table service for two.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Simmons recently returned from California where they attended the National Rotary Convention at Los Angeles. Before returning home they visited the Worlds Fair at Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Howard Luce left Sunday for West Chester, Pa. where she was called because of the death of her brother, Fred Mattson, which occurred Friday night. She was accompanied by Mrs. Eva Kimball of Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Deis have returned home after spending their vacation in Cal. and the Worlds Fair at Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Richard Blue was the guest of honor at a bridal shower Monday evening, given by Mrs. Wesley Whelan and Mrs. Jerry Fox at the Whelan home. Games were enjoyed by the guests and prizes were given to the honored guest. Refreshments were served by the hostesses and a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Blue received many useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cook and family spent last weekend camping at the Lincoln township park on Shingle Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Echelbarger, Sr. and family and Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Echelbarger Jr. have returned home from a fishing trip to Wa Wa Canada.

Mrs. Lyle Whelan is a medical patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Wagon Shop Falls to Clean-Up

The old wagon shop is down.

Probably one of the oldest buildings in Tecumseh, the structure at the corner of S. Evans and Kilbuck Sts. was dismantled last week by Don Yoder of 8 S. Occidental Rd.

The property is owned by Mrs. Floyd Elliott who plans to "just clean up the corner."

Mrs. Elliott said Tuesday, "I've been trying to get that building down for some time. I'll bet the people across the street are happy. They're in the house Perry Satterthwaite was born in, you know."

She continued saying that the property had been purchased by her husband's father, James Elliott, in the early 70's. He was George Elliott's grandfather.

At one time Nelson Avery made wagons there and a Mr. Jackson, grandfather of Dale Hodges, former resident now of Detroit, was employed there.

John Hazlett came from Ireland and set up his first tailoring shop in this country above the wagon shop. Mrs. Elliott said that he was an excellent tailor.

Homemakers Meet

Bobby and JoAnn Anderson will host the Holloway Homemakers 4-H Club Thursday, July 12.

Demonstrations will be presented by Donna Forsythe, Susan and Dianne Mitchell and Barbara Prielipp.

Interlochen Starts 35th Music Season

INTERLOCHEN — The 35th concert season of the National Music Camp was launched in the rustic old Interlochen Bowl July 1, with a performance under the stars.

The long-famed High School Symphony Orchestra, representing the cream of American youth in musical talent, presented the works of Sibelius, Mendelssohn and Gould.

Larry Harper is attending the camp as a recipient of the David Day Scholarship.

Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder and president of the camp, mounted the podium to conduct the 300-piece orchestra with special pride this year at the invitation from the White House to this orchestra to perform in Washington this August.

The students are among the 1,430 total enrollment from 42 states and five foreign countries, who will spend their summer vacations studying at Interlochen in this summer school of fine arts.

Music School Enrolls 154

A capacity enrollment of 154 high school students is in attendance at the 11th annual summer music camp at Western Michigan University. Continuing for two weeks, the camp closes with a concert for parents and friends on Saturday, July 21.

These selected high school students will study under regular University music faculty. Solo, ensemble, choral, orchestral and band work are planned, along with music theory.

Students reside in a University residence hall, and in addition to their formal study, an intensive recreation program has been arranged.

Among those attending the camp is Allen Belcher of 1009 Murray Dr.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Pearson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Barnes and children of Ponca City, Okla. last week.

SCENE OF DEMONSTRATION—Tecumseh's swim pool will be the scene of a demonstration by young pupils of the first session Friday evening at 7 pm. Following the show of skills, there will be competative races for boys and girls of all ages. There will be free swimming after the races. A competitive swim class is now meeting daily from 5 until 5:45 with Mary Seager as instructor and there are some openings for interested youngsters. Second session of regular swim classes, which runs from July 16 to Aug. 10, also has openings. Another class in life saving will be started if there are at least 10 interested persons. Full details can be obtained at the pool from Vic Lawson.

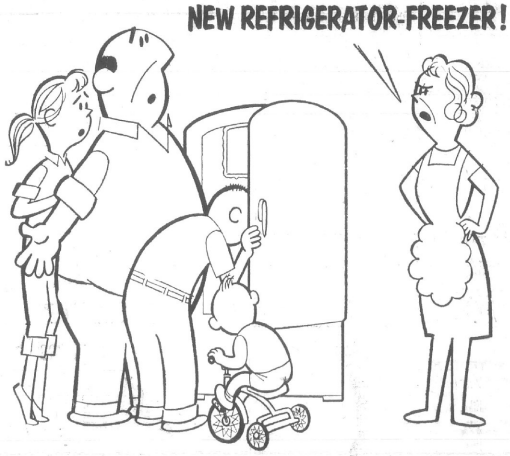
with this family's appetite we need a big
NEW REFRIGERATOR-FREEZER!



Are you still getting along with a "too small", "out-dated" Refrigerator that needs messy defrosting?

NEW REFRIGERATOR-FREEZERS END ALL DEFROSTING

Today's modern, "carefree-design" refrigerator-freezers end all defrosting in both refrigerator and freezer sections. This means no frost ever—on food packages, ice cube trays or walls—no defrosting drudgery ever—no scraping, no chipping, no prying, no messy pans of water to empty (or spill). And, the handsome refrigerator-freezer models beautify every kitchen. The interior arrangement is planned for spacious food storage and easy access to food supplies. In addition, the new refrigerator-freezers will:

- Store enough fresh and frozen foods to last for weeks—conveniently at your fingertips.
- Save extra trips to the market.
- Keep leftovers fresh and tasty until needed.
- Save money because the large freezer compartment allows you to buy meats, vegetables and baked goods when prices are low.
- Give you peace of mind because you can store enough for hungry family and unexpected guests.

IT'S LIKE HAVING A SUPERMARKET IN YOUR OWN KITCHEN!

End Rust, Mold and Mildew During Humid Weather
GET A DEHUMIDIFIER NOW!

Here is economical protection against costly, moisture-caused damage to your home—a portable, electric dehumidifier. Just plug it into any outlet and it immediately goes to work wringing excess moisture from the air—protects your furnishings, makes you more comfortable.

- STOP rust on tools and equipment.
- STOP mildew in carpets, linens and clothing.
- STOP warping and swelling of furniture.
- STOP pipes from dripping.
- STOP extreme discomfort caused by high humidity.

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN MICHIGAN, hearing of the gallant fighting of the 1st, 4th, 5th and 7th Michigan regiments against the Confederacy, folks all over the state toasted their troops' bravery with foaming steins of beer.

For then as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment to our state. The Brewing Industry pays more than 16 million dollars in taxes to Michigan each year, money that helps support our parks, hospitals and schools.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Governor Battling Litter

LANSING — A proclamation urging Michigan citizens and tourists from other states to support the Keep Michigan Beautiful program has been issued by Gov. John B. Swainson.

Swainson, who designated July and August as "Anti-Litter Season," said it costs Michigan taxpayers an estimated $1 million a year to clean up trash from public places — "an unnecessary expense which can be eliminated through the cooperation of Michigan residents."

"Each citizen of Michigan has an interest in our State and its well-being," the proclamation said. "Our great outdoors deserves the same consideration we give our personal property. Thoughtlessness in disposing of waste can mar the beauty of Michigan."

"By our good example, we will encourage our visitors to enjoy our state and keep our parks, public areas and roadsides unspoiled," Swainson said.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

NO HONOR AMONG THIEVES

How to describe the noise — well, it is rather like a strangling, choked, squeaky squawk. It's loud too, terribly loud. You are right, grackles are here; in fact, we are over-run with them.

Is it only because we are so thoroughly disgusted with the constant screaming or is this really a bumper year for the black thieves?

Things were bad enough when they first came back in the spring: the greedy birds monopolized everything.

Now, however, with the addition of the first brood of babies, it almost seems as though we are living in a 'den of thieves.'

Like all youngsters the young grackles are always hungry and not a bit bashful about telling the whole world. They have such unpleasant voices, so loud and harsh!

☆

THESE DAYS we can hardly hear any of the pretty bird chorus for the racket made by our black 'friends.' They are at it from morning til night and of course, morning comes quite early these days

For some reason or other, the favorite morning hollering spot is directly beneath my window —an unpleasant way to start the day, I might add.

The birds seem to follow us, when we move to the porch they assemble in the back yard.

We can't escape the squawkings of this junior choir—if they knew the bad review their performance is getting, I wonder if they would be so eager to serenade?

Actually, were the grackles around in oh, even moderate numbers, they might be rather acceptable.

When seen in bright sunlight, they have a black sheen which is quite pretty and of course, their heads are also a rainbow of purple hues.

Fastidiously clean birds, they turn the creek into a long cool bath-tub. They splash and dip, throwing water all over but even here the thieves are noisy.

Their wings beat the water; when the birds come out to dry off there is much shaking and fluffing and the wet feathers rattle.

In flight the thieves use their long tails in an interesting manner—the middle feathers can be depressed to act as a rudder. By such steering, their swooping glides are fun to watch, if only it weren't such a common sght.

☆

GETTING BACK to young grackles, and there are so many of them that even when writing an article, we don't escape this for long.

But anyway, the other day one put on quite a performance. The usual hubub was going on out in back, the ground was covered with ripe mulberries and, needless to say, grackles.

One youngster was really sounding off but, like many humans, he apparently had his own likes and dislikes.

The mother picked up a berry and jammed it down Junior's throat; he promptly spit it out.

She crammed it in his mouth again and immediately he spit it out.

This went on for several minutes, she was insistent that he should eat the fruit and he was equally insistent that he wouldn't.

The best grackle show however, was staged at the bird bath. Piled high on the feeder were bits of hard bread.

The black ones, of course, are past masters at the art of soaking to soften.

For years, well, since we have had the birdbath, we have laughed as they took kernels of corn and swished them back and forth in the water, until they were edible.

But, back to our story—this particular day a great big grackle flew to the feeder and grabbled hold of the largest piece of bread. It was quite a billfull.

Not liking to eat hard food, he took it to the bird bath and carefully "dunked and swished."

It apparently was softening up nicely and so he bit it into smaller pieces, bite size pieces, I suppose.

☆

HE TRIED ONE but obviously the bread was not soft enough yet. Using his long, cruel looking bill, he "poled" the pieces around, probably thinking about the tasty meal he was preparing.

Suddenly and quietly, another grackle sneaked up to the other side of the feeder. The first bird was torn between protecting his meal and driving off the visitor.

He tried to do both, and of course, did neither.

The intruder stole all the bread and left only after the last piece was gulped down.

So it is that grackles dramatized the old saying and showed us there really is no honor among thieves.

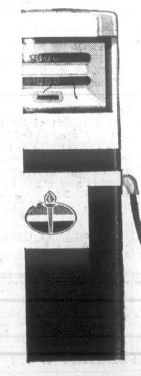
The Final Step to assure the Finest Gasolines ever sold!



Today's cars need gasolines free of microscopic particles that used to be no problem. These contaminants clog the filter car makers put in fuel lines to protect precision carburetors. Filter clogging cuts power and acceleration, can even stop your car.

American Oil Research found a solution—the American FINAL/FILTER, the red filter you'll see on the pump nozzle only at Standard Oil Dealers. At no extra cost, AMERICAN® Brand Gasolines are Final Filtered as they go into your tank. Look for the American FINAL/FILTER—the gasoline improvement you can actually see!

You expect more from Standard and you get it!

WHEN YOU BUY INSURANCE

Sooner or later, everyone is tempted to pick up a "bargain" in protection because of the rate. Too often, the promise of a fast, generous settlement fails to materialize.
When you buy from a local, independent agent you buy from a man who can look you in the eye any day of the week. He is not "out of town" when needed and his business is to help you get a fair and prompt settlement after a loss.
Bargains in insurance don't exist. But you do get a bargain in service, loyalty and experience when you do business with a local, independent agent. Thats us.

Joe Anderson Visits Campus

KALAMAZOO — Joseph H. Anderson of Tecumseh was among more than 2,500 freshmen who expect to enter Western Michigan University for the first time next fall are spending two days this summer in visiting the campus.

An intensive program of counseling, advance registration including the payment of a part of their fall fees, and a bit of social life are planned.

They will thus clear up many of their early fall duties and know the campus a little better when they arrive.

When they return to the campus in September it will be to start classes almost immediately without the usual days of orientation and registration.

A 1962 graduate of THS, Joe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, 420 N. Evans St.

Takes Over as Minister

The Rev. Donald C. Porteous and his family have moved to the parsonage of the First Methodist Church in Tecumseh.

Rev. Porteous was happy to find that a childhood friend, the Rev. Paul Brantingham, is one of his fellow ministers, preaching at the Tecumseh Friends Church.

The two are natives of Winonah, O. and the families have been extremely close friends over the years.

The Rev. Porteous spent his summer vacations at the Brantingham farm.

The new pastor is a graduate of New Castle High School in Pennsylvania and received his BA degree from Asbury College in Wilmore Ky. His bachelor of divinity degree is from Asbury Theological Seminary.

He has served pastorates in Bay City, Calumet and Ironwood.

Just prior to going to Calumet the church and parsonage were totally destroyed by fire and both were rebuilt during his pastorate there.

Mrs. Porteous agreed that the 648 miles from Ironwood was a long way to move.

She is a graduate of Dolgeville High School in New York and received her RN degree from the Albany Memorial Hospital in New York.

She attended Asbury College and has recently been on the faculty of Northern Michigan College at the Gogebic branch in the nursing education field.

There are three children in the Porteous household, David 15, Donald Jr., 8, and Kathy June 7.

NEW METHODIST FAMILY—The Rev. and Mrs. Donald Porteous with son David, 15; Donald, 8; and Kathy, 7.

OBITUARIES

● RICHARD WOODCOX

Services were held Monday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home for Richard Woodcox, 55, who died Thursday at 3:45 p.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

He had been a resident of Tecumseh since he was three. iHe was employed by the Tecumseh Products Co.

Born Dec. 13, 1906, at Overton, O. he was the son of Charles R. and Seretta Onstadt Woodcox.

He attended the Tecumseh schools and married Gladys M. Covey of Rogers City in 1930.

Besides his wife Mr. Woodcox is survived by a son, Jason; two grandsons and a sister, Mrs. Ida Parsons of Pioneer.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

● LLOYD W. GOON

Services were held in Toledo Thursday for Lloyd Goon, 41, who died July 2 at Toledo Hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Aileen, youngest daughter of Mrs. John Wintersteen, 205 W. Pottawatamie St.

Burial was in the Woodlawn Cemetery at Toledo.

PANCAKE RACE COMING—This was Sharon Bachtal as she flipped a pancake at the three-quarter mark in last year's hilarious race. The event will be staged again this summer on Friday, Aug. 3 as a feature of the annual free pancake supper and sidewalk sale. Defending champion Bonnie Kellogg Sniffen says she is going to start training for the event and expects a lot of tough competition. All women 18 and over are eligible to compete. This year there will also be a teen-age race for girls between 15 and 17.

Con-Con Report

Apportionment

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles on Michigan's proposed new Constitution. The articles are prepared by a committee of the Constitutional Convention.)

Legislative apportionment — one of the most controversial matters debated in the constitutional convention — is covered in Article IV dealing with the legislative branch of state government.

The new document establishes a commission equally representing the major political parties to reapportion periodically House and Senate seats in accordance with the requirements of the constitution. Supreme Court review is provided in the event of disagreement of the commission.

The House of Representatives of 110 members is to be apportioned on the basis of population but adhering to county lines in the setting-up of districts. There will be only single-member districts and the method of equal proportions used by the U.S. House of Representatives is employed to allocate seats to the various districts.

☆

THE STATE Senate apportionment is worked out on a formula which gives 80 per cent weight to population and 20 per cent weight to area. The actual apportionment of the senate is not ordered until after the 1970 census.

Until that time, if the new document is adopted, one additional senator will be assigned to each of the state's most populous southeastern counties — Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Genesee. Senate membership is increased from 34 to 38.

The debate on apportionment in the convention reflected clear-cut differences among the delegates' political philosophies. The Republican majority insisted on some consideration of area as well as population in allocation of legislative seats. Democrats were committed to apportionment strictly on the basis of population.

It is safe to say that no one got exactly what he wanted in the resulting compromise, but the application of the principles laid down in the new document will bring Michigan to the forefront of the states in fairness and equitability of its system for allotting representation among its population.

☆

ARTICLE IV provides that the position of auditor general, presently an elective office, is to be filled by legislative appointment. He would serve the legislature, conducting fiscal audits and studies of the effectiveness of departmental performances. His duty would be to provide the legislature with the means of knowing that its policies are being honestly and effectively carried out.

The article also sets up a bipartisan legislative council named by the legislature from among its members. The council would supervise the work of a full-time staff whose duties would be to maintain bill drafting, research and other services for the legislature.

To eliminate secret procedures, legislative committees are required in this article to keep a recorded roll call vote of all actions on bills and resolutions. Notice of all committee hearings and the subjects to be considered are to be announced prior to each hearing.

Terms of state senators are increased to four years, but state representatives continue to be elected for two-year terms.

The legislative branch article includes also numerous proposed improvements in legislative procedure which have been recommended by present and former members of the senate and house.

Sheri Is Honored For Birthday

Sheri McWilliams was honored on her sixth birthday recently at a party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McWilliams.

Mrs. Robert Bronamer of Deerfield and Mrs. Charles Fairbanks of Britton assisted Mrs. McWilliams in serving ice cream, birthday cake and punch to the youngsters.

New Blood Program To Benefit County

A blood bank program to benefit every Lenawee County resident is getting underway.

The program was set up last week at a meeting of county and regional Red Cross officials and representatives of local fraternal and industrial groups which have been contributing to a blood bank here.

The old program provided that groups could make arrangements with local hospitals to donate when the hospital needed blood. The organizations would be given credit for the number of pints donated, and its members and their immediate families could receive blood up to the number of pints on credit.

The new program will place Lenawee County in a 25-county regional Red Cross Center. Every county resident will receive needed blood wherever hospitalized, whether in the county, state or anywhere in the world.

The normal $35 a pint charge will not be made for the blood. The only charge will be for typing of the patient and the administering of the blood.

County residents, in turn, are expected to contribute 2,400 pints yearly to the regional blood bank.

At the meeting it was brought out that only about a third of the county's residents are covered by the present program. Older persons who need extensive surgery or have illnesses requiring blood transfusions rarely can replace the blood through the group donation plan. These persons also are among those who would find it hardest to pay for the blood.

Few insurance plans cover the cost of blood. Most, however, cover the charges for typing and administering.

Another advantage of the program is that the wide area covered by the regional program will make it more likely that the rarer types of blood will be available in emergencies.

Representatives of the fraternal and industrial organizations at the meeting pledged their support to the new program.

The county Red Cross chapter will seek volunteers to donate not only blood, but time to help in running the program.

Dr. William Hewes, chairman of the county's blood bank program, appointed Malcom MacCoun county recruitment chairman.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Those quiet, intense horse players are the ones who can really ferret out the winners.

Take Tecumseh contractor and lumber baron Howard Truesdale.

Howard really doesn't follow the bangtails, but the way he ticked off the winners Saturday has some of his friends wondering if he isn't a regular reader of The Racing Form and various turf columns.

Howard was among a group of Rotary Club members who chartered a bus to the Detroit Race Course that day.

As most of the fellows dashed about excitedly, Howard casually looked over his program, did some cogitating and then placed his bets. He seemed to have a real flare for selecting the right entries.

For example, in the second race, he went with Lime Rock, a 9-1 shot, which romped home first, paying Howard $21.60.

When the featured eighth came along, everyone was agog at the field, gnashing their teeth over the various possibilities.

Howard tapped his program and said, "I'm going with No. 9, Half Breed."

The big favorite, Run for Nurse, at only 2-1 odds, came in last. Other touted horses were down the lane, but who should lead the field home? Naturally, Half Breed—at 14-1.

On this one, Howard pocketed $29.20.

And all the while, he munched on a cigar, quietly chatting with Bert Ousterhout, who also proved to be a fair to middlin' selector himself.

This Rotary outing came as a result of a program the club had several months ago. Don Wattrick, popular sports director of WXYZ-TV, told Rotarians here about horse racing, showed a film taken at DRC.

He mentioned that groups could arrange for a special deal at the Detroit track. This included a buffet lunch in the clubhouse before the races and reserved seats in the spacious stands.

In fact, a special race the day the club might come would be named for the group.

Don didn't mention the escalator from the grandstand down to the betting windows, but he probably should have. It proved to be one of the most used facilities.

Bob Karle made arrangements for the visit and from the time the Rotarians rolled up to the gate the red carpet was out.

Everyone at DRC — office help, track policemen, ushers, ticket sellers—all were genuinely friendly and courteous.

Big event for the Tecumseh patrons was race No. 4—"The Tecumseh Rotary". This was the one named to honor the visitors and Mr. Karle and Club President Hugh Walter were invited into the winner's circle after the race, met the owner of the horse, P. Maxwell of Oklahoma City and posed for pictures.

For myself, the winner "Heavenly Note" with R. J. Campbell up, couldn't have been a better choice. I bet "Heavenly Note" on the nose—and what an attractive beak this animal had—worth $8.20 to me.

But that was the end of my winners.

No Howard Truesdale, I. My selection of a horse was unique and scholarly.

Take the seventh. After carefully studying the eighth-nag field, checking Collier, the little orange tip sheet, and all available newspaper comments, I selected No. 6, "Indian Trader."

Here was my reasoning.

Being from Tecumseh, "Indian" was an important word in the bangtail's name. Further more, his stable's colors were orange and black—that of Tecumseh athletic teams.

How could "Indian Trader" miss on this fateful Saturday?

With all these things going for the nag, I was really shocked when it jogged in among the late finishers, not paying a dime.

Actually though, my system was probably as good as that used by most of the 17,000 other folks who were at the track Saturday.

Just before post time I met DRC photographer Bill Kofender and asked him for a few winners.

Bill grinned, "As I tell my constituents, if I could pick the winners, I wouldn't be shooting pictures."

Horse racing, a great game.

For Parking, Not A Swim

"There is no truth to the rumor that the Hall-Slater Post of the VFW will build a swimming pool behind the present building," said Commander Lloyd Stites Tuesday.

The veteran's organization has purchased the former Dutch Oyer property adjoining that of the VFW and are presently making a parking lot for members of both post and auxiliary who do not wish to walk through the bar to their cars.

Members of the post hope to enlarge the Post home in time but no definite plan has been made.

Adolf Was Honored at Party

A surprise going-away party was held June 10 for Adolf Petrus, an exchange student in the James Barton Home this past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Preston entertained a group of Adolf's friends at their Wamplers Lake cottage.

After swimming and skiing the young people went to the Teen Club.

Adolf received gifts unheard of in Germany, his home land, including popcorn and bubble gum.

Conditioner Bids Tabled

Who will install air conditioning in the city hall is still a question.

Council received two bids Monday night from local contractors, both with Tecumseh Products Co. compressors in them.

One from Forest Abner was for $2,300, with three-ton and five-ton Stewart-Warner units producing 94,000 BTU's.

The other bid came from Paul Clauda for $2,723 with three and five-ton Lennox units, but capable of between 105,000 and 110,000 BTU's.

Council refused to accept either bid, instructing City Manager Ed Nelson to study the two and make his recommendations at the next session.

The air conditioners would probably be placed on the building's roof and would use the present heating ducts for cooling purposes.

Brothers Serve Duty Together

Elmo J. Rucker SA-US Navy will arrive home on two weeks leave July 22.

He has completed training at Pensacola and will go to Scotland for a tour of duty where his brother, Gerald, is stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Rucker will go to Grafton, W. Va. Saturday to accompany Elmo the remainder of his trip to Tecumseh.

URBAN RENEWAL PLAN PROPOSED

Where Will Business Be in 1972?

What's ahead for Tecumseh retail business in the next 10 years?

This is a question that members of City Council decided they want answered — and they're going to take the initiative to find out.

Councilman Royal Welch proposed the query Monday evening, in a presentation which may well lead to serious Urban Renewal efforts on the part of community leaders.

This is the redevelopment program, which is in part underwritten with Federal funds, that re-builds portions of a city. Detroit, with its vast slum clearance and downtown improvement project, is a prime example. Many other, smaller communities are also involved in the same type of effort.

Mr. Welch pointed out that throughout the nation small towns are fighting for survival. Shopping centers are drawing customers from business districts.

He explained that Tecumseh business places are steadily losing out to Jackson, Adrian, Detroit, Ann Arbor and Toledo. Some of these cities are engaged in urban renewal.

He stressed the current problems facing Tecumseh:

- Sales in local stores are down
- Only one new house permit was taken out in 1961
- There are seven empty stores
- There are 1,000 fewer jobs than in 1957
- Few job opportunities are available to attract young people
- Realtors estimate about 50 empty homes in city

In addition there is some confusion among merchants as well as apathy towards the problems. Cooperation is sometimes lacking and there is a need for public relations. Limited inventories in stores are causing shoppers to go elsewhere.

Mr. Welch said that a long-range program is needed. It must touch several areas — Urban Renewal, modernization of business area and possible consolidation of certain stores.

EDITORIAL ON THIS SUBJECT LAST PAGE, SECOND SECTION

As far as attracting new industry to the city, Mr. Welch suggests that additional factory land should be acquired and a plant shell be constructed.

A city income tax might also come into the program — if summer taxes could be eliminated for property owners. Public relations to promote the city is another part of it.

☆

RESPONSE TO THE idea was unanimous.

Mayor Harold Easton stated, "I think this is a fine idea. I'm glad to go along."

He asked Councilman Welch to draw up more detailed plans and also begin preparation of a list of citizens who might be named to a general committee.

The group would include Council, merchants, representatives of industry, the Chamber of Commerce, service clubs and other interested groups.

Council should take the lead, the mayor explained.

"HEAVENLY NOTE" SPRINTS ACROSS FINISH LINE IN FRONT OF FIELD IN TECUMSEH ROTARY RACE AT DETROIT RACE COURSE

Jaycees Set for Safety Belt Clinic

The Tecumseh Jaycees have organized a seat belt clinic which will be held during the next two months, according to chairman Jerry Barton.

Seat belts can be purchased from any Jaycee for $7.50 including installation.

In addition, the Jaycees will set up a booth downtown Friday evenings to accomodate the customers.

The belts come in a variety of seven different colors and test over 6000 pounds.

They have been endorsed by the American Seat Belt Council as the best belt on the market.

The belts will be installed by Ed LeLisle of Ed's Auto Service.

Chairman Barton stated that the statistics show that many lives have been saved from death and disability with use of seat belts and justify their use, manyfold.

New Sidewalk

A 600-foot sidewalk has been installed along the north side of Chicago Blvd. from Division St. to the Community Center.

Free Square Dance Planned

A free square dance and exhibition is being planned for Friday evening, July 20, by Tecumseh downtown merchants.

Bonnie Mattis, well-known caller and instructor, will be in charge of the dancing.

The fun will take place on S. Evans St., from the Four Corners south to the fire station.

The city has given permission to have the street blocked, and it will be cleaned before dancing starts.

Opening the evening will be a session for beginners from 7 until 8. Everyone is invited to take part.

There'll be a break from 8 until 9 when rock-and-roll records will be played for general dancing.

From 9 until 10, Mrs. Mattis will return to put some top-flight dancers, all who will be wearing the costume of their clubs, through the paces.

Talented square dancers from Tecumseh, Ypsilanti, Stockbridge, Petersburg and Milan will be among those performing.

Thermostats Installed at Center

Five heating thermostats, at a cost of $725, are being installed at the Tecumseh Community Center by Clauda Plumbing and Heating.

Their purpose will be to divide heating areas into zones.

The purchase was approved by the city's Park and Recreation Board, who also authorizes the purchase of three picnic tables from a Milan firm, at $40 each, for use in the Center area.

Big Day Coming

Friday, August 3 is a red-letter day in Tecumseh. Here's why.

1. Annual Sidewalk Sale
2. Free Pancake Supper
3. Second Annual Pancake Race

Day-long activity along the main thoroughfare will feature bargain buys at outdoor booths by the local merchants.

Beginning at 5 p.m. and continuing until 9 p.m. pancakes will be served at the firehouse, with materials donated by Quaker Oats and Staley Syrup.

Around 7:30 p.m. the gals will line up with their griddles and pancakes to compete for the Transistor Radio, donated by Wolf's, in the Pancake Race.

The race is open to all girls over 18. Registration is taking place at the Herald office.

There are also rumors of a possible Twist contest.

Blood Bank Seeks Local Participation

A community meeting has been set for Monday, July 23, to inform city citizens of the new blood bank program now being organized in the country through the Red Cross.

Interested persons are asked to be present at 7:30 p.m. at the City Council Room at the City Hall.

Chairman of the Tecumseh Drive is Orrie Gilbert, Herrick Hospital administrator, assisted by Carl Lamb and Chet Beach.

The bloodmobile will make a one-day stop in Tecumseh Thursday, August 9.

It will locate at the Methodist Church from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Local volunteer workers will be trained to assist the technicians by Mrs. Clifford Hood of Adrian, county chairman of volunteers.

The blood will be sent to the Lansing Regional Blood Center which serves an area of 25 counties, each responsible for a yearly quota.

Lenawee is expected to contribute 2,400 pints each year to the new program.

Under this plan, there will be greater access to all types of blood and will eliminate the $35 fee which has been previously charged for a pint of blood.

The Lansing Regional Center has been selected as one of nine blood centers out of the 55 centers in the country to participate in the development of a rare blood donor file.

Permits Granted

Town and Country Homes Inc. of Dearborn has taken out building permits from the city to erect four homes in Tecumseh.

They have constructed many of Tecumseh's dwelling places, including most of the Herrick Park and Indian Acres subdivisions.

The next four will be located, two in Tecumseh Acres on Shady Lane and two on Seneca St.

Watkins Shop Is Moving

The Watkins Shop will move to a new location soon according to Mrs. Marvin Watkins, owner-operator.

The merchandise will be relocated at the former Western Auto Store, owned by Robert McCoy.

The store will receive a new front before the Watkins Shop moves in next month.

According to Mrs. Watkins the store will carry the same lines of merchandise as in the past, yard goods, linens and ready-to-wear.

A new children's shop will be arranged at the rear of the store building where offices are now located.

Mrs. Watkins said that the new location will make sales work easier because the store is open and undivided. She also expects easier maintainance.

Comments rolled in the past week on Tom Riordan's "Long & Short" column dealing with the book, "Roosevelt's Road to Russia."

The volume can be obtained from the Tecumseh library.

☆

One businessman comes up with a striking idea on making improvements to stores.

His theory: the city would "freeze" property valuation of a business place for five years if merchants would give their places face-liftings.

He feels the thought of an immediate increased property valuation has detoured storeman from making improvements.

"Did you ever see a cat chase a dog?" said the young man to our editor Tom Riordan Tuesday.

To 10½-year-old Gerard Cubon of 206 W. Kilbuck St., this is real news.

He continued to tell the man behind the big desk just how it happened, that the cat being chased by his pet, Queen, suddenly turned about and chased the dog.

John Henderson, new city recreation chief, almost "bought champagne for the house" last week. Playing the Tecumseh Country Club golf course for the first time, John's drive on No. 6 landed about eight inches from the cup. A hole-in-one calls for the treat.

☆

One of the cutest ad writers in town Jesse Sluyter, owner of Sluyter Electric. Last week's topped all previous greats, reading, "We don't know what to call them. They're almost real. Reg. $3.75 now $1.99. (They're in my way — Please come and get them.)"

We haven't been down at this writing, but called Jesse to compliment her on the copy. She said there have been a number of comments and she even sold some—whatever they are.

Our lucky 13 front-page gal last week, Christine Cote, who was 13 an Friday the 13th, was given a surprise party by her folks. The number of guests? Why, 13, of course.

City Weeds Must Be Kept Cut

Weeds got their share of Council's Monday night session.

One resident, Don Judd, 607 Blanchard St., asked Council if something couldn't be done about the growth in the Indian Hills subdivision.

He was assured that the developer, Ted Templeton, was responsible for the weeds in the area and he had been instructed by the city to cut them by July 1.

Council agreed to have the city cut the weeds and would settle with Mr. Templeton later.

Other areas around town have been troublesome, but City Manager Ed Nelson explained his crews couldn't possibly handle all sections.

Property owners are responsible for keeping weeds down, but in some cases absentee ownership makes enforcing the law impossible.

"It's just the finest place to hold a family reunion" said Oscar Mead Monday.

He was speaking of Tecumseh's Community Center where his family held their fourth annual gathering Sunday with 85 attending.

"It's so much better than going to a lake or park, sitting on the ground and letting the bugs eat you up."

Best we chalk up another score for the new building which so many are using and enjoying.

Mr. Mead was reappointed as president of the Mead reunion; Ora Meads of Milan is vice-president and Mrs. Clarence Randolph is secretary for the next year.

Out-of-town members attending came from Oxford, Milan, Dundee, Lambertville, Wyandotte, Detroit, Pontiac, Ypsilanti, Onsted Jackson and Cleveland Dayton, Liberty Center, Toledo, O. and Fort Wayne, Ind.

√

Richard Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Palmer of Britton, is on a six-week Good Will tour of Europe with the Navy. He and another ROTC senior of the University of Michigan are at present in London, England and will meet the ship soon to cruise the Mediterranean and return just in time for the fall term of school.

In Italy Mr. Palmer purchased a motor scooter to better tour the countries.

√

Heintz Schwertl and his sister, Mrs. Charles Goodacre and her husband were guests of honor Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Riordan were hosts for a steak roast on a green at the Country Club. Others attending were Fr. Charles Barrett who is spending the summer at Boyssville, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Laidlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wykes and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bagby.

Airman Denver Pearson and his wife and son of Oscoda, Mich. were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pearson recently and attended the Cooper reunion in Jackson July 8.

√

Mrs. Vira Bancroft and daughter, Helen, accompanied Forest Bancroft and family of Adrian to Frontier, O. Wednesday to visit Mrs. Bancroft's granddaughter, Mrs. Albert Brink, and family.

√

A baby girl, Peggy Sue, was born July 10 at Herrick Memorial Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Quigley. The infant's sisters, Louella Marie and Sally Ann, are enjoying the companionship of their grandmother, Mrs. John Quigley, in their home while their mother is away.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wittrup have returned from their wedding trip. Sunday they attended services at Okemos and were introduced to the congregation by the groom's father, the Rev. Allen Wittrup.

√

Anita Sebring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sebring, left July 8 for a three-week pre-college workshop at Ferris Institute.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stites, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, Mr. and Mrs. James Felton, Mr. and Mrs. Arlan Kapnick, Mr. and Mrs. Gaza Kish, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laszlo, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mullins and Lee Coffey attended the 43rd annual convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The event was held June 21-24 at Sault Ste. Marie. The 1963 meeting will be held in Kalamazoo.

√

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harrison, a son at Flower Hospital, Toledo. The infant, Thomas LaVern, weighed 6 lbs. 10 oz. His mother is the former Sandra Smith.

√

Marlys Arnold and William Charles Butterman of Columbus, O. were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Arnold, last weekend.

Casts Include Two Tecumseh Actors

Two local thespians are currently appearing in drama productions in the area.

Playing in "Importance of Being Ernest" at the Irish Hills Playhouse is Laura Seager, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Seager of 309 W. Chicago Blvd.

The production will be featured nightly, except Mondays, through July 29. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Al Russell, of 499 Seminole is appearing in the Clark Lake Production of "Send Me No Flowers," which will be performed Thursday through Saturday, July 19-22.

Curtain will go up at 8:30 p.m.

AL RUSSELL

Margaret Dorner Weds Saturday

Margaret Ann Dorner and Arnold D. Sayler were united in marriage July 14 at Christ the Redeemer Lutheran Church in Adrian by the Rev. Robert L. Hamilton.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Dorner of Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sayler of rural Tecumseh.

Richard G. Dorner was best man and the guests were seated by Garry Sharp and Dale Sayler. Dexter Bailey was the organist.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white Irish lace over taffeta featuring ballerina length skirt, sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves made by Mrs. Edward O'Hearn, friend of the family.

She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and ivy.

Donna Sharp, niece of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant.

A reception for 150 was held in the church parlor following the ceremony. Those assisting were Mrs. Donald Saylor, Mrs. Kenneth Ringman, Mrs. Richard Sayler, Mrs. Clayton Harsh, Mrs. Max Hawley, and Mrs. Richard Pfeiffle.

The couple will make their home at 809 College Ave. in Adrian following their honeymoon in the southern states.

A 1962 graduate of Adrian High School, the new Mrs. Sayler is employed at the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Her husband is a 1959 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed at the United Savings Bank.

Councilmen Signify Approval

Among action taken by Council Monday:

► Richard Close, 3591 Russell Rd., was OKed for a sidewalk contractor's license.

► Neil DePuy was re-appointed to the Brookside Cemetery Board for another three-year term.

► Wage of election workers was continued at $1.25 per hour, plus lunch and dinner.

► Supported the proposed agreement between Faraday, Inc. and the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

The agreement, which will be studied at a public hearing July 28, concerns the dumping of treated cyanide rinse water to be used in electroplating into the River Raisin by the company.

The firm will not be permitted to dump waters containing any more than one milligram per liter of cyanide.

Study Plan For Winter

Recreation Director John Henderson was authorized by the Parks and Recreation Board to check winter programs in five cities.

He will visit the communities to help gather information which will help in setting up the Tecumseh activity list for winter.

Coating Is Afloating

When city crews attempted to seal coat River Acres Dr. in the early part of the month, an unexpected problem arose, explains City Manager Ed Nelson.

Heavy rains got between the hardtop and the base, floating the seal coating, an "unusual condition," he said.

Kay Kapnick, Dan Amstutz Speak Vows

Kay Kapnick became the bride of Daniel Amstutz Saturday evening at the North Blissfield Lutheran Church in a double ring ceremony read by the Rev. William Weinlander.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kapnick of 4325 Rogers Highway and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Amstutz of Deerfield.

In a gown of silk organza featuring a cuffed bustle back flowing into a chapel train, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father.

She carried white roses and stephanotis. A crown of pearls secured her veil of imported silk illusion.

Gerald LaMonde of Deerfield was best man and the guests were seated by Ronald LaMonde, Ronald Hess and Arlan Kapnick.

Judy Gustafson was maid of honor and Peggy Payne, Mrs. Arlan Kapnick and Mrs. Charles Kapnick were bridesmaids.

Brenda Kapnick was flower girl and Alan Sprunk was the ringbearer.

A reception for 500 was held at the Products Workers Union Hall where those assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Wilford King, Mrs. Doris Martelock, Mrs. John Martinus, Mrs. Allan Cutler, Mrs. Leland Kapnick, Sandra Wilson, Carol Kapnick, Gail Ehlert and Mrs. James Newman.

The bride is a graduate of Deerfield High School and Carnegie Institute of Medical Technology.

Her husband attended Deerfield High School and is employed by Dundee Products Co., Dundee.

Lutherans to Gather at Campsite

The regular second worship service of July 22 for Grace Lutheran church will be held at the Campsite at Killarney Lake.

The service begins at 11 a.m. followed by a potluck dinner. Members are to bring their own table service, a dish to pass and a salad or dessert.

Refreshments and games are planned for the children.

Congregation to Participate

Daniel Kierczak, presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced Monday that the Tecumseh Congregation will be among the more than 100 congregations to assemble July 27-29 for a district assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses at the Jackson County fairgrounds.

This is one of a series of 58 such gatherings this year in North America.

The conventions, arranged by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, N. Y., will be based on the theme, "Courageous Ministers".

The purpose of the assembly is to provide Jehovah's Witnesses with practical Bible intructions to apply to their field ministry and daily living.

Is Faith A Tradition or Conviction?

"Discovering The Will of God" is the sermon topic the Rev. Blair Bashore will use Sunday, July 22, at the First Baptist Church.

"A necessary discipline of the Christian is that occasionally he should examine his faith in God, said the pastor Tuesday.

"We might ask ourselves — Is my belief in God simply a tradition which I have inherited or is it a deep and vital conviction — a faith of my own?"

To do God's Will, one must recognize a dependence upon Him. The Life and teachings of Jesus Christ give us a true and correct picture of God, and His Will for us.

"In former years God spoke to men through his prophets, but NOW he has spoken to us in His Son".

Jesus Himself was subject to the Father — 'nevertheless not My will but thine be done' were His words in the garden of decision.

"Many people move along lifes normal ways without ever giving thought to what God's preference may be in and for their life," continued the Rev. Mr. Bashore.

Often we express a desire to do His will then fail to make the necessary effort. How can we know His Will? By prayer, in a sincere attitude we listen as He speaks to our everyday situations.

Bible reading shows how God revealed Himself to others

True Beauty

The eternal nature of true beauty and goodness will be emphasized Sunday at Christian Science church services.

Opening selections from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" will include these verses from Psalm 36: "How excellent is thy loving kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings. They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures. For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light."

Rev. Brazee to Preach on Sunday

The Rev. Alvin Brazee will be the speaker for the 10 a.m. Sunday worship service at the Tecumseh Friends Church.

Sunday afternoons, Tecumseh Friends people have been traveling to Jackson, for service at 3:30 p.m. at the Y.M.C.A. building on Wesley Street.

July 22 Ray Sommers will speak relative to "The Four Greek Words for Love."

In the 7:30 services Sunday evening at Tecumseh, the Rev. John Thomas of Jackson will speak. Mrs. Thomas, the former Josephine Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mac Powell, will sing a special number.

Marvin Johnson, presiding clerk of Tecumseh monthly meeting, will preside at the Sunday services in the absence of Pastor Brantingham.

The Rev. and Mrs. Brantingham will attend the Evangelical Friends Conference at Malone College, Canton, O.

MRS. DONALD R. HINRICHS

Former Resident Marries in Illinois

Many Tecumseh friends of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wick, former residents, will be pleased to learn of the marriage of their daughter, Alice, to Donald R. Hinrichs July 14.

He is the son of Mrs. Oscar Hinrichs of Arlington Heights, Ill.

The Rev. William Faughnan of Chicago performed the ceremony in the Trinity Episcopal Church in Connersville, Ind.

He is the chaplain at the Illinois Institute of Technology where both young people attended college.

Three former college roommates of the bride preceded her to the altar as attendants. They were Mrs. Clifford Anderson of Lafayette, Ind., Judy Lavas of Barberton, O. and Mrs. Warren Jelinek.

They were dressed alike in gowns of pink silk organza over taffeta and carried white lace fans with pink rosebuds and lily of the valley.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father in a floor length gown of white silk organza embroidered with sheaths of wheat.

She carried Eucharist lilies centered with pink rosebuds surrounded with Fugi chrysanthemums and strands of ivy.

She wore pearl pendant and earrings, the gift of the groom.

Groomsmen included Gene Simmons of St. Louis, Mo. Warren Jelinek and Clifford Anderson.

About 75 guests were entertained at a reception at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony.

Dinner was served to 30 at the Country Club.

The new Mrs. Hinrichs earned a degree in Home Economics at the Illinois Institute and was affiliated with Sigma Kappa sorority.

Her husband graduated with a degree in chemical engineering and was a member of Pi Kappa Phi and Tau Beta Pi, engineering honorary.

The couple will make their home in Waynesboro, Va. Mr. Hinrichs is employed at Reynolds Metals Corp., at Grattas, Va.

Open Nights?

The Retail Division of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to consider the possibilities of keeping local stores open several evenings of the week until 9 p.m.

Members of the committee are Dick Eggleston, Bernie Hitchcock and Mrs. James Osburn.

$23,584 Paid Out

City Council approved the payment of $32,955.19 in bills and salaries at Monday's meeting.

Of the total, $23,584.23 went for regular operational expenses.

Larger checks included:

$10,850.14 to Consumers Power for street lights.

$1,017.77 to Great Lakes Asphalt.

$2,975 to Brevitz Equipment Co. for a wood chipper.

The chipper is mounted on a two-wheel trailer and is used to pulverize tree limbs as they are trimmed on city streets.

Payroll accounted for $9,370.96 of the total bills for the first two weeks of July.

'Teenage Diary'

The film "Teenage Diary," a brand new release, will be shown at the Devils Lake Drive-In Saturday, July 21, at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, July 22 at 9:15 p.m.

"Teenage Diary" is a Dave Grant Production with a new concept on teenage conflict in a modern society where love is often displayed in a depraved fashion.

This fast moving, full color film will be coupled with special music from the Drive-In Staff.

OBITUARIES

● INFANT BURMAN

Services were held Friday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home for a baby girl who died July 11 in Harper Hospital, Detroit, soon after birth.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burman, nee Nadine Winters.

Besides her parents the baby is survived by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winters.

Burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

JUNIOR GIRLS SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Sluggers won three ballgames recently in the Junior Girls Softball League.

The first victory, last Wednesday, was over the Winners, 4-0.

Beth O'Neil was the winning hurler, striking out 10 batters.

The victory Monday was a close contest won by the Sluggers, 6-5, over the Bulldogs. The score was tied, 5-5, in the last of the fifth inning before Jackie Filter drove in the winning run.

April Trickey let the winners at the plate while Gail Lister and Linda Oberlin rapped the hits for a losing cause.

In a second game Monday, the Sluggers defeated the Winners, 8-2,, behind the pitching of Beth O'Neil and the hitting of Gayle Murdock.

In Thursday's other game, the Winners came from behind to defeat the Bev's Bulldogs, 20-17. The Winners were behind by 14 runs, but in the fourth inning scored 14 runs to tie. The next inning's three tallies gave them the victory.

Debbie Black was the winning pitcher. Leading hitters for the Winners were Diane Holcomb and Gayle Murdock.

SOUTHEASTERN LEAGUE GIRLS SOFTBALL

Mary Jo Mensing pitched a no-hitter against Monroe as the Tecumseh girls posted a 26-2 win last Tuesday. She struck out 16 batters.

Three walks and three errors combined to produce the two runs for the losers.

Linda Staulter and Marge Parrett both had a perfect day at the plate.

Thursday the girls defeated Dundee, 11-3. Mary Jo Mensing was again the winning pitcher, defeating Lee Sunday who was on the mound for Dundee.

Diane Lake and Cinda Murphy were the strong hitters for Carol Kapnick's crew.

Monday's game against Napoleon was no contest at all as Tecumseh trounced their opponents, 44-1. The game was called after six innings. Cindy Murphy had six hits at six trips to the plate.

Ed Nelson Will Obtain Easements

Council authorized Ed Nelson, city manager, to obtain easements through property under which the city will install the Evans Creek intercepter sewer line.

The line will follow the creek bed, running from the New York Central spur, behind St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, to the Maumee St. bridge.

The interceptor will cost $40,000.

It will help to eliminate septic tanks behind residences along S. Evans St., Brown St. and Iroquois St., which were allowed within the city limits because of the lack of an interceptor.

Property affected for easements will be a parcel owned by the VFW and residences of R. D. Moore, 512 N. Pearl St., Dr. Carlton Cook, 140 Brown St. and Gordon LaLonde, 506 N. Evans St.

Indian '9' Is Sitting Atop Pony League

John Goodman led his Indian team to two victories last week to hold down first place in the Pony League standings.

John in a game Thursday against the Products hit a triple in the seventh inning with his team trailing by one. His hit drove in the tying run, and he later stole home with the lead run.

The Indians won the game, 8-6, behind the pitching of Randy Works who also had three hits. Dean Hebb was the losing hurler.

Friday's game against the Britton nine saw Indian pitcher Scott Edwards hurl a strong 7-0 shutout, allowing only two runners to get as far as second base. He allowed only 2 hits.

John Goodman got his first home run for the Indians good for two runs.

First sacker Bill Schulze was also strong with two for three at the plate.

In other action Thursday evening, the Eagles defeated Britton, 7-5. King Dunn and Bill Bartenslager were the winning battery, handing the defeat to Britton pitcher Jim Miller.

Behind the strong pitching and hitting of Larry Reau, the Deerfield nine defeated VFW, 13 to 2, Thursday.

Sheldon Pease was the losing hurler. His battery mate was Nick Herbert.

Other games reported include an Indian win over Deerfield July 9, 12-3. Scott Edwards and Jim Greene were the winning battery. The winners were paced by Randy Work and Bill Schulze at the plate.

July 5 the Indians defeated the Eagles, 8-4. Catcher Jim Greene and left fielder Tim Rhinehart were the leading hitters.

Randy Work pitcher for the winners, defeating Jim Verhage on the mound. Brad Hatch had a double for the losers.

With the help of a big 8-run fourth inning, Britton defeated the Products, 13-2, in a recent match.

Winning hurler Gordan Gibson allowed only two hits, one by Randy Dotson, the other, Dave Radant. Dennis Mastie has to hits for the victors.

☆

IN OTHER PONY League action, the Products team defeated Britton, 3-1, Monday behind the strong pitching of Randy Dotson, who is currently leading his team with a .472 average.

He had one of the Products' six hits while first sacker John Davis had two for four and pitcher-second baseman Dean Hebb collected the other three hits for the winners. Dean is currently batting .393.

Gordan Gibson was the losing hurler.

July 10 the Products boys lost to Deerfield, 13-11. Dick Warner was the Deerfield hurler with Jeff Robison credited with the loss.

Strong at the plate were both pitchers as well as center fielder Randy Dotson and Deerfield's short stop Lynn Feldman.

Two other recent victories by the Products team were a 14-11 victory over the Eagles and a 20-0 game with the VFW nine.

Winning battery in both games was Randy Dotson and Dave Ranant.

Leading the hitting attacks were Doug Gillis and John Davis in the first game and Jim Biscupski, Randy Dotson and Jeff Robison in the VFW contest.

Collecting the four VFW hits in their loss were Henry Mensing, Sheldon Pease and Mac Meyers.

Pool Nets More Money This Year

Despite fewer swimmers during June of this year, revenue at the swimming pool is up over the same month in 1961, according to director Vic Lawson.

Last year, 3,352 swam with receipts totaling $465.09.

This June, 2,640 passed through pool turnstiles with a gross of $680.49.

Fee for children went from 15c to 25c this year, accounting for the bigger income.

Taking swimming lessons during the first session were 246 with the largest classes being for two crews of beginners, from six through eight years old. Each class had 40.

Post Office Enacts New Regulation

An attempt towards uniformity in the sizes of envelopes will be made at the end of the current year when new postal regulations go into effect.

Envelopes less than three inches in width or height, or four and one-quarter inches in length will be non-mailable.

Envelopes having other than rectangular shapes will also be non-mailable.

Not recommended are envelopes more than nine inches in width or 12 inches in length.

The new regulations will greatly affect the greeting card industry which has used odd and variable shapes for years.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

POSTSCRIPTS

Does it bother you to hear the start of something and then not know what happens? It is one of my pet peeves—no matter how poor the book or TV drama, not to finish or not to know the ending is most aggravating.

Looking back through recent "Through My Windows" it seems that I have started many bird doings; perhaps you would like to be brought up to date on how they are progressing.

The brown thrashers did turn out to be the evening gossips and just as we thought, there is a nest near by.

Larry was trimming Gertrude's hedge and clipped a little too close to their "home sweet home". In no uncertain terms they let him know he was trespassing.

The nest was in the thickest of the bushes and it took a step-ladder to get into peeking position but the climb was worthwhile because inside the nest were five tiny babies.

It is fun to speculate about how birds earn their names; one tongue-in-cheek explanation for thrasher concerns their fierce protective instinct.

I'm not sure but what Larry and Gertrude would go along with this—when they trespassed too far both parents swooped and dove. They came close too and, of course, screamed all the time.

Anyone intruding upon the privacy of these birds does indeed receive quite a thrashing.

☆

THE BEAUTIFUL Baltimore Oriole, so handsome in his brilliant orange and black suit, continues to brighten our winodw picture.

I suppose he will be around as long as the mulberries last, from the time he spends eating, they are apparently among his favorite foods.

His less flamboyantly garbed mate dines too but naturally she is much harder to see.

Their children, as far as we have been able to tell, number two. The first one, the one who puzzled us for a time but then came close enough to show off the white wing bars and yellowish breast, handled himself quite well.

The younger brother, however, is having a terrible time with his co-ordination. We watched, and laughed, the other day as he worked from tree to tree grabbing hold and sitting on those little limbs was frightfully hard work.

He could not judge distance well and several times actually fell off as he overshot. Growing up can be hard.

☆

THE LAST article which we will have time to up-date concerned the slim and sleek catbirds. We still don't know whether one pair nested in the honeysuckle bush but I am positive a couple are now homesteading in the barberry clump.

It is thick and, of course, we have not wanted to disturb the branches too much so the nest has not actually been seen.

I spent all one afternoon though watching the birds carry billful after billful of dried grass.

They minded my presence not a bit but kept industriously going in and out of the bushes.

Now, while they still aren't much concerned, they are a bit more careful and when we are out in front they enter from the opposite side.

Nothing like having a front and back door to your house, is there?

My, I do hope we will get a chance to see the little ones—shouldn't they be cute!

So it is that although not every story is finished, for the thrashers, the orioles and the catbirds you have the postscript.

NEXT WEEK:
They Didn't Let Me Down.

Friendly Class Bids Farewell to Mrs. Woodcox

Twenty nine members of the Friendly Class of the Friends Church met at the Sand Lake cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Everhart for a potluck supper last week.

A short business session and song fest with Mrs. Paul Brantingham at the piano followed rides on the Everhart raft.

Mrs. Richard Woodcox was presented a gift from the group. She will leave for California soon to make her home with her son, Jason.

Thirty-seven attended the annual picnic of the WCTU July 10 at the Sand Lake cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Munger.

Parents of Mrs. Robert Hart were guests when the group were entertained with rides on pontoon rafts owned by Howard Eberhart and Mr. Munger.

Devotions on "Good Courage" from the book of Joshua were conducted by Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

Mrs. Zola Rufner had charge of the program. Her daughter, Mrs. Robert Hart, sang a solo, "The Rose of Tralee," unaccompanied.

The next meeting in August will be held at the Robert Hart's residence on E. Logan St.

Car Overturns

Billy A. Garland, 23, of Adrian was injured in an accident Friday, July 13.

His car overturned at 11:50 p.m. at the corner of North Rogers Highway and Centennial Road.

He was given a summons for reckless driving.

CAUTIOUS 2, 4-D USE cannot be overstressed. Any damage caused by drift makes you liable and under unfavorable conditions, drift can carry a mile or more. Crops such as soybeans and tomatoes are extremely susceptible to damage. To avoid crop damage danger, use amine forms of 2, 4-D, keep pressures under 30 pounds per square inch and spray only when wind is below 10 m.p.h. When temperatures climb to 80 degrees or higher, turbulence develops that can carry particles high in the air.

HOW MUCH SHOULD YOU PAY for a beef bull? When getting a purebred bull to go on a commercial herd stay within 3 to 5 times the value of an average cow in your herd. If a bull is worth less than 3 times the value of the average cow, he isn't good enough to upgrade your herd. If the price is more than 5 times the value of the average cow, then he probably can't improve the herd enough to justify his cost.

KEEP YOUR FARM FREE OF RATS. This pest not only causes heavy losses of stored feeds and grain, but also spreads disease among livestock. One disease carried by rats is atrophic rhinitis in hogs. Usually not fatal, this disease lowers the hogs' resistance and make them more susceptible to other diseases. A good home-made bait can be made by mixing 85% cracked corn and 5% salad oil with sugar and Warfarin.

SILAGE QUALITY can't be better than the crop from which it's made, but the use of a hay conditioner in harvesting grass-legumes for silage can help you keep quality. Crimped, bruised or crushed hay crops ferment into better silage, and do it quicker than conditioned forage.

Navy Seeking Qualified Men

Chief Wilcox, the U.S. Navy Recruiter in Lenawee County disclosed that the Navy's 3-year enlistment has proven satisfactory and will be continued indefinitely.

The Navy has four period of enlistment now. The minority, 3-year, 4-year and 6-year enlistments are all open to young men between the ages of 17 and 31, who are physically and mentally qualified.

All interested young men who desire education, travel, security and action along with a chance to serve their country are urged to contact Chief Wilcox at the U.S. Navy Recruiting Station, 204 N. Broad St., Adrian.

Tank OK'd

R. D. Albertson of Birmingham received permission from Council to install a septic tank at property he owns at 111 W. Brown St.

There was one condition — it could only be used "as a cottage," not a year-around home.

Gray Ladies Contribute 1,128 Hours of Service

Tecumseh Gray Ladies have contributed a total of 1,128 hours of volunteer services to Herrick Memorial Hospital since July 1, 1961.

At present there are 15 ladies who each give an average of two hours per week to this service.

Gray Ladies service supplements a regular staff employee's duties. She cannot and never does replace a paid employee.

She reports to the supervisor of nurses, who directs her where to serve and what to do.

All Gray Ladies have been given 10 hours hospital training under the direction of the Supervisor of Nurses, plus 10 hours serving with an experienced Gray Lady.

Services performed are as many and as different as the volunteers doing them. Some of them are:

1. Sort and delivering mail
2. Visit patients
3. Errands for staff and patients
4. Make telephone calls
5. Arrange flowers
6. Carry food trays
7. Feed patients
8. Read to patients
9. Write letters
10. Make paper bags
11. Collect, fill and deliver water pitchers
12. Make beds
13. Give back rubs under nurses direction
14. Comb hair
15. Assemble chart packs
16. Entertain children
17. Check bed-side stands
18. Help patients pack
19. Sort linen

☆

THE ORIGINAL Gray Ladies at Herrick Hospital, who have earned pins for five-year service stints are:

Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett
Mrs. Harry Hoffman
Mrs. John Quigley
Mrs. James Tonneberger
Mrs. Theodore Golat
Mrs. Lawrence Gunn, Mrs. J. H. Jones and Mrs. Wayne Patton received five-year pins June 11 in Adrian.

Mrs. M. D. Boss, Mrs. Marvin Nelson and Mrs. Harold Warren will receive bars for recognition of two-year service.

During the past year the organization gave $5 worth of toys to the Children's ward of Herrick Memorial Hospital.

For the fourth year at Christmas time the Gray Ladies gave a party for 128 patients on a closed ward at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

☆

NINE Gray Ladies reviewed their First Aid training under the instruction of Lester Proctor and five received it for the first time during February and March.

Mrs. William Wiebeck, Gray Lady Chairman of the Lenawee County Chapter, American Red Cross spoke at the capping ceremony here.

In refering to the pay a Gray Lady receives she said, "It is one of the beautiful compensations of life that no one can sincerely try to help another without helping himself."

The Tecumseh Chapter of Gray Ladies will be hostesses to other chapters fom Lenawee County at a tea in the fall.

A social time will be planned with registration for anyone interested in taking the training to be a Gray Lady.

Planned Surprise for Her Birthday

Mrs. Boldt Sarvey was pleasantly surprised Monday evening, when a group of officers and members of the Tecumseh Rebekah and IOOF lodge met at her home on Macon Road to honor her birthday anniversary.

The evening was enjoyed socially with games of cards. Prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Orin Beevers, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Topps and Donald Escott.

Arrangements for the evening were made by Mrs. C. C. Richards and committee.

Mrs. Sarvey was presented with a gift from the group.

Refreshments were served featuring a beautiful decorated cake made by Mrs. Donald Escott.

Kept Busy

Tecumseh's new Community Center has been a busy place the past three months.

During April, 21 groups of 452 people used the Center.

In May 415 persons, in 16 groups, were there.

During June, start of the vacation season, the number of groups dropped to 11, but they were made up of 382.

Mrs. Irene Mather of Ferryden, Angus, Scotland is announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Dorothy, to Gerald L. Rucker CTSN US Navy stationed in Scotland. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Rucker of N. Union St. An August 4 wedding is planned.

Second Annual Dance to be Held July 28

"Midsummer Dance", an outdoor event held for the first time last year, will again be sponsored by the St. Elizabeth Rosary Altar Society.

The dance will be held Saturday, July 28, from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. on the church parking lot.

The "Playboys" will provide music for all types of popular dances.

The paved lot will be decorated with lights and have tables surrounding the dance area.

Mrs. Lawrence Cote and Mrs. Morgan Ford, co-chairmen of the dance, announced that it is an event planned for the whole family. Adults and teenagers are invited to attend.

Tickets will be sold at the door only.

ORDINANCE

Under the provisions of Section 7.4 of the Tecumseh City Charter, a summary of the Retirement System Ordinance enacted by the City on 2 July 1962 is as follows: The Ordinance, effective 1 July 1962, creates a retirement system for officers and employees of the city, except the officers and employees of the Herrick Memorial Hospital, when said employees become superannuated owing to age or disability; the Ordinance provides conditions of membership in the retirement system, the amounts to be paid as pension and the benefits to dependents of members who die either before or after retirement; the Ordinance further provides for the financing of the system, for the return of contributions of members who leave city employment and designates the method of appointing a Board of Trustees to administer the system, including certain provisions for investment of the monies accumulated from the contributions.

Complete printed texts of the Ordinances are available at the office of the City Clerk.

Music, Drama To Be Staged

INTERLOCHEN, Michigan — More than ten major concerts and little theatre productions will highlight the July 20-22 weekend at the National Music Camp.

The National High School Symphony Orchestra, which will perform later this summer on the White House lawn and also accompany Van Cliburn July 24, will present the traditional Sunday night "Symphony Under the Stars" at 8 p.m. in the Interlochen Bowl.

Three other high school groups will present concerts. Friday, at 7 p.m., Harry Begian of Detroit will conduct the High School Concert Band in a program including selections from Porgy and Bess and Ravel's Bolero.

The High School Concert Orchestra, directed by Gerhard Schroth of Chicago, will perform Beethoven's Second Symphony at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Also Saturday at 8 p.m. the High School Symphonic Band will present Persichetti's Symphony for Band.

Two little theatre productions by the high school drama department also highlight the camp's weekend calendar "Stage Door", by Edna Ferber and George Kaufman, and "A Clearing In The Woods", by Arthur Laurents.

Foodhandlers Classes Slated July 24, 25, 26

The Lenawee County Health Department will hold a series of foodhandlers classes July 24, 25 and 26 in the study hall of Adrian Junior High School, located on Church st.

There will be two classes each day—one at 4 p.m. and one at 8 p.m.

All persons in the county who work in foodhandling establishments are required to secure a foodhandlers card. To obtain this card the individual must have a negative tuberculin test and also attend the foodhandlers class.

After July the classes will be held only one day a month.

Our Readers Write

LETTER TO EDITORS:

The Tecumseh Alumni Association voted in June of 1961 to leave the planning of the Alumni Banquet to the class that is celebrating its tenth year of graduation.

Our Class of 1952 was the first class to do this and we were told quite by chance and only two months before that we were to put on this grand get-together.

If I had not received a letter requesting information on our plans, there might not have been any banquet at all.

I would appreciate it if you could put an item in your paper in quite LARGE print to the Class of 1953 that it is their responsibility to plan the 1963 Alumni Banquet.

This would give them a chance first of all TO KNOW, then to get their committees planned and working so we can have a good turnout in June of 1963.

It might be included in this article that Mrs. Jerry O'Brien of 602 Seneca in Tecumseh has information for them pertaining to invitations and programing.

We appreciate your cooperation very much.

Mrs. Janet (Arthur)

Adopted Children Picnic Guests of VFW Families

Ten families and 40 children were included in a caravan of cars from Tecumseh attending the VFW National Home Carnival at Eaton Rapids Sunday.

Ann and Ronnie Burnett, "adopted" children of the local Post and Auxiliary, were special guests for the picnic and carnival.

The families of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laslo, Lloyd Stites, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Gove, Mr. and Mrs. William Horky, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Oulette, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Curran, and Mr. and Mrs. James Feller.

Mrs. Pilbeam Scores High

Mrs. Randall Pilbeam won high score at bridge at the Tecumseh Country Club luncheon July 11.

Table prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Sage, Mrs. Willis Porter and Mrs. Donald Wright.

If you take your truck for granted

...it's a good one!

A truck that doesn't call for a lot of attention, that just does its job every day, is a great asset. This is the thing most users tell us they like about Chevrolet trucks—their reliability. And this, of course, comes from quality.

Sound engines, strong frames, double-wall construction, insulated cabs, separated bodies and cabs, tight tailgates . . . are some of the features that help Chevrolet trucks work longer and bring back more of your investment at trade-in.

If you wish you had a truck that cost you less thought and attention, put your money on quality. Make your next buy a dependable Chevrolet truck.

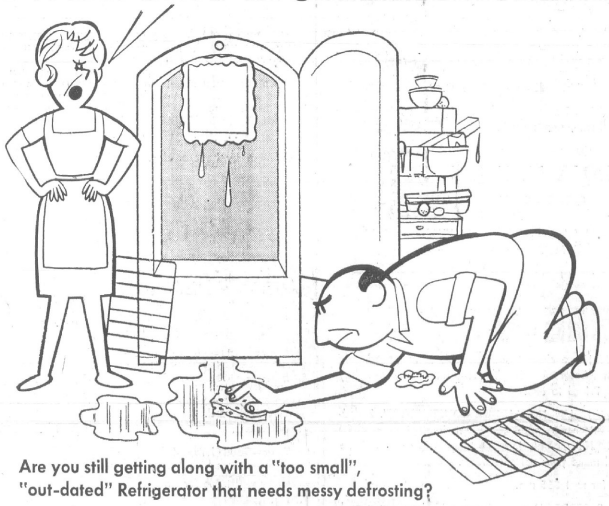
"NO DEFROSTING" Refrigerator-Freezers!



Are you still getting along with a "too small", "out-dated" Refrigerator that needs messy defrosting?

NEW REFRIGERATOR-FREEZERS END ALL DEFROSTING

Today's modern, "carefree-design" refrigerator-freezers end all defrosting in both refrigerator and freezer sections. This means no frost ever—on food packages, ice cube trays or walls—no defrosting drudgery ever—no scraping, no chipping, no prying, no messy pans of water to empty (or spill). And, the handsome refrigerator-freezer models beautify every kitchen. The interior arrangement is planned for spacious food storage and easy access to food supplies. In addition, the new refrigerator-freezers will:

- Store enough fresh and frozen foods to last for weeks—conveniently at your fingertips.
- Save extra trips to the market.
- Keep leftovers fresh and tasty until needed.
- Save money because the large freezer compartment allows you to buy meats, vegetables and baked goods when prices are low.
- Give you peace of mind because you can store enough for hungry family and unexpected guests.

IT'S LIKE HAVING A SUPERMARKET IN YOUR OWN KITCHEN!

End Rust, Mold and Mildew During Humid Weather

GET A DEHUMIDIFIER NOW!

Here is economical protection against costly, moisture-caused damage to your home—a portable, electric dehumidifier. Just plug it into any outlet and it immediately goes to work wringing excess moisture from the air—protects your furnishings, makes you more comfortable.

- STOP rust on tools and equipment.
- STOP mildew in carpets, linens and clothing.
- STOP warping and swelling of furniture.
- STOP pipes from dripping.
- STOP extreme discomfort caused by high humidity.

250 Attended Celebration

BRITTON — In spite of the fact that Mrs. Harold Rohrbach entered St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor Saturday, she was home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Rohrback and her husband greeted 250 friends, neighbors and relatives who came to their home to help them celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Loren Dicks was in charge of the guest book and those assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. Clair Morse, Mrs. Lawrence Ash, Mrs. Roger Gillespie, Mrs. Frederick Miller, Mrs. Gail Austin, Janet Beal, Lorna Dicks and Mrs. Charles Dickerson.

Guests were present from Royal Oak, Kent City, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Adrian, Blissfield, Deerfield, Utica, Saline, Milan, Tecumseh and Metamora, O.

Mrs. Rohrback returned to the hospital Sunday evening happy and relieved that their guests had been well entertained.

Mrs. Cadmus Hosts Circle

BRITTON — Seven members and nine guests attended the luncheon and meeting of the Priscilla Circle held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Percy Cadmus.

Mrs. Charles Patterson conducted the business meeting and the group voted to serve a dinner for the Road Commission Monday, August 6th in the Felloship Center of the Congregational Christian Church.

Proceeds from the dinner will be used for the church parsonage fund.

The Circle will meet Wednesday, August 8 with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson at Deep Lake.

Flowers And A Costume Of Hawaii

BRITTON — Dressed in traditional Hawaiian attire, Mrs. Bert Moore presented a program on Hawaiian flowers at the Ridgeway Garden Club meeting held last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Carl Auten.

Mrs. Moore spent some time recently in Hawaii and was able to tell the group many interesting things about the native plants.

Mrs. Chested Brown assisted Mrs. Auten in serving refreshments to the 18 in attendance.

Golden Circle Holds Picnic

BRITTON — The Golden Rule Circle met last Wednesday at Wamplers Lake for a picnic and afternoon of fun.

Sixteen members and guests spent the afternoon swimming and visiting.

During a short business meeting the members were reminded that their circle will host the Women's Fellowship when the four circles meet at the Congregational Christian Church Wednesday, Sept. 5 for their quarterly meeting.

If you plan to drive in Canada, see us for an insurance card, now required by several Canadian provinces.

Sooner or later, everyone is tempted to pick up a "bargain" in protection because of the rate. Too often, the promise of a fast, generous settlement fails to materialize.
When you buy from a local, independent agent you buy from a man who can look you in the eye any day of the week. He is not "out of town" when needed and his business is to help you get a fair and prompt settlement after a loss.
Bargains in insurance don't exist. But you do get a bargain in service, loyalty and experience when you do business with a local, independent agent. Thats us.

$1000 First Prize To Be Offered in Card Contest

"Do you trust your judgement?"

The Tecumseh Herald is offering residents in the area an opportunity to enter the big "Pick the Masterpiece Christmas Card contest."

Those entering the contest simply select the card they think most people will order from three different albums and write their entry on forms available at the Herald office along with 40 words or less telling why they think it to be the most popular.

It is not necessary to purchase cards to enter the contest.

First prize is $1000; second, $500 and third, $200. There are a total of 321 cash prizes in the contest, sponsored by the national card company.

What an opportunity to cool off by selecting greeting cards from the snowy, winter scenes and at the same time entering a contest with a $1000 prize.

MR. AND MRS. CARL THOMAS

Anniversary Open House To Be Sunday

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas have arranged an open house to honor the couple on their 35th anniversary.

The event will be held Sunday, at the family home in Macon from 3 to 7 p.m.

Helen M. Williams and Carl A. Thomas were married in Pittsford, Mich. July 18, 1927 by the Rev. B. F. Williams, uncle of the bride.

They are the parents of two children, James LaVerne of Macon and Sandra Jean at home. They have three grandchildren.

Mr. Thomas worked for Ford Motor Co. for a number of years and has been employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. for the past 20 years.

It is requested that gifts be omitted.

Children in Need of Foster Homes

There are many children in the State of Michigan deprived of a happy childhood, according to W. M. Shilling, child welfare worker from the Bureau of Social Aid, Lenawee and Monroe Unit at Adrian.

"These children are uprooted from their homes, frightened for their future and starved for love and understanding," he said.

They are children of varied background, race and age—tiny infants to teen agers.

Some are quiet, others talkative. Some are shy and sensitive, others are mischevious and a bit rebellious. Some have special problems.

All are in need of substitute parents and a foster home.

To become foster parents, a couple must first have their home licensed, for which there is no charge. A State Department Social Welfare worker in the county will see that it is done, in accordance with state law, if contact is made with him.

Besides a spirit and willingness to give sympathy and understanding, a capacity for love, kindness, patience, a sense of humor and the ability to make a place for the child within the family circle where he will feel secure and wanted is necessary.

A foster home should be clean and wholesome and have adequate space. It may be in the city or suburbs or in the country.

Anyone considering giving an unhappy child a home in Lenawee County should make application to the Bureau of Social Aid by calling CO 5-8322 or by writing

Litterbugs Are Costly

Litterbugs cost the taxpayers money.

The fact was recently emphasized by Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie that $1,000 a day is spent cleaning state highways of debris scattered by thoughtless persons.

Lenawee's costs during 1961 were $3,349.

In addition to saving the taxpayers, Governor Swainson's Keep Michigan Beautiful program will make the state highways more attractive and influence future tourists in the state.

Litter on highways also causes many accidents when drivers swerve to avoid striking or running over it. Such accidents nationally kill an estimated 750 to 1,000 people per year.

HERALD WANT ADS PAY OFF

Lenawee Benefits from 5-Year Plan

Lenawee, Hillsdale and Jackson counties have been the recipients of 20 million dollars in road construction funds from the state in its first five-year program which ended June 30, 1962

Under this project, contracts were awarded for Lenawee road improvement for modernizing 60.1 miles of US-12 (old US-112), M-50, M-52, US-127 and US-223.

These improvements, along with the construction of nearly 1,000 miles of non-toll freeways and 4,000 miles of modernized roads and highways, have given Michigan the nation's finest highway system, according to Highway Commisioner, John C. Mackie.

Annual Picnic

Members of the Kozy Korners Farm Bureau will hold the annual picnic at Clark Lake Tuesday, July 24, at 7 p.m.

Raise Money For Program

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Piekarek and daughter, Debbie, have returned from the annual meeting of the Seventh Day Adventists at Grand Ledge.

Principal speakers were Elder William Fagel of the TV program, "Faith For Today", and Elder H. M. S. Richards of the "Voice of Prophecy" program.

Elder George Vandermanwas the guest speaker. He is to open a television series in this area in the near future entitled, "It is Written".

An offering of $100,000 for the new program was received Saturday, the closing day of the ten-day session attended by 15,000 persons.

MORE AND MORE FAMILIES ARE ENJOYING THE BACKYARD

Cookout!

Today, modern families use electrical equipment all over the house . . . and outdoors too!

Electric fry pans and coffee makers are found on the patio almost as often as they are in the kitchen or dining area. Electric barbecue equipment is becoming standard for outdoor living.

Electricity goes anywhere, these days, and it's doing wonderful things for family living. Now, when it's time for the casual meals, there's no need to retreat indoors . . . modern homes are "Housepower Wired" with waterproofed convenience outlets for living better electrically . . . outdoors!

Modern Living begins with "HOUSEPOWER WIRING"

Living modern today means living the electric way . . . that's why "Housepower Wiring" is so important.

The term "Housepower Wiring" means . . . outlets right where you need them for easy use—switches located at every room entrance and exit so you can light your way safely though the house—a 3-wire service coming into your home and a main distribution panel of at least 100 amps.

"Housepower Wiring" means enough electricity to serve all the electric appliances you now have—and all you will want in the future.

Top Teams Win Matches

Only a slight change occurred in the Tecumseh Products Golf League standings following last week's golf match at the Macon course.

Moving from ninth to eighth position with a two-point victory over Ben Gillies' team was the Bernard Fisher group.

Joe Horvath and Clyde Gunder both shot a one over par, 37, to highlight Thursday's play.

Other results of play were two-point team decisions by Wendell Reum over Dean Hamilton, Danny Goller over Gerald Baker, Robert Beevers over William Walker and Chuck Newell over Merlin Schultz.

Enjoy Golf and Buffet

Mrs. R. H. Moore and Fred Randall were the low net winners at Friday night's golf and buffet at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Four groups tied for second low net. They were:

Mrs. Bill Hanna and C. O. Butler

Mrs. Clarence Champanois and Buck Miller

Mrs. Clifford Collins and A. L. Van Winkle.

Mrs. Robert Bowers and Bob Hoekstra

Mrs. Charles Butler and Bob Winder were the low putt winners.

Larry Lopez Allows Only One Hit

Merchants pitcher Larry Lopez tossed a one-hitter as his team defeated Ace Hardware, 6-0, last Wednesday. He allowed only 3 walks.

The winners were led by Larry Johnson, Bill Winzeler and Dick Comar who each had a two base hit and by Jack Greenwald who blasted a homer.

Clarence Horner and Ted Arana were the losing battery.

In Tuesday's game, Clayton's nine edged the Merchants in a close battle, 10-7. Each team scored 4 runs in the seventh inning.

Jim Rickner was the winning hurler. He also had the game's only extra base hit, a two bagger.

Both Rickner and losing pitcher Dave Rainsberger struck out six batters.

The Merchants, coached by Earl Yoakum, play in the Adrian Twilight League.

4 Gal Golfers Collect Prizes

Prizes were awarded July 11 at the Tecumseh Country Club to Mrs. James Wilson, Mrs. Clifford Collins and Mrs. Murell Clark for low net scores.

Mrs. Robert Hoekstra and Mrs. Al Merz were blind hole winners.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Support Urban Renewal

What can well be the beginning of a far-reaching step in the future of our city was taken by Council Monday evening.

City fathers agreed that there is a definite need for urban renewal in Tecumseh and they intend to do something about it.

Following a presentation by Councilman Royal Welch, which is reviewed in a page one story this week, members of Council quickly agreed to begin preliminary planning.

Mayor Harold Easton expressed himself as being heartily in favor of the idea and it's evident he'll put all his official weight behind the project.

This is vital. The community's governing body must first vow it wants such items as urban renewal. Thus Council becomes the core for an ever widening circle of participation.

Eventually, a broad cross-section of city leaders will become intergal parts of the program.

The Herald publishers are 100% behind the project and want to "put it in writing" at this time.

Pittsburgh Nine Holds Tryouts

The Pittsburgh Pirates will conduct a tryout camp at Hillsdale, on Friday, July 20 and Saturday, July 21.

The camp will be held at Simpson Field.

Players should report ready to go at 9 a.m. and be prepared to workout until 2 p.m.

Players must be 16 years of age to be eligible to attend the camp. No Junior American Legion players will be permitted to participate in the camp if such participation would interfere with any Legion activities.

Such participation will only be permitted with a letter of approval from either his Legion coach or the Commander of the Legion Post he represents in Legion play.

Players are also expected to furnish their own shoes, uniforms gloves, etc. with the Pirates furnishing all other equipment.

Players will also be responsible for their traveling and living expenses, if any, with the understanding that all expenses will be reimbursed to those players signed to contracts with Pittsburgh organization clubs.

In case of rain, camp will be scheduled for Sunday, July 22.

How Does $2,166,000 Strike You?

How does $2,166,000 sound? Pretty fair hunk of change?

That's how much will be spent over the next six years for the Tecumseh Community Health Study.

This doesn't mean the study will be completed in six years, only that the budget has been established until 1968.

Unless there is some drastic change, the appropriation will be renewed at that time for about the same rate — $361,000 annually.

This unique study, only one of its kind ever staged in the world, got underway in 1957.

The scientific data are almost incomprehensive to the layman, but the dollars involved are understandable. It's obvious, this is an undertaking with a tremendous scope.

☆

BASICALLY, the Study is checking the health and ill health of 8,641 Tecumseh-area people.

There are divisions within the Study and each means carefully tabulated and summarized data.

Recently, the study acquired a two-story building in Ann Arbor for the assimilation and filing of data. Large manilla envelopes contain the findings on case histories brought up to date.

At present, the study is in its second round of clinical checks. This will follow the same steps as the first when nearly every man, woman and child in the Study went through a complete physical examination at a clinic set up by the Study in the basement of Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Almost no one is missed. The Study group is broken into 10 parts, each one run and re-run until every possible person in that segment has taken the physical. Then the next 10% is started. In all, it will take about two years to run the clinical check.

In preparation for the physicals, the various study families are being interviewed and their every family. As the Study progresses, the envelopes continue to bulge.

This is being handled by a team of interviewers, who have their own Tecumseh headquarters in an office located at 110 West Chicago Blvd.

☆

THIS STUDY has been under consideration for more than 20 years, with the idea conceived by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., chairman of the Department of Epidemiology at Michigan.

The first complete canvass in 1957 saw interviewers visiting every dwelling unit in the Tecumseh area. At each home, four forms were filled out. These listed heads of families and all who lived there, gave reports on chronic ill health and physical impairments.

Money at first came from the Michigan Legislature and this since has been supplemented by grants from the National Institute of Health and the National Heart Institute.

Once the interviews were over and the questionnaires filled in, the interviewer made arrangements for a complete medical examination for all members of the family at the special clinic here.

Doctors from the U of M faculty made the examinations.

After these were done, four staff physicians reviewed each chart. Data obtained were stored on punched cards, about 10 for each participant.

Results of the examination were sent to the participant's private physician. A letter, stating in general terms what the results were, went to the participants themselves.

The first round was completed in November of 1960.

During the next year, most of the staff's effort was concentrated on consolidating the data and preparing for the next round of examinations.

☆

THE PRESENT physical examinations, although somewhat different from the earlier round, nevertheless will collect data that can be compared with previous results.

Continuing collection of data over extended periods of time can point toward early detection of approaching illness of apparently healthy people.

All these considerations apply to numerous studies going on within the Tecumseh Study, such as those of the cardiovascular diseases, arthritis, diabetes, and pulmonary, thyroid and allergic disorders.

Some sub-projects have provided material for doctoral dissertations of graduate students in the School of Public Health.

The National Heart Institute recently granted support for a Center for Research in Diseases of the Heart, Circulation and Related Disorders to be built at the University of Michigan.

Data from the Tecumseh Study will be utilized as research material at the new Center.

School Board's Corner

By JUNE STONE

It is hoped that this column may promote a better understanding between the community and the Tecumseh district school board of current school problems and changes.

The Herald has done an excellent job of reporting the monthly school board meetings, but a listing of decisions doesn't always indicate the discussion and reasoning behind them.

The editors have generously given us opportunity, through this column, to give you a more informal discussion.

In addition, more community members attending monthly Board meetings would serve as a means of better communication.

These meetings are held the second Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the office of the school superintendent on James St.

Any change in time will be announced in this column or through a regular Herald news story.

At this month's meeting the cafeteria program was again discussed. It was decided to charge $.35 at the High School cafeteria, and by means of the new bookkeeping system, to check closely on costs each month.

The other hot lunch programs that were run at Tipton, Ridgeway and Patterson were well managed, but participation was not sufficient to meet costs. In these three programs, the rise in lunch price did not counteract the drop.

☆

STATE AID has been raised and will add about $10.00 per pupil to the school budget or approximately $32,250. There could be many demands for these funds, but the Board felt that the millage vote gave a mandate to pay the debt. Until that has been substantially done, no services should be restored.

THE TEACHERS feel that the Junior High should be returned to the six hour day, and many felt that if this were done, a 9½-month school year would be sufficient. This sentiment was given in a straw vote of 66 of the system's 114 teachers and principals.

☆

THE SUPERINTENDENT reiterated that the high school library is far below the North Central Association qualifications on number of volumes.

A check with one of the public librarians substantiated that high school pupils do not use the school library regularly, because the materials are not there to use.

The teachers would like to participate with the school system in an insurance program.

As indicated in last week's news story, it was decided however, to continue the austerity measures and to use the additional state aid funds as a "cushion" against emergency demand.

THERE HAVE BEEN inquiries from the Sutton district about the use of West Branch school for their children in the first three grades because the building is the oldest in the system. Some were under the impresison that there is only one lavatory, but a check of this detail indicated that there is a toilet in each of the three rooms.

The building will be papered and painted and put in as good condition as possible with the funds available.

Members of the community should feel free to address any injury to the individual board members in person or through this column.

Any correspondence should carry the signature of the writer, otherwise it cannot be considered valid or sincere.

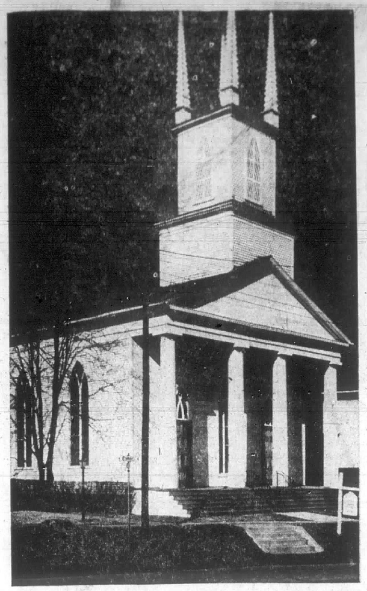
Can Old St. Peter's Be Saved?



HERALD PHOTO

ST. PETER'S CHURCH WAS BUILT IN 1883

Can old St. Peter's Church be saved?

Well-known as Michigan's oldest Episcopal Church, St. Peter's has a background steeped in early American history.

Preserving St. Peter's is actually the concern of our entire community.

St. Peter's parish is now in the midst of constructing a new and enlarged structure. The vestry, official governing body of the church, has determined that old St. Peter's cannot be restored on its present site.

Vestry members have reasoned that the parish can't afford to maintain two churches.

They are 100% in favor of preserving the historic monument on some other location, if money can be raised for restoration and perpetual care.

The Herald thinks this can be done and offers this proposal.

Hold a community meeting to learn what steps must be taken to move and preserve old St. Peter's. Persons interested in the project, whether members of the parish or not, would be welcome.

Invitations would be extended to Episcopal Diocese of Michigan officials, the Michigan Historical Commission, which has already evidenced its concern for the old church when it adopted a resolution in May that read in part, "(the) Commission most strongly urges the officers and members of St. Peter's to explore all means of preserving the present church building."

The Commission points out that St. Peter's "is the oldest church building in Michigan in which religious services have been held continuously."

The resolution adds that it "is regarded by leading authorities on architecture as having great architectural significance."

Another group which has shown great interest in saving historic structures, the Michigan Society of Architects, would also be asked.

The Southeastern Michigan Tourist Association and the Irish Hills Tourist group could be included.

Such a gathering might be held in St. Peter's Parish Hall.

A new location for the church must be found and, of course, money enough to move, refurbish and maintain the building. These are problems which would be tackled at such a community gathering.

There isn't a great deal of time left if St. Peter's is to be preserved. According to construction schedules, the old building will have to be removed by October in order that the new church project may be completed before winter.

The Herald wants old St. Peter's restored.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

When Walt Nichols, manager of the Strand Theatre for 23 years, reads this piece, he'll make some snide remark about it being his obituary.

But Walt is leaving Tecumseh and his tenture here has the makings of a fine story.

Walt has been in show business for 34 years.

He arrived in our town in 1939—and has been promoting ever since.

The stunts and gimmicks he has labored on have paid off in increased patronage and personal satisfaction to Walt, who has a genius for selling.

One of his top efforts involved the film, "Around The World in Eighty Days."

In one part of the picture, the hero sails across Europe in an old-fashioned balloon.

Walt made an exact replica of the balloon, filled it with relium and moored the thing 75 feet over the top of the Strand Marquee during the week the film played here. This effort received national publicity in trade magazines.

At the end of the booking the balloon "just happened" to break loose and last seen it was barrelling east at about 500 feet. By chance, Walt had equipped the gondola with a note which asked the finder to report where it came down.

Walt never did hear and reasoned that his balloon probably went down in Lake Erie.

During World War II, when theatres everywhere played to standing-room-only audiences, Walt channeled his efforts to promoting bond sales, with telling results.

In one effort, he raised $60,000 on a stage attraction at the Strand providing a seat for each

Not Going To Close

Rumors circulated early this week about The Rosacrans Store going out of business are completely false.

The Tecumseh store has scheduled a public auction this Friday and Saturday to clear out much of its stock and reduce the inventory.

Ned Rosacrans, owner, says the store will not be closed at anytime, and this week's sale will allow the store to re-stock for the fall and winter seasons.

It's 4th Annual

There will be bargains all along main street Friday, August 3, as the Tecumseh merchants move out on the walks to offer special prices on their merchandise for Tecumseh's fourth annual Sidewalk Sale.

In addition to the sale, there will be a free pancake supper served at the fire hall from 5 to 9 p.m.

The second annual Pancake race will be run at 7:30 Details of the race appear on the back page of this section.

Merchants are reminded that The Herald will pick up Sidewalk Sale ads Thursday and Friday this week.

Square Dancing Program Will Be Staged on Friday

The free square dance had to be postponed due to the deluge of rain last Friday evening, but plans are to hold the event this Friday, July 27, in the parking lot of Wright's Drug Store where a flood light is available.

Beginners will dance from 7 to 8 p.m. in western style.

A rock and roll session will be held from 8 until 9 p.m. when the local western dancers, called The Swinging Eights, will put on an exhibition.

If desired, another rock and roll session will be held after 10.

Dr. Ocamb Wants Suit Dismissed

Dr. Harold Ocamb, 417 S. Occidental Rd., has filed an answer to a declaration brought against him by Charles O. Irelan, Raisin Center Hwy.

Dr. Ocamb asks the court to dismiss a $5,000 request for damages when he removed some building equipment from a lot sold to him by the plaintiff last December.

The defendant said that he asked Mr. Irelan several times to remove the equipment, which was dangerous to the Ocamb children's welfare.

Five Hurt in Mishap

Five people were hurt in a three-car accident at 3 a.m. Sunday on M-50.

Three passengers in a car driven by Millard W. House, 49, of Brooklyn and the drivers of the other cars were all injured.

Mrs. House, 44, received a neck injury; Ellen Stephens, 21, of Clinton received cuts and bruises and Daisy McClain of Tecumseh received severe head cuts.

Drivers of the two other cars, Marjorie L. Underwood, 44, and Raymond S. Thompson, 44, both of Tecumseh, received bruises and cuts.

Rosemary Buku Guest of Honor

A bridal shower for Rosemary Buku was held July 18 at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Carlos Knisely.

Twenty-three attended from Tecumseh and Monroe for games and a luncheon.

The table was centered with a bridal doll and floral arrangement.

The marriage of Miss Buku to Donald Linden will be an event of the near future.

She Hits Train

Eva M. Penney, 38, of 110 Muscody St. was hit by the New York Central engine at the crossing on S. Pearl St. July 23 at 8:20 p.m.

She was not injured.

GREG REED

Mom Wanted Children To Speak 2 Languages

Every Tuesday and Friday evening the mother took the five children to Spanish lessons near Tecumseh. She wanted each of them to know at least two languages.

It was going to be about a 15-mile drive from the grandparents' home last Friday evening and there was a storm brewing.

Once the mother started for the telephone to call the teacher to say the family wouldn't be able to come that night.

But she stopped midway across the room and said, "No, we'd better go or we'll be behind in our lessons."

Four of the five children were ready. The fifth had fallen asleep. The grandmother said, "just leave him here."

As the family scrambled into their light-colored station wagon, no one realized that this was the beginning of a nightmare.

Rain started to pour down as the car rolled along the country roads north of Britton.

☆

WITHIN A mile of that community, a sudden burst of wind —observers who later surveyed the scene said it must have been a tornado—swept across Britton Hwy.

The station wagon was caught up in the blast, as if it were a cardboard carton, hurled 100 feet into an apple tree. The vehicle ended up onto its roof.

There would be no Spanish lesson.

The mother, Mrs. Patricia Reed, 31, of Britton, was dead.

So were her son, Francis, 11, and her niece, Mary Applegate, 14, who made her home with the Reed family.

☆

TWO OTHER Reed children, Celine, 13, and Mark, 10, survived the crash and are now in Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Celine suffered a concussion, shock and minor cuts and bruises. By the next afternoon, she was in good spirits.

Mark's injuries included a badly-twisted neck and a battered face. Worse, his state of shock is lifting slowly.

Mark's father, Dan Reed of Youngstown, O., who has been in the hospital almost continuously since the accident, said Tuesday afternoon that the youth is still reliving the horrible moments of 6:30 last Friday night.

The fifth youngster is Greg, 8, the one who was drowsy and stayed at his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Applegate, Sr. of rural Dundee.

☆

THE FARM of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Zeemer, in whose side yard the Reed car landed, suffered some damage. A 15x30 shed in the backyard was completely dismantled and hurled around the backyard.

The 10x20 roof on the Zeemer's front porch was torn from the house and flipped over. Several windows were broken.

Soon after the tragedy became known, motorists began to clog Britton Hwy. to view the ruins. The next morning traffic was so dense, police had to keep a steady watch.

☆

FUNERAL SERVICES were held Monday morning for the three victims at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church in Tecumseh with the Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Collins saying the requiem Mass.

Burial was in Rice Cemetery in Monroe County with Niblack Home for Funerals of Britton making arrangements.

Mrs. Reed was born in Columbus, O., Oct. 6, 1930, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Applegate.

She moved with her parents to Lenawee County in 1946 and was married in 1948 to Dan Reed of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Reed is survived by her parents; a sister, Mrs. Marion Dye of Fort Leavenworth, Kan.; and a brother, Edward Applegate of Deerfield.

Francis was born Sept. 28, 1950 in Tecumseh. His survivors include his father, sister and two brothers, his grandparents, the John Applegates, and his grandfather, James Reed of Londonerry, O.

☆

MARY APPLEGATE was born Aug. 6, 1948, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Applegate, Jr. Her father preceded her in death in 1958. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Jean Applegate, 310 W. Cummins St., Tecumseh.

Other survivors include two brothers, Michael Dye of Fort Leavenworth and John Applegate of Coldwater; five sisters, Carl Jean, Dianna and Ella Marie Dye, all of Fort Leavenworth, and Patricia L. and Margaret A. Applegate, both of Tecumseh, and her grandparents.

This engagement picture of Mrs. Patricia Reed was taken 15 years ago. For the past five years she served as receptionist at Bruce Foundry Co., helped on costumes and properties in several Tecumseh Players productions.

Strand Gets New Manager

A change in management of the Strand Theatre in Tecumseh will take place Aug. 1.

At that time, Floyd Guy, Jr. of Adrian will assume complete operations of the local motion picture house, as well as the Bliss Theatre in Blissfield.

Walt Nichols, who has run the Strand and Bliss for 23 years for the Schulte Theatre, Inc. of Detroit, is leaving Tecumseh to accept a position with another chain.

Both houses are owned by Floyd Guy, Sr., 404 N. Union St., who operated them himself for 17 years prior to leasing them to Schulte in 1939.

When the Detroit firm indicated it was not going to renew leases on the two theatres, Mr. Guy, Jr. said he would, signing a 20-year pact with option to buy the properties, with his father.

Mr. Guy, Jr., who is 33, plans to follow closely the policies established by Mr. Nichols and has hired the same booking agency in Detroit to procure pictures.

The new manager is married and the father of three youngsters. The Guy Jr. family will continue to live in Adrian for the present, where they own a home.

A 1948 graduate of Tecumseh High School, Mr. Guy, Jr. served four years in the army and saw action in the Korean War with the 7th Ranger Battalion, which was attached to the 7th Infantry Division.

For the past five years, he has owned and operated the Aquatic Diving Service in Adrian and has been a skin diving instructor at the Adrian YMCA.

Mr. Guy, Jr. will manage the Strand and he has named George Schall of Sylvania, O. to run the Bliss, where he has served five years as projectionist.

Mrs. William Wright, correspondent for The Tecumseh Herald, found some gems in an old cook book which had belonged to her husband's grandmother. A RECIPE FOR QUARRELING

Take a root of sassafras and steep in a pint of water and put it in a bottle. When your husband comes in to quarrel, fill your mouth with it and hold until he goes away. A sure cure.

HOW TO PRESERVE A HUSBAND

Be careful in your selection; do not choose too young, and take only such as have been reared in a good moral atmosphere.

Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, some in hot water. This only makes them sour, hard and sometimes bitter.

Even poor varieties may be made sweet, tender and good by garnishing them with patience, sweetening with smiles and flavoring with kisses to taste.

Wrap in a mantle of charity, keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion and serve with peaches and cream.

When thus prepared they keep for years.

☆

GiGi spent Friday at the dentists, the whole day.

Well, you see, having her teeth cleaned is quite an effort for the tiny French poodle owned by Walt Nichols.

Petite Gi Gi Brunette, three-year-old, has a shot when she has her pearly whites attended.

☆

Mrs. H. Schanz of Macon recently posted a request to know the law regarding fireworks. Her inquiry was prompted by the July 4th noise around the Macon area which continued on through the evening while some residents were trying to catch a wink or two.

The law?—Michigan forbids anyone to be in possession of fireworks.

☆

Mrs. Les Calhoun of rural Tecumseh is the Spanish teacher to whom the Reed family was heading Friday evening when the tragic auto accident happened.

Mrs. Calhoun said that all five youngsters were excellent students and always had their lessons perfect. Their mother, Mrs. Pat Reed, who had previously studied Spanish in one of Mrs. Calhoun's adult sessions at Tecumseh High School, also was taking with the children.

Mrs. Calhoun visited Celine and Mark at the hospital and tells us she asked the little girl if she wanted to continue her Spanish.

The youth replied, "By all means. That's what mother wanted."

DONNA MARIE ROE

MSU Couple Are Engaged

The engagement of Donna Marie Roe to Gerald R. Flynn is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Roe, of 506 W. Chicago Blvd.

Mr. Flynn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Flynn of Grand Rapids. Both bride and groom-elect are students at Michigan State University. A September wedding is being planned.

Film at Devils Lake Shows Life of Wiretapper

The Film "Wiretapper", starring Georgia Lee and Bill Williams, depicting the life of Jim Vaus, will be shown at the Devils Lake Drive-In Saturday, July 28 at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, July 29 at 9:15 p.m.

Jim Vaus became notoriously prominent when, with Mickey Cohen in L.A., Calif., he was wiretapping on other syndicates.

The police, unaware of his underground connections were calling on Vaus to help them in their work.

This true to life story moves rapidly to the final show-down and the Crusade with the Evangelist Billy Graham.

Barbara Sherman Marries Robert Fogelsong

Barbara Ann Sherman became the bride of Robert J. Fogelsong Saturday at the St. Elizabeth Church.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sherman of rural Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fogelsong, Sr. of Adrian.

White gladioli and majestic daisies in tall vases enhanced the chancel entrance.

Wallace Whiting was the soloist accompanied by Mrs. Donald Johnson.

Guests were seated by Douglas Sherman and Micky Grinnell.

☆

THE RADIANT bride chose a gown of imported silk organza styled with fitted bodice, and a floor length skirt ending in a colonial draped chapel train.

A portrait neckline embroidered with pearls and sequins and long fitted sleeves were featured in the bodice.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a cluster of organza roses. She wore a heart shaped pendant set with diamonds from her paternal grandmother's engagement ring.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white supreme daisies centered with butterfly roses.

Karen Guilds of Dundee was the maid-of-honor and her twin sister, Sharon, was a bridesmaid.

Nancy Spence as junior bridesmaid and Tammy Thilo, niece of the groom, was the flower girl.

Lynn Grinnell of Clinton served as his uncle's best man and Kenneth John Sherman, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The maid-of-honor and the bridesmaid wore identical gowns of two-toned silk faced peau de soie in azalia pink with fitted bodices, cummerbunds, scooped necklines and short sleeves.

A reception was held in St. Elizabeth school auditorium for 200 guests. Silver candelabra, white gladioli and shell pink carnations flanked the four tiered bride's cake.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cellentani and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Corkery were hosts at the reception.

Others assisting were Karen Robinson, Carolyn and Connie Dinius, Ann and Susan Cellentani, Charlotte Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. James Gouldsberry, Mr. and Mrs. William Rhoades, Mrs. Floyd Spence, Mrs. Grady Duncan, Mrs. Lloyd Dinius, Mrs. Carlos Knisely, Mrs. W .C. Grinnell, Mrs. L. Minich and Mrs. Roland Schmidt.

Following a wedding trip the couple will make their home at 115½ N. Union St.

Both are graduates of Tecumseh High School.

A rehearsal dinner for the bridal party was given by the groom's parents at their home on Bailey Drive in Adrian Friday evening.

MRS. ROBERT J. FOGELSONG

Kathleen DeLisle Wed Thursday

Ronald Woodward and Kathleen DeLisle were married Thursday by Judge Paul Betz in his office at the city hall in Adrian.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clare Woodward of 5337 Centennial Rd. and Mr. and Mrs. Edward DeLisle of 500 Seminole Drive.

Both young people are graduates of Tecumseh High School. He is employed at Stubnitz-Green Spring Corp in Adrian and also farms.

They will reside on Centennial Road with his parents.

Florists Meet in East Lansing

Florists, Nurserymen and Landscape Gardeners will have their "Day in College" at Michigan State University, East Lansing Wednesday, August 1.

Highlight of the morning meeting for Florists will be the inspection of research work in Floriculture being conducted at the Plant Science Greenhouse.

There will be a joint luncheon at Kellogg Center with Dr. John F. Carew, new head of the Horticultural Department, keynoting the program.

Tecumseh Garden Club Observes 25th Year

Ann Carson was hostess July 20 when 31 members and guests celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Tecumseh Garden Club.

A potluck luncheon preceded the program when Mrs. Neil Pearson invited each past president to give a resume of her year or years in office.

Those responding were:

Mrs. F. C. Hanna, first president—1938-39
Mrs. Raynor Anderson—1941
Mrs. Pearson—1942-43
Mary McWilliams—1951-52
Mrs. R. J. McCoy—1954
Ann Carson—1956
Mrs. Al Helzerman—1957
Mrs. Joe Rice—1961

Other past presidents were not in attendance.

A quiz on green weeds was presented by Mrs. Stanley Reese with Mrs. Arch Wray winning first prize; Mrs. F. C. Hanna and Mrs. Dewey Sturtevant, second.

Out-of-town members attending were Nancy Hamilton of Adrian; Mrs. Marvin Rumpf, Devils Lake; Cora Davis, Ann Arbor, Mrs. B. Aldrich of Vacaville, Cal., mother of Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Howard Enos of Bloomington, N.J.

Seven charter members were present.

Grange To Meet

Tecumseh Grange No. 166 will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday, July 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Green, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Halley and Marilyn and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Heilman will be in charge of the refreshments.

Members will bring cake or cookies.

Lucky Clover Saddle Club Will Stage Breakfast Ride

The Lucky Clover Saddle Club will hold its annual breakfast ride Saturday, July 28, with riders meeting at 9:30 a.m. at the Lee Purkey and Son Garage.

The ride will begin here for horsemen and those in cars as well. Arrows have been placed on Occidental Rd. to direct participants to the Brook Meade estates where the breakfast will be served.

Pancakes and sausages and bacon and eggs with coffee and orange drink for children are included on the menu from 9 until 12 noon.

Those attending are asked by the club members to bring their own silver and cups.

In case of rain, the ride will be held the following Saturday, Aug. 4.

Tickets are available to anyone [illegible] have been donated by Walter Hochrein of Porter Printing Co. and members may obtain them to sell from the printing office or from Mrs. Russell Starkey.

German Girl Returns Visit

Last summer, Heide Rohland of Goslar, Germany and Nancy Beland of 301 W. Pottawatamie Tecumseh, spent several weeks together becoming acquainted and visiting points of interest in Germany.

This summer, the girls have been reunited here in Tecumseh and are engaged in visiting American spots, with Nancy playing the hostess role this time.

Heide has been in Tecumseh since June 10. She arrived in time for THS graduation activities and was surprised to learn of the many parties planned for the graduates.

Graduation in Germany is not as elaborate. In fact, the girls rented an extra cap and gown so that Heide could send her mother a picture of herself as an American graduate.

Heide is planning to become an elementary school teacher after she has completed four and one-half years of schooling.

Three of these will be beyond the American high school level.

Because there are so few cities in Germany of the size of Tecumseh, Heide is quite impressed with this community.

Her home, Goslar, is a city of over 20,000 in the mining region of the Marz Mountains.

Her father works in a manufacturing company there.

Heide has a sister, 21, who plans to marry an American next summer. She may come to America to live.

Recently, the girls have visited Northern Michigan and Mackinac Island. Next week, they will be vacationing along the shores of Lake Michigan.

And Nancy hopes to take Heide to see Niagara Falls before she leaves the middle of next month.

Last week, [illegible] tering Ferris Institute as a pharmacy student this fall, attended a three-day orientation program at Big Rapids. Heide was given special permission to attend the program with Nancy. She was very impressed with the campus and the friendliness of the students.

For Heide's mother's birthday recently, the girls went shopping in Detroit's Northland for a gift from America. But to their surprise every gift they examined had been manufactured in some foreign country!

Heide speaks English well, having studied it for eight years. She also has had six years of French.

Nancy and Heide's exchange program is the second of its kind in this community.

Jane Hodges' hostess of last summer Marielle Lugard of Holland, returned her visit during this past school year, a guest of the Hodges family.

NANCY BELAND AND HEIDE ROHLAND DISCUSS AMERICAN LIFE

The engagement of Louise Anderson to Gary Fairbanks is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson of 420 N. Evans St. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Fairbanks of Britton. A November wedding is planned.

Cooking Class Prepared Meal for Families

Members of the Raisin Cane 4-H cooking class prepared a complete dinner for the entire membership and their families at the home of David and John Irelan recently.

Fifty-nine were served by Carol and Sue Allen, Judy and Sue Barnell, Onalee Cote, Shirley Chrisman, Sue and Nancy Ford and Jane and Sue Jenkins.

The girls completely prepared the meal under the guidance of Mrs. Charles Irelan and Mrs. George Halberstadt.

Immediately following the dinner, roll call was taken by members answering their favorite sport.

Plans were made for a club tour and mystery night to be held August 1.

A demonstration on setting table and doing dishes was given by Sue Jenkins and Sue Ford.

Paul Burns Takes Part in Program

Paul Burns of Tecumseh and Ron Fritch of Britton are among the more than 200 vocational agriculture teachers from Michigan high schools attending the 43rd annual Conference for teachers of Vocational Agriculture at Michigan State University this week.

Mr. Burns is participating in one of the programs.

Objectives of this year's conference are to promote an understanding of the teacher's responsibility in the broad field of agriculture, to promote the agricultural education profession and to increase the technical knowledge of agricultural teachers [illegible].

A series of general sessions, regional and district FFA meetings, discussion groups and workshops on various aspects of vocational agriculture will work toward the accomplishment of these objectives.

Joining to sponsor the conference are the Department of Public Instruction and the Michigan Association of Teachers of Vocational Agriculture, in cooperation with the MSU Colleges of Agriculture and Education.

Fire Destroyed Their Trailer

A trailer occupied by Dorothy Marsh and her two daughters, Nancy and Linda, near Clinton, was completely demolished by fire at 4 a.m. Sunday morning.

Only a blanket, pair of sheets, silver and a few bathtowels were saved from the flames.

Anyone who would care to donate articles to the family may leave them at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church or at the home of Mrs. Marsh's mother, Mrs. L. A. Van Gieson at 11110 Clinton-Tecumseh Rd.

Nancy 14, wears a sub-teen dress size 16; size 18 shorts and a 36 blouse.

Linda 12, wears a sub-teen 14 dress; size 16 shorts and a 34 blouse.

Former Teachers Hold Gathering

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw attended a three-day house party recently at the Harbor Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Shipley.

Guests were 14 teachers and their husbands who taught in the Harbor Beach schools 45 years ago.

The superintendent of schools at that time was present and 25 students of the group were callers during the party.

En route home the Laidlaws called on her brother, Emmett Raven, in Bad Axe.

Kingston Trio Slated To Perform

Jimmy Dean, the Shirelles and the great Kingston Trio—that's the start of an imposing lift of stars announced by General Manager Walter A. Goodman for the Coliseum shows at the Michigan State Fair which opens Friday, August 24.

And the Coliseum admission price has been reduced this year from $1.50 to $1.00 for adults, children 12 and under, 50 cents.

As in the past, there will be two distinct shows in the Coliseum on the first and second week-ends. Friday night performances are set for 8:30 and the Saturday and Sunday shows at 3:30 and 8:30.

The first week-end, August 24, 25 and 26, features Jimmy Dean, The Shirelles, Shelley Fabares, Roy Orbison and the Casuals with Bobby Beckham and Gary Miles.

Stars of the second week-end are the Kingston Trio, Mary Wells and the Four Wades.

Jimmy Dean, who emceed the Tonight Show on NBC this summer, signs, acts, does comedy and plays an assortment of musical instruments in a relaxed, easygoing style.

He has had his own CBS network show and his highly popular recordings include "Sing Along" and "Bummin' Around."

The quartet of young ladies "The Shirelles" have scores and scores of highly successful records, including such as "Dedicated to The One I Love" and "Mama Said."

The Kingston Trio — Bob Shane, Dave Guard and Nick Reynolds—won the 14th Annual Disc Poll as the most played vocal group of 1961.

One of the hottest groups, they started their careers with the folks songs "Tom Dooley" and "Worried Man."

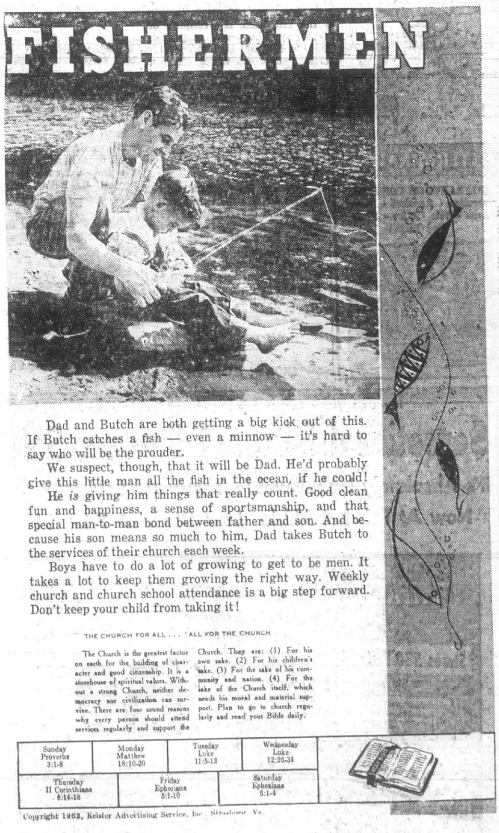
For All We Hold Sacred . . . Attend Church



Dad and Butch are both getting a big kick out of this. If Butch catches a fish — even a minnow — it's hard to say who will be the prouder.

We suspect, though, that it will be Dad. He'd probably give this little man all the fish in the ocean, if he could!

He is giving him things that really count. Good clean fun and happiness, a sense of sportsmanship, and that special man-to-man bond between father and son. And because his son means so much to him, Dad takes Butch to the services of their church each week.

Boys have to do a lot of growing to get to be men. It takes a lot to keep them growing the right way. Weekly church and church school attendance is a big step forward. Don't keep your child from taking it!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Tom Dickinson to Attend Summer Music Program

Tom Dickinson will be among the more than 500 top high school musicians in Michigan and surrounding states to participate in the 16th annual Summer Youth Music Program July 29-Aug. 18 at Michigan State University.

Tom, who plays clarinet in the THS band, is a recipient of the David Day scholarship fund.

Carefully selected in cooperation with local school officials, the youths will receive advanced training in orchestra, chorus, ensembles and symphonic, concert and training bands.

Private lessons will be offered in individual instruments, music theory, composition, literature, conducting, accompanying and voice.

Directing the program will be a staff of 32 experienced musicians from the sponsoring MSU Department of Music and schools around the state.

Students will be housed in campus residence halls under qualified counselors and will be offered a full program of recreational activities, including tennis, swimming and organized games.

bond buyer.

He was Tecumseh chairman for war bonds and he always had something going. Once, high school girls were enlisted as sales personnel for many area stores. They wore cute red, white and blue outfits and were well coached in closing bond deals.

The stage of the Strand, one of the city's historical spots, has seen many a star attraction crossing those boards before Walt came and during his 23 years here.

One of the best-known in Walt's memory was Rin Tin Tin, who performed here as part of a Quaker Oats Co. promotion.

A few years back, Walt was named chairman of the annual community fund drive. He did a fabulous job.

One of the reasons for the success was the way he lined up the campaign details and selected his workers. Nothing was left to chance and the guy laboring the hardest was Walt.

In the area of the Tecumseh Players amateur theatre group, Walt's continued cooperation and help were big factors in the thespians being able to hold successful productions on the stage of the Strand.

Walt could have simply rented the show on the designated nights and let it go at that. But he always pitched right in.

He worked with players technical crews preparing the Strand for the productions, even on several occasion right around the clock. His knowledge of lighting, settings, ticket sales and a dozen other talents were always given freely.

This has been the same way when it came to downtown promotions by retailers Walt always did his share—and more.

He was one of the instigators of the pancake race last year and although he'll soon be moving from Tecumseh, he's vitally interested in seeing that the second running next Friday will be a success and is right in there pitching.

Walt has always been a man with an idea. They're usually good ones. Equally important is the fact that once he starts a project, he follows every possible angle right to its conclusion.

Suffice it to say that this writer is really going to miss the guy.

Progress

Progress depends on spiritually meaningful activity.

This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Truth" at Christian Science church services Sunday.

PLAN FOR DANCE — Among the members of St. Elizabeth parish working on this Saturday night's "Mid-Summer Dance" are, from left, Dianne Donahoe, Mrs. Joe Dziachan and Jim Greene. Dianne and Jim represent the parish's new CYO Teen Club. which will handle refreshments at the dance, being staged on the parking lot behind the church from 8:30 until 11 p. m. Music will be furnished by "The Playboys." Tickets are 75c for adults. teen agers 50c Youngsters under 12 are admitted free.

Dancing Under the Stars

Dancing under the stars is in store for adults, teenagers and family groups Saturday, July 28, from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. on the parking lot of St. Elizabeth's Church.

"Midsummer Dance" will have music by the "Playboys".

The event is under the auspices of the church's Rosary Altar Society.

Members of the newly formed CYO will handle the refreshments which will include soft drinks, chips and individual pizzas.

Mark Vaillancourt, Jim Greene, Joan Brion, Diane Donahoe, and Mike Wykes are on committee.

Assisting co-chairmen Mrs. Lawrence Cote and Mrs. Morgan Ford are their husbands and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reis, Mr. and Mrs. James Fielder and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dziachan.

Tickets will be available at the door only.

In case of rain the dance will be held in the church school auditorium.

DON MURPHY

Uniontown Job Goes To Murphy

Don Murphy, who served as secretary of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce for three years, has accepted a similar position in Uniontown, Pa.

Mr. Murphy resigned his Tecumseh post last spring to accept a salesman's job at Wilson Motor Sales.

Prior to coming to Tecumseh he was Chamber secretary for the Hastings Chamber.

Mr. Murphy will begin his duties in Uniontown, a city of 44,000, August 1.

The new executive director said of Uniontown, "This is home since the time I was born until the time I went into service. I ran the streets as a kid, now I will run them as the executive director."

He extended an invitation to anyone from Tecumseh who might be traveling through Uniontown, to stop at his office in the White Swan Hotel.

"Although Uniontown is quite a bit larger it doesn't present any more of a challenge because Tecumseh's potential could be placed on the same footing."

PERFECT FIT — Mayor Harold Easton tries one of the seat belts currently being sold by the Jaycees as Ed DeLisle watches. Mr. DeLisle is installing the safety belts for JCs at his Ed's Auto. They are priced at $7.50, including intallation, which takes only a few minutes. Ed's Auto will be open all day Sunday for this purpose. Interested people can buy seat belts at that time or Friday evening at the JC booth in downtown Tecumseh, from 6 to 9. Jerry Barton is chairman of the project. It is pointed out that a driver's chances of surviving or escaping serious injury in a trafic accident are five times better if he is secured with a seat belt.

Blood Bank Will Come Here Aug. 9

The Red Cross Mobile Unit will make its first collection of blood in Tecumseh Thursday, August 9.

Located at the Methodist Church, the unit will take donations from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

Anyone interested in donating a pint of blood is asked to call the hospital, HA 3-2141.

Volunteer workers are being supervised by Mrs. Marvin Nelson. If you want to help at the unit call her at HA 3-3528.

A training meeting for volunteers will be held Friday, July 27 at 1:30 p.m. at Bixby Hospital in Adrian. Those who would like to help in this or future blood drives are urged to attend this session.

Plans for the Tecumseh blood drive were made Monday evening at a community meeting, according to Chairman Orrie Gilbert. Eighteen were present.

☆

THE TECUMSEH drive is a part of a county-wide attempt to secure 2400 pints under the new program.

Anyone in good health between the ages of 18 and 60 may donate blood. If not married and under 21, blood may be given with the parents' written consent.

Anyone can spare the pint of blood from his supply of 12 to 13 in the body. The liquid part of the blood will be replaced almost immediately and the cells and minerals in about 10 days.

Donors may give every eight weeks but not more than five times in one year.

D. Vaillancourt Stars in Field and at Plate

Dave Vaillancourt was the star of Monday's Major League contest as the Tecumseh Police defeated the Exchange, 4-1.

Dave had two for three at the plate, one which knocked in the winning run. In the field he threw out Gerald Slick at second base after he had hit the ball off the left-center field fence.

Steve Ring was the winning pitcher, striking out five Exchange batters.

In other games last week, Exchange shut-out the Jaycees, 8-0. Buddy Work was the winning pitcher. Leading the hitters was Mike Creger with two hits.

Rotary defeated the Union team, 13-8, as LaMar Rufner drove in what came to be the winning run.

A big seven-run third inning was enough for the Tecumseh Products Union as they defeated the Tecumseh Police, 16-13.

Barry Lampkin and Chuck Gillies had two hits apiece for the winners.

Credited with the victory was Gregg Wise while Eric Aebersold suffered the loss.

Winning their second game of the week, the Exchange boys defeated Rotary, 7-1, Thursday. Gerald Creger was the winning hurler. John Saling was on the mound for the Rotary team.

HAROLD LOVES FLOWERS—Harold Richardson has enhanced the corner of Russell Road and Evans Street with a delightful planting of petu-nias, marigolds and zinnias, surrounded by a stone border. Mr. Richardson hauls sand and gravel from a pit at this corner and it certainly improves the spot and makes a pleasant place for his advertisement painted by his father-in-law, Elmer Harper. This is the first year Mr. Richardson has made use of the land given him by Perry Satterthwaite. He expects to plant some evergreens on the corner next spring.

Shotgun's Blast Hits Youth, 17

Eugene Cole, 23, of Clinton was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs of $4.90 or spend five days in jail.

He pled guilty to the reckless discharge of a shotgun on arraignment before Justice Ernest Oliver.

Cole was arrested by State Police in connection with the gunshot wound of Johnny Fletcher, 17, of rural Clinton.

Cole failed to pay the fine and costs and was remanded to the county jail.

Fletcher was hospitalized at Herrick Memorial.

'Big Bad John' Finds, Then Returns $18,000

Diogenes should have been in Tampa, Fla. last week.

He could have found his "honest man" in a former Tecumseh resident, Jack Eldon Service, son of Mrs. Rose Service of 306 E. Logan St.

Mr. Service saved a Detroit surgeon $18,000—without giving it a thought.

A Tampa daily paper printed this story:

"A Detroit surgeon would be the last to agree that a tall Tampan he met yesterday should be nicknamed Big Bad John.

"The stranger saved the doctor $18,000. Dr. Thomas Baker who was visiting in Tampa on vacation lost his billfold containing $18,000 as he got out of his car on Franklin St.

"Unaware that the wallet had slipped from his pocket he walked down the street.

"He had strode about a block and a half when a tall husky stranger stopped him and presented the doctor with the billfold.

"The stranger said he saw it fall onto the walk from the doctor's pocket. When the doctor offered a reward he refused and merely said, 'Maybe you can do something for me some day.'

"The man told the doctor he moved to Tampa from near Detroit last year. When the doctor asked his name the man said, 'Jack, but some of my friends call me Big Bad John.'"

Mrs. Service told a Herald reporter that her son married a girl from Fort Meyers last Thanksgiving and he is attending a school of electronics.

Mrs. Service said, "I'm so glad that he did the right thing."

58 To Attend Convention In Jackson

Fifty-tight Jehovah's Witnesses from Tecumseh will travel to Jackson this weekend for their educational convention.

They will be joined by over 100 other congregations from several states and Canada.

The convention is sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York.

According to Daniel Kierczak, local presiding minister, Conventions like this are always a high point in the lives of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Not only does one renew old acquaintances, but more important, receives instruction on Christian living and enlightening information on Bible prophecy.

Jackson's County Fairgrounds Grandstand will be the site for the event.

SOUTHEASTERN GIRLS SOFTBALL LEAGUE

In a game which was expected to be a close contest, the Tecumseh girls overpowered Sand Creek, 16-4, last Tuesday in a Southeastern League contest.

Judy Ball led the hitting attack with a grand slam home run while teammates Mary Jo Mensing, Carol Hand and Bonnie Staulter also hit round trippers.

Linda Staulter was the star on the field, making three spectacular catches to contribute to the victory.

In a contest Thursday evening, the Tecumseh girls defeated Deerfield, 30-3.

Mary Jo Mensing, Tecumseh hurler, struck out 16 batters and allowed only 5 hits.

Carol Hand had five hits for the winners.

In Monday evening's game, the Tecumseh girls played good defensive ball and hit well as they defeated the Adrian girls, 10-1.

Pitcher Mary Jo Mensing threw a two-hitter, striking out 10 and walking only 3.

An error in the seventh inning by the Tecumseh second baseman allowed the lone Adrian run to score.

Mary Allen had a perfect day at the plate and Carol Hand again hit well, getting 3-4 at the plate.

Recreation Draws Many to Compete

John Henderson, city recreation director, recently submitted the following report regarding some of the summer activities.

PEE WEE LEAGUE — Four teams make up this league with approximately 25 boys on each team.

Besides playing actual games in competition, the Pee Wee Leaguers are receiving instruction in the basic fundamentals of baseball.

COLT LEAGUE—Supervised by Ned Kubitz, the Colt League is comprised of some 30 boys. Games have been scheduled with Morenci, Adrian, Madison and the Tecumseh Merchants.

BLOOPER BALL—There are four teams in the league with 15 men on each team.

An entry fee of $15 per team has been charged to help pay for the balls, lights and diamond maintenance. Play has been fast, vigorous and tiresome.

TENNIS—Lessons have been offered at 10 a.m. Monday through Friday for some 40 tennis enthusiasts.

JUNIOR SOFTBALL — Sixty girls are participating in this program making up four teams. Competition takes place every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

An All-Star team has been picked and is playing teams in other communities.

Randy Dotson Allows VFW Batters One Hit

The Indians continued their winning ways in the Pony League action last week to grab a firm hold on first place.

Last Tuesday they defeated the second-place VFW team in a close contest, 4-3. Randy Work pitched a good game and also had two hits.

Stan Pease and Nick Hebert were the losing battery.

Scott Edwards was on the mound Thursday when the Indians strongly defeated the Eagles, 18-2. Doug Wilcox, Indian first baseman had a double to lead the hitting attack.

Losing the game was Eagles pitcher King Dunn.

Saturday the VFW suffered its second loss of the week as they were defeated by the Products, 5-0.

Randy Dotson, Products hurler, struck out 11 batters, walked only two and limited the VFW boys to only Alan Vallad's hit. Randy also had two hits at the plate.

Other strong hitters for the Products were John Davis and Jeff Robison.

☆

IN OTHER PONY League Action, the Deerfield nine won a close one over Eagles, 13-12. Lynn Feldman was the winning hurler, outpitching his rival, Jim VerHage.

Joe Poley, Eagles right fielder, had a home run in the game.

Each team committed eight errors.

Losing hurler Dean Hebb struck out 14 Eagle batters and was the victim of 7 unearned runs as the Eagles defeated the Products, 8-1.

Kingsly Dunn and Mike Bartenslager were the winning battery.

Jim Biscupski and Bob Belcher were the leading hitters for the winners while Products teammates Chuck Randolph and Jim VerHage each had two hits.

Leading hitters for the Products are Randy Dotson, batting .442 and Dean Hebb, who posts a .344 average.

Horvath Is Low Scorer

Joe Horvath shot an eagle 2 on the number seven hole at the Macon Golf Course and had low score in Thursday evening's Tecumseh Products Golf League play.

All wins were two pointers as the Goller and Beevers teams entered into a tie for first place.

Winning teams Thursday were those captained by Chuck Newell, Dean Hamilton, Gerald Baker, Wendell Reum and Robert Beevers.

Error Proves Disastrous

A crucial error in the sixth inning by the Tecumseh Merchant's catcher allowed the tying and winning runs to score as the Adrian Legion team defeated the Tecumseh nine July 17, 4-3, in the Adrian Twilight League.

With the bases full and Tecumseh leading by one run, Tecumseh catcher Dick Comar threw the ball past first base, allowing the two unearned runs.

Both Tecumseh pitcher Norm Campbell and Adrian hurler Doug Nelson threw a good game, each allowing only three singles. Campbell fanned four batters while his opponent struck out seven.

In another game last week, the Tecumseh Merchants defeated Clayton 14-4.

The game was called at the end of the fifth inning because of the ten-run-lead rule.

Bill Winzler was the winning pitcher with Cliff Rogers behind the plate. Norm Campbell and Dick Comar had two hits apiece.

Hoekstra and Easter Win Tournament

Bob Hoekstra had the hottest golf round of his life as he and Pete Easter captured first place in the Tecumseh Country Club Tournament Sunday.

Bob went out in 35 and came back with another 35 for a two under par 70.

With their handicaps, the pair posted a best ball of 60.

One stroke behind were John Costello and Ralph Dabe with a best ball 61.

Third place went to Bill Koster and Roger Linger, who had 64.

There was a tie for fourth position between the teams of Dr. Bob Bowers — Lorraine Callahan and Dick Eggleston — Paul Clauda. Each crew turned in 66's.

Others in prize positions:

Charles Newell and Ned Rosacrans — 67

Fred Randall and Max Smith — 67

MICHIGAN IS COMMUNICATION

Michigan people are well informed. They are probably the best informed in the nation. That is because Michigan is outstanding in facilities for communication.

Michigan is good communication. It has 55 daily newspapers with a circulation of 2,023,266; 305 weekly papers, with a circulation of 829,828. That's a total of 2,833,124. We have 135 radio stations and 15 television stations.

Our newspapers are alert to local happenings and have demonstrated leadership in civic improvements, industry appreciation and industrial development and many other examples of community responsibility.

The people of Michigan know what is going on. Our newspapers are strong in their stand that the people have a right to know. Radio and television, in addition to information, provide music and entertainment. Michigan has communications attuned to the best interests of our communities, our State and all our people. Communication is important to industrial development, and here again Michigan has it.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together we can assure a greater future for all of us.

MICHIGAN IS EVERYTHING FOR INDUSTRY

Friends Bid Her Farewell

BRITTON—A farewell party was held Saturday, July 14 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Grady for their daughter, Joyce, who left Sunday for California.

She will make her home with her brother, Naval Airman Gerald Grady and his family at 578 Brett St., Inglewood, Calif.

Gerald is out to sea at the present time aboard the USS Hancock, but will arrive in Calif. sometime in August.

About thirty guests attended the farewell party and Joyce received many lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Grady accompanied Joyce to the Toledo Greyhound Station for the start of her trip.

Rotary Golf Day Aug. 14

Between 150 and 200 are expected to attend the 5th Annual Tecumseh Rotary Day and Invitational Golf Tournament Aug. 14 at Tecumseh Country Club.

The day-long affair will include a golf tournament for Rotarians from the entire District 640, which includes 42 communities in Southeastern Michigan and Ontario.

A buffet luncheon is planned for noon. The evening dinner and program will climax the day.

Featured speaker at the dinner will be Dr. John Dempsey, well-known radio and television personality.

Mrs. Lindsley Wins at Bridge

Mrs. Donald Wright was hostess at the bridge luncheon at the Tecumseh Country Club July 18.

Mrs. Earl Lindsley won first prize and table awards were given to Mrs. Paul Maves, Mrs. Kenneth Hall, Mrs. Randall Pilbeam and Mrs. Arthur Stevens.

If you plan to drive in Canada, see us for an insurance card, now required by several Canadian provinces.

Sooner or later, everyone is tempted to pick up a "bargain" in protection because of the rate. Too often, the promise of a fast, generous settlement fails to materialize.

When you buy from a local, independent agent you buy from a man who can look you in the eye any day of the week. He is not "out of town" when needed and his business is to help you get a fair and prompt settlement after a loss.

Bargains in insurance don't exist. But you do get a bargain in service, loyalty and experience when you do business with a local, independent agent. Thats us.

This Youngster Loves to Sew

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"I sew all the time, I like to sew," said Jessie Brown when interviewed Saturday.

Some of Mrs. Brown's customers have been so pleased with the work of this seamstress that they have asked the Tecumseh Herald to write a feature story of her.

Since her husband passed away in 1946, Mrs. Brown has been doing a great deal of work with needle and thread for Tecumseh residents.

Her talent served her well as her family was growing up, and has now turned into a full time job which she thoroughly enjoys.

Mrs. Brown sews whole wardrobes of clothing for some of her friends, as she calls clients.

This seems quite a feat for a lady who will celebrate 80 years next birthday anniversary.

She makes coats, dresses, suits and sports wear, children's clothing and lately tackled a man's sport jacket which turned out much to his satisfaction.

When she was asked to do the second one she decided against it, though, because the padding was a lot of work.

One of Mrs. Brown's "friends", when complimented on her dress was asked if Mrs. Brown made it. "I don't have a thing to wear that Mrs. Brown didn't make," she replied.

☆

THE SEAMSTRESS lives with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Everhart at 306 E. Kilbuck St. and they are now at their pleasant Sand Lake home for the summer.

Mrs. Everhart says that when her mother isn't sewing, she is usually studying her Sunday school lesson. She has taught the Friendly Class of the Friends Church for six years.

She has been president of the local W.C.T.U. for ten years.

She likes to cook and bake as much as she ever did and "we have plenty to do for company here at the lake. I'm so glad that I can still do it," continued Mrs. B.

The Browns came to Tecumseh from a berry and fruit orchard between Hillsdale and Reading which they operated for 45 years.

☆

MRS. BROWN started sewing as a little girl when she made clothes for her dolls.

She next sewed under the guidance of her aunt who was a dressmaker in Toledo.

She has always made clothing for her family, including her daughter's wedding dress and lots of things for three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

She has another daughter, Mrs. Earnest Martin, who lives in Jackson.

Mrs. Brown had never done any work for customers until after her husband's death.

☆

SHE WORKS ON eight or ten garments at a time, using a treadle machine just as the Paris Shops do, for better control.

She prefers better quality materials but isn't choosy as to whether she works on wools, cottons or what.

However she does not like to work with fine chiffon which she said used to be called georgette.

Stripes, she finds, are easy to work up.

The elderly seamstress uses paper patterns these days but she used to cut her own from models before the paper patterns came [illegible].

A dress usually takes a day of Mrs. Brown's time or maybe two, depending on the amount of trim and fitting necessary.

Congratulations are in order to Tecumseh's senior seamstress, a lovely lady who uses her time and talent to make others happy and keep herself busy.

MRS. JOHN BROWN, TECUMSEH'S SENIOR SEAMSTRESS

Food Coloring in Cake Recipe Can Be Harmful

Word of warning — a recipe for Red Velvet cake calling for one-quarter cup of red food coloring could be dangerous.

This information was printed in a newspaper at Ottawa, Canada, July 5.

According to Eleanor Ordway of the Canadian Federal Food and Drug Bureau, some red colorings have coal-tar in them, which when consumed in quantity, can be dangerous.

The original recipe specified cochineal, a harmless coloring, but this specification has been omitted as the recipe has been passed along.

Miss Ordway suggests that housewives be most cautious in using this type of recipe. She said too, that one-quarter of a cup is a ridiculous amount. She is looking for the recipe.

After she finds it and has a piece of the delicious confection, this writer wonders if her remarks will be quite so caustic.

The Herald printed a similar recipe in the "What's Cooking" column a few years ago.

"So what is this cochineal?" asked a curious Herald office employee after reading the item.

Upon looking in the New Century Dictionary we find that the coloring is "a red dye consisting of the dried bodies of the females of the scale insect, Coccus Cocti."

The Herald will write the Federal Food and Drug Administration office to clarify the situation for readers.

District 4-H Judging Clinic Held at Adrian

Lenawee County was host Thursday to 250 District 4-H Livestock members who wanted to increase their livestock and crop selection skills.

The Fairgrounds was the scene at the clinic which was conducted by MSU Specialists with the Lenawee County Extension Staff cooperating.

Area 4-H Project leaders and farmers supplied the livestock for the demonstrations which included dairy, beef, swine and sheep.

As a follow up of the clinic, Livestock Judging Teams will be selected to represent their respective counties in the State Judging Field Day at Michigan [illegible].

Girls Presented Demonstration with Cherries

How to Prepare Cherries for Freezing was the demonstration that Cheryl Aebersold and Carol Davenport gave for 15 members and mothers of the North Franklin Maidens 4-H Club July 12.

Cheryl and Patti Aebersold were hostesses for the meeting and served ice cream with raspberries for refreshments.

The meeting July 25 was held at the home of Carol and Karen Davenport.

CYO Teen Club Plans Its Future

Twenty-five attended the first meeting of the newly-formed St. Elizabeth CYO Teen Club, July 18.

Dan Greene and Mark Vaillencourt, steering committee members, explained the workings of the organization, which is for Catholic teens of high school age.

Each youth present filled out an application for membership and indicated activities in which he or she would like to take part.

The club will devote its attentions to recreation, discussion and religious activities.

Following the business portion of the meeting, the group piled into a large truck for a hay ride.

Faye Greene, Dan's dad, drove and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tressler acted as chaperons.

Pizza pies capped the night.

Next gathering will be Wednesday, Aug. 11, with election of officers and a square dance on the agenda.

All Catholic youths in the area are invited to take part. Meetings will be held one each month with yearly dues of $1.50.

Staebler Supports Medicare

Neil Staebler, Democratic candidate for Congressman-At-Large, said in Adrian last week that rural communities have an even greater stake in an improved medical care for the aged program than urban areas.

Staebler, Ann Arbor businessman and Democratic National Committeeman, spoke at the windup of Alice Swainson Day.

He reiterated his support for a Federal hospital insurance program under Social Security and predicted that Congress eventually will approve such a program.

Staebler said the percentage of older people is higher in most rural areas compared to urban areas. These senior citizens have less cash income while they pay higher medical insurance costs, and that they suffer more disabling and lasting illnesses.

"This puts the burden on our younger, rural families who ultimately must pay the cost of medical care for their parents or other aged in the community," Staebler said.

The Ann Arbor candidate said he stands unequivocally behind President Kennedy's domestic and foreign programs.

He urged the group to make an all out effort to elect more Democrats to the State Legislature to help Gov. Swainson implement his program.

Republican obstructionists in the Legislature blocked the governor's fiscal reform program, he said.

Grain Loss in Millions

Michigan farmers may lose as much as six to eight million dollars worth of grain during this year's harvest.

Under ideal conditions, losses usually amount to about $2 per acre, according to Robert White, agricultural engineering specialist at Michigan State University And this can easily climb to $6 or $8 per acre with careless operation, improper adjustments and bad weather.

More than 45,000 combines in Michigan will be harvesting over one million acres of wheat, 700,000 acres of oats and about 100,000 acres of rye and barley during the next few weeks.

"A combine operator should study his operator's manual to become familiar with his machine, learn how to recognize and measure excessive losses and know what adjustments are necessary," says Mr. White.

He cautions operators to make only one adjustment at a time.

But before making any adjustments, the operator needs some way of measuring the grain lo s.

A simple method is by counting the number of kernels found per square foot in the field, says Mr. White.

The number of kernels per square foot needed to equal a one bushel loss per acre are: wheat, 16-20; oats, 10-12; soybeans, 4-5; barley 13-15 and rye, 23-24.

Grain losses can easily occur in all four stages of combining—cutting, threshing, separating and cleaning—unless proper adjustments are made.

Cutter-bar losses consist of shattered grain or heads missed by the bar and grain thrown out of the machine by the reel.

The height of the cutter-bar hould be adjusted to hold losses to a minimum. The reel should be set so that the reel slats strike just below the heads of the grain.

The cylinder-concave spacing and the cylinder speed must be adjusted to get the most grain out of the head. A wide spacing usually keeps grain losses at a minimum.

Straw rack losses occur because the grain has not been separated from the straw. The grain is carried out of the machine with the straw when the machine is overloaded. This can happen in two ways—by operating the combine too fast and by setting the cutter-bar too low.

Mystery Prize Was Awarded to Mrs. Warren

Mrs. Harold Warren was awarded the mystery prize July 18 at the regular meeting of the Hall-Slater Auxiliary of the V-FW.

Thank-you notes were read from graduates at the VFW National Home in Eaton Rapids for gifts sent to them by the members.

Pineapple pie and iced tea were served by Mrs. Richard Eisenminger.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITOR:

Thank you very much for your gracious words concerning our July 4th celebration of Brooklyn's 130th anniversary and for giving publicity to my history of Brooklyn, "What's Past is Prologue."

I would like to stress that the book I have written correlates the history of nearby communities.

You probably noticed that included in the biography section was the biography of Doctors L. M. Jones and Oliver Quincy Jones who were residents of both Brooklyn and Tecumseh.

There is also information on Rev. Lyster, the founder of the church in Brooklyn as well as Tecumseh.

A prominent Baptist clergyman and his son the Reverend Fulton, who were in our communities prior to the Civil war, are given space in the biographical section also.

The history of Lenawee County is also mentioned in the book with emphasis being placed on Cambridge and Woodstock areas.

My husband and I have been newsstand purchasers of your newspaper for sometime.

We have appreciated the space you have given to the effort to save lovely old St. Peter's as a landmark, and in fact, for publishing my letter on the subject which you did earlier this year.

(Editor's Note: Copies of the book "What's Past Is Prologue", can be secured by writing John D. Neely, Treasurer, 130th Committee, Box 130, Brooklyn, Mich. Hard-bound books are $5.95, soft-bound books $3.95. Also include 25c to cover handling and mailing. Checks should be addressed to the 130th Committee.)

Sincerely

Mrs. Reginald Angus

TO THE EDITOR:

May 18 the Herald published an article taking a few whacks at Jim Murray who writes the leading sports column in the Los Angeles Times.

Far be it from me to quibble about the article. I enjoy reading good invective.

I do want to squawk, however, that Murray writes for The Times and not for the Los Angeles Mirror.

The Mirror recently was consolidated with The Times but Jim Murray started on The Times and always has written Sports Illustrated. Nick B. Williams Los Angeles Times.

Republicans Oppose State Court Action

The Republican State Chairman has charged that Attorney General Kelley's actions in the Scholle vs Hare case "closely approached a breach of professional ethics."

"Legal duty bound this man to defend the people in this case," argued George M. Vanpeursem. "Yet he deserted his clients to argue the case of a politically powerful complainant."

The Michigan Supreme Court, by a 4-3 decision, July 18 decared the present state Senatorial districts unconstitutional, postponed the primary election and ordered the Legislature to re-district by August 20.

The attorney general, under the oath of his office—and in compliance with the law—is required to represent and defend any state official, board or commissioner whenever sued in a court of law, charged the Republican leader.

Mr. Kelley's conduct in the Scholle suit was a "sorry contrast" to the way former Attorney General Paul Adams defended the state's case.

"Mr. Kelley, in aligning himself with Gus Scholle, actually prejudged this case," complained the Republican chairman.

"Such a role rightfully belongs with the State Supreme Court—not the lawyer paid to defend the state constitution."

Temptation may be strong, but it seldom overtakes the man who runs from it.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swanston and Sylvia had as their guests Sunday for dinner, Mr. and Mrs. William Swanston and daughter of New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Miller and daughters.

√

The Macon Community Club meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore last Tuesday. The meeting opened with singing, the pledge to the American Flag and members repeating the Lord's Prayer. Elmer Pocklington of Ridgeway read an original poem written when he was 18 years old called "Immortal" and several of his poems closing with "In Appreciation," and "Changing Times." Mrs. Moore read, "Don't Be Small." Games were played. Sandwiches, relishes and ice cream were served.

Mrs. Dan Birdsall, Lulu Gilmore and Mr. Pocklington of Ridgeway and Mrs. Herbert Gilmore were guests. There will be no August meeting.

√

A son was born Saturday, July 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Santure. A rose was placed on the church altar last Sunday in his honor. He has been named Jonathan Mark.

√

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas was decorated with beautiful bouquets of gladioli, cut flowers and a tropical plant, when Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas and Jean Thomas held open house for their parent's 35th wedding anniversary. The serving table was centered with a large three tiered wedding cake, topped with a bridal party and silver letters marking the 35th year. A lovely floral arrangement of snapdragons, daisies and stocks in a milk glass bowl was also used in the dining room. Jean Thomas served the punch, Mrs. Walter Damberg and Mrs. Albert Williams of Tecumseh served the cake. Mrs. James Thomas greeted the guests and assisted in the serving. 100 friends and relatives from Fayette, O., Riga, Ann Arbor, Saline, Adrian Tipton, Britton, Ridgeway, Tecumseh, and Macon vicinity came to congratulate the happy couple.

There will be no Circle meetings in August. The officers of the Faith Circle will meet with the chairman, Mrs. Wade Scudder, Thursday, Aug. 2.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Niblack and family of Battle Creek, entertained Sunday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gilmore. The event honored the Baptism of their daughter, Denise Michael. The Rev. Hawthorne performed the baptism Sunday afternoon in the Tecumseh Episcopal Church. Mr. and Mrs. James Valley of Ypsilanti were the godparents. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beech and son of Pontiac, Mr. and Mrs. William Niblack, Mrs. Raymond Lidster and daughter, Dawn, of Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gilmore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gilmore and Albert Cross. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Niblack and family returned to their home in Battle Creek Sunday evening after spending a week at the home of his parents while they were vacationing in northern Michigan.

√

A second rose was placed on the church altar last Sunday in honor of the "Chosen Baby" which has just arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton, Jr., She was born July 3 and weighs 7 pounds, 13 ounces. She has been named Cathy Lynne.

'Marriage-Go-Round' Cast of 4 Includes Katharine Corkery

"The Marriage-Go-Round" will spin in circles of sophisticated comedy at the Clark Lake Playhouse Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 26, 27, 28 and August 2, 3 and 4.

Katharine Corkery of 313 W. Pottawatamie St. is a member of the cast of four, appearing as the Swedish Valkyrie, Katrin.

This statuesque beauty upsets the domestic serenity of Professors Paul and Content Delville when she conceives a notion to Conceive and picks Paul to share her eugenic experiment.

Paul Delville is a devoted husband and he has a charming wife, but "a man's a man for a' that."

In the roles of husband-and-wife professors are Dr. Fred Pesetsky as Paul and Harriett Stolorow as Content. Also in the cast is Louis Spiesberger as Professor Ross Barnett.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Reservations may be made by calling the box office, LAkeside 9-9141, from 4 to 8 p.m. daily except Sunday.

Director of the Clark Lake Players is William McAnallen.

Scheduled next for the Players, in which [illegible] Murray is cast. It will be followed by "Annie, Get Your Gun".

Writing Contest Will Require Patriotic Theme

Not long ago President John F. Kennedy challenged Americans by saying, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country."

Such a statement has influenced the Ladies Auxiliary of the VFW to choose as the topic of the 28th annual National High School Writing Contest, "What I Can Do For My Country."

Students in all public, private and parochial high schools are eligible to enter the contest.

National prizes are: first, $1,000 cash: second, $500; third, $250; fourth, $100 and gold medals as well as other state and local awards to the winners.

Judging of the themes, 1,000 words or less, will be on the basis of literary construction, originality and patriotic inspiration.

Further information on the 1962-63 contest may be obtained from local Auxiliary units or by writing to the Contest Department, VFW Auxiliary, 406 W. 34th St., Kansas City 11, Mo.

HOW CUM YOU WANT A REFRIGERATOR-FREEZER?

NEW REFRIGERATOR-FREEZERS END ALL DEFROSTING

Today's modern, "carefree-design" refrigerator-freezers end all defrosting in both refrigerator and freezer sections. This means no frost ever—on food packages, ice cube trays or walls—no defrosting drudgery ever—no scraping, no chipping, no prying, no messy pans of water to empty (or spill). And, the handsome refrigerator-freezer models beautify every kitchen. The interior arrangement is planned for spacious food storage and easy access to food supplies. In addition, the new refrigerator-freezers will:

- Store enough fresh and frozen foods to last for weeks—conveniently at your fingertips.
- Save extra trips to the market.
- Keep leftovers fresh and tasty until needed.
- Save money because the large freezer compartment allows you to buy meats, vegetables and baked goods when prices are low.
- Give you peace of mind because you can store enough for hungry family and unexpected guests.

Rotarians Hear Sager's Report of Rotary Day

Ron Dillingham asked chairmen of various committees to give short talks regarding their duties at the meeting of Rotary July 17 at the Methodist Church.

Ralph Sager reported on the coming golf day August 14, at the Tecumseh Country Club. He delegated members to attend neighboring clubs to invite their members to the event.

Harold Easton, finemaster, collected dividends from certain lucky members who attended the races at the Detroit Raceway Saturday.

My Neighbors

"Of course, Virginia, I remember when we were married. It was the day the Dodgers won a double-header."

It's Farm Safety Week July 22-28

One death every 47 minutes. A disabling injury every 33 seconds.

That's what happens every day on the nation's farms.

All of Michigan's rural families should give special attention to safety during National Farm Safety Week July 22-28.

The theme this year is, "Family Safety—At Work and Play."

Farmers and rural people need to be alerted to the many hazards they face every day, and youth of the state need to be made more aware of the alarming rate of fatal farm accidents which occur on roads and highways each year.

Three out of four people who lost their lives on the nation's highways in 1961 died on rural roads.

More than 2,600 farm people lost their lives in their own home last year.

Farm accidents and fires cost rural families about one-seventh of their total net incomes each year.

The farm safety picture is improving—thanks to the efforts of education.

Fatal farm mishaps have declined one-fourth since 1955, while farm production has continued to climb during the same period.

The number of fatalities per 1,000 farm workers dropped 15 per cent during that time.

Farm Safety Week is a good time for all rural families to take added safety precautions and make new resolutions for the coming year.

All Pets Should Be Vaccinated

Although the number of cases of rabies reported to the Michigan Department of Agriculture's livestock disease control division showed an appreciable reduction for the first six months of the year, Dr. John F. Quinn, state veterinarian, recommends that dog owners have their pets vaccinated.

For the initial six months of 1962 only 28 cases of rabies were reported, as compared to 63 cases for the same period a year ago.

Once an animal contracts rabies there is no cure or treatment, but the disease can be prevented in dogs by vaccination

In humans the disease is usually caused by a person being bitten by an infected animal.

Dr. Quinn recommends that dog owners, to be on the safe side, have their pets vaccinated by their local veterinarian.

Plan OES Picnic

The Lenawee-Monroe County Association OES will hold the annual picnic Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in the Britton Park.

All Masons and Eastern Stars in the area are invited.

Members will bring table service, rolls, beverage and a dish to pass.

There will be entertainment and games.

Marda Gene Duncan's

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THEY DIDN'T LET ME DOWN

The night before I had gloated, "When you want to watch some busy wrens, help yourselves to our picture window—the wren tree is alive with business these days."

Marsh's wrens, the ones who had built in the little house right by their porch, had been most interesting, but several days before, the youngsters apparently all grown up, they had flown away.

Now, I was beginning to wonder if I had boasted too soon.

It was an off-again, on-again, rainy Sunday afternoon and between showers, Marge had walked over to wren watch.

Fine—but where were the wrens?

Oh, they were around. We could hear them singing, but we wanted to watch, not listen.

As mentioned before, it was a wet day. The leaves on the wren tree, actually, it is a maple tree, but a small wren-house perches on one of the lower branches—anyway, the leaves are so big that when it rains, they become heavy and droop way down.

Whereas the wren house is usually in full view, it was now partially obscured.

This was not the trouble, however. The wrens were simply being coy and playing hard to see.

Mom and Marge kept running from window to porch trying to get just a little glimpse. We knew the birds were flitting around, we could follow their progress by the sound.

It was a fine day for singing. They were in beautiful voice. Their loud trills were just bubbling.

Occasionally one of the birds stayed put long enough to afford a tiny look but this was certainly not the wren-watching I had boasted about.

Meanwhile, back at the feeders, another show was under way.

Two half-grown fox squirrels and their big fat mother were showing off. She took possession of the corn-tree, and any ideas the youngsters had about sharing were quickly taken care of.

She was eating, rain or no rain, hungry children or no hungry children — Mother Squirrel was feasting upon corn.

One of the babies found his way up to the feeder and what a feast. Between courses he scampered to the ground for a bit of exercise and really, as he walked around, it was exactly as if he hated to get his feet wet.

Each step was exaggerated, his feet were carefully, almost gingerly, placed and oh, how high each big foot was lifted.

Obviously this was a youngster who was not enjoying his first experience with wet grass.

When the feeder was unoccupied, very wet and very young and very noisy blue-jays swooped in.

They were so be-draggled looking, of all the birds I do think the blue jays look the worst when they are soaked, don't you?

When the squirrel came back the jays of course left, but they didn't go far.

From the wren-tree they screamed and squawked. They were hungry and wanted everybody in the world to know it, I guess.

The other squirrel had gone out to the fence and was having trouble, too. No corn for both ears were empty and he just couldn't believe it.

Such twisting and turning, he crawled all over the ears. We laughted at times when it looked almost as if he were biting his toes. He was quite a contortionist!

About now the umpteenth shower of the day stopped and our fellow looker decided she had better start home.

She stood up and of all things—there on the fence was a wren. It postured and posed, hopped from post to rail and just more than showed off.

He was so proud of himself and his perky tilted-up tail just seemed to say, "Well, I've teased you long enough, I've had my fun and now see how very cute I am!"

So it is that my gloating was finally vindicated—the wren at least showed up. The day however was really saved by our regulars, the squirrels and the blue-jays.

They put on quite a show and didn't let me down.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

An Independent newspaper, published every Thursday morning at 117 S. Evans Street. Entered at the Post Office in Tecumseh, Michigan as second class matter.

CO-PUBLISHERS — James C. Lincoln and Thomas A. Riordan
Subscription rates: $3 in Lenawee County, $4 elsewhere

VOICE OF THE HERALD

The One-Tenth Needs Attention

An ex-navy man, now an executive in a Tecumseh business, chided the top story in last week's paper, "I read about all the [illegible] is wrong with Tecumseh. [illegible] thing you didn't say was 'Abandon ship!' "

"Why didn't you mention what is right with Tecumseh?" he asked.

We hastened to add that we were simply reporting what was brought out at last week's Council meeting.

However, this gentleman has a point. There are so many items "right" about our community—the wonderful industrial lineup we have, the excellent school system, the many fine homes, alert business places, the first-rate fire and police departments, the A-1 hospital, the beautiful Community Center, the grand people.

But like the man who has 10 children, nine of whom are exemplary citizens, it's the flamboyant one who gets all the attention and notoriety.

We realize, although Tecumseh is nine-tenths "right", the one-tenth will get the publicity.

It's the duty of civic leaders to face facts and we admire our Council for tackling a long-range project to ferret out the items which need correcting.

Topping the list is the concern over retail business.

Sales at many stores have been falling off, although there are some who can show an increase in gross business over 1961.

Merchants want to do something constructive, but sometimes, such a situation is actually too big for individuals involved to figure out the answer. This, and other city problems, can then best be resolved through a committee of community leaders.

When it was proposed to Council that plans might be [illegible] to tackle the sticky points, under the banner of Urban Renewal, the city fathers agreed.

Right now, a carefully-selected group, which will represent city government and important community groups, is being prepared.

When these persons are confirmed by Council, their first task will be to assess the situation.

If it is decided to pursue Urban Renewal with available Federal Aid, the next step will be to have a comprehensive survey made of the city problems.

Just this week, Sault Ste. Marie, Coopersville, Ithaca and Albion received grants totaling $37,000 in Federal money to survey their towns under Urban Renewal. They'll have to match this with approximately $12,300.

However, assets from the communities need not be in cash.

Adrian has begun to turn the Urban Renewal wheels in motion. Our neighbor has received a prospectus from a firm which performs survey work.

Pointed out is the fact that Adrian would have its preliminaries handled for about $30,000—of this, $20,000 would be from Federal funds.

As to the balance, only about $1,000 would be in cold cash. The other nine would come in the form of services by city employees and rental of city facilities in the pursuit of the facts.

Council has definitely taken a forward step in sparking this project. We wish the effort well.

It's A Pioneer Study

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Since the Tecumseh Community Health Study has been securing detailed information on the health of this city's citizens.

(In the second of a series of articles, Dr. Frederick Epstein, acting medical director of the Study, offers our readers some insight into the results and progress of the study so far.)

By DR. FREDERICK EPSTEIN

What practical contributions has the Tecumseh Community Health Study made so far toward its goals.

► To discover factors which predispose and lead to disease.

► To establish more firmly suspected relationships between illness and its causes.

► To use this knowledge to preserve health?

While progress has been made the honest answer to those who hope for quick and simple solutions to complicated problems must be that the knowledge thus far gained does not lend itself to ready application.

There is no lack of a sense of great urgency on the part of the Research Staff of the Study and there is no complacency about the fact that spectacular breakthroughs are not yet in sight.

However almost all the great advances in the field of medicine so far have been in the conquest of some but not all of the major infectious diseases.

It took many decades and untold work until these discoveries led to practical results, such as the control of diphtheria, tuberculosis and polio.

The great and unmet challenge in medicine today relates to diseases or middle and later life, such as arteriosclerosis, cancer, arthritis, high blood pressure, diabetes, and disorders of digestion and lung function.

Researchers are also interested in the early roots of these disorders during the formative years and impairments, frequently recognized, which are present from birth.

A determined and full-scale effort to investigate and control these conditions has not been made until very recent years.

It may be said with both pride and some humility that the Tecumseh Study is in the forefront of these activities.

THE CLINIC at Herrick Memorial Hospital has been visited by medical research workers from many parts of the country and from abroad.

Requests are constantly received in Ann Arbor for details concerning the aims and procedures used in the Study.

Reports relating to the Study have been so far presented at 10 national scientific meetings and published in 6 medical and scientific journals.

In this way, Tecumseh has become well known in the medical world.

☆

THE FINDINGS analyzed so far relate to the distribution of health and disease in the community, using the interview and examination data familiar to those who have participated in the Study.

Special interest is being attached to those relatively all too infrequent people who are "amazingly healthy" and that makes them that way.

We must not forget that this type of information is quite unique because never before has a whole population been examined and studied in such detail and never before has it been possible to obtain so comprehensive a picture of community health.

Moreover, never before has it been possible to relate these findings to the small group on which so much of our life centers—the family and the home.

☆

IT IS NOT POSSIBLE for the practicing physician to obtain this total view of health and disease because, in his important work, he sees, by and large, only those with medical complaints.

The Tecumseh Community Health Study, on the other hand, obtains additional information on those who have evidence of ill-health unknown to them and those who, while feeling well, show findings which might be an early indication of future difficulties.

The continuous observation of this latter group is of particular importance. In them, one hopes to discover the factors which protect against illness in the face of predisposing odds.

No more than a beginning has been made in this pioneering venture—a beginning, however, which already shows much promise.

Station Wagon Window Source of Real Danger

LANSING — The unattended station wagon with an automatic tailgate window was pointed to as a potential child-killer, by State Health Commissioner, Dr. Albert E. Heustis.

The Commissioner's warning followed several recent incidents, one of them fatal, in which children have caught their heads in an automatic window.

Children should never be left alone in an automobile under any conditions, Dr. Heustis said.

But a car with automatic windows is a booby-trap. The power of these windows, exerting up to 50 pounds pressure, is enough to strangle a child easily.

In standard models, the windows work only when the ignition key is on, but in most station wagons with automatic tailgate windows, the ignition key is not required.

If two or more children are allowed to play in such a car, the window can become a blunt guillotine for one of them.

A lot of people seem to think of a station wagon as a kind of mobile playpen, the Commissioner commented. It's a dangerous practice.

The eventual answer, he said, lies in engineering and the automobile industry is actively engaged in trying to solve the problem.

However, right today, the only answer is to keep the kids out of the car when it's unattended.

Merchants Toss Annual Sidewalk Sale, Free Pancake Dinner

If the weatherman cooperates, Tecumseh's Annual Sidewalk Sale this Friday should draw the biggest turnout in its four-year history.

Coupled with the 1962 event will be the city's Free Pancake Supper and Women's Pancake Race.

There'll be an auto show, too, with the four Tecumseh dealers displaying cars in the off-street parking lot immediately behind the fire station.

A kiddies ferris wheel will spin all day behind the Strand Theater, with free rides for all youngsters.

Festivities open at 9 a.m. and run for 12 straight hours. Downtown sidewalks will be crammed with bargain merchandise. Storemen are featuring summer clearance as well as back-to-school items.

The Herald's booth, where glossy prints of pictures that appeared in the town's weekly during the past year, can be obtained for a dime, is expected to be a popular spot once again. Upwards of 300 photos are sold each year.

There'll be plenty of free entertainment.

Starting at 4 p.m., city police will block S. Evans St., from the Four Corners to the fire station.

A slick, uniformed marching unit, the Aowakiyas, will stage an exhibition of precision drill at 4:15 in the blocked-off area.

The second annual running of the Pancake Race will begin at 7:15 at the Four Corners, with the sprinters covering a 415-yard track on Chicago Blvd.

This is the event patterned after the Olney, England race, which has been run there for more than 500 years.

Feminine contestants, each armed with a griddle in which there is a pancake, sprint, skip or trot down the course. At four places along the way ribbons run overhead.

Each racer must flip her pancake over the line and catch it coming down the other side.

Last years champion, Bonnie Sniffen, a 41-year-old cafeteria worker, will be on hand to defend her title.

All women, who are at least 18, are eligible to run. They may sign up at The Herald booth or the fire station before 7 p.m. Friday.

A preliminary sprint, for girls 15 through 17, will be held.

After the race, there'll be a Twist Contest at 8 p.m. on S. Evans St. Everyone is invited to take part. This event is being staged by the Tecumseh Teen Club.

Each patron making a purchase of $1 or more at a sponsoring store will receive a pass to the Tecumseh swimming pool. These are being given through courtesy of the city government.

Free pancake dinners will be served at the fire station from 5 until 9. Members of the Jaycee Auxiliary will do the hot cake flipping and serving, cooking on three giant grills furnished by the Quaker Oats

Tables and chairs are being loaned to the merchants for the dinner by St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. They'll be set up in the parking lot behind Bill Wright's Drug Store.

John Day, manager of Woolworth's and young Don Martin, co-owner of Gamble's are co-chairman of this event.

TECUMSEH HERALD

LENAWEE COUNTY'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

SERVING TECUMSEH, BRITTON, RIDGEWAY, MACON AND TIPTON

VOLUME 111 — ONE HUNDRED TWELFTH YEAR — NUMBER 43 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 2, 1962 | 18 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

An extra 1,000 copies of The Herald were run off this week for distribution to cottages in the Irish Hills area.

Probably, for most of the folks receiving these, it will be the first time they ever saw this weekly.

This column is written to them.

First of all, if you're not busy Friday, why not come to Tecumseh for the annual Sidewalk Sale and Free Pancake Dinner.

It goes on from 9 to 9, with cakes served at the fire hall, 5 to 9.

This will give you a good chance to see our town, of which we Tecumsehites are really proud.

Oh, we have our little differences of opinion now and again, but we agree on one point — Tecumseh is a grand place to live and work.

Let me tell you about our community.

It's tabbed "The Refrigeration Capitol of the World," because we have the largest manufacturer of refrigeration compressors on the face of the globe.

This is Tecumseh Products Co., which employes between 2,500 and 3,000.

If you were to look behind the refrigerator or home freezer at your place, or the nearest air conditioner, chances would be good that they'd contain units made in Tecumseh.

We have other fine, smaller industries, too, in fact, as you'll note in the next couple of columns, a new one is just moving in.

Tecumseh takes great pride in its churches — places of worship for almost every denomination.

The hospital here, which can handle 100 patients, is modern, well staffed and rates as one of the state's best.

Schools in our town, like those in most parts of the nation, have been the center of lots of conversation in recent years.

Ours are tops, but we did have a real problem a while back, when services had to be cut — first grades on half days, etc.

Our board asked citizens to approve a two-mill operating levy, but the answer was no. After a while, the board said the district needed four mills. But again, there was a negative return.

Last spring, the four-mill issue came up once more and the boardmen said the situation was really getting desperate.

A bunch of teen agers studied the situation and decided they'd do everything they could to bring in a "yes" vote.

They talked to folks, put up signs, phoned about 2,000 voters the night before the election.

There was a real crowd at the high school cafeteria the evening the voting ended when the machines were tabulated.

When three of the four had been totaled, the race stood tied, 933-933. You could have heard a feather crash to the floor as officials went to the final machine.

That one broke the tie and the final tally was:

YES—1,381
NO—1,377

A difference of four votes!

It was hard to convince anyone in the Tecumseh District after that a fellow's vote doesn't count.

We've got a wonderful town here. Hope you'll come over Friday.

WATCH MACHINERY ARRIVE — Among interested spectators Monday, first moving day for Faraday, Inc., were Ken P. Miller (left), plant production manager; Fred J. Wordan, Faraday vice-president and general manager; and Karl Schneider, member of Tecumseh's Area Industrial Development Corp., which brought the Adrian manufacturer here. They're viewing one of the first loads of punch presses entering the 84,000-square-foot building. Yes, the tall machine was just able to make it under the door jam.

Vote Is Tuesday

Tuesday August 7 is Primary Election day in Michigan and local polls will be open all day, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Faraday Moves In

Faraday, Inc. is rapidly becoming an all-Tecumseh firm. Moving operations began for the former Adrian industry, which is re-establishing here in a brand, spanking new 84,000-square-foot, one-story structure at S. Maumee St. and Russell Rd. Production equipment, including 48 large punch presses, which range from four to 90-tons in capacity, will be in place by Aug. 13, which is the beginning of the work week following the annual two-week vacation period. Then, office gear will come over. Faraday officials contemplate that everything will be in order here by Sept. 1.

Doug Dunn Speaks Before Power Class

Douglas Dunn, local funeral director, was the featured speaker of the Power Class of the Friends Church Saturday evening, July 28 in the church basement.

Mr. Dunn spoke on a variety of subjects related to the mortuary business. He also discussed first aid methods.

Some of the many details which the funeral director must attend to are contacting the minister, finalizing a time for the funeral service, helping the family decide between a church or funeral home service, respecting the wishes of churches and family regarding flowers, helping to prepare the obituaries, newspaper releases and death certificates, making necessary arrangements at the cemetery, ordering vaults and lending assistance in filling out insurance and social security forms.

From the book "Funeral Customs the World Over," by Habenstein and Lamers, Mr. Dunn discussed customs for burial in China.

Ashley Chase, president of the class, conducted the business meeting.

Arnold Wilson led the group in singing and the Rev. Paul Brantingham had charge of devotions.

A shower of groceries from the church family was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wilson during the evening.

Refreshments of homemade ice cream and cookies were served by the general chairmen for the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Spohr of Britton.

Besides Mr. Dunn and his wife, guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Kehl and Inspector and Mrs. Richard F. Richardson and children Duane and Cheryl.

Mr. Richardson is a former member of the Power Class and he and his family make their home in Pittsburgh, Penn.

Entertained with Slides

Electricians mate John W. Swanston and his wife and infant daughter have returned to Long Branch, N. J. after spending two weeks here.

Saturday evening his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swanston, of Macon and his sister, Sylvia, entertained 25 relatives in his honor and for Norbert Marsh of Tecumseh who will enlist in the army soon.

Mr. Swanston showed movies he had taken in Bermuda, Cuba, Puerto Rico, France, Italy and Germany.

Mr. Swanston serves the Navy aboard the USNS Buckner.

Blood Donors Sought

The pint of blood you give may save a life.

The opportunity is here for you to give this pint while the county's mobile unit is in Tecumseh Thursday, August 9 from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Donors are asked to call at the Methodist Church anytime during the afternoon and may register prior to August 9 by calling the hospital, HA 3-2141.

It is not necessary to sign up prior to Thursday, but it will help the workers distribute the flow of people.

Whenever possible, donors are asked to come early to avoid the late afternoon arrival of businessmen and Products workers.

Babysitting services will be provided at the Methodist Church, supervised by members of the Teen Club.

Anyone needing transportation to the church is asked to call Tecumseh HA 3-2421 or in Clinton, GL 6-4152. Cars have been donated by Wilson Motor Sales, Tecumseh Motors, Inc. and Schneider Bros.

Members of the JC Auxiliary and the Gray Ladies are assisting the mobile unit staff during the afternoon.

Tecumseh policemen have volunteered to assist with the unloading of supplies at the church

Chairman of the Tecumseh drive is Orrie Gilbert. Mrs. Marvin Nelson has been recruiting the volunteer workers.

The current drive is the first of a series of drives which will be conducted in Tecumseh to help fill Lenawee County's total blood needs. It will be used by local hospitals whenever needed, free of charge.

Under this new Red Cross sponsored program, blood can be secured quickly whenever needed in any location in the country.

Tecumseh Players Recruit Members

Area residents are currently being invited to join the ecumseh Players.

Play reading committee members are preparing the best schedule of plays for the coming season with opportunities for everyone.

In addition to actors, the group needs seamstresses, electricians, painters, prop girls, promptors and ushers.

Anyone interested in joining little theatre work is invited by the Players to call Mrs. Ralph Dabe, HA 3-7074 or Mrs. Allen Russell, HA 3-4331.

They are in charge of membership and will be glad to give detailed information

Dues are $3 per person or $5 per couple.

Art, Flower Show To Be September 8

Area artists and craftsmen are invited to participate in the Little Garden Club's Art and Flower Show to be held Saturday, September 8, at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Already scheduled for exhibit are the works of members of the Artist Key Club, photographs, rocks and minerals and handcrafted jewelry.

Anyone interested is requested to call Mrs. Douglas Dunn, HA 3-4525 or Mrs. Robert Murray HA 3-3357.

At the recent Street Fair in Ann Arbor, over a hundred artists participated, to the delight of the thousands who streamed through the exhibits set up in two blocked-off streets on the University of Michigan campus.

Osburn, McKenna Move Office

Jack Osburn, Tecumseh real estate and insurance agent, has purchased the house at 304 E. Chicago Blvd. for his new office.

Attorney James P. McKenna has located his office in the house which has been completely remodeled downstairs.

For the past two weeks, carpenters have installed new paneled walls, accoustic tile ceiling and new floors. The new office is located just east of the Church of Christ, formerly the old Catholic church building.

Family Gathers for Anniversary of The Butlers

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butler of 501 W. Kilbuck were feted Saturday night for their 25th wedding anniversary.

Their daughters, Lois and Karen, of Ann Arbor entertained the family for dinner at the Old German restaurant.

Mary Yenor and Harold Butler were married in Angola, Ind. July 2, 1937.

They are the parents of six children; Mrs. Robert Handy of Clinton, Mrs. Robert Partain of Tecumseh, Lois and Karen Butler of Ann Arbor, Harold Jr. and Terry at home.

They also have three grandchildren.

Annual Tour

The annual fall tour of the Raisin Slickers 4-H Club will be held Sunday, August 5 at 12:30 p.m.

The tour will begin at the home of Jerry, Ronnie and Donna Forsyth and members will return there later for a weiner roast.

Parents are also invited to attend.

Magene Warren Marries Thomas Weatherwax

Magene Warren of 117 Vineyard Court, Brooklyn and Thomas Carl Weatherwax of 114 Chicago St., Brooklyn were united in marriage July 29 at the First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. William Harvey.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Dannels of Breman Highway, Tipton, and Harold Warren of 1203 Russell Road, Tecumseh.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of nylon organza over taffeta with a rounded neckline appliqued with daisies and pearls. The overskirt was embroidered nylon organza in a floral pattern.

A crown of pearls and crystals held her elbow length veil in place and she carried pink sweetheart roses and ivy on top of her grandmother's white Bible.

Mrs. James Warren was matron of honor in a pale blue sheath dress styled with short sleeves, rounded neckline and an overskirt like the bride's.

She wore a white hat with a short veil and carried a nosegay of yellow daisies.

Barbara Harris and Mrs. Richard Staub were bridesmaids in dresses like that of the matron of honor. They also carried daisies.

Gary Du Bois served as best man and the guests were seated by James Warren, brother of the bride. Norman, Frederick and Steven Weatherwax, all brothers of the groom.

David Donaldson of Brooklyn was the soloist.

A reception for 250 was held at the Brooklyn High School.

The couple will make their home in Brooklyn after a trip through Northern Michigan.

MR. AND MRS. LARRY A. MATZINGER

Vera Michajlenko Is Married Sunday

Vera P. Michajlenko became the bride of Larry Albert Matzinger in ceremonies July 28 at the Russian Orthodox, St. Peter and Paul Church in Detroit.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Michajlenko of 606 S. Occidental Highway and Mrs. Alfred Matzinger of Toledo, O. and her late husband.

The radiant bride was given in marriage by her father before 300 guests.

She wore a floor length gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace and tulle fashioned with Sabrina neckline, long tapered sleeves ending over the wrists and a bouffant skirt featuring tiers of tulle ruffles.

Her veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a crown of organza roses. She carried pink roses and white carnations.

Alla Michajlenko was her sister's maid of honor in a sheath dress of romance blue taffeta with lace bodice and overskirts.

A taffeta bow secured her short blue veil and she carried a pink and white bouquet.

Carole Runk of Grand Rapids, Shirley Smith of Toledo, and Mrs. Oleg Michajlenko of Britton were the bridesmaids attired as the maid of honor.

James Roades of Toledo served as best man. Guests were seated by Jerry Keller and James Perry of Toledo and Oleg Michajlenko of Britton.

A four-tiered cake decorated with pink roses and flanked with blue candles on a pink table cover was featured at the reception at the United Products Workers Union Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wright were the hosts and Mrs. Emil Korican cut the cake.

Gloria Hummel of Britton served the punch and Mrs. Larry Wittrup registered the guests.

Others assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cubberly, Mrs. Theodore Beck, Mrs. John Kopka, Sandra Bailey and Donna Skinner.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Cleary College.

Her husband attended Toledo University. They will make their home at 3656 Rudy Road in Toledo.

Mrs. Theodore Beck of Ann Arbor served the rehearsal dinner at the home of the bride's parents.

Alert, Aggressive Leadership Needed in Michigan's Senate

Michigan's Senate needs a l e r t, aggressive leadership representing the 19th District — Lenawee and Monroe Counties — during the coming battle of apportionment.

C h a r l e y F i g y has a brilliant 20-year background of government service in highly-responsible state and national positions.

For eight years he served in President Eisenhower's administration as an Assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture. Prior to that he headed up Michigan's agriculture for 11 years.

Mr. Figy is well-versed on the 19th District having capably represented these two counties as a delegate to the recent Constitutional Convention.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE MEADES

Mr. And Mrs. Geo. Meads Celebrate Anniversary

Tuesday marked the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Meads of 315 Adrian St.

George Meads and Christine Abner were married in the Abner home, east of Britton, by the Rev. William Spencer of Toledo, O., August 7, 1937.

They are the parents of three children, Mrs. Gary Penrod of Chillicothe, O., Richard and Georgia at home.

They have two grandsons, Kirk Allen and Eric M. Penrod.

The family has planned open house for them Sunday, August 12, at the Friends Church from 2 until 5 p.m. with friends and relatives invited.

Mr. Mead is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Meads of S. Pearl St. and his wife is the daughter of Mrs. G. A. Abner and the late Mr. Abner of E. Logan St.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Errors are so easily made, especially in a newspaper column. It's no trouble at all to change a lady to her husband simply by omitting the "s" in Mrs.; to promote or demote one of the servicemen by hitting the wrong typewriter key and just last week I moved a lady right in with her daughter without a second thought.

That's what assumption does for you. I assumed that Mrs. Jessie Brown lives with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Everhart, just because she spends the summers with her at the lake.

Nothing could be farther from the truth and I can't blame Mrs. B. for wanting it known that she maintains her own home at 304 E. Kilbuck St. where she sews and sews and sews.

About all this old "assumer" can do is vow not to assume again, take two turns around the typewriter and tackle newspapering from another angle.

They Need Understanding

Many children in the State of Michigan need substitute parents, a home and someone to care and kindle the spark of happiness again in lonely eyes.

These children have been uprooted from their own homes for various reasons. Their parents may be divorced, separated or dead.

Some parents are unable to provide proper care due to physical or mental illness. Some neglect their children, others desert them.

Some children have special problems that require foster parents with unusual understanding to work and live with them.

Foster parents are substitute parents. They don't just "board" children. They give the children the love, security and understanding so badly needed.

The first step to taking one of these children into the home is to make an application.

Memoriam

IN MEMORY of our loving mother, Myrtle Belle Watson, who died one year ago July 29, 1961.

"Always kind to us was mother.
Always good and brave and true.
Though her tasks were often heavy
She would always see them through.
Now she's resting up in heaven,
In that blessed land above;
Where there's no more pain or sorrow,
Only joy and peace and love.

Sadly missed by her family.

● HAROLD K. BLACK

Services were held in the Raisin Valley Church Wednesday for Harold K. Black, Lenawee County horticulturist for many years, who died Saturday at the University Medical Center in Ann Arbor where he had been a patient for nearly three weeks.

He had been in failing health for the past three months.

Born Oct. 25, 1894, in Camden, Mich., he was the son of Burley and Minnie Biggleman Black.

He had lived in Lenawee county since early childhood and attended Adrian schools.

He resided at his present home at 3307 North Adrian Highway since 1951 where he operated Blacks Nursery until his death.

Mr. Black previously owned and operated the Raisin Valley Orchards for 27 years, and then moved into Adrian for seven years.

He attended the Raisin Valley Friends church and was a member of the Pathfinders class.

Dec. 24, 1918, he married Velma Emery of Adrian, who survives with one son, Harold J. Black of Tecumseh, and one grandchild, Deborah Black.

Also surviving is one cousin, Lowell Black of Pompano Beach Fla.

He was preceded in death by one brother Kenneth.

The Rev. Lawrence Cox officiated, assisted by the eRv. Paul Brantingham. Burial was in the Raisin Valley cemetery.

● CHARLES F. GRITZMAKER

Services were held in Adrian Saturday for Charles Gritzmaker, 79, father of George Gritzmaker of rural Tecumseh, who died July 25 in Bixby Hospital.

The Rev. Raymond Taylor officiated and burial was in the Oakwood cemetery.

—o—

● MRS. ABEL RANDOLPH

Services were held at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home for Mrs. Abel Randolph, 70, who died Saturday at her home at 402 S. Pearl St.

Mrs. Randolph was born July 24, 1892, in West Unity, O. the daughter of Samuel and Mary Bowers Flowers.

She was married to Mr. Randolph Oct. 10, 1910.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three sons, Edwin and Ralph Randolph of Tecumseh and Kenneth of Britton; three daughters, Mrs. Byron Keller of Toledo, Mrs. Jack Saxton of Tipton and Mrs. Russell Williams of Britton.

Two brothers, Erwin Flowers of Tecumseh and Huberf Flowers of Hudson; four sisters, Mrs. William Stuck of North Adams, Mrs. Clyde Camp and Mrs. Lynn Dewey, both of Hillsdale, and Mrs. Kenneth Smith of Prattville and 15 grandchildren also survive.

Preceding her in death were two brothers and one sister.

The Rev. Jack Warner officiated and burial was in the Lenawee Hills Gardens.

The DeVols to Conduct Services

Dr. and Mrs. Ezra DeVol will be participating in the Sunday morning services at the Tecumseh Friends Church.

At the 10 a.m. service, Dr. DeVol will bring the message and Mrs. DeVol will speak to the intermediate and junior departments during Sunday school hour.

The DeVols have just returned from India.

Dr. DeVol is superintendent of the Friends Mission in Chhatarpur M.P., India, as well as the chief surgeon in charge of the Friends hospital.

Mrs. DeVol as a registered nurse, assists her husband and is in charge of the nurses of the hospital.

Mrs. DeVol is well known to many in this area, having been employed at Herrick Hospital before going to India.

Lord of All

Coleen Townsend Evans will star in "Lord of All" at the Devils Lake Drive-In, Saturday, August 4 at 8:30 P.M. and Sunday, August 5 at 9:15 P.M.

Life Magazine carried a feature story with Coleen Townsend on the cover, as one of the most promising movie starlets in Hollywood. Her future was bright.

Not long after this magazine coverage, Coleen Townsend took the most dramatic step of her life and career.

In "Lord of All" the audience can see why Life Magazine gave her this tremendous coverage.

Pole Fire

Tecumseh firemen were called Friday at 7:40 a.m. to put out a fire in a Consumers Power light pole at the edge of the business district on W. Chicago Blvd.

The fire started when a line broke and fell to the ground short-circuiting and setting fire to the pole.

George Green, Jr. Gets Promotion

George Green, Jr., former Tecumseh mortician, has been named branch manager of the Plainwell Bank now merged with the American National Bank of Kalamazoo.

Beardsley Home Will Be on TV

Tecumseh residents will enjoy the Michigan Outdoors program Thursday evening because pictures of Lenawee County are being featured. The James Beardsley home and Frontier City scenes were taken this past week by Mort Neff's photographer.

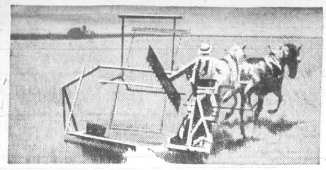
It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that



IN MICHIGAN, farmers were harvesting badly needed grain for the Union armies. Michigan was one of the Union's important suppliers during the Civil War. And, after the war, the State's grain farmers found a good market with Michigan's pioneer brewers.

For even then, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. Beer still provides enjoyment for folks in Michigan and a good living for the many employees and suppliers of the Brewing Industry.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

A TOAST TO THE PAST - A SALUTE TO THE FUTURE

UNITED STATES BREWERS ASSOCIATION, INC.

OUR READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:
OPEN LETTER TO SENATOR ELMER PORTER

Come, come Mr. Porter. Let us have no more "half truths." While you are out politicing and in your ads appealing for re-election, you have stated "that you did not vote for the increase in pay to the State Legislators."

The record in Lansing says that you "TOOK A WALK" at the time to vote and therefore you did not vote FOR or AGAINST the bill.

Consequently our district did not receive your support one way or the other.

Infirmary Casting $170,00 Given Home for Boys

Due to the generosity of a local benefactor the Starr Commonwealth for Boys at Albion will have a new $170,000 infirmary soon.

According to Floyd Starr, president of the board, the new building was necessary to the welfare of the boys and they are most grateful for the donation.

Here's Why Figy Runs

Charley Figy, a delegate to the Michigan Constitutional Convention and with 20 years of government service behind him, is opposing Elmer Porter for his seat in the Michigan Senate.

Here is a question and answer session with Mr. Figy.

QUESTION — Charley, why are you running for the Senate?

ANSWER — People around the district asked me to run and I think the main reason they did was because they knew my 20 years of administrative experience in state and federal government would be of value to our legislature.

QUESTION — How would it be of value?

ANSWER — We've been in a stalemate in state government for several years. My experience is working with people, getting them to cooperate should help the Legislature come up with some definite answers to our state problems.

QUESTION — When would you say, this talent developed, the ability to get people to work together?

ANSWER — My job in Washington for eight years during the Eisenhower administration with the Department of Agriculture was as a coordinator between it and the various state agencies. My responsibility was to help solve agriculture through the entire United States.

QUESTION — How did you do that?

ANSWER — Well, basically, we had to get some ground rules. I worked out a policy statement which defined the duties of different agencies. This was the first time in the history of the department that such a cooperative program has been put down on paper. It helped greatly and I hope the present administration continues to use it.

QUESTION — How can this experience apply to Michigan's "mess?"

ANSWER — Well, first of all, we should define our problems, just as we did in Con-Con. We should determine where the responsibility for each state operation rests.

QUESTION — Could you give us an example?

ANSWER — Take the increasing costs of educating our youngsters. Who should shoulder the cost of running our schools? I don't think the local property owner should carry the greater burden. Many of our small districts pay for the education of the boys and girls, then when they graduate from high school, the youths move out of the area to make their livelihood.

QUESTION — Are you a conservative, Charley?

ANSWER — Yes, and I like to follow the philosophy of Henry Ford, who was well-known as a conservative. Mr. Ford used to say, "I don't mind spending a dollar if I get a dollar's value."

QUESTION — Speaking of money, Charley, many people in the district and throughout the state are concerned about the spending in state government. How would you tackle this problem?

ANSWER — In Con-Con, we wrote several proposed changes to help accomplish greater economy within the state, all of which I back 100%, such as reducing the number of state agencies from 120 to 20. Also, eliminating the costly spring elections.

QUESTION — What is your background in finances?

ANSWER — For 20 years, I have been a member of the Bank of Lenawee board of directors, advising on farm loans and other financial matters. Of course, I have been responsible for running my own farming operations near Morenci for more than 40 years — at times, up to 480 acres.

QUESTION — If elected, would you devote full-time to the Senate?

ANSWER — I would. I would not take any other full-time job or engage in activities which would interfere with giving complete attention to the Senate.

QUESTION — Charley, are you supporting George Romney for governor?

ANSWER — Most certainly. I've known him personally for almost 20 years and have high regard for his record in industry. I've been close enough to Mr. Romney to realize he's a real leader and he'll be able to pull people together.

Win or lose in my own race to get the Republican nomination for Senator, I'm going to campaign actively for him.

And, I believe George can do it.

Rev. Mr. Bancroft Will Visit Family

The Rev. Charles Bancroft will arrive Thursday to spend the day with his mother, Mrs. Vira Bancroft, and sister, Helen. Friday he will go to Battle Creek.

'King of Kings' Premiering

"King of Kings" will make its premier showing in Lenawee County August 8 at Tecumseh's Strand Theatre.

It will continue for seven days, through August 14.

This MGM production of the life and times of Christ has been hailed by some as the finest biblical film ever made.

Starring Jeffrey Hunter in the role of Christ, "King of Kings" has broken all attendance records for religious and current pictures throughout the country.

Others in the movie include Siobhan McKenna as Mary, the mother of Jesus, Hurd Hatfield as Pontius Pilate and Robert Ryan as John the Baptist.

The showing takes three full hours, with an intermission.

"King of Kings" went into production in 1958, and filming began in 1960.

The movie is produced by Samuel Bronston and directed by Nicholas Ray.

According to Floyd Guy, Jr., Strand manager, "King of Kings" is a good picture for everyone.

Republican Finance Folks Set

Mrs. Yale Kerby, area chairman of the Republican Finance Committee, has named her co-workers for the various townships and the city of Tecumseh.

They are:

Mr .and Mrs. George Schumm
Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nixon
Mrs. John Hamilton, Tecumseh precinct chairmen
Mrs. Charles Gross, Tecumseh township
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vollmer, Macon
Mr. and Mrs. M. Halley, Clinton
Mr. and Mrs. James Howard, Clinton
Mr and Mrs. Charles Brannigan, Ridgeway
Mr. and Mrs. M. Dibble, Franklin
Mrs. Lou Westgate, Raisin

A meeting of these committees will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Adrian Federal Building in Adrian.

The county republicans will meet the same day at 8 p.m. at the county court house.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hoffman and son Eric, of Cleveland, O. will be visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Hodges of Onsted and friends in Tecumseh the week of August 6.

Bid Them Farewell

Mrs. Jeanne O'Neil entertained 11 families including 46 people for a potluck neighborhood dinner Sunday as a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simmons and family.

Volley ball, croquet, badminton, horse shoes and cards were played during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons have rented their home here and moved to Alpena where he has been promoted to sergeant in the Michigan State Police.

They have three children; Tom, captain of Tecumseh football squad last year, Jim and Susan.

Plymouth Enters Second Phase of Urban Renewal

(Editor's note — With Tecumseh city officials starting the wheels in motion on possible Urban Renewal, Herald readers might be interested in seeing what a nearby community, Plymouth, has and is doing in this regard. The following story appeared in last week's Plymouth Mail.)

A far-reaching plan for "core renewal" of the Plymouth community touched the city commission table Monday night.

Ultimately involving as much as $1,000,000 if it becomes a reality, the tentative plan was referred to as "the second phase of community renewal here."

It follows close on the heels of an extensive Urban Renewal project on Mill St. and, at the same time, ties in with another—and separate—project that is aimed at rejuvenating parking facilities in the Main-Penniman-Fralick business area.

The "second phase" renewal plan concerns a quadrangle of property in the southeast portion of the central business district.

A search for Federal financial aid figures heavily in the project.

City Manager Albert Glassford said Tuesday that the project may take as long as five years to complete, providing it gets off the planning table.

City officials will shortly initiate exploratory talks with the firm of Villican & Leeman, planning consultants for the City. The talks will center on the cost of preparing plans which then would be submitted to the Federal government in conjunction with a request for Federal aid.

Glassford indicated that the Federal request would be directed to the office of Housing and Homes Administration, the same governmental agency that approved Urban Renewal assistance for the Mill St. project here.

It is felt that a maximum of 75% of the total cost would be met by Federal funds, if approval is granted.

The projects would first require acquisition of the property and buildings located in the vast seven-acre quadrangle.

☆

OUT OF THIS would evolve new housing (perhaps for elderly persons), a new business development, and large parking facilities.

The development would front Main St. with the parking area interposed between the business buildings and the street itself.

Consideration will be given to constructing a portion of the "mall area" that is eventually intended for all of the downtown business district.

Mayor Robert Sincock, former Mayor Harold Guenther and several current city officials have headed the planning stages of this project.

☆

THE COMMISSION authorized the issuance of $70,000 in five-year, non-callable bonds in order for the City to meet its share of the financing of the Mill St. Urban Renewal project.

With its $70,000 in hand, the City would begin acquisition of land and buildings within the 11-acre Mill St. area. Of the total project cost of nearly $360,000, some $80,000 will return to city coffers when the land is re-sold to industrial tenants.

The remaining $280,000 will be off-set by a Federal grant amounting to approximately $210,000 and the city's $70,000 amount.

Included in the Federal grant is a special amount of $3,820 for re-locating of families now living on Mill St. in the renewal area.

☆

AT THE same time, City Commission agreed to meet Aug. 13 with a special City parking committee which has been actively programming a parking project in the so-called "Fralick-Main Area."

The revision of five downtown parking lots, along with the installation of entrance aisleways and drive-ins included in present plans.

The area involved is the north side of Penniman Ave., ranging toward Fralick through, and behind, the distressed commercial buildings on Penniman.

Again, Federal funds will be sought.

Total cost of the project has been figured at $238,245, with 50% of this to be met by the city at large, 25% via special assessment against property owners in the immediate and adjacent area and the remaining 25% in Federal funds.

The request for Federal grant-in-aid for this project will hinge on the fact that the U.S. post office branch here will be directly involved in the renewal program.

An increase of 118 parking spaces would result, as well as overall general improvement of that portion of the central business district.

GETTING STUDIO BUILDUP—Out in Hollywood, MGM Studio is giving the starlet treatment to Julie Parrish, who Tecumseh folks remember as Joyce Wilbar. A brace of publicity pictures were made of Julie in the beautiful estate of Mystro Chepparo, voice instructor for MGM students, one of whom is Julie. She'll soon be seen in the Jerry Lewis movie, "It's Only Money",, with others to follow.

Sun's Energy Is Used Drying Grain on Farm

WASHINGTON, D.S. — New ways of putting the sun's energy to work on the farm were reported this week by Fred H. Buelow, Michigan State University agricultural engineer.

He reported on recent studies aimed at finding economical ways of farming the sun's radiation into usable heat for drying crops and providing heat for farm buildings. The report was given during the annual meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Mr. Buelow says that solar heat collected by properly designed roofs can raise the temperature in a building's air passages about 10 degrees. This is enough to reduce the moisture content of farm crops for safe storage. It also protects them against bad weather.

☆

KEYS TO solar heating system are roof construction and air distribution. The roof design developed through this study uses a series of open-end panels formed by rafters or girts that are about four inches deep and are spaced two feet apart. They are covered with corrugated galvanized steel sheets on top and plywood on the bottom. Flat galvanized steel sheets or any other material can also be used for the bottom.

Single roof panels were used in several of Mr. Buelow's tests to gather the necessary data on air flow, temperature and heating efficiency. In an actual installation, however, many such air passages would be constructed side by side to form a complete roof.

In operation, air enters these passages at the edge of the roof and is heated by the sun's rays which are absorbed by the galvanized metal sheet. The heated air is drawn through the passage by a fan which also forces the air through the crop being dried.

Construction of a roof for solar heating is relatively simple and inexpensive, according to Mr. Buelow.

☆

EXISTING buildings can be converted to solar heating by installing a second roof over the old. Many farm buildings which already have galvanized roofs need only to have the underside of the rafters or girts covered and the necessary fans and duct work installed. Roofs made of other materials can be readily adapted to solar heating by simply installing new galvanized sheets three or four inches above the old roof surface.

Mr. Buelow's tests showed that weathering of a galvanized surface improved the heat-absorbing properties. He also noted that the direction of the corrugations with respect to the direction of air flow also affects the efficiency. Corrugations at right angles to the air flow work best.

It was found that black asphalt paint on a bright new galvanized surface considerably improved the heating efficiency of a roof. However, paint on a weathered galvanized roof has little effect on the performance.

The MSU studies have made possible the practical application of galvanized roof construction for solar heating, especially for farmers with limited amounts of grain to dry. Mr. Buelow says its simple, inexpensive construction and operation bring solar heating within reach of all.

Some good ideas for activities to be offered at the Community Center this fall have been suggested.

These ideas include duplicated bridge club, golden age club, beginning oil painting, beginning bridge instruction, dog obedience class, chess club, junior rifle club, travelogue series and Canasta club.

4 Acts Win in County's Share-the-Fun Contest

Four acts from the Tecumseh area were chosen winners in the Lenawee County Share-the-Fun Contest Friday evening at the Adrian High School Cafeteria.

"Maude and her Happy Hounds" was the title of an original skit presented by Marilyn Mumaw of the Holloway Homemakers and Ron Bolz and Janice Whelan of the Tipton Jets 4-H Club.

David and Daniel Bush from the Britton-Macon Community Club were also winners. They played solos on the flute and cornet respectively.

Janice Whelan was the winner in the speaking contest. She will give her talk on "The Effect of Integration on the United States" at the State Show in August.

Sharie Osburn and Diane Mitzner of the Country High Steppers Club doing a duet, "Pineapple Princess",, were chosen as alternates.

Betty Lou and Sandra Sterling of the Country High Steppers also participated in the Share the Fun Contest.

Davenport Girls Host the Maidens

Carol and Karen Davenport entertained 15 members of the North Franklin Maidens July 25 when Patti Aebersold and Karen Davenport gave a demonstration "How to Pack a Picnic Lunch."

Kool aid, potato chips and sandwiches were served.

August 8 a meeting will be held at the home of June Case. She will give a demonstration on a good flower exhibit.

Raisin River To Be Cleaned Saturday

Canoe enthusiasts of the area and a group from the Detroit American Youth Hostel are planning to clean up the River Raisin.

The Detroit group has volunteered their services and Eisner's Canoe Rental on Ives Road has donated their canoes to this group.

An invitation is extended to anyone owning his own canoe and who is interested in making the river more pleasureable to join the fun Aug 4 at 11 a.m.

Those participating will meet at the Ed Eisner residence promptly at 11 with a sack lunch, complete change of clothing in a waterproof bag and saws, ropes and axes for clearing away obstructions on the river.

A local group has done this work before and the Detroit people wrote to the Eisners asking if they might help this year.

Work will begin at Manchester and come toward and beyond Tecumseh.

Are you still getting along with a small, out-dated Refrigerator that needs messy defrosting?

NEW REFRIGERATOR-FREEZERS END ALL DEFROSTING

Today's modern, "carefree-design" refrigerator-freezers end all defrosting in both refrigerator and freezer sections. This means no frost ever—on food packages, ice cube trays or walls—no defrosting drudgery ever—no scraping, no dripping, no prying, no messy pans of water to empty (or spill). And, the handsome refrigerator-freezer models beautify every kitchen. The interior arrangement is planned for spacious food storage and easy access to food supplies. In addition, the new refrigerator-freezers will:

- Store enough fresh and frozen foods to last for weeks—conveniently at your fingertips.
- Save extra trips to the market.
- Keep leftovers fresh and tasty until needed.
- Save money because the large freezer compartment allows you to buy meats, vegetables and baked goods when prices are low.
- Give you peace of mind because you can store enough for hungry family and unexpected guests.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

AN AFTERNOON OUTSIDE

What a wonderful summer so far! Everything has worked just right and I have spent two, three and once in a while, four afternoons a week outside. It has been marvelous—our fingers are crossed for much more getting-out weather.

In addition to soaking up lots of fresh air and sunshine, all sorts of things are apt to happen—of course they are happening anyway but when we are out we enoy what is to us, new watching.

For example, we were in the east yard the other day, near a fairly dense clump of bushes, and bang! Something really started telling us off. Such scolding and chattering.

We were making somebody very, very unhappy. But who?

We looked and looked but the shrubbery was much too thick to see into. Finally a tiny dot perched on the top of a fence-post attracted our attention.

It was making a terrible noise —a hungry baby bird noise. A wren! How exciting, our first encounter with wrens after the family has left the house but not yet separated.

The post-sitting youngster did not have to wait long for food and from the way he was hollering it's a good thing. Of course, they never are as hungry as the screaming indicates; they couldn't be.

Much quicker than it has taken to tell, a parent came to the rescue. A bulging bill-full of bugs was jabbed into the oversized mouth.

Have you ever noticed and wondered how baby birds can continue to beg even while being fed?

This little character was an artist—his extremely loud voice hardly quivered.

☆

ONE SUNDAY, Mom and I watched an exact re-enactment of a scene which [illegible] horrified me. Such complete disregard of the beautiful. With a full birdbath of fresh water and a whole creek of clear running water, where did the tiny brilliance of a goldfinch elect to bathe? In a dirty, nasty old mud puddle. We shuddered but he had a fine time.

And really, when he flew into a nearby dog-wood tree and shook dry, his gold and black suit was as bright as ever.

Not so attractive this the neighborhood's juvenile delinquent. Yes, we have one and he has all the characteristics.

A loud selfish bully — he even looks the part. His haircut is the wildest, feathers on top of his head are short and stand right up straight; at the back of his head they are terribly ragged and a band around his scrawny neck is completely bare. Truly, a teen-age terror type grackle!

☆

SPEAKING OF the black thieves, Dad, Gram and Ida have seen an odd one. Mom and I, try as we might, have not been so fortunate.

The bird we are looking for has the typical yellow eyes, shiny head, black body and wings, but of all things, his tail is white!

My, but wouldn't it be nice if he forgot himself some time and came to the feeder—what a picture!

Of course, there are many different things to watch, too. The neighborhood youngsters banging away at badminton; the always fascinating parade of clouds and, by the way, about the same time every afternoon there is a gorgeous swept-wing jet which goes over [illegible] guaranteed to produce wanderlust; the young squirrels trying hard to learn grown-up things and oh, the list could go on and on. It could be as long as there are afternoons.

So it is that we are hoping for a long, long summer and many, many afternoons outside.

The Ruby-Throats

Water Content of Pork Should Not Exceed 10%

When Mrs. Consumer buys a smoked ham or similar pork product at her favorite grocery store, she should be cognizant of the fact that the label on the pork product must show that water has been added to the meat.

This means that some of the cheaper priced ham actually may be more expensive per pound of actual meat purchased due to the amount of water added as compared with other brands costing more but containing less water.

Additional water in the product results from the relatively new and more expedient pork curing processes developed as compared with the traditional "smoke house" method.

However, the United States Department of Agriculture ruling clearly states that the amount of water added cannot exceed 10 percent of the uncured weight of the item.

Cured pork products which have less than 10 percent "water added" ethically can be labeled using the words "water added" only.

These products are not required to state the exact percentage of water added by weight of the uncured article.

Thus Mrs. Consumer must determine which cured pork product or smoked ham will yield the most edible meat from the label at comparative prices.

Interlochen Has Received Marker for Achievements

INTERLOCHEN — Interlochen's National Music Camp officially became an historical site recently when the Michigan Historical Commission dedicated an historical marker on the main camp grounds.

The marker was presented to the world-famed music camp by Lewis G. VenderVelde of Ann Arbor, representing the commission.

The marker is one of many throughout Michigan which commemorate subjects that constitute unique achievement.

The Interlochen marker cites the National Music Camp as being a unique cultural achievement in Michigan and the United States.

Cars Keep Cool, 1962 Figures Show

(Editor's note — The following item appeared in a recent edition of Air Conditioning & Refrigeration News. Tecumseh Products figures in this field, having built 110,000 compressors for this purpose during the 1962 model season at its Marion Division plant.

DETROIT—One of the auto industry's biggest gains this year in major optional equipment is the growing demand for air conditioners, according to Ward's Automotive Reports.

Air conditioners reportedly have been installed in more than 600,000 1962 models — better than 11%. By April 1, the factory installation rate had topped all previous years and the final total may nearly double the 414,400 installed two years ago, it was said.

Air conditioners are being factory-installed in 72% of Lincolns, 61% of Cadillacs, and 60% of Imperials, with Oldsmobile, Buick, Thunderbird, and Chrysler all running well over 20% it was reported.

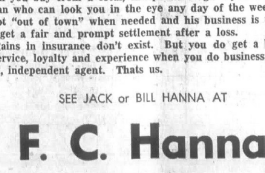
If you plan to drive in Canada, see us for an insurance card, now required by several Canadian provinces.



Sooner or later, everyone is tempted to pick up a "bargain" in protection because of the rate. Too often, the promise of a fast, generous settlement fails to materialize. When you buy from a local, independent agent you buy from a man who can look you in the eye any day of the week. He is not "out of town" when needed and his business is to help you get a fair and prompt settlement after a loss. Bargains in insurance don't exist. But you do get a bargain in service, loyalty and experience when you do business with a local, independent agent. Thats us.

Con-Con Report

More Efficiency

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is No. 7 in a series about the proposed new Michigan Constitution.)

Although existing forms of local government are retained, the proposed Michigan Constitution modernizes and broadens their powers to enable them to serve more effectively.

Article VII of the new document contains the sections relating to counties, townships, cities and villages.

Greater strength and flexibility are given to local governments by these provisions:

1. Charter counties, cities and villages are granted authority to levy taxes other than property taxes for their support.

2. Power to cooperate with other local units of government on common problems.

3. Retention of home rule for cities and villages.

4. Liberal construction by the courts of laws concerning cities, villages, counties and townships.

5. County officers' terms are to be four years. Township officers may by law have terms of office up to four years.

☆

TO PERMIT more effective county government, particularly in metropolitan areas, county home rule is provided for, subject to enabling statutes.

Adoption, modification or repeal will depend on the vote of the electors of the county.

The county home rule proposal evolved from long deliberation in both the local government committee and in the convention.

It makes it possible for those counties with specific problems to deal with them effectively, but does so without disturbing unnecessarily the government of other counties in the state.

The country home rule provisions of the new document follow generally the pattern established by the home rule provisions for cities in the present constitution.

Left to the legislature is the responsibility for working out details of charter county organization.

The board of supervisors may initiate a ballot proposal to elect a commission to frame a county charter, or 5% of the county's electors may petition the board to submit such a proposal to the electorate.

☆

THE PROPOSED constitution increases the limitation on the power of the county to incur debt from 3 to 10% of its assessed valuation. This permits counties to extend their credit for both primary and secondary obligations.

Secondary obligations are incurred by placing the full faith and credit of the county behind bonds of cities and townships to enable them to borrow at the lowest possible interest rate for the construction of water and sewage systems and other public work.

A new section among the general provisions of the local government article requires that units empowered to draw budgets may not adopt them until after a public hearing held in such manner as the legislature may prescribe.

In general, the constitutional changes in the area of local government are largely involved with revising and updating the provisions of the 1908 document.

Traditional forms are not subject to alteration without the approval of the voters in the local unit affected.

GIVE YOUR SON A CHANCE to help you with management decisions. You may be surprised at some of the new ideas he may have that can be a real help. He's probably given lots of thought to ways of making jobs easier. Keep in mind that through his vocational agriculture courses, he is familiar with the latest farming methods. Although you may take for granted that your son will remain on the farm, he may look in other directions unless you show confidence in him and give him some responsibility.

ELECTRIC MOTORS need regular inspections. If a motor doesn't look, sound or smell just right don't delay investigating. Look for dirt, dust, lint, moisture, vibration, overheating and sparking. Merely taking the motor apart, cleaning it and putting it back together will generally eliminate the trouble. Once you've learned to do this you can keep your motors in top shape. Then you'll need only to take them to the shop when major repairs such as rewinding, repairing commutators or replacing worn parts are needed.

A TRACTOR HAS A SEAT. USE IT. And it has only one seat, meaning only one person at a time is meant to ride on it. Tractors are involved in twice as many farm accidents as any other piece of machinary. In particular, don't allow children on tractors. A report from the National Safety Council shows that each year more fatal tractor accidents occur in the 10 to 14 age group than any other category.

FEEDER PIGS purchased in August should show a reasonable profit. Lighter pigs look best. In general, hog prices are expected to remain favorable the rest of the year, although a slight weakness may develop during September, with further drops in October.

White House Concert Is A Challenge

Interlochen, Mich. — It's "Bloody Friday" each Friday this summer at the National Music Camp where more than 300 blue-knickered teenage musicians are fighting for first chair —or any chair—positions in the 100-piece youth symphony orchestra which plays for President and Mrs. Kennedy on the White House lawn August 6.

Only 100 out of more than 300 eligibles will be picked for the trip. And the selection will be made by the students themselves, competing against each other in a unique system called "Challenges."

If a 10th chair violinist, for example, thinks he's good enough to move up to third or second chair, he simply challenges the better player.

Then each is required to play a selected piece of music selected by the conductor, and with bowed heads and a raise of hands the others in the section vote on which one outplays the other.

As of this week, the orchestra is composed of students from 24 states and two foreign countries.

The picture changes with the weekly challenges, however, and the final roll call for the Presidential concert, the thrill of a lifetime for most of the young musicians, will not be decided until the week before departure.

Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, music educator and retired University of Michigan professor who founded the National Music Camp, inaugurated the weekly challenges in order to give orchestra members a chance for promotion according to ability and achievement.

"These youngsters do an excellent job in judging each other," he said. "They are their own best critics.

"They'll even vote against their best friend if they feel that another player deserves his chair."

Tecumseh's leading hitter, Carol Hand is currently batting .679 in the southeastern Girls Softball League. Carol, who has hit 10 home runs this season, is sponsored by Gaston Jewelry.

Mary Ann Allen is sponsored by Harold Richardson Sand & Gravel. She attends Tecumseh Jr. High School and plays right field on the Sr. Girls softball team.

MSU Enrollment Largest in Its Long History

EAST LANSING — Michigan State University provided more educational service to more people and taught more credits of courses from the freshman to the doctoral level during 1961-62 than ever before in its history.

In a special report to MSU Trustees, Registrar Kermit H. Smith revealed that a grand total of 36,893 individuals took one or more courses for credit from MSU during the 12 months period just ended.

He noted that this figure is equal to the present population of Port Huron or Oak Park.

The total number of students in 1961-62 was double the number served by Michigan State in 1951-52, four-and-a-half times the number enrolled in 1941-42 and eight times the number in 1931-32.

The breadth of the Michigan State offerings emphasizes the vast range of intellectual endeavor at the University.

Last year the doctor of philosophy degree was conferred in 49 different fields, the master's degree in 104 different subjects and the bachelor's degree in 127 different academic departments.

Products Man Buys Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Stevens of Addison have purchased the home at 303 W. Bidwell St., formerly occupied by the Virgil Tucker and then the Earl Kotts families.

The Stevens with their two children, Loraine, 4; and Rachelle, 1½, will move here early in August.

Mr. Stevens has been employed with the Tecumseh Products Co. for the past 20 years.

They are members of the Rollins Friends Church.

Paul Gove Joins Navy

GREAT LAKES, ILL.—Paul L. Gove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon W. Gove of Route 1, Tipton, is undergoing nine weeks of basic recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The indoctrination to Navy life began July 9.

It consits of physical fitness drills, military drills, basic military law, customs and etiquette of the naval service, swimming and survival first aid and basic shipboard routine.

During the training, recruits receive tests and interviews which determine future training and assignments in the Navy.

Quakers Celebrate 150 Years

It will be "Quaker Week" in Ohio, Aug. 20-26, according to the proclamation just signed by Governor Michael V. DiSalle.

Observing the 150 session of Ohio Yearly Meeting of The Friends Church with headquarters at Damascus, the event will feature historical artifacts, documents and other displays of Quaker interest.

Climaxing the week Saturday, Aug. 25, will be three presentations of a pageant, "Faith of Our Fathers," portraying events of Quaker history from the time of George Fox in England to the establishment of Ohio Yearly Meeting in 1812 by Baltimore Yearly Meeting.

The pageant, with free admission, will be presented at 1:30, 3:30 and 7:30 p.m., and will feature a cast of more than 30 persons in authentic Quaker garb.

Also featured as part of the observance will be a Quaker pilgrimage, Sunday, August 12, to Mount Pleasant, O., for a service in the original Yearly Meeting house, built in 1814.

It is now owned by the State of Ohio and preserved as a memorial.

Erwin C. Zepp of The Ohio Historical Society, Columbus, and Dr. Everett L. Cattell, president of Malone College, will be speakers at the pilgrimage.

The Rev. Paul J. Brantingham of the Tecumseh Church states that extensive plans are underway for members and friends, in addition to the regular delegates, to attend this event.

Story Hours Being Held

Story hours are held each Wednesday afternoon at the Tecumseh Public Library at 2:30 p.m.

They will continue until August 15 according to librarian, Mrs. Jule Fosbender.

Technorama To Open Next Year

Technorama, a new center for science and technology at Michigan State University is scheduled to open in 1963 on the MSU campus.

The unique center which will focus on farm progress and the agricultural industry was given final approval by the University's Trustees at their July meeting.

Funds for construction and operation of the new technological center, will be provided by agricultural and allied industries.

The circular modern structure will house more than 300 exhibits — constantly changing each year to enable visitors to see the latest scientific advances in the production, distribution and use of food and farm products.

Site of the new building, will be on Farm Lane, immediately south of Anthony Hall which houses the College of Agriculture's animal science departments.

Changing Family Roles Discussed at Conference

Two MSU faculty members told Michigan homemakers last week that new roles in the making for each sex can bring about a richer, more satisfying life.

Speaking before a general session of "College Week for Women," 35th annual Homemakers' Conference at MSU, Dr. William Marshall and Mrs. Thelma Hansen said we are moving in the direction of the "colleague-type family."

"In the colleague-type family," Dr. Marshall said, "the differences in roles played by the people in it will take on richer and subtler meanings, rather than become as one.

The speakers described the colleague family as a "people-centered" family instead of an "adult-centered" or "child-centered" family.

Dr. Marshall and Mrs. Hansen are both members of the home management and child development staff at MSU.

Hillsdale Ladies Entertain Golfers from Local Club

Tecumseh lady golfers were guests of the Hillsdale ladies Wednesday when Mrs. James Wilson and Mrs. R. H. Moore were low gross winners.

Mrs. William Hannibal and Mrs. Glenn Lehr of Manchester won low net. Mrs. C. O. Butler added another win to her low putt string.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kelso will be hosts for the Friday night buffet and golf at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Janet Beal Honored at Bridal Shower

BRITTON—Forty-five classmates, their mothers and friends honored Janet Beal with a bridal shower Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt.

As Miss Beal is a floricultural graduate of Michigan State, flowers were used throughout the evening in every way possible.

Refreshments were served from flower trimmed trays. Hurricane candles set in flowers graced the tables.

The hostess presented the honored guest with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The door prize was won by Lorna Dicks who found the lucky ring hidden in her miniature corsage.

Ten of the girls from the class of '0 were seated with Janet at a long table.

Although Pat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eberhardt, could not be there as she is at Beaver Island for the summer, the girls talked with her by telephone.

There was much reminiscing between the girls, some who hadn't met since graduation.

Five of the girls brought their babies.

Mrs. Eberhardt showed movies of the girls, some of which went back to their first grade in school.

Janet received many lovely gifts.

Out-of-town guests were the Mmes Jerry and Lee Benedict of Williamston, Mrs. Bernard Waterbury and son of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Ron Leonard and Mrs. Jack Patterson of Adrian, Mrs. William Dart and daughter of Brooklyn, Mrs. William Swanson and daughter of New Jersey, Betty Bailey of Chicago, Mrs. B. Houpt and sons of Dundee and Mrs. Donald Judd and Mrs. Robert Hoekstra and daughters of Tecumseh.

Plymouth's Fall Festival Planned for September 9

The Plymouth Rotary Club will hold its annual Fall Festival, including a chicken barbecue, Sunday, September 9 in Kellogg Park in Plymouth.

This year's event is expected to attract over 3500 visitors.

Serving of the charcoal-broiled chicken dinners will begin at 12:30 p.m. and continue through 6 p.m.

In addition to the barbecue, the Festival includes many community-wide cultural aspects from the art, musical and historical organizations of that community.

Tickets for the event may be obtained in advance from any member of the Plymouth Rotary Club. Adult tickets are $1.50 and children under 12, $1.

Proceeds will be used for various civic projects.

'Laura' To Play at Irish Hills Through August 12

Tuesday, July 31, the Irish Hills Playhouse opened its production of "Laura," Vera Caspary's haunted tale of murder and mistaken identity, as the fourth offering in its five-play season.

The mystery opens on a sombre note, as friends and a police officer gather in a dead girl's apartment to discuss the manner of her death and dispose of her possessions.

As the story slowly unfolds, events are complicated by the appearance of an unidentified girl, a violent storm, and a growing suspicion that the friends who loved Laura so well were more than a little interested in her abrupt departure.

The thriller is directed by Jay Kleindorf and produced by Larry and Dorothy Burns.

It will run for two weeks through August 12.

The cast includes Rachele Fernadez as the unexpected visitor, Clinton Dunn as the detective, Roger Held as a young neighbor and Patrick Christie as as eccentric collector.

Others in the cast are Walle Wells, Barbara Bailey, Joan French and Vito Weeds.

The theatre is located on U.S. 12 and Hane Road near the Walter J. Hayes State Park.

The play will be presented every night except Monday. Curtain is promptly at 8:30.

Reader Agrees Old St. Peter's Should Be Saved, Has Plan

TO THE EDITORS:

Yes, it is to be hoped that old St. Peter's can be preserved as a historical attraction for the community.

Is there a chance that it could be moved to the Gloria Dei lot and used by that congregation?

With the old school house it would be very interesting and also a useful center for that area of the city.

I, for one, would be glad to help with the upkeep costs.

There are other projects which could be tackled to add to our community's advantages.

One, which would probably not add to the city's income would be the development of the area between M-50 and the Grange-Country Club west and east of the river into a park and recreation area.

Another which could be a profitable venture would be to produce an annual Pageant, perhaps a Corn Festival, based on the legends of Hiawatha — the planting, growth and harvesting as told in the story of Mondamin.

It would be possible to have a great show of music, dancing and acting. A lot of hard work, yes, but something that would use a lot of talent and if successful would draw big crowds.

The visitors would probably consume quantities of corn products, such as corn on the cob, popcorn, corn bread and so on.

Our centennial show in 1924, entirely local talent, without any carnival shows at all, showed a profit of nearly $1000 dollars after paying a professional director.

Thirdly — The city, county and township of Raisin, along with the property owners concerned, could get together and go through with Mr. Ford's plan to dam the river just above Sutton Road and make a lake reaching back to Comfort Road.

I believe it would add a most valuable area of home sites for people east and south of Tecumseh.

We have so many good things now, churches, schools, shopping area, Country Club, airfield and good water and sewers, that if several hundred building sites were available on a rather large lake with sandy shores, etc., I believe it would have a great potential value.

At least it would use a lot of land that produces nothing now and would add maybe a million to our tax valuation and not too much to expenses, such as schools.

I have contacted one family from the Dundee area who would like to own just such a place in Tecumseh, because they like what we already have here.

Lastly, I have [illegible] for helping our hard pressed merchants. They are a fine bunch of people and it's always a pleasure to shop around our town, but perhaps they are caught in the same squeeze that the farmers are — seemingly, no place for the small, independent operator.

Should we try to butt in as a government, as the officials in Washington have, or try to muddle thru.

It's hard to guess. May we guess right.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

We're For Charley

For the first time in almost three decades, Elmer Porter is being seriously challenged in the Republican state senatorial primary.

His opponent is no rookie in the business of government administration.

When GOP voters in Lenawee and Monroe counties take to the polls Tuesday, they'll have to choose between Mr. Porter and Charley Figy.

It should be a close count.

One interesting twist in this race is that the Republican candidate in the final run in November usually wins in Lenawee by a landslide. The story in Monroe is the proverbial horse of a different color.

Monroe County is now highly industrialized and therefore largely Democratic. Two years ago, a political unknown, running under the Dem label, trounced Senator Porter by nearly 2,000 votes in Monroe. Senator Porter's "bulge" of 4,000 votes in Lenawee returned him to Lansing.

If Mr. Figy should upset Senator Porter in the primary, he might well fare better in Monroe County than did the incumbent last time around.

The reason is simple: Mr. Figy is well-known in our neighbor county and can be assured of a goodly following. This is not a guess, but based on the fact he won the Con-Con seat which represented the senatorial district.

But that isn't the only reasons we favor Mr. Figy in Tuesday's race. He is a hard-working, capable man, with 20 years of administrative experience behind him.

We're certain, Mr. Figy is a man who will battle to get something done in Lansing to help erase the state's black eye.

It's long past time for a change.

Faraday Moves In

If you'd like to experience a genuine thrill, drive down to the new Faraday plant and step inside.

We'll guarantee that you'll hardly believe your eyes. This plant is tremendous —all 84,000-square-feet of it.

Currently, movers are busy trucking Faraday equipment from the old two-story Church St. plant in Adrian to the all-new layout here.

If work surroundings count for anything, we'll wager that Faraday production will jump 20%. There just is no comparison between the old, cut-up, creaky-floored, dark factory and the bright, new, roomy plant.

Faraday, manufacturer of more than 1,500 items of electrical signalling equipment, expects to be completely moved in and at 100% production by Sept. 1.

No story on Faraday is complete, in our opinion, without mention of the terrific job our Industrial Development group did in bringing the firm to Tecumseh.

The Deadline is October

In some respects, October is still a long ways off, but in others it's just a hop, skip and jump away.

This is the month that old St. Peter's Church, an historic landmark in Tecumseh going all the way back to 1833, is scheduled to be moved or dismantled.

As we stated in last week's edition, we have our hopes set high that the famous place of worship will be preserved at some other location in town. Vestry members have already stated the church can't be kept on its present site due to upkeep costs.

One possible new location would be in the city-owned land, east of the Community Center, where there is high ground, an excellent spot to show off the famed church.

A basement, which would serve as a new foundation for the building, might become a museum for early Tecumseh religious documents and pictures.

St. Peter's has a proud place in the history of our community. We should do everything in our power to save it.

Friday's the Big Day

One of the most successful retail promotions of our town is the annual Sidewalk Sale.

It has always proved to be a "ball" for patrons and merchants, both of whom usually are a little foot-weary by the end of the day, but still in bright spirits.

This year's event is Friday and as an added feature, the local stores are also holding the yearly Free Pancake Supper.

At the 1961 dinner, more than 2,500 were fed.

To help attract vacation traffic from the Irish Hills area, the merchants are having 1,000 copies of this week's Herald delivered from cottage to cottage at Wamplers, Sand and other lakes along US-12.

To these summer residents, we extend a hearty welcome to visit Tecumseh Friday for the festivities. You'll find our community a friendly, lively town.

Names Ready for Council

A list of 20 residents, who represent nearly all phases of community living, will be submitted to Council Monday evening.

These are the persons being recommended to serve on a committee which will delve into problems of Tecumseh and attempt to come up with possible solutions.

The group will consider most seriously the thought of working out an Urban Renewal project for the city.

A story in this week's Herald reports what nearby Plymouth has already done along these lines and hopes to accomplish in the future.

It's amazing what can be done, as is shown in the case of Plymouth. There is no reason why Tecumseh couldn't benefit in a similar manner.

Bob Enjoying European Trip

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are exerpts of letters written by Bob Bonner to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bonner. Bob is currently on tour in Europe with The Michigan Chorale.)

Bangor, Ireland
June 21, 1962

Dear Mom and Dad,

It has been such a busy two days. (Really one continuous day for me.) It is now 11:55 p.m. Bangor time. (Just 6:55 p.m. Tecumseh time.) We stopped at Gander, Newfoundland enroute, where I sent you a card.

We arrived at Nutts Corners about 7 p.m., Corners time. We immediately took busses to our headquarters where we met our Irish host families.

I am residing with a Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Turner, who have three children.

A pleasant surprise awaited me when I found that Mr. and Mrs. McCoy (chorale director) are also staying with the Turners. There are just the three guests.

Of course, I am getting to know the McCoys better, along with the Turners.

Mr. Turner is connected with music education here. He is a supervisor for the apportionment of funds for the music department of all Bangor and Belfast schools.

They live in a large old house on a main street. The Turners are English, but live in Northern Ireland due to the nature of Mr. Turner's work.

I have been taking quite a few pictures, mostly of airplanes and airports so far, but I hope to get many shots of scenery a bit later.

July 1, 1962

I am no longer with the Turners in Bangor. We moved north June 30 to Coleraine.

I enjoyed the Turners so much. They were so hospitable. Mr. Turner is an accomplished organist. He is also an organ designer and supervisor of the construction of organs. They have four children.

The food here is not too different from that at home. There has not been too much trouble in changing from one to the other. Mrs. Turner cooked such things as steak and kidney pie, a dish similar to beef pie at home. She also prepared a mushroom pie. They have good bread in Ireland. They serve quite a bit of fish.

Saturday before we left Bangor the McCoys and I prepared the whole meal — typically American. We had Southern fried chicken, mashed potatoes, biscuits and honey, beans, salad, and pudding. The Turners really enoyed it.

Both of our concerts (Wednesday and Thursday) went well. The audiences were quite large and receptive.

July 11, 1962

We arrived in Burton upon Trent this afternoon about 5:30. It was an eight-hour bus trip from Keswick.

My first impression of Burton is not a good one. I am staying in a poor section of town with a director of art school and his wife. His school is right next door. There [illegible] sing house across the street.

Burton is famous for its distilleries. Many famous English beers and ales are brewed here. As I say, this is just a first impression. I have only been here seven hours.

I had four rolls of film developed in Keswick. It was quite expensive, but I was anxious to see what kind of pictures I was taking.

I am pleased to say that out of four rolls (128 pictures), only two did not turn out well. I have 125 good shots of many places in Ireland and England. I am still taking as many pictures as possible so as to have an excellent account of my trip.

While we were in Keswick, we did quite a bit of mountain climbing. It really was just high hill climbing. I do believe, however, if you, Mom, could have seen where we climbed, you would have been frightened. We were about 1500 feet up, on a particularly "high hill."

I bought a black umbrella in Carlisle Tuesday. It is very fashionable but not ostentatious.

I am now scouting around for a black French beret to go with my umbrella and black trench coat.

What is going on in Tecumseh? Everything seems so far away. I would like to know what is happening back home. At this moment, I think I shall be glad to leave Burton upon Trent. It just does not appeal to me.

July 18, 1962

I am writing this letter on the train from Tunbridge Wells heading for London. I was surprised to hear from Mr. Rose, Chorale manager that the Chorale as a group was not being given any time to see London. This upset most of us, for of course, we wanted to see the big city.

The only possible time to see London was after a 3 p.m. concert. We (a large group of Chorale people) left on the 4:11 p.m. train to London, and arrived there about an hour later.

We had to be back at the London station by 10:30 p.m. so that we could catch the 10:40 train back to Tunbridge Wells. In other words, we had between 5 and 5½ hours to see London, but we did it!

I separated from the group that I had ridden with on the train, so that I might go at my own pace. I, of course, had my camera.

I first went to the Houses of Parliament and saw Big Ben. I took quite a few pictures there.

I went across the street to Westminster Abbey. I went inside and saw where many famous people are buried, among them Alfred Lord Tennyson, Robert Browning, (Mrs. Boltz will be pleased, I know), and of course, the place where the very late George Frederick Handel is buried.

I then took a long walk through St. James Park to Buckingham Palace where I saw the gaily colored guards. I saw Clarence House too.

After I walked back to the train station I ate, and then took a long walk to Saint Pauls Cathedral.

This edifice is impressive, especially when the London Symphony Orchestra was giving a free concert, as part of the Festival of London. The whole church was lighted brightly. Light shone directly on the director and made him look as if he had thick white hair.

I went back to the train station and found that I had an hour left, so I walked across the bridge to the Royal Festival Hall. This modern hall is similar to Ford Auditorium and is the seat of all events of any significance.

We arrived on the Continent the 20th. We are on a series of one night stops for about a week. This series includes mostly villages throughout Holland.

At this time, I am in a little village called Lottum where they are having a Rose Festival. This is an annual event where roses, grown in the area, are displayed somewhat like the Rose Parade New Year's Day in California, only not on moving floats.

We sang twice today, first at 4 o'clock and then again at 8. We had large audiences, usually about 800 at a performance.

Here in Lottum I am staying with a Dutch family who speaks no English. It is a chore, but real fun for all of us to try to understand each other.

I wrote to Niels's parents Friday. Since I won't be back in Amsterdam for several days, I expect no mail will reach my hands until then. I do, at that time expect a reply, specifying a meeting time and place.

It may be possible for me to be excused from the Chorale for several days in order that I may spend more time with them.

We leave Lottum at 11:15 a.m. for Deventer. Then it is back to Amsterdam. I have not been able to contact Marielle Lugard because I do not have her address. I would like to see her for a while.

I am always busy, with hardly enough time to do anything on my own.

Oh, yes. I bought a black French beret in Amsterdam.

I must go now for it is getting time to get my luggage loaded. Goodbye for now.

Love,
Bob

(EDITOR'S NOTE: According to Mrs. Bonner, the Chorale left July 30 for an eight-day-stay in Berlin. Their last stop for concerts is Oldenburg, from which Bob hopes to go to Braunschweig, Niels home, for a few days. Due to a change in plans Niels flew home Aug. 30 and will be there when Bob arrives.

Vision, Energy, Planning

Paul F. Burns and Ronald J. Fritch vocational agriculture teacher from Tecumseh and Britton-Macon participated in the program of the 43rd annual Conference for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture at Michigan State University July 23-27.

About 220 teachers and school administrators attended the week-long meeting at MSU's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education.

The teachers were reminded of the role that each one must play as a community leader, a teacher, a counselor and as a citizen.

"This dynamic role of the teacher requires vision, energy, planning, utilization of time and activities, and a continuous evaluation for changes needed," said Harry E. Nesman, chief of agricultural education for the Department of Public Instruction.

Nesman challenged the teachers to execute their duties and responsibilities as "builders of men" adapted to agricultural prosperity, wherever they may be.

General sessions, regional and district FFA meetings, discussion groups, workshops and the presentation of awards to those teachers with 5, 10, 20 and 30 years of service were the conference highlights.

Among those receiving 10-year awards was Russell Spaulding, who preceded Mr. Fritch as Britton-Macon ag teacher and is now about to start work on an advanced degree.

Mr. Spaulding recently resigned as superintendent of Britton-Macon.

'Doorbell Doctors' Feed on Food Fads

EAST LANSING — Don't feed on fads.

"The most widespread and costly quackery today is the promotion of special food and food supplements," according to Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at Michigan State University.

But she adds, "If you—and many like you—become informed skeptics, then the quacks and pseudo-scientists will soon be out of business."

What is the usual song-and-dance of what Miss Hershey calls the "doorbell doctor:

You've heard him. He blames all ill health on poor nutrition. He claims that foods lack vitamins and minerals because of depleted soil. He may say that all diets in the United States are low in protein. And he'll probably recommend a "miracle" food or capsule guaranteed to give you exuberant health.

"No well-trained dietician, physician or nutritionist would make such statements," Miss Hershey declares.

If you want to know more about guarding against faulty food claims, read "Believe It or Not," a pamphlet written by Miss Hershey. You can get it free at your county extension office or by writing to: Bulletin Office, 10 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing. Ask for Extension Folder F-313.

Ben Brantingham is home from Canton, O., to spend six weeks with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITORS:

In reply to [illegible] tion about fireworks around Macon on July 4th, I wish to say that the fireworks were displayed for the Community.

The deaf children that were at Boysville were invited.

Permission was secured from the Supervisor of Macon Township and the Lenawee County Sheriff's office.

Free pop and candy bars were given to each child present.

Around 100 people enoyed the fireworks display.

Tecumseh Merchants Win 2 Games

Led by the hitting attack of Norm Campbell and Tom Barton, the Tecumseh Merchants defeated Ace Hardware last Tuesday, 16-7, in an Adrian Twilight League contest.

Norm had a single, two-bagger and home run while Tom slapped out two singles and a triple.

Larry Lopez was the winning hurler, striking out 6 opposing batters.

Fred and Frank Garcia were the losing battery.

The next evening the same two teams met again on the Tecumseh diamond as Tecumseh won in a close one, 2-1.

Dave Rainsberger was the pitcher for Tecumseh, striking out 5 batters. Cliff Rogers did the catching.

On the mound for Ace Hardware was Jesse Garcia. He fanned four Tecumseh batters.

Eye Center Needs More Donors

ANN ARBOR—The Michigan Eye Collection Center has 19 people awaiting corneal transplants, according to Dr. John W. Henderson of The University of Michigan Medical Center.

Donations are obtained from deceased persons who have earlier pledged their corneas to help others.

There are nearly 5,000 eye donor pledges now on file at the eye center, Dr. Henderson says, but the long waiting list for corneas indicates the need for more.

He estimates that at least 20,000 pledges are required to meet demands for corneal transplants.

People wishing to donate their eyes after death may do so by contacting the Michigan Eye Collection Center or their family physician.

During the five year history of the program, more than [illegible] neal transplants have been made by U of M doctors. The operation must be performed within 48 hours after removal of the eye from the donor.

Lions Clubs and other organizations and individuals throughout Michigan and nearby states have benefited from eye operations so far.

PRIZE CUCUMBER—Gardener Steve Illeck of 126 Maple is really pleased with his products this summer. This two-pound cucumber was grown on a trellis and gets the admiring eye from the Illeck children, Greg, 6, and Sue, 12. Mr. Illeck also has some sweet corn which towers above his head.

Scouts Go to Summer Camp

Eight Boy Scouts from Troop 4 in Tecumseh and one boy from Troop 17 in Tipton spent a week at Camp Kanesatake with their Scout Master, Mr. Choske.

At camp, the boys earned a total of 11 Merit Badges.

The boys included and awards they won:

Rick Brighton—worked on nature merit badge.

Tim Baker of Tipton—received first aid, life savings, rowing merit badges.

Fred Choske — received first aid and rowing merit badges.

David Jadwin—received Star Scout and marksmanship merit badges.

Mike Duffin—completed First Class requirements, got swimming, first aid, rowing merit badges.

Francis Morris — completed First Class requirements.

Joe Bagby — completed portions of Second Class requirements.

David Coak — completed portions of Second Class requirements.

Bill Oldfield—completed portions of Second Class requirements.

Three boys, Rick Brighton, Mike Duffin and Joe Bagby qualified for the mile swim.

Mrs. P. G. Colgrove attended the gift show at the Palmer House in Chicago from Saturday until Wednesday. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Jens Touborg.

Mrs. Drewyor Entertained for Potluck

Mrs. Clyde Drewyor was hostess to 23 for the annual party for the Happy-Go-Lucky group at her home July 25.

Following a potluck meal, a short business session and a social hour were held with guests present from California, Florida, Arizona; Toledo, Flint, Battle Creek and other neighboring towns.

This group is composed of children of mothers who attended the Gleason District school between Macon and Saline.

Couple Sets Winter Date

The engagement of Margaret Netcher to Arnold Neuman was announced at a dinner Saturday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neuman, at 2704 Rogers Highway.

Miss Netcher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Netcher of Blissfield.

Mrs. Walter Frakes was among the guests.

A mid-winter wedding is planned.

Tecumseh, Hudson Battle for League Championship

The Tecumseh girls will be defending their championship crown Thursday evening against Hudson at 6:15 p.m. on the local high school diamond.

Hudson and Tecumseh are tied for first place with 12 wins and one loss apiece.

The Tecumseh girls have scored 282 runs against their opponents and have allowed only 100 runs to be scored against them.

Their total season record is 14-1.

Carol Hand is leading the Tecumseh girls team with ten home-runs and a .676 batting average.

Linda Staulter is close behind, batting .633.

Brenda Whelan, a Tecumseh veteran, has returned to play for Tecumseh Thursday evening to replace Marge Parrett who is on vacation.

☆

LAST THURSDAY, the Tecumseh girls barely gained the victory as they defeated Britton in a doublehitter win, 10-9 and 6-3.

Bonnie Staulter pitched the first game but was relieved by Mary Jo Mensing in the last two innings. Mary Jo struck out five of the six batters she faced.

Judy Rohrback was the Britton pitcher and also had two hits at three trips to the plate.

Mary Jo Mensing pitched the second game of the doubleheader, striking out 11 and allowing only three hits.

Two of Britton's three runs were scored on an over-throw by the Tecumseh catcher.

Marge Parrett had a perfect day at the plate with two hits.

Wilma Godzina was the losing pitcher.

Monday evening, in a good defensive and offensive game, the Tecumseh girls defeated the Girls Training School, 18-2.

Bonnie Staulter pitched the game, allowing only four hits. She, herself, had three hits for the winners.

Carol Hand was again swinging the bat with three hits in as many times at bat.

Friday afternoon, the girls team will attend the annual league picnic held at the end of each season. This year it will be held at the Island in Adrian.

All-Star Girls Team Wins 21-16

The Tecumseh Jr. Girls All-Star team defeated Blissfield, 21-16, last Tuesday.

Tecumseh scored seven runs in the sixth inning to win the game.

Debbie Black was the Tecumseh pitcher and led her team in hitting as well.

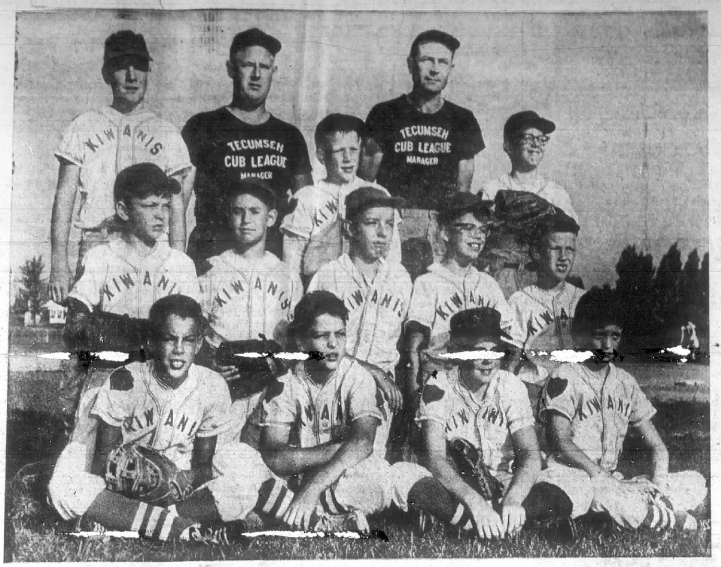
The Tecumseh All-Stars, chosen from the three local teams, will travel to Blissfield Friday, August 3 to play a return match at 1:30 p.m.

In a high scoring contest last Wednesday, the Sluggers defeated Bev's Bulldogs, 16-15. A five-run fifth inning provided the winning margin.

Beth O'Neil was the winning hurler ad teammate Kathy Hall had four hits.

In the other game played July 25, the Winners defeated the Sluggers, 13-10.

Lee Ann Ward was on the mound for the Winners with Beth O'Neil suffering the loss. Pat Wilson led the hitting attack for the victors.



REAL BALL PLAYERS — Playing in Tecumseh's Cub League these members of the Kiwanis-sponsored baseball team. Front row, left to right: Steve Dalton, Vince Miller, Gary Easton and John Robert. Second row: John Bolden, Jamie McWilliams, Chuck Spooner, Terry Bolden and Kenneth Pieh, Jr. Top row: Gary Rutledge, Kenneth Pieh, Sr., manager, Mike VerHage, John Snyder, manager, and Bruce Costigan. Not present for the picture were Brad Hoffman and Bobby Platt.

Rutledge Tossed No-Hitter

Gary Rutledge was in perfect form on the mound Friday as he pitched a no-hitter against the Union team in the city's Cub League.

Gary, who plays for the Kiwanis, pitched to only 21 batters and struck out 11. He walked only one man.

At the plate he was equally as strong. He slammed a three-run homer to contribute to the victory.

John Boldon also drove in three runs with his two singles and a double.

Other Major league results for last week's games were:

Outfielders Never Saw The Ball

Nine-year-old Bob Reed allowed only an infield hit as he pitched his Pirates to a 10-0 win over the Tigers in a Minor League game last Wednesday.

In fact, the outfielders might as well have gone home during the game. Bob's pitching was so good that not one ball got beyond the infield.

He faced ony 22 batters (four over a minimum) and walked only three. Thirteen Tigers fanned.

Richard Fitch and Marc Brown were the losing battery.

Both Jack Greenfield and Candy Sanchez had two hits apiece for the Pirate win.

Thursday, the Red Sox slaughtered the Indians, 20-1. Kenneth Wright was on the mound for the Red Sox. Stephen Maples did the catching.

Opposing them were Greg Sebring, pitcher, and Dave Rex, catcher.

Deerfield	9	5
Products	8	7
VFW	6	7
Eagles	6	7
Britton	6	8

The Pony League Championship will be determined Saturday in the final tournament contest which has been progressing this week.

The six-team league is working through an elimination playoff and action Saturday will begin at 4 p.m.

Following this game, the All-Stars of the league will oppose the managers in a contest.

At present, the Indians and Deerfield are tied for first place, but each have a make-up game to complete August 6 and 7.

If both teams win, a playoff for first place will be matched Wednesday, August 8.

In a contest played last Thursday, Deerfield defeated Products, 8-7.

Lynn Feldman was on the mound for Deerfield, opposed by Products' Randy Dotson.

Deerfield scored the winning run on an error, walk and a base hit.

Dean Hebb had two hits for the Products nine.

Friday the Indians were defeated by the Products, 5-1.

Randy Dotson outpitched Randy Work for the win and hit his fourth home run of the season which landed in the trees in right field.

Doug Gillis walked for the 27th time this season.

Jeff Robison had three hits while Randy Dotson, Terry Bates, Randy Work and Dean Hebb each had two.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Crazy, zanzy, exciting, a real ball.

Guess that describes the Pancake Race Friday evening for more than 6,000 spectators.

Chicago Blvd. was closed to traffic for two blocks by the police.

But this wasn't no 2nd. No car, no truck — probably no army tank — could penetrate the seething mob of humanity that poured into the street to witness the second running of the gals' hot cake jaunt.

There was scarcely room for track, which started in front of Bill Wright's Drug Store and ran down to Country Market.

The girls had to sprint down the course, carrying griddle and pancake, then return again.

Race officials found it almost impossible to hold the people back so that the girls could make it back for the finish.

That the contestants were able to barrel down and back is a wonderful tribute to all womanhood.

Many other people are in line for plaudits, too, for the major roles played to make the race and dinner and the annual 12-hour Sidewalk Sale such a rousing success.

First of all there were members of our fire department, who spent several hours Thursday evening hosing down and sweeping the entire downtown—streets and sidewalks.

The smoke eaters also graciously gave up their "home" for the dinner and lent help throughout the evening.

Our policemen gave yeoman service, directing traffic, helping during the race, blocking S. Evans St.

Our hat is also off to:

The lovely Aowakiyas precision marching unit, which performed during the afternoon.

John Day and Don Martin, Jr., who co-chaired the event.

Mrs. John Day and the wonderful ladies of the Jaycee Auxiliary who so capably cooked and served the pancakes.

Handsome Jack Lang and limping Ray Servitto of Quaker Oats and Staley Syrup Co., respectively, who donated materials for the meal.

Joe Busch of Country Markets for his cooperation.

Jerry Kapnick, Bob Richards, Howard Hunt, Norman Grigg and Bruce Parrett, the shaggers who set up tables, mixed batter and cleaned up afterwards.

Tom Fagan, new grid coach who officiated the race and nearly leaped out of his non-skids declaring the winner in a real photo finish.

Walt Nichols for keeping calm in getting entries signed up and then counting the crowd in a manner of decorum garnered over the years in show biz.

The ferris wheel man who spun his rig from dawn to dusk — probably giving about 2,500 rides.

Kiwanis members selling from the sidewalk.

The tremendous Tecumseh storemen who did such a grand job of merchandising this sale.

Sheriff Bob Stites for loaning his car to take Aunt Jemima around town, Bob's sidekick, Police Chief Murrell Clark, who gave plugs over the PA in the sheriff's car.

Lawrence Welk, for loaning his bubble-making machine to Harold Pickard.

To Forrest Abner for his public address hookup and recorded music, which entertained folks from 1 p.m. until after 10 p.m.

To members of the Artists Key Club, who staged an exhibition in front of Don's Beef Buffet.

And, most of all, to the thousands of local folks and vacationers from the Irish Hills area, who came to town for the affair.

Court Decisions

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Kerr on Kerr Rd. will be hosts to members of the Kozy Korners Farm Bureau August 11 at 8 p.m.

The topic for discussion will be "Disturbing Developments in Court Decisions—Court Threatens Vote of Rights."

Refreshments will be served.

Postal Building Near

Plans and specifications for a new Tecumseh post office building, plus bidding forms and other information, will be made in the near future, local postmaster Jack Metcalf announces.

In a postal release, the new building calls for 5,400 square feet of interior space and will serve 7,500 people in the Tecumseh area.

The building will be constructed at the southwest corner of E. Chicago Blvd. and S. Maumee St. in what has been known as Adams Park.

The land under an assignable option to the government totals 35,844 square feet, practically all of Adams Park except for a right-of-way to the city's water tower.

Tecumseh's new post office building will be constructed under the department's lease construction program, which utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise.

The government's capital investment will be limited to postal equipment. The building will remain under private ownership while leased to the government. The owner also will pay local real estate taxes.

The option, now held by the government, will be transferred to the successful bidder, who will purchase the land, construct the building and then lease on a long term basis.

According to the government's release, the construction of the building should have a beneficial economic impact on Tecumseh, which is located in an area eligible to take part in the new Area Redevelopment Administration's program of assistance to areas of chronic unemployment and underemployment.

The project will not only provide jobs during construction, but will increase the community's attractiveness for industry and commerce.

The government's announcement climaxes about two years of negotiations between the Council and postal officials. In the negotiations, the city is supposed to acquire ownership of the parking lot behind Adrian Federal Savings & Loan.

Principle reason for a large plot of land for the new building is Tecumseh's zoning requirements for set-back and parking facilities.

The new building will replace the present post office on E. Logan St., owned by Howard Truesdale.

No information has been let as to the exact date when specifications and plans will be available, nor when completion of the building is anticipated.

"WHO IS THE FAIREST ONE OF ALL?" — This is the question five young ladies from this area are aiming to find the answer for at the Lenawee County Fair this year. Among 30 candidates for queen of the fair are Linda Dean, 18, (left) sponsored by the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club; and left to right; Meredith Munger, 19, of Tipton sponsored by the Tipton Grange; Diane Fox, of Tecumseh, 22, sponsored by the Town and Country Ski Club; Jean Linn, 19, of Britton sponsored by the Britton Farm Bureau and Elaine Cadmus, 19, of Tecumseh sponsored by the Tecumseh Grange. The 1962 queen will be crowned Wednesday evening in front of the grandstand after the parade and preliminary judging in the afternoon. The winner will receive an all-expense paid trip to Detroit to participate in the Miss Michigan State Fair queen contest Aug. 28-29.

Library To Close Aug. 18

Librarian Mrs. Jule Fosbender announces that the library will be closed for three weeks, beginning August 18.

Shelves from the old building on Chicago Blvd. will be cleared and books moved to the new location on N. Ottawa St., in time for the September 10 opening date.

All reading material desired for this three week period should be secured from the present library before 9 p.m. Friday, August 17. Checkout of children's books will close Friday at 6 p.m.

No books can be returned to the present location after that date.

New hours are being introduced to allow greater access to the new facilities. Hours will be changed to 12 noon to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 12 noon to 6 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays.

Senator Porter Wins Against Figy

State Senator Elmer Porter defeated Charles Figy in Tuesday's primary in a race attracting the most attention in Lenawee and Monroe counties.

Senator Porter pulled a total of 5,545 votes to 3,468 for Figy. The incumbent trailed Figy in Tecumseh, 204 to 280, but led in the Lenawee County vote, 3,157 to 2,609.

In Monroe County, Porter ran nearly three to one with a vote tally of 2,388 to 859.

Democrat candidate for the senate, William Nichols, received only 95 Tecumseh votes and 1,044 in the county.

In other contesting races, involving two or more candidates, Leonard Warner, Register of Deeds, edged Medford W. Pfister by 100 votes, 2,770 to 2,670.

The Democrat race for that county office saw George Wagner beat Otis Boyd, 682 to 612.

Incumbent Sheriff Robert Stites won the Republican race over Carl Frantz, 4,208 to 1,397. In Tecumseh, Stites won 347 to 106.

For county coroner, Edward Braun defeated opponents Clarence Brown and Donald Dunmore.

Although the voting turnout was small, Republican candidates out-polled Democrat candidates in Tecumseh and in the county, usually three or four to one.

Romney over Swainson 458-127, Bentley over Staebler 342-99, Meader over Democrat candidates Payne and Gasiorowski 378-68-44, Conlin over Bradsfreet and Coller 384-61-50, all in the Tecumseh voting.

Faraday To Start Production Here

Faraday will start production in its new 84,000-square foot plant next Monday, Fred Wordan, general manager, announces.

Tecumseh's new company began moving and installing equipment over a week ago. Faraday's Church St. property in Adrian has been vacated.

Completion of the company's move from Adrian will be finalized by the end of the month when administrative personnel, office equipment, and warehouse supplies will be located in Tecumseh.

Tecumseh One of Ten in Nation

The Tecumseh Rotary Club has been chosen to receive a "State Award of Excellence for Cities under 10,000" for its outstanding Vehicle Safety-Check conducted in May of this year.

Tecumseh is one of ten cities in the nation to receive such an award.

The award was conferred by a National Board of Judges which met in Washington, D. C. late in July to select national and state winners in each of the five population groups.

The other nine cities who also received the award were Willcox, Ariz., Tallaposza, Geo., Alexandria, Ind., Chesterfield, Ind., Sumner, Iowa, Safe, Mo., Willard, O., Kent, Wash. and Worland, Wyo.

The award-winning Vehicle Safety-Check program in Tecumseh was coordinated by co-chairmen Tim Neill and Chuck Butler.

Give Blood Thursday

Herald readers are reminded of the blood drive being conducted Thursday, August 9 at the Methodist Church.

Collections will be made between 12 noon and 6 p.m.

Those who need transportation to the church are asked to call Tecumseh HA 3-2421 or in Clinton, GL 6-4152.

Teenclub members will conduct babysitting services at the church during the six-hour period.

Assisting the mobile unit staff will be members of the J C Auxiliary and the Gray Ladies.

Office Closed

The Board of Education Office on James St. will be closed August 14-17, according to Supt. James McDowell.

New Fire Truck OK'd

Purchase of a new fire truck from the American Fire Apparatus Co. was approved Monday night by city Council.

The new equipment, minus the truck chassis, will cost $12,700, and will replace the 1945 Ford rural truck.

A representative of the Battle Creek company said delivery of the new truck will be about the first of the year. The Council still must take bids on the truck chassis and is waiting for the 1963 models to come out.

The additional equipment will give the Tecumseh fire department, after disposal of the 1945 Ford, three trucks, all pumpers with ladders, etc., and an emergency vehicle.

Acquisition of a new truck will be the department's first new equipment since 1957 when American Fire Apparatus combined with Ford to give the city its present, main fire fighting equipment.

Other bidder for the new truck was John Bean of Fire Fighters Co., His quotation was $13,421.90

In a close vote (ayes: Easton, Lamb, Bonner, Hamilton; nays: Mackin, Tuckey, Welch,) Council voted to purchase a lawn mower from Tecumseh Equipment Company for the disposal plant.

The new mower, costing $678, was recommended for mowing the plant's sharp slopes, or digesters. The present mower, purchased about two years ago, cost less and is now worn out.

Council also:

Awarded bid to Forest Abner for air conditioning city hall, cost $2,300. Mayor Harold Easton was the lone dissenter.

Referred resident Richard Roost to Planning Commission in regards to change of zoning for operating an archery shop out of a garage at his home, 201 N. Pearl.

Authorized purchase of a flight chain for a settling tank at the disposal plant, from Beal Supply, Adrian, for $1,273.70.

Approved a purchase of a chlorinator feeder for No. 7 well for $761.

Discussed purchasing the Ireland gravel pit, just west of Occidental Rd.

Reported city limit signs and 45 mph signs had been ordered for Macon Rd. and south section of the city.

Discussed purchasing a new addressograph machine for $784.25.

Scheduled a hearing date for installation of curb and gutter in the 400 block of W. Pottawatamie and the 700 block of Adrian St.

Appointed Mrs. Lee Prettyman to the Parks and Recreation Board succeeding the Rev. Allan Wittrup.

Designated city engineer Cal Zorn as highway maintenance superintendent on the state trunkline highway.

Awarded bituminous concrete bid to Ayling Asphalt Company.

SHE WON THE RACE—Mrs. Richard Gardner (right) of 1108 Willow St. edged Mrs. Bonnie Sniffin (left) in a close finish in Friday Night's Pancake Race. Assisting with the crowning of the winner is Aunt Jemima who was brought to Tecumseh by Quaker Oats to promote the free pancake supper.

Mother of Two Wins Race

An estimated 6000 witnessed the running of the second annual Pancake Race held in connection with the free Pancake Supper and Sidewalk Sale in Tecumseh Friday evening.

Winning the first place six-transistor radio was Mrs. Richard Gardner of 1108 Willow St.

She was clocked at 1:23 minutes along the track which ran from Wright's Drug Store to the Country Market on Chicago Blvd.

Mrs. Gardner, 23, is a native of Adrian and the mother of two children, Katherine Mae, 6, and Charles, 3. Both she and her husband work at Clinton Engines.

Last year's winner, Mrs. Bonnie Sniffin of 423 W. Cummins St. finished a close second. She is a cafeteria worker at Tecumseh Products Co. and has three sons, Donald, 17, Gerald, 15, and Ronald, 12.

Tecumseh's "meter maid", Marjorie Chase, 21, was the third place winner. She lives at 205 N. Ottawa St.

Trailing her across the finish line was Mrs. Mary V. Rumpf of 1203 E. Church St., Adrian. She is secretary at the Adrian LP Gas and has a son, Wayne, who serves on the Adrian fire department.

All four contestants received a year's supply of Quaker Oats Pancake Mix and Staley Syrup and a year's subscription to the Tecumseh Herald.

☆

A PRELIMINARY race was held for girls 15-17 prior to the evening's big match.

Clocked at 1:17.5 minutes was winner Janet Bilby, 15, who lives at 8464 N. Adrian Hwy. She is a junior at Tecumseh High School.

Also participating in the race were Pat Warner, 16, of 303 Herrick Park Dr. and Cindy Townsend, 15, of LaGrange, Ill. Cindy was visiting the E. C. Andras at Sand Lake and came to Tecumseh after reading of the race in the Herald delivered to the cottage Thursday. She is a sophomore at Lyons Township High School in LaGrange.

They're Top Twisters

Judges of the Twist contest Friday night were unable to come up with the best couple, so they chose "The Top Ten Twisters of Tecumseh."

The winners from among the some 30 couples were:

Lettie Ringman and Joel Bailey

Joan Cameron and Don Sweet

Patrice Damon and Chuck Gillis

Diane Sweet and Jim Graham

Terri Clark and Jeff Messner

Sale, Dinner Were Both Successful

Tecumseh's downtown shopping area was crowded all day Friday with shoppers for the merchants' annual Sidewalk Sale.

With the some 3000 who were fed free pancakes plus the many others who just came to shop or to watch the Pancake Race, this meant good business for the city's shopkeepers.

One merchant commented that if storemen "didn't have a good business day Friday, it was because they didn't have the merchandise or the service."

Pictures were really moving at the Tecumseh Herald booth in front of the Adrian Federal Bank. Over 1000 prints taken for past Heralds were sold for 10c each.

In town to look at a building he once owned and did business from was Jack Collins of Lakeland, Fla.

Jack had the DeSoto, Plymouth agency from 1937 to 1946 operating from the structure which now houses The Herald.

Tanned and in excellent health, Jack drove over from near Brighton where he was visiting relatives.

Besides selling cars here during the war, he operated three busses in runs to the Willow Run bomber plant.

Jack now has a used car lot in Lakeland.

☆

A fellow who has been around, now running a large Tecumseh store has some comment on retail business.

First of all, he states it's not nearly as bad as some people say it is.

His store is way up and several of his neighbors are ahead for the first six months of '62. Our friend calls this one of the best business towns for its size he has ever seen.

☆

Van's Bakery offered a special for Friday's Sidewalk Sale — six free fried cakes with each dozen purchased.

The final tally of purchases was 150 dozen, so with the free 75 dozen, it all adds up to 2700 fried cakes. Wow!

The Telstar Communications Satellite, now circling the earth, has on board a special space-going version of the Bulova Accutron which is set to turn off the beep transmitter July 10, 1963.

Dick Eggleston informs us that he has an Accutron whose warranty reads it keeps time within 2 seconds a day — 12 minutes a year.

The first four months, his was off only by 104 seconds. Pretty good, huh?

☆

It wasn't really a problem at all. That's the conclusion we made Tuesday when the firebell rang amid the election proceedings at the city's fire hall.

The election workers merely moved out of the way as firemen grabbed boots and coats and ran across the street to where the city's fire truck was parked.

Then they calmly returned to their registration books and voting machines.

EVELYN ARNOLD

Autumn Date Is Planned

The engagement of Evelyn Marie Arnold to Daniel Evan Hancock is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Arnold, of 107 South Oneida St.

Mr. Hancock is the son of Mrs. Evan Hancock and the late Mr. Hancock.

The bride-elect attended Eastern Michigan University and Michigan State University. Her fiance attended Ohio State University.

An autumn wedding is planned.

Rosemary Buku, Donald Linden Speak Vows

Rosemary Sue Buku and Donald E. Linden were united in marriage July 28 at the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church by the Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Michael G. Buku of 114 S. Wyandotte and Mr. and Mrs. James A. Linden of 4600 Blood Rd.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing a white silk organza sheath dress with shoulder length veil of silk outlined with sequins and seed pearls.

She carried a cascade arrangement of pink rosebuds, white carnations and streamers of ivy.

Barbara Buku was her sister's maid of honor wearing a street length blue gown and a blue veiled hat. She carried pink daisies.

Dr. Carlos L. Knisely served as best man and the guests were seated by Dennis and Dean Linden, brothers of the groom.

A reception for 150 was held in the school auditorium following the ceremony.

A wedding cake trimmed with pink and green was cut by Marjorie Linden.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tressler were hosts and Sharon Buku registered the guests. Mrs. Lewis Nagy served coffee and Mrs. Stephen Buku served punch.

Mrs. Carlos Knisely supervised the serving. Others assisting were Elise Buku, Judy Buku, Linda Bush, Pearl Knisely, Mary Tressler, and Mrs. Walter Murphy of Clinton.

A rehearsal luncheon was given at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Local Bank Cashier Now At Madison

Merlyn H. Downing, cashier of the United Savings Bank, will leave Sunday for two weeks' attendance at The Graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

This will be his second year at the School, which requires two weeks' resident attendance each year for three years to earn the certificate of graduation.

Throughout the year between resident sessions, students are required to do extension work involving problems in all phases of banking.

The school is sponsored by the Central States Conference, composed of bankers' associations in 16 midwestern states.

Attendance this year will approximate 1,300 bankers from 40 states with titles ranging from junior officers and department managers to presidents, vice presidents and board chairmen.

The faculty of over 110 instructors includes bankers who are specialists in their respective fields, practicing attorneys, business executives, and members of a number of university and college faculties.

J. W. Meadows, president of the United Savings Bank, is a graduate of the Madison School.

Sale, Dinner

The Ferris Wheel man was one of the busiest all day. The free ride was set up in front of the Strand Theatre and there was never a break in the line of passengers waiting.

Chairmen of this year's sale and supper were John Day and Don Martin, Jr.

☆

SHOPPERS ARE what makes such a sale a success and they were not without comment either.

A couple with two children, evidently just passing through, commented: "Isn't this something. You don't find this in a big town."

Fred Butler and his wife, Lee, of Sand Lake said: "We got the special paper and came down. It looks real interesting. We just had dinner in one of your restaurants."

Mrs. Bert Miller and Mrs. Alvin Angerer and three daughters, all of Kelly Lake, said "We got the special paper. I didn't plan to come but I'm glad I did."

☆

Mary Snedecor of 125 W. Brown St. said of the Sale: "Very Good. I got what I wanted—some pillow cases from Rosacrans and they are very nice. Everybody seemed to be enjoying themselves. We saw a lot of people that we haven't seen in a long time and that's nice."

"We came down to pick up the kids who had a real good time," commented Mrs. John Snyder of Aebersold Rd. "There seemed to be more interest this year than last year."

Mrs. Raymond Ruff of 9249 Tonneberger Rd. offered this comment. "I enjoyed it. I'm for them. I found a bargain in shoes and trousers for my son, Thomas, who will be 16 next month."

"We came down for the pancake supper," said Mrs. Robert Ries of 9246 Tonneberger Rd. "We saw lots of people that you don't often get to see. It's a good idea."

Mrs. William Frownfelder of 809 River Acres Dr. commented that she saw quite a few bargains while touring the downtown area. It seemed well organized, she said.

☆

Mrs. P. G. Colgrove of Jean's Gift Shop was pleased with the results of her first year as a merchant in the Sidewalk Sale. "The customer response was good and steady throughout the day and large during the evening hours, I saw many who appeared to be resorters shopping in Tecumseh. Many came in and bought and some just looked, but that's important too," she said.

☆

Wes Proctor of Proctor Shoes said his shoe sales were excellent. He spent the day guessing the weight of some 950 shoppers and credited 68 $1 discounts on shoes Friday and Saturday to those whose weight he missed. "It was a wonderful turnout," he said.

☆

Jesse Sluyter of Sluyter Electric said her sales were much better than during last year's Sale.

New Station Is Opening

Tecumseh's newest gas station opens this Thursday under the name of Val-U, at the corner of S. Maumee and Russell Rd.

Under the operation of Jack and Jay Osburn, the station will be operated on a cash-and-carry type basis and will sell gas, oil and diesel fuel.

Val-U's bulk plant for residential and farm delivery of fuel oil is also located on the corner.

Jack Brown will drive the company's delivery truck.

Perfection

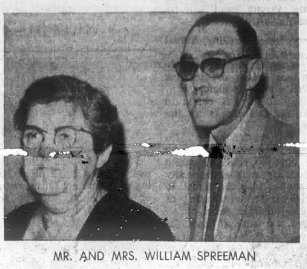
The practical value of striving for perfection will be stressed at the Christian Science church service Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon, "Spirit."

Rev. Nation Announces His Services

Services at the Tecumseh Church of the Nazarene are held each Sunday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday school begins at 9:45 a.m. and morning worship is held at 11 a.m. A young people's service is held at 6:45 Sunday evenings followed by an evening service at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Herbert Nation, pastor, announced Monday that he and his wife want to assist in the community and are available to their parishioners by phoning Ann Arbor 662-5361.



MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM SPREEMAN

William Spreemans Celebrate 25th

Mr. and Mrs. William Spreeman of rural Britton will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary Sunday, Aug. 12.

Their children are inviting friends and relatives to call from 2 to 5 p.m. at the home.

The couple have seven children; William Charles Jr. of Adrian, Mrs. Carroll Hawkins of Adrian, Jane Elizabeth, Harvey Lee, Ellen Diane, Gary Thomas and John Frederick, all at home.

They have three grandchildren.

Adaline Harvey and William Spreeman were married August 10, 1937, at the Methodist parsonage in Saline, Mich. by the Rev. B. Saxman.

She is the daughter of Ada Belle Harvey and the late Reuben Harvey and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spreeman.

Mr. Spreeman is employed on assembly work at the Tecumseh Products Co.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Sluyter Electric Store was alive with activity Tuesday morning. No, Jessie wasn't having a clearance sale with rock bottom prices.

She was entertaining with a coffee hour for Jean Anderson who has returned to Tecumseh to spend this week with her former employer and friend.

Jean and her husband, Robert, with their daughters, Michelle and Nancy moved to Philadelphia last spring.

It was a golden hour at Sluyters as perhaps 50 friends and acquaintances stopped in to chat and greet Jean.

The coffee was good, the rolls from Van's are the best in the whole nation and the talk was just rollicking.

Mark Linn Wins Candy Sale Prize

Friday at a meeting in the new Community Center, the Tecumseh Cub League Commission awarded prizes to the candy sale winners.

Mike Linn was the first prize winner while Richard Durkee and John Hamilton tied for second and received duplicate prizes.

The Commission wishes to thank all who purchased the candy.

Proceeds from the sale along with financial support of the team sponsors make our cub league program possible.

At this meeting plans for next year were discussed with all managers and their assistants.

The commission again reminds everyone concerned that without the tremendous job done by the coaches and their assistants, the cooperation of our Recreation Director, John Henderson and his staff, our program would not be one of the best in the country.

New Boysville Director

Word has been received that Brother Philip Armstrong, C.S.C. is the new Director of Boysville in Macon.

The appointment was announced by Brother Donatus Schmitz, Provincial Superior of the Brothers of Holy Cross, at his headquarters at Notre Dame, Ind.

For the past five years Brother Philip Armstrong has been a member of the Boysville faculty. In addition to his duties as instructor in English and French he was director of the Choral Club, Varsity Band, and Drum and Bugle Corps.

During the past year he served as Registrar.

Prior to his appointment to Boysville, Brother Philip Armstrong was on the faculty of St. Edward High School, Lakewood, O., and of St. Edward's University Preparatory School Austin, Tex.

He earned his bachelor's degree at the University of Notre Dame and his master's degree in Music Education at the Vandercook School of Music.

The present Director of Boysville, Brother John Lavelle, C.S.C., will complete his second term of office next month.

He has been assigned to vocational work for the Brothers of Holy Cross in Ohio and southern Michigan.

James Freckleton Works In Jackson, Lives Here

James Freckelton was appointed Metropolitan Insurance consultant with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in December of 1961.

Some area residents seem to have the impression that the Freckeltons have moved from the city. This is not true.

An agent with the company for 26 years, Mr. Freckleton and his wife, Eleanor, and their 17-year-old son, Steve, are still living at 124 Brown St.

Mr. F. handles estate planning, business insurance, personal life insurance, health and hospital insurance.

His office is in Jackson but his work is mostly with residents in Lenawee County, the same as it has been for the past 26 years. Beside Steve, a Junior at Tecumseh High School, the Freckletons have two other sons; Carl is sales manager for Argus Camera in Indianapolis and Barry lives in California.

The Barry Freckletons have a one-year-old son, James, who they expect to bring here Aug. 19 for a two week vacation with the grandparents.

Since Grandma and Grandpa Freckleton have not seen Barry for five years, he and his wife and child will receive a warm welcome.

The Freckletons have four other grandchildren in Indianapolis.

Water Safety Is Important to Michigan

Secretary of State, James Hare said that a sound plan of "compatible" use of Michigan's inland lakes and waterways would greatly help the tourist industry and the economy of Michigan.

"Compatibility of water use need not be as difficult as some imagine it," Hare said. "Naturally swimmers, skiers, fishermen, skin divers, and power-boats cannot all occupy the same few square feet of water surface at the same time—yet all have the right to enjoy the water activity of their choice."

"Just as the State Safety Commission stimulated the cooperation of all agencies concerned with traffic safety, so this group can marshal the aid of our schools, the Coast Guard Auxiliary, the U. S. Power Squadrons, the Red Cross, and all similar groups in a combined cooperative and continuing program of water safety education."

ADRIAN STREET FROM MURRAY DRIVE TO SHADY LANE IS BEING LOWERED FOR SAFER SCHOOL CROSSING

Safer Crossing for Children

School children who attend the Tecumseh Acres School will have a safer crossing when they return to school next month.

The city council recently authorized that the hill along Adrian St. between Murray Drive and Shady Lane be cut down to eliminate the hidden crossing in front of the school.

This blind spot has been a point of discussion for over a year as parents protested to their children having to cross at this dangerous location.

Patrolmen last year assisted the children in front of the school, but many disregarded them and crossed further down.

A skywalk was suggested as a possible solution but the city fathers rejected it due to an estimated $10,000 construction cost. This also would not have eliminated dangerous bicycle crossings.

Clarence (Spike) Miller was hired to cut down the hill along approximately 825 feet of Adrian St. from Murray Dr. to Shady Lane. Blacktopping will be completed by Ayling Co. of Adrian. When completed it will be over a foot lower.

At council meeting Monday evening, members approved a petition by resident owners along this span to have curb and gutter put in while the street is broken up. The hearing date has been set for the next council meeting.

Estimated cost of the street project is $4,224, not including the charges for the construction of the curb and gutter.

City manager, Ed Nelson, said that the move by the city will improve the view along Adrian St. both ways and will be a great safety improvement for the children.

The street is expected to be completed before school opens the first week in September.

Migrant Ministry Begins Thursday for Harvesters

Passerby Turns in Fire Alarm

Who was the good Samaritan?

Some kind hearted gentleman passing the Richard Dewey residence at the time the barn was burning last Wednesday dashed across the road and asked a neighbor, Mrs. Robert E. Mangus, to call the Fire Department.

He then rushed back to the burning barn, hitched the tractor sitting near the barn to his car and dragged it a safe distance away.

After the volunteer firemen from Tecumseh arrived and had the fire under control, he drove away without anyone finding out who he was.

The 30 by 40 foot frame barn filled with nearly 500 bales of hay and 125 bales of straw burned to the ground.

None of the Dewey family were at the home on M-50, two miles east of Tipton.

Two workmen installing a new furnace in the home were unaware of the fire. Electricity had been turned off to the barn.

A number of small tools, extension and step ladders, garden tools, seed, electric heaters and a corn sheller were lost in the flames. There was no livestock. Sheep were in the pasture.

Mr. Dewey said that the loss was partially covered by insurance. The family would like to know who the man was that saved the tractor and turned in the alarm.

Traffic Deaths Are Below Last Year's Total

Traffic deaths in Michigan in July numbered 142, or one more than 141 in the same month a year ago, according to State Police provisional figures.

The provisional seven-month death toll stands at 791, which is 51, or six per cent, below 842 of the same period a year ago.

Accumulated figures for the first six months include 649 killed and 46,803 injured in 109,621 accidents.

Compared with the first half of 1961, there was a decrease of seven per cent in deaths but injuries increased 16 per cent and accidents went up 19 per cent.

Accident Takes Life Of 'Stoney'

Ronald Williams Schwietzer, 23, was killed early July 25 in an auto accident near Blountsville, Fla.

Mr. Schwietzer, known to his friends as Stoney, lived with Roger Brewster at 403 Center Drive here for several years before moving to Florida.

He had been operating a barber shop since May of this year.

He was a native of Toledo, O., had attended a Ft. Lauderdale High School and Moler Barber College in Atlanta.

Mr. Schwietzer is survived by his wife, Donna Wilson Schwietzer 18, formerly of Atlanta; two daughters, Terrie Lee, 21 months and Kimberly Ann, 9 months.

Funeral services were held July 28 and burial was in the Cherokee Memorial Garden Centre, Ala.

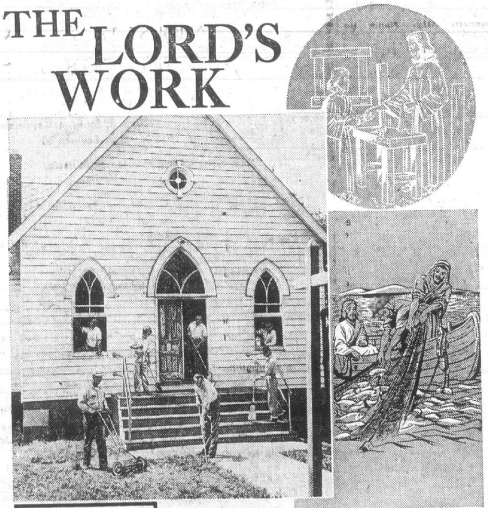
For All We Hold Sacred . . . Attend Church

THE LORD'S WORK



THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why [illegible] should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The dignity of willing labor is one of the principles which Christianity has established among us. It is a natural by-product of a faith whose founder was the Carpenter of Nazareth, whose first adherents were fishermen of Galilee.

Those who are eager to serve God and their fellow men find rich opportunities in the life of the Church. There are tasks for a man's hands, for his voice, for his pen, for his mind. There are needs that our offerings cannot supply . . . challenges that call for the talents and time of earnest men and women.

That friendly church which inspires us on Sunday is busy with the Lord's work all week. That man in the next pew is finding new happiness in willing Christian service. Are you?

THEY'RE CHAMPS — Emily Manwaring (left) was a double winner in the girls tennis championship playoffs last week. She won the singles crown from Karen Creger and she and Janice Reed (right) teamed up to capture the doubles trophy with a victory over Jana Barron and Beth O'Neil.

Girls Lose Ball Crown to Hudson

The Tecumseh girls managed to smack out 10 hits to Hudson's six, but hits without runs do not win a game.

That was the story Thursday evening as Hudson defeated Tecumseh, 6-5 to capture the Southeastern Girls Softball League Championship.

This is the first year that the crown has been taken away from Tecumseh.

It was a close contest, but three wild pitches and an error were costly for the Tecumseh girls.

Mary Jo Mensing, Tecumseh pitcher, was not her best as she walked seven Hudson players and her wild pitches allowed [illegible] runs to score. She struck out five batters.

Pitcher Marr of Hudson walked only two and fanned six batters.

Sheila O'Neil was the leading Tecumseh hitter with four for four at the plate.

The Tecumseh girls ended their season with an overall 14-2 record. In league play they were 12-2.

A total of 287 runs were scored in the 16 games while opponents were permitted only 106.

Final batting averages for the team members were:

Carol Hand	.650
Linda Staulter	.632
Sheila O'Neil	.578
Cindy Murphy	.573
Marge Parrett	.566
Brenda Whelan	.555
Bonnie Staulter	.545
Diane Lake	.540

Emily, Janice Win The Tennis Crowns

The girls tennis tournament was held this past week on the city's tennis courts, supervised by Carol Kapnick.

Winning the doubles championship were Emily Manwaring and Janice Reed who teamed up to defeat Jana Barron and Beth O'Neil 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, Thursday morning.

Emily became a double winner Friday morning as she defeated Karen Creger, 6-0, 6-0, to become the singles champion.

Winners of each set leading to the final playoff in the singles contest were:

Cindy Murphy over Beth O'Neil, 6-3, 6-2.

Emily Manwaring over Jana Barron, 6-3, 10-8.

Laura Wright over Cathy Wykes, 6-1, 6-1.

Karen Creger over Laura Wright, 10-8, 7-5.

Emily Manwaring over Cindy Murphy, 6-3, 6-1.

Karen Creger over Jackie Filter, 6-1, 6-0.

Those who teamed up for the doubles elimination were:

Laura Wright and Karen Creger over Teri Lord and Barb Wood, 6-0, 6-1.

Emily Manwaring and Janice Reed over Cindy Murphy and Cathy Wykes, 6-2, 6-2.

Beth O'Neil and Jana Barron over Laura Wright and Karen Creger 6-1, 6-2.

WCTU To Meet

The WCTU will meet Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Hart and Mrs. Zola Refner on E. Logan St.

Golf Winners

Mrs. Al Merz and Randall Pilbeam were first low net winners at the Tecumseh Country Club Friday evening.

Mrs. Charles Butler and Chester Beach were second low net winners.

A third and fourth place tie was won by Mrs. Burt Shorb, Herb Clark, Mrs. Bill Keith and A. L. VanWinkle.

Al Coopersmith and Mrs. Frank Purcell were low putt winners.

Beevers All Alone In 1st Place Spot

The top three teams in the Tecumseh Products Golf League changed places last Thursday as the team captained by Robert Beevers moved into sole possession of first place.

Top golfer of the evening was Chuck Newell who shot a 37, one over par.

Winning two pointers Thursday were the teams of William Walker over Bernard Fisher, Merlin Schultz over Danny Goller, Chuck Newell over Ben Gillies, Robert Beevers over Dean Hamilton and Wendell Reum over Gerald Baker.

ALL Football candidates, either Junior or Senior High Students, are requested to appear at the High School Gym Thursday, August 23 at 9:30 a.m. for their physical exams.

Indians Win Tournament

The Indians won the Pony League tournament this past week by dumping the Products, 6-4 Saturday.

The game was a wild contest as the Indians were issued 12 walks and stole many bases.

Products pitchers, Dean Hebb and Randy Dotson, were strong in allowing only one hit, but the walks were the real killers. The two hurlers struck out 13 batters.

Winning the game for the Indians was Randy Work with Jim Gréene behind the plate. Scott Edwards pitched the last inning.

Randy Work smacked out the only hit for the Indians.

Leading man at the plate for the Products was Randy Dotson who hit two smashing drives over the left fielder's head for a home run and a triple.

Other hits were captured by Dean Hebb, Ron Packard, and Jim Biscupski.

Following this playoff for the tournament crown, a team of Pony League All-Stars lost a contest to their managers, 9-2.

Jim Kurth pitched the four inning game for the managers. His battery mate was Dick Slocum.

Jim Green was on the mound for the All-Stars.

George Rinehart led the managers with two hits and two stolen bases.

☆

THE TOURNAMENT began Monday as the Indians defeated Britton 5-4.

Randy Work was the winning hurler as he made one pitch in the top of the seventh that put out the fire. Scott Edwards started the game.

Kenny Bagby, centerfielder, had a double and two singles and drove in the winning run for the Indians.

Teammate Corkey Johnson also had a double and two singles.

Tuesday the Products defeated the Eagles, 8-4. Randy Dotson was the winning hurler striking out 12. Opposing him on the mound was Bill Bartenslager.

Dean Hebb and Doug Gillies both had two hits. Doug also received his 31st walk of the season.

In a close extra-inning contest last Wednesday, the Indians defeated Deerfield, 9-8. These two teams are tied for the league championship.

The winning run scored when Kim Rosacrans drew a walk with the bases loaded in the tenth.

The most unusual play of the game occurred when Corkey Johnson, Indian right fielder, struck out in the sixth inning. The catcher dropped the ball then threw wild to first base. Corkey circled the bases as the right fielder threw wild to the plate.

Scott Edwards pitched the first eight innings. Randy Work finished the game.

Catcher Jim Green had a walk and three hits for the Indians.

Thursday, the Products came up with two big runs in the ninth inning to defeat VFW, 8-6.

Gary Hall got the important hit as he doubled with a man on second, scoring the winning run.

Pitching for the Products were Dean Hebb and Randy Dotson.

Leading hitters for the winners were John Davis, Dean Hebb and Mac Meyers. Sheldon Pease had three hits for the VFW.

Fields of Play

A season of Jr. Girls softball closed last Wednesday for some 35 ball players after a seven-week schedule.

The girls, ranging in age from 10-15, have been playing under a program organized by Carol Kapnick.

Winning 11 games while losing only five were the Sluggers who last Wednesday won their last game of the season over the Winners, 18-7. Beth O'Neil pitched for the Sluggers and was opposed by Pat Wilson.

Peg Leighton had three hits to contribute to the victory while a member of the losing Winners, Diana Holcomb, had four for four.

The Winners were also defeated by Bev's Bulldogs last week as Bev Eggleston outpitched Janice Sinkey.

Bev's Bulldog player Gail Lister had three hits while another Gail, Gail Murdock of the Winners had two hits.

The girls gathered at the home of Carol Kapnick after Wednesday's contests for ice cream, cake and kool-aid.

In the All-Star game last Saturday, the Tiger-Indian team defeated the Slugger-Yankee team by a score of 8 to 4.

It was a good game with Mark Hamilton and Dave Gurtsweler hitting home runs.

Frank Guisenhaver was robbed of an extra base hit when Ron Rutherford made a brilliant catch of Frank's fly ball.

Both teams played a very good brand of baseball.

Hodges won three games last week to keep a firm hold on first place in the Major League Cub circuit.

All games were one-pointers as they squeezed past Rotary, 6-5; Exchange, 4-3 and Jaycees, 6-5.

Scores of other contests last week were:

Jaycees, 13—Tecumseh Police, 7.

Kiwanis, 5—Jaycees, 3

Rotary, 5—Tecumseh Police, 4

The Yankees are still undefeated in Cub League play as the ball season comes to a close this week.

They're leading the Minor League circuit far ahead of their nearest competitor, the Dodgers.

In a game played last Wednesday, the Yankees showed their strength as they defeated the Giants, 27-11.

In other games played last week:

The city has provided four locations for these youngsters with supervised play: Patterson School, Shady Lane, Nelson Field and Herrick Park.

School Board's Corner

Monday evening, August 13, at 8 p.m. the monthly school board meeting will convene, and some of the agenda to be covered should be of interest to the community.

While any one of the board is interested to hear comments from the community, we feel that attendance at the board meetings will give citizens a better understanding of the problems faced each month by the board.

The agenda will not be covered in the order that is given here but some of the items to be covered are as follows:

1. Decreased evaluation in the school district: the tax rolls indicate that valuation is down $539,796. This means that the schools will receive $7017.49 less than anticipated (figures based on 13 mills operating budget).

2. A compilation of last year's bus costs per pupil and per mile as compared with the other schools in the county.

3. A request for authorization from the board for the superintendant to collect from Clinton two years' taxes on $55,000 property mistakenly put on Clinton tax rolls instead of on Tecumseh township's.

4. Mr. Neville Hart, high school principal, will appear before the board to explain changes in the marking system to be used starting this fall.

5. Arrangements with the board for a meeting Wednesday, August 22 at 8:00 p.m. with the parents of the Sutton district at the West Branch school. The buildings redecoration and repairs will be finished by that time. Two rooms have completely new furniture and the other room has furnishings purchased in 1961.

6. The facilities of the city swimming pool have been offered to the school system during this September and next June by John Henderson, recreation director for the city. The school now has three teachers who hold life saving certificates and would be qualified to give the instruction.

7. Discussion with the Board about releasing a summary of the findings of the Citizens' Committe. The board and chairmen of the various committees who compiled the reports could meet at another date to discuss the reports and to decide on areas where further study would be helpful.

8. The board will be given the formal yearly audit.

Other items will appear on the agenda that are not covered here because there are always last minute items, but this should give a preview of the meeting.

It is hoped that those parents and citizens who are interested will attend the meeting. All are welcome.

Prize Winners

Patty Dinius and Earnest Topps were winners of the first prize at the Rebekah card party Saturday evening in the IOOF hall.

Mrs. Carroll Frost and Roy Allshouse received second prizes.

Harold Miller won the door prize and the traveling prize was won by Orin Beevers.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Orin Beevers and her committee.

The next card party will be held Sept. 1.

Army Reunion

BRITTON — Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Daykin were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rathman and daughter of Cincinnati, O. Other callers Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Roy De Roche of Detroit.

Mr. Daykin, Mr. Rathman and Mr. DeRoche were all members of the US Army at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Crunk and daughter, Alison, will arrive Sunday to spend a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crunk and Mr. and Mrs. Ron Harris. Mrs. Crunk and the baby will remain for an extended visit.

BUILDING PERMITS

Tecumseh Township has zoning regulations and a permit is needed to build, alter or repair any dwelling. A first floor plan is required which will be kept by Building Inspector.

Permits should be secured before construction is started.

No House Trailers will be lived in, any place in Tecumseh Township, except in Trailer Parks.

Also required is an electrical permit for any type wiring. This permit can be secured from the City Engineer of Tecumseh.

NEWS of Britton

Boy Scouts Go Camping At Dog Lake

BRITTON—Thirty-eight Boy Scouts of Troop 23 started on their long awaited trip Saturday morning at 7:15 a.m.

A caravan of six cars loaded with boys and their gear and a pickup loaded with food assembled in the Britton Park to start on an eight-day trip to Canada.

Their destination, which they hoped to reach sometime Sunday, was Dog Lake, Ontario, Canada.

Scoutmaster, Robert Auten drove the lead car and was followed by Bud Fergus, Dick Vallie, Paul Cook, Raymond Kahle, Elwood Tucker and Raymond Auten.

Pastor Installed

BRITTON—The service of installation was held for the Reverend Thomas John Drobena at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church Friday evening.

The invocation was given by the Reverend [illegible] of Milan.

The Reverend Herbert Fehner of Monroe offered the sermon.

The Rite of Installation was led by the Reverend Curt Bormann of Petersburg, assisted by the other pastors.

The newly installed Rev. Drobena gave the benediction.

Following the service a formal reception was held in honor of the new pastor and his family in the church basement.

Janet Beal Was Twice Honored

BRITTON — Mrs. Lawrence Ash and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland were co-hostesses Thursday evening at a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Janet Beal.

Following the opening of many lovely gifts from the 28 neighbors and friends present, the group adjourned to the recreation room of the Ash home for games and refreshments.

The room was beautifully decorated in orchid and white.

Mrs. Loren Dicks received the door prize and the game of bridge was played. Mrs. Glen Gripton, Mrs. Roger Gillispie, Mrs. Sam Vreeland and Mrs. John Beal were presented with gifts.

Mrs. Gerald Benedict and Mrs. Glen Gripton, aunts of the bride-to-be, assisted the hostesses at the refreshment table.

Miss Beal and Cal Rohrback will be united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 25 at the Britton Congregational Christian Church.

☆

JANET BEAL was the honored guest at a bridal luncheon shower Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herman Miller.

Mrs. Ron Leonard of Adrian assisted her mother as co-hostess.

The gift table featured a sprinkling can overflowing with flowers with streamers of pink and orchid designating the gifts.

Mrs. Gerald Benedict was high prize winner and 10 winners of household articles presented their gifts to the honored guest.

Twenty guests were present and all were neighbors and relatives of the bride-to-be.

Mrs. Stanley Beal of Chelsea and Mrs. Clyde Cheever of Tecumseh were the out-of-town guests.

His Copy Autographed by President Kennedy

John Trefry, Jr., son of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. John Trefry, Sr. now of Cedarville, Mich., received recognition in the Evening News at Sault Ste Marie July 21.

The fifteen-year-old youth was given an A-plus on his analysis of President Kennedy's book, "Profiles in Courage" and wanted his volume autographed by the writer.

He forwarded it to the White House along with a feature story from the Evening News concerning the presidential yacht, previously owned by people from his community.

He promptly received a note of appreciation from the president's personal secretary and the autographed book.

John is interested in becoming a page in the halls of the US Congress to further his ambition to become a member of the diplomatic service.

He is an honor student in his tenth year in school and is a member of the cheer leaders, the Future Teachers, the yearbook and library staffs and plays baritone sax in the senior band.

State 4-H Show August 27-30

EAST LANSING — 4-H Clubs will be on parade on the Michigan State University campus August 27-30.

The event is the 47th annual State 4-H Club show—one of the highlights of Michigan's 4-H year.

More than 3,000 participants will take part in events ranging from automobile driver skill contests to dress revues.

Thousands of exhibits, the best in the state, will go on display to demonstrate the many talents of Michigan's more than 70,000 club members.

The traditional livestock show is still a part of the annual show, but there are hundreds of other features which reflect the changing membership of 4-H Clubs.

More and more urban and non-farm young people are enrolling in clubwork with many and varied interests ranging from gun safety to handicrafts.

While the show will retain much of the rural flavor, the chief emphasis will be an education for youth of many interests—future citizens of tomorrow.

There will be special programs on landscaping, electricity and a tractor operator's contest.

While the lean hog, the blocky lamb and the prize steer will be on hand, some of the show rings will also have horses and dogs—indicating a departure from a program that was once primarily for farm youngsters.

Fewer and fewer 4-H'ers will return to the farm in the next decade and they are planning ahead to develop many new interests. The State Show in East Lansing will mirror this change.

The Cooperative Extension Service, sponsor of the annual event, recognizes that although there have been many dramatic advances in agriculture, development of youth is one of the most vital contributions to Michigan.

For nearly half a century, the head, heart, hands and health organization—symbolized by the familiar 4-H clover, has maintained programs which reach in to every Michigan county.

THE RUBY-THROATS

"Oh, look at the big bee at the red flowers!" exclaimed our little five-year-old visitor, her dark eyes sparkling with excitement.

Minutes before she had spotted a blue-jay and we thought her description of a mourning dove wonderful—they are light gray, fat birds. Now, however, I had to explain that she was not seeing a bee but a hummingbird.

It was a mistake anyone could make. Hummingbirds are so tiny they often seem more bee-like than bird-like.

By far the smallest of any bird, those common to our gardens weigh approximately 1/10 of an ounce and are ¾ inches long.

Yet they attain incredible speed, 50 miles an hour in their normal dodging and darting and their wingbeats can number as many as 75 per second. During some of the aerial gymnastics of the courtship flights, the wing beats may reach an unbelievable 200 per second.

It hardly seems fair but of the some 500 species found in North and South America, and the tiny helicopters are strictly New World birds, but anyway, only one is common east of the Mississippi River. And this one is far from the most spectacular member of the family.

Our ruby throated hummingbird is pretty, but in Argentina the sappho comet has a long bronze streamer tail, the helmet-crest has glorious white chin whiskers and the sickle-billed humming bird, a long and sharply curved bill.

Of course, we should be grateful for small favors, I should say birds, and I really think we are.

It is just that sometimes, when looking at birdbooks, it is easy to be carried away and wish for faraway places and strange birds

☆

AS THE SOLE representative, the ruby throat does a remarkable job of upholding the family's name and honor.

Beautiful birds, both male and female are a lovely irrescent green but he, of course, has an edge on the bright vivid coloring.

When seen in the right light, Mr. H. B.'s cravat flames a brilliant ruby red—just try to see him in the proper light, though.

Mrs. H. B. has dull white underparts and some white marks the end of her tail but again the problem is getting her quiet long enough for a close examination.

For such wee mites the ruby throats are, well, almost ferocious. They are absolutely fearless and will attack anything.

I suppose they recognize the safety afforded by their size and their unparalleled flying ability.

Twisting and turning, darting in and out, and using that needle-like bill as a weapon, a tiny hummingbird could be a formidable enemy, indeed.

☆

ACCORDING TO the books these little birds build exquisite nests. I have never seen one and probably never will.

They are often glued to a horizontal surface—usually a limb over or near running water in an open woodland.

Using bud scales, plant down and spider silk they fashion a cup 1½ inches in diameter. Just imagine—it's no wonder that few nests are found.

By the way, the red flowers at which Mary Beth saw the hummingbird were bergamont or goatsbeard, rather fall plants with coarse fiery red blooms. The hummingbirds simply love them. The climbing honeysuckle vine is also a great favorite.

Actually, there are many bushes and flowers which will attract hummingbirds—they can even be quite easily coaxed to an artificial feeder but that story must wait for another time.

So it is that there is much to be said for and about these summer visitors—some day we will have to do another article about our ruby throats.

Locate Rare-Type Blood for Patient

The Red Cross Regional Blood Center at Lansing has begun participating in a program to locate and establish a file of rare types.

This program paid big dividends this week in Jackson's Mercy Hospital.

Mercy Hospital called the Center to locate several pints of rare Cellano blood type. The Lansing Center called the National Research Laboratory, Western Division, in Los Angeles, Calif.

Three pints of the blood were quickly located, one in Los Angeles and two in Wichita, Kan.

This blood was flown to the Lansing Center from these two [illegible] om [illegible] blood was taken to the Jackson Hospital by a volunteer Red Cross motor service driver.

A few weeks ago it was announced that the Lansing Regional Center had been selected to take an active part in the development of a rare blood donor file.

The Lansing Center was one of the nine Red Cross centers in the nation selected to take part in this program.

When a doctor has a patient in need of a rare type blood he can go to this rare donor file, locate a volunteer donor and obtain the needed blood without delay.

Prior to this program, it often took several months to locate badly needed rare blood type.

The Regional Center is now drawing small samples of blood from selected donors at its regular collections. These samples will be tested in the center laboratory and some of them sent to the Red Cross National Research Laboratory at Los Angeles where the final testing will take place.

A master file is being established with each of the nine centers maintaining a list of rare donors in their areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillespie were in Battle Creek Friday for a picnic at the Good Samaritan Convalescent Home with her mother, Mrs. Joan Perrin. They spent the week in that area visiting relatives and friends.

If you plan to drive in Canada, see us for an insurance card, now required by several Canadian provinces.

Sooner or later, everyone is tempted to pick up a "bargain" in protection because of the rate. Too often, the promise of a fast, generous settlement fails to materialize.
When you buy from a local, independent agent you buy from a man who can look you in the eye any day of the week. He is not "out of town" when needed and his business is to help you get a fair and prompt settlement after a loss.
Bargains in insurance don't exist. But you do get a bargain in service, loyalty and experience when you do business with a local, independent agent. Thats us.

Janet Graham Writes of Traveling Life

Janet Graham, abroad with the University of Michigan Russian Study Tour reached Greece August 5 after a short stop at Portugal and Italy.

Her family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graham, received her first letter from which the following are brief excerpts:

"Our plane left Metro July 23 at 4:30 as you know, but turned back 20 minutes from New York because of storms. They loaded us right onto a jet at Metro and back to New York.

Everybody says I'm a veteran after surviving that flight.

The night flying was indescribably beautiful and the jet was going. So was the stu... We pitched and tossed for half an hour and the lightening flashed around the plane.

Nobody told me 'til after we landed that I should have been scared, so I thoroughly enjoyed the storm . . .

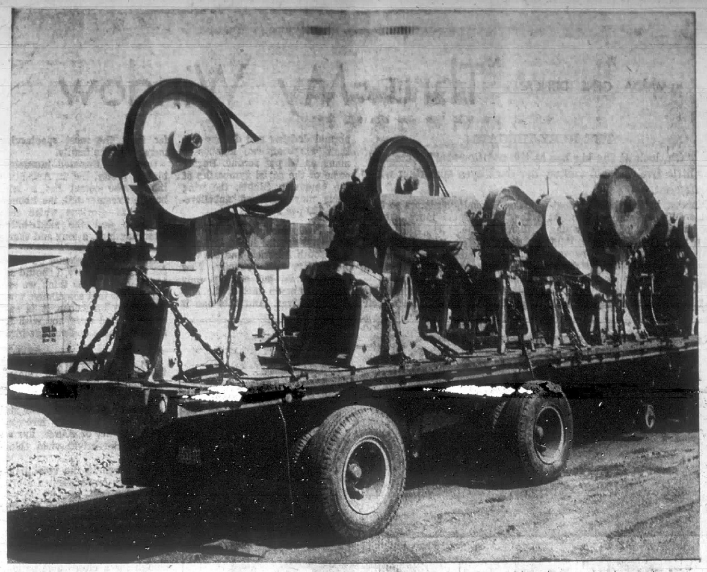
By Friday we had our sea legs and began practicing for the ship talent show. Our Russian songs and dances were the hit of the show, and we were asked to perform for the first class passengers.

We speak Russian and of course this is a Greek Liner, so we have no English at all.

We've picked up a lot of Greek phrases and our waiters beam all over when we use them. We have a choice of at least five dishes every meal, as much and as varied as we want. And it is good, but with no English and a mixture of Russian and Greek, they bring us some strange things.

There are six real Russians aboard and they are just great —all going to Israel. We're picking up some Jewish gestures and intonations in our Russian . . .

Some fog, but a beautiful sea. I can't describe the color—there is nothing like it. They tell me the Mediterranean is even more beautiful. I'll soon see for myself. Whee!



A REAL TRUCKLOAD — Moving day at Faraday last week included the transfer of these heavy duty metal presses from the Adrian plant to the new Tecumseh location. Three flat-bottom trucks were employed to move the equipment. Faraday officials indicate that the Faraday Plant in Tecumseh should be in full operation by September 1.

ORDER OF HEARING—PROBATE OF WILL

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee. ss.

Probate Court for the County of Lenawee.

At a session of the probate court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the probate office, in the city of Adrian, on the 27th day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and sixty-two.

Present, HON. Maurice Spear, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of PATRICIA REED, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Daniel E. Reed, the executor named in the last will of said deceased praying that an instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, may be duly proved and admitted to probate, and that administration of said estate may be granted to Edward C. Applegate (the executor named in said instrument, having declined in writing to accept said trust) or to some other suitable person, and that the legal heirs of said deceased be determined.

It Is Ordered, That Monday, the 27th day of August next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition.

And It Is Further Ordered, That a copy of this order be published in the Tecumseh Herald a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Lenawee, for three consecutive weeks previous to said day of hearing. (A True Copy)

A Site for St. Peter's Is Proposed

Two items top the agenda of considering the moving and restoration of historic St. Peter's Church.

1. A site for the structure, which dates back to 1833.

2. Money, first of all for repairing and moving the building, then its perpetual care.

As to locale, we would like to make a suggestion. Just east of the Community Center (note photo) is a city-owned lot, of ample size, about 200 x 120, in a beautiful setting.

To our way of thinking, it offers everything — lovely layout, ample parking, a front on one of the main entrances into our city. Nearby is the Center, with a park area behind it, along Globe Pond.

There are all sorts of trees, which would set off the beautiful gothic structure.

Now, as to the cash, a first-rate program would probably run $100,000. More than half of this amount would go into moving the building and restoring it.

The balance would constitute a fund for maintenance and upkeep over the years.

This is a sizeable amount, but one which probably could be obtained for so worthwhile a project.

There are a lot of folks who want to see St. Peter's saved. Did you see the column Jack Manning wrote in Sunday's Detroit Free Press? He plans to do several more, too.

The Michigan Historical Commission has already gone down in writing that St. Peter's is one of the state's leading structures and should be preserved if at all possible.

St. Peter's vestry has stated the parish cannot maintain two buildings. It is [illegible] behind an effort to restore the old building at a new site.

We think the location near the Community Center should be given serious consideration.

THE GOTHIC STRUCTURE—AN HISTORICAL AND ARCHITECTURAL PRIZE

150 Attend Gillespie Open House

Nearly 150 attended open house honoring the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillespie Sunday at the Youth House of the First Baptist Church.

A ruby and white color scheme was carried out in the decor of the event with ruby brandy snifters filled with white candles on each white covered table.

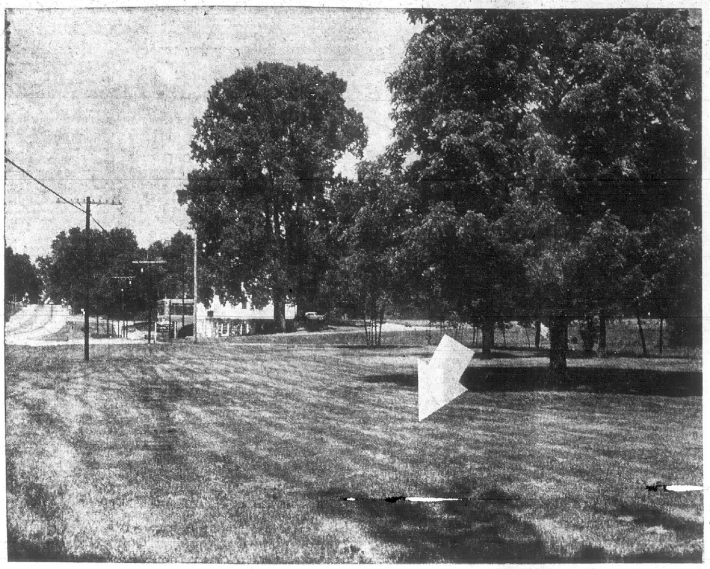
White gladioli and candle arrangements flanked the five tiered cake served by Mrs. Floyd Barrett, Mrs. Orville Bishop and Mrs. Don Johnson.

Linda Easton, Mrs. B. O. Bashore and Mrs. Lyle Grigg poured the punch.

Those presiding at the tea and coffee service were Mrs. Leon Rosacrans, Mrs. George French, Shirley Van Camp, Mrs. Ruth Reed, Mrs. Llewlyn Sisson and Mrs. Donald Van Camp.

Guests attending from Canada, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Athens, Morenci, Onsted and Clinton were registered by Mrs. C. O. Baily and Mrs. Floyd Bryan.

Those assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Victor Humble, Mrs. Roy Kempf, Mrs. Harold Davidson, Mrs. R. C. Pennington, Mrs. Norma Pence and Mary and Ellen Snedecor.



THE CITY OWNED PROPERTY EAST OF THE COMMUNITY CENTER WOULD BE A POSSIBLE SITE FOR THE CHURCH

Letter Shows Concern for St. Peter's Future

Interest in Tecumseh's St. Peter's is far beyond the confines of this community.

Donald M. D Thurber of Grosse Pointe recently forwarded a letter to the rector, wardens and vestry of the church expressing his concern for the future of the historical building.

Mr. Thurber is the Director of Planning for the Diocese of Michigan and a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan.

The vestry has permitted the Herald to print his letter. Gentlemen:

As an interested non-resident of Tecumseh, may I extend congratulations to St. Peter's on the success of its building program and the far-sighted provision which has been made for housing the Lord's worship and work in the Tecumseh parish.

With the future now well provided for, no doubt St. Peter's will turn its attention to the preservation of the historic structure, so well-known to all who value the treasures of early Michigan, namely the existing church building.

Whenever I see the old structure or come upon it in one of the authoritative books on American architecture of the period (St. Peter's appear again and again in such books), I envy the town of Tecumseh for having such an important historical and architectural adornment.

☆

AS AN EXPRESSION of my interest in seeing us of this generation care for the best of what past generations have bequeathed to us; and in the belief that a building which has served as faithfully as this one should receive something of the same treatment we ask for ourselves when we pray for a "safe lodging, a holy rest, and peace at the last," I wish to make a gift toward the preservation and maintenance of the old building known as St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

May I ask that The Rector, The Wardens, and The Vestry give assurance within 30 days that it is their official decision to work for the preservation of the old structure and that they are prepared to assume the authority and responsibility for attempting preservation and maintenance, or for satisfactory arrangements therefor, not necessarily on the present site, but in Tecumseh or immediate vicinity.

For that purpose I offer the enclosed contribution, with the hope that others will see fit to do likewise and that St. Peter's will not only gladly receive but will actually request similar gifts and devote them to the purpose of preservation.

Sincerely yours,
Donald M. D. Thurber

'Health' Added to Clover Leaf as 4-H Emblem

There were not always four H's in the 4-H Club clover emblem.

Around 1909 a three-leaf clover overlaid with three H's was designed and made into pins.

These were awarded to prize-winning corn club members, forerunners of the 4-H movement.

The original H's stood for head, heart and hands, as they still do.

In 1911 at a meeting of club leaders in Washington, D. C., a pioneer of boys and girls club work, O. B. Martin, recommended a fourth H be added. This represented "health," and thus the purpose of the clubs became fourfold.

A half century later, the health H continues to fulfill the expectation of those farsighted Americans who pioneered the now world-wide youth organization.

The fourth H inspires boys and girls from both farm and city to strives for "better health" and prepares them to "resist disease, empty life, and make for efficiency," as stated 50 years ago.

Long AND Short

By TOM RIORDAN

LUDINGTON — This is the land of shifting sands and brilliant sunsets over Lake Michigan.

Movement of the pure white sands between Big Sable Point, to the north of Ludington, and Little Sable Point, to the south, account for a strange phenomenon.

It is one of five beach areas in the world where the sun's rays, bouncing off the shifting sands, create an unique ozone count.

The end results is that a person can get a sunburn much faster than under normal conditions. My lobster-red back is proof of that.

The days are delightful here, but the sunsets alone are worth the 200-mile drive. Sitting on the beach at dusk, a few feet from the edge of the lake and viewing the breath-taking hues of orange pink, blue, scarlet is like peeking into heaven.

Vacations are fun for many reasons—loafing away most of each day being about tops. Eating, too, can become an almost full-time project.

There are two dining establishments in this area well worth mentioning.

The Coffee Pot in Ludington is tiny, but packs a real wallop with its menu. If you're ever in these parts, try the Swedish pancakes and sausage. M-mmmm.

Over in the village of Custer, a dozen miles east on US-10, is a spot called Tonies' Restaurant, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Brazas, who claim to have the "world's best fried chicken."

We dined there on a Friday and selected walleyed pike, American fries and a salad topped with a special formula French Dressing made by the owners. This was one of the most classic meals I've ever eaten.

If the Brazas' fried chicken is just half as good as their fish dinners, their claim will forever go unchallanged.

On the way to Custer, near Scottsville, we passed a lovely new church, Our Savior Lutheran, Missouri Synod.

Turns out, this is one congregation with absolutely no worries about money. Last fall, not too long after the church had been constructed, oil was discovered in the back yard.

As people drive by they can spot a well pumping away, neatly fenced in about 50 feet from the church's back door.

Black gold has been hit on quite a few spots in the Scottsville area, so the poor farm land in Mason County is at last producing a crop, one worth thousands of dollars more than grain or corn.

The Friendly Free Press, with a bureau in Grand Rapids, gets out an edition with a page of west state news.

The great success of this enterprise is a credit to an alert Free Press circulation man, who came up with a flash idea at the time the Grand Rapids Herald was about to fold.

Traveling in western Michigan, the fellow heard on the radio that The Herald, a morning daily, was going to cease publication the following Sunday.

He phoned his boss in Detroit and asked for permission to try and capture Herald circulation for the Free Press. It was readily granted.

With this, he rushed into Grand Rapids and contacted all Herald distributors for carrier boys and said he'd furnish a Free Press the Monday morning following the final Sunday Herald for each customer.

There was a flurry of activity in Detroit as the plan went into motion. An editorial staff was formed to begin collecting news in Grand Rapids.

As promised, former Herald boys had their papers that Monday and they soon were signing up old patrons for the Free Press.

Several other dailies, including one from Chicago, attempted to come in and take over where the Herald left off.

But they weren't fast enough or willing to devote large sections to local copy and pictures. When the skirmish ended after a month or so, The Free Press had a nice chunk of brand new circulation.

Speaking of newspapers called The Herald, the one printed last Wednesday in Tecumseh, our first week on vacation, was read by all of us with great fervor—as if we hadn't seen one in years.

JANICE KAPNICK INSPECTS HAIL-PITTED APPLES

Kapnick Orchard Hit Hard by Hailstorm

While Tecumsehites breathed a sigh of relief late last Wednesday afternoon after a short, violent storm, Charles and Janice Kapnick watched with horror, as hail, nearly the size of golf balls, riddled their fruit-laden orchard.

The Kapnicks main orchard of 1,800 apple trees and 1,000 peach trees was battered by the storm, which inflicted thousands and thousands of dollars in losses.

The 10 to 15-minute hail storm dashed their hopes of an excellent fruit crop. Trees, bent under the weight of ripening apples and peaches, escaped serious damage, but not their fruit.

Mrs. Kapnick said that there would be little fruit of top quality this year, most of it to be sold as seconds.

The peach season is just beginning and only about 20% of it had been harvested. Most of the peaches are still on the trees, and at least 80% of them damaged.

CLOSE-UP OF PEACHES HIT BY HAIL

Already, persons interested in picking their own peaches are doing so and at only $1 a bushel.

Most of the apples were also damaged, meaning a big amount of the apples this season will be sold for juice. Some of the apples may heal, but others are expected to rot and drop off the trees.

The Kapnicks hope to salvage enough to pay for $4,000 worth of spray. They will spray once more in hopes of helping the remaining apples.

Mrs. Kapnick said that probably 10,000 bushels of apples were lost, and most of the rest damaged. With each apple tree averaging about 20 bushels to the tree, the Kapnicks will have about 20,000 bushels of apples left, mostly seconds, a few first grade.

Mr. Kapnick was at another orchard on Rogers Hwy. when the storm hit. His wife and two children took refuge in the basement of their home on Pocklington Rd.

When he arrived home in midst of the hail, they watched their year's efforts smashed and cut by the hail.

There was no orchard hail fruit insurance, due to such high premiums.

Other orchards in the area escaped the hail or suffered little.

The giant hail stones, which fell just before 7 o'clock, still covered the ground four and five hours later.

Field corn in the area, east of Billmyer Hwy. and north of Sutton Rd., was shredded by the hail. Leaves hung practically in strings.

Extent of damage to the corn has not been determined, although expected to be considerable.

Tecumseh, lashed by high winds with some sections hit by small hail stones, sustained little damage.

Parents Invited to Open House

An Open House will be held at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 22, for the parents of all children who have been assigned to the West Branch School for next year.

The Board of Education, Superintendent, and Business Manager urge parents to visit the school at that time to discuss any problems which are related to its use.

The West Branch School which was loaned to the Lenawee County Board of Education last year for Special Education purposes has been renovated.

Since the first graders will no longer be on half-day sessions due to the passage of the four mill operations levy, the three rooms at West Branch and one at Macon must be re-opened for public school use for regular pupils.

Also, at Macon, there will be another room for pupils who are slow learners at the chronological age of the fourth, fifth, and sixth graders.

☆

THE INTERIOR of West Branch has been completely repainted, papered, the floors scrubbed and sealed, and other minor repairs completed.

These three rooms, although in a very old building, have modern univent heating and air-conditioning, fluorescent lighting, and modern toilet facilities for each individual classroom as do all our other early elementary facilities in the other buildings. These rooms are also equipped with new modern-type school furniture.

Mrs. Joyce Ferguson will teach the first grade, Dorothy Stroebel, the second grade, and Janet Bleich, the third grade.

The pupils and teachers who occupied these rooms last year will be housed at the Sutton School which will be operated entirely through State and County Special Education Funds.

Physicals Aug. 16

Physical examinations for junior and senior high school football candidates were moved up a week by the area doctors, who have volunteered their services for the exams.

The new date is 9:30 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 16, at the high school gymnasium.

Schools Prepare for Opening

School bells will ring Tuesday, Sept. 4 as the city's schools begin the 1962-63 academic year at 10 locations. High School, Junior High, Patterson, Herrick Park, Tecumseh Acres, Tipton, Ridgeway, West Branch, Macon, and three special education classes at Sutton.

All professional staff members will assemble at 9 a.m. Aug. 29 in the High School Study Hall.

Coffee and donuts are being provided by the Tecumseh District M.E.A. between 8:15 a.m. and 9 a.m. in the High School cafeteria.

Schedule for pre-school conferences is as follows:

August 29

9:00 General Teachers Meeting.

☆

AS A PROTECTION for Tecumseh pupils the Board requires a complete physical for all staff members when they first enter our school system and every two years thereafter. X-rays for tuberculosis are required each year and are taken at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

All staff members must have X-rays on any of the following days: August 30 and August 31 — 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Hot lunch programs will begin opening day only at the high school. Milk will be available in all other buildings except the junior high, and children will be expected to bring their own lunches.

Eligibility of elementary children to remain at school for lunches will be determined by the same rules as last year.

Senior High Time Schedule

Water Unsafe

Dr. Eleanor Skufis and a representative of the County Health Department told the Tecumseh school board that unsafe and unsanitary conditions existed at the Macon and West Branch schools.

Especially cited was the drinking water used at the Macon school. Dr. Skufis told the board that a sample had been taken and found not safe for consumption.

The well, 75 feet or more deep, has been used for a number of years and is now being used by residents neighboring the school building.

Also questioned was the sewage disposal system at the Macon school. The doctor urged the board to investigate and determine if the tile field there is adequate.

The board assurred the county representatives that corrective measures would be taken at the Macon school and also at West Branch, where inadequate toilet and ventilation systems were criticized.

Other Tecumseh schools were inspected, except Sutton, and found in satisfactory conditions.

The board approved a plan presented by high school principal Neville Hart that class night and the honors assembly be combined and be held on a Friday morning at the school.

Also combined, at least for the next school year, was baccalaureate and commencement. They will be held jointly, possibly on a Sunday.

☆

In other action, the board:

Granted Earl Greene a year's leave of absence

Approved paying costs for junior high and high school class advisors.

Approved a special meeting at the West Branch school, Aug. 22, at 8 o'clock.

Approved, with agreement from Dick Purkey, that gasoline bids should be sought.

Increased mileage allowance from 7c to 8c.

Discussed with a representative from the Onsted school board and a tenant farmer about changing school district lines with Onsted gaining a portion of the tenant's farm.

Approved a change in the marking system for the high school.

SHOWS BROCHURE—Industrialist Charles Purley shows company brochure to Rotary President Hugh Walter, standing, and the Industrialist's s on, David.

Spans Ocean for Rotary Day

The annual Tecumseh Rotary Day is undoubtedly a big attraction for local and area Rotarians.

Tuesday's festivities were the biggest, and apparently even more attractive.

All the way from England came Charles Purley, chairman and managing director of Lec Refrigeration Limited, Bognor Regis, Sussex, to attend the fun day at the Tecumseh Country Club.

A friend of Hugh Walter, president of the local Rotary Club and who extended the Rotary invitation, Mr. Purley runs the invitation, Mr. Purley runs a 2,000 employee refrigeration company.

Lec Refrigeration, organized in 1945, makes a complete product—from stamping and casting to cabinet work for refrigerators, freezers, ice making machines, and is now even producing a thermo-electric refrigerator, one which does not utilize a compressor.

Although Lec produces its own compressors, the English company also is a customer of Tecumseh Products licensee at Stearns, buying the larger TP compressors and often the smaller, comparable compressors to meet demands of Lec's customers.

Mr. Purley frequently comes to the United States and knows many of the executives at the Tecumseh Products. He met Mr. Walter in the late 1940's at a refrigeration convention in Cleveland.

Mr. Walter, now employed at the Products, was service manager for Norge at the time.

Accompanying the English visitor is his son, David, a 17-year-old lad who gained some notoriety recently in England by becoming the country's youngest licensed pilot.

The Purleys arrived in Windsor Saturday night and are staying with the Walters in River Acres. They plan to leave this weekend.

Wonderlys In Florida

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wonderly left Wednesday, August 15, via Delta jet, for Miami Beach to cash in on their one week vacation they won in the Tecumseh Winter vacation promotion March 17.

The Wonderlys arrived in Florida at noon and are now enjoying themselves along the beach at the Monte Carlo Hotel.

The couple will fly back August 21.

Friday Is Final Day For Books

Tecumseh's new library is all ready for its books and Jaycee members will move the books and equipment from the old to the new building this weekend.

Last day for checking out or returning books, pictures and records will be Friday.

The children's room closes at 6 p.m. and the adult rooms at 9.

No returns will be accepted at either building until the library reopens Sept. 10 in the new quarters.

New library hours will be noon to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and noon to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

The three week closing will allow the staff to place the books on the shelves, reorganize the card catalogue and in general get settled for the Sept. 10 opening.

Patrons should get their supply of reading materials before closing hours Friday.

Trickey Declines Second Term

Charles Trickey, county Republican chairman for the past year, elected not to seek another term and was to be replaced at a party meeting Wednesday in Adrian.

Possibilities for the position were Dick Hoban and Charles Figy.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Oh, plant a huckleberry bush upon my grave,
And let the juice — run through.
Oh, plant a huckleberry bush upon my grave,
That's all I'm asking you.

Now the deacon had a chicken —
And it tasted mighty lush
But to me there's nothing finer
Than a huckleberry bush —

So plant a huckleberry bush upon my grave
And let the juice —
Let the juice —
And let the juice run through.

This little verse with appropriate slurps and slushes of lip and tongue has evoked chuckles from members of the Grigg family, large and small, for a number of years. Our "Aunt Merman" will sing forth with it with little coaxing.

This year too, it is reported that the huckleberry crop here is especially good.

√

Mrs. J. R. Peck of Nitro, W. Va., arrived Aug. 9 to spend a few days with her son, Warren, and family. Gary Bleau of Nitro returned after spending several weeks in the Peck home.

√

Tom Rice, former Tecumseh resident, has accepted a position as manager of Maintenance and Facilities at the General Electric plant in Cincinnati. The Rices are living in Mason, Ohio.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Barry Brock returned to Tecumseh from Ft. Benning, Ga., where he has been serving with the armed forces. They will make their home here temporarily.

√

The 45th Gamble family reunion was held Sunday with 77 persons present. Those from farthest away were Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Tietsworth and Elsie Tietsworth of Groveland, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Vealey of Pinellas Park, Fla.

The Tietsworths spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beach before returning to New York. The Beaches also are entertaining Connie Cummings, a cousin from Elwell.

CHILDREN WHO were enrolled in Tecumseh Public Schools last spring have already received notice of the grade and school in which they will be located this fall.

Parents of children who are new to the community and who have not yet been enrolled should see the principal of the high school, Mr. Hart, in the case of pupils in the 9th through 12th grade; the Junior High Principal, Mr. Dick, in the case of pupils in the seventh and eighth grades; and Wayne Kaiser, Telephone HA 3-2167, Extension 51, at the Tecumseh Acres School, in case of children in the kindergarten through the sixth grade.

These men will all be in their respective offices August 27 and 28, and may be contacted on those dates.

☆

THE TEXTBOOK rental plan which was started in 1947 was revised by the Board of Education for the 1962-63 school year.

The textbook fee includes textbooks, work books and art materials except in special classes where additional supplies are necessary.

Kindergarten — $3.00.

First through sixth — $6.50.

Seventh and eighth — $7.00.

Ninth through twelfth — $8.00

All textbooks are the property of the Board of Education. Students should use the books with care to avoid paying fines. All lost books must be paid for in full.

The principals and their appointed teachers are in charge of the collecting of the money.

Receipts must be issued to all pupils paying fees of any kind on official Board of Education forms.

Elementary pupils should be prepared to pay the book rental fee to the teacher on the opening day of school and parents should expect their children to bring a receipt for same home after the initial enrollment.

All elementary pupils will remain in school as usual on the opening day.

☆

HIGH SCHOOL pupils are to report to the gym at 8 a.m. Tuesday. Book fees will be collected. Pupils will then secure their class schedule cards from their class advisor.

Pupils may leave after they have obtained their schedule cards, unless they are to take prognostic tests for algebra or foreign language.

These tests will be given in the Study Hall according to the following schedule:

Algebra Prognostic Test, Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.

Foreign Language Prognostic Test, Tuesday at 10:30 a.m.

Pupils are to return at 1 p.m. Tuesday and go to the gymnasium for a general assembly and orientation period.

Regular classes will begin Wednesday, Sept. 5, at 8 a.m.

Pupils enrolled in physical education should be prepared to pay a $1.50 fee for towels and locker at the first meeting of their physical education class Wednesday.

☆

JUNIOR HIGH School pupils are to report at 8 a.m., the seventh grade to the boys' gym on the first floor, and the eighth grade to the girls' gym on the third floor.

Book fees will be collected and schedule cards handed out.

Pupils may leave for the morning after obtaining their schedule cards. They are to return at 12:25 p.m. and go to their sixth hour class for orientation.

All Junior High pupils must be prepared to pay a 75c towel and locker fee at the first meeting of their physical education class.

Regular classes will begin Wednesday, Sept. 5, at 8 a.m.

Pupils in Junior and Senior High who do not come prepared to pay their book fees must report directly to the principal's office before receiving permission to enroll.

Horvath-Crawford Vows Are Exchanged

Yellow and white floral arrangements banked the altar of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church Saturday where Jane Evelyn Crawford and Richard Joseph Horvath knelt to exchange their wedding vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Eldred J. Crawford of 9250 Tonneberger Dr. and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Horvath of Clinton-Macon Rd., Macon.

The Rev. Thomas J. Collins officiated. Wallace B. Whiting sang the nuptial mass, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Johnson.

As Mr. Crawford escorted his daughter down the carpeted aisle, she appeared in a gown of silk organza over taffeta. The princess bodice and the modified sheath skirt front were misted with crystal, pearl and bugle beading. The peacock bustle flowed to a chapel train.

Her headpiece was a frothy tulle pillbox trimmed with satin leaves and seed pearls. It held a bouffant veil of French illusion.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade arrangement of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis, centered with a detachable corsage.

Debi Crawford was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Margaret Horvath, sister of the groom, and Linda Scott of Mansfield, O.

They were gowned alike in pale yellow batiste with an all-over design of orange roses and avacado leaves. Their pale yellow pillboxes held bouffant veiling and they carried globe arrangements of foliage attached to green wicker chains.

William Lopshire was best man. Daniel Foulkrod of Grosse Pointe Shores, David Hoekenga of Park Ridge, Ill., and Harry Nauert of Tecumseh seated the guests.

Some 200 guests attended a reception in Tecumseh Country Club. Topiary trees with simulated corsage arrangements of yellow and white flowers formed a backdrop for the bridal table.

Aiding at the reception were Marilou Layton, Doris Oliphant, Mary Colgrove, Jane Dillon, Mary Seager, Sharon Martin and Linda Wilson, all of Tecumseh, and Leanne Meyer of Lansing and Judie Davis of Wethersfield, Conn.

When the couple left for a week's trip to Canada, the bride was wearing an off-white raw silk suit and a blue and jade-feathered pillbox.

The bride attended Catholic University of America at Washington, D.C., and Central Michigan University at Mt. Pleasant. She will continue her studies at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti.

Her husband attended Ferris Institute and will continue his studies at Cleary College, Ypsilanti.

MRS. RICHARD JOSEPH HORVATH

Deaner-Easter Nuptials Spoken

Roberta Ann Easter and Frederic Allen Deaner were united in marriage July 21 in St. Barnabas Chapel, Gibsonia, Pa.

The Rev. Archibald B. Moore, St. Barnabas chaplain, was assisted with the double-ring ceremony by the Rev. George Reynolds Jr., pastor of St. Christopher Episcopal Church, Warrendale.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Blair Easter Jr. of Gibsonia. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Deaner of Tecumseh are parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. John Ketterer of Meridian, aunt of the bride, played several wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. William Maclay of Lamar, Colo., matron of honor, who sang "O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full-length gown of white organza designed with long sleeves, fitted bodice, rounded neckline and full skirt. An organza rose held her shoulder-length veil. She carried a white Bible and white roses. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Maclay wore a gown of yellow organza and carried a cascade arrangement of white daisies.

Dona Sizemore of Ypsilanti was bridesmaid. Junior bridesmaid was a sister of the bride, Cathy Easter. They wore yellow frocks and carried daisies.

Mary Beth Deaner, a sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She carried a basket of daisies.

Mark Garrison of Gibsonia was ring bearer.

Gary Tiberghien of Ypsilanti served the bridegroom as best man.

Roy Wade, James Easter, the bride's brother, and Michael Deaner, a brother of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception was held on the lawn of St. Barnabas Home for 150 guests. Aides were members of St. Hilda Guild of St. Thomas-in-the-Fields Episcopal Church, Gibsonia.

The new Mrs. Deaner attended Colorado Woman's College, Denver, and is a stewardess for United Airlines.

The bridegroom, also employed by United Airlines, attended Eastern Michigan University, where he was a member of Pi Kappa Phi.

After a honeymoon in Erie, Pa., the newlyweds will make their home in Ypsilanti.

Attending the wedding from Tecumseh were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fosbender and Mr. and Mrs. James Barton.

MR. AND MRS. FREDERIC ALLEN DEANER

Son Is Born

A son was born Sunday to Mrs. Donald Johnson, the former Elizabeth Escolme of Tecumseh.

The boy was named Donald after his father, who died July 31 after a short illness.

Mrs. Johnson's parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Escolme, who served the Friends Church in Tecumseh for many years. The Johnson home is in Berea, O.

MRS. HARRY HOFFMAN, Jr.

Graduated

Mrs. Harry Hoffman, Jr. received her B.S. Degree in Education July 30 at Eastern Michigan University after completing summer school there.

She will teach junior high and elementary physical education at Northville this fall.

Mrs. Hoffman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Larned.

Rock 'n Rollers at Parking Lot

There will be rock 'n roll dancing on one of the city's parking lots Friday evening from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

Forrest Abner will provide the music.

He will announce the exact location of the dance while playing records on the street for shoppers prior to it.

TROPHY WINNER, CHARLES RELYEA

Charles Relyea Won Safe Driving Trophy

Charles Leslie Relyea, 14, of the Cylinder Heads 4-H Club won the trophy for the Tractor Operators Safe Driving Contest, Junior Division, at Blissfield, July 14.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Relyea of Matthews Hwy.

The freshman at Tecumseh High School has been driving a tractor since he was a small child and has cultivated about 50 acres of corn in the past three years.

The family owns a small John Deere tractor.

He helps his father put in crops and assists with the haying. The Relyeas are attempting to sell their five acres and purchase more land rather than rent as in the past.

Charles plans to take up agriculture in high school.

He drove a John Deere '60' tractor in the competition with five other contestants.

Three years ago, Charles was awarded the blue ribbon for his corn crop and he received the red ribbon in 1961.

Fred Long is the leader for the 4-H Club of which Charles is a member.

Chief Clark Summarizes July Work

Police chief Murell Clark recently submitted the following summarized report of police activity for the month of July.

There were 20 accidents — six parking lot, 12 property damage and two personal injury.

Criminal arrests numbered 16 with an added six juvenile arrests. One hundred thirty one complaints were received and answered. There were 86 traffic summonses.

Meter violations totaled 501 and brought in $201.15 in revenue. The city's parking meters yielded $1264.50 during the month.

Other activity included: 51 liquor inspections, two liquor violations, three health department orders, eight dogs picked up, seven dog complaints, two fire calls, four safety talks and four garbage complaints.

Property inspections numbered 284. Patrolmen investigated 129 cars and assisted 22 automobiles. Foryt-one warning tickets were issued. Property recovered totaled $379.50.

In addition there were 10 gun registrations, six people fingerprinted and 19 changes of address on operator's licenses.

The total $2716.05 revenue collected durng July also included $1239.90 in traffic fines and costs and $10.50 in bike license fees.

Exchangites Fill Vacancy

Tecumseh Exchange Club's Board of Control Monday night named Albert Taylor vice-president for the 1962-63 season. He fills a vacancy caused by the resignation of Earl Greene.

A board vacancy from the resignation of William DePuy still is to be filled.

The club's mid-summer picnic will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, Aug. 20, at the Sixth Hole of Tecumseh Country Club. All Exchangites will be contacted.

Club members also examined the Freedom Shrine plaques which the club has presented to the Tecumseh Library Board. The documents of American history will be hung in the new library building.

Pfc. Bryan A Member of Chorus

"Soldiers' Chorus" sounds like something out of an opera, but to Pfc. Dennis Bryan it means a chance to sing for generals and governors.

Dennis, who got his early vocal training in the Tecumseh High School music groups and the Michigan Chorale, was accepted recently into the Soldiers' Chorus at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

The first tenor auditioned for membership in the 15-man group which sing for all types of military programs and for civilian activities too. Next month the group will appear at the Kentucky State Fair.

Dennis plans to study music at the University of Michigan when he has completed his three-year Army hitch. He will aim toward a musical teaching career, but would like to sing professionally. He has no preference for classical or popular music.

A 1961 graduate of THS, Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bryan of Britton, formerly of Tecumseh.

Earl McKinney Completes Course as a Cannoneer

FORT SILL, OKLA. — Army Pvt. Earl L. McKinney, 23, son of Mrs. Norma E. McKinney, 5700 N. Raisin Center Hwy., Tecumseh, recently completed eight weeks of advanced individual training as a cannoneer at The Field Artillery Training Center, Fort Sill, Okla.

McKinney entered the Army last March and completed basic training at Fort Chaffee, Ark.

Hs is a 1959 graduate of Tecumseh High School and was employed by A & P Food Store in Adrian before entering the Army.

Paul Wilcox and Richard Tracy of Tecumseh will have their pictures in The Weekly Wave of Cedarville this week. The Upper Peninsula paper's reporter called The Herald to tell us the boys were enjoying excellent fishing in the Raber and Goetzville areas, but did not care for the clams in the bay. The clams have a habit of snapping closed on fishing lines, [illegible]

Watkins Shop Is Moving

The Watkins Shop completed its move Wednesday to a new store, next to Baldwin Hardware, and will hold a grand opening this Friday.

Mrs. Marvin Watkins, owner, will give away many prizes at the grand opening.

The new shop has been completely remodeled and redecorated, plus a new sign for the store front. Mrs. Watkins was formerly located at the southwest corner, Chicago Blvd. and Evans.

GOP To Elect Party Officers

Republicans of Tecumseh City and Tecumseh Township will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 21, to elect party officers.

The meeting will be in the City Council Room and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Crawford Added

A son, Gregory James, was born Aug. 8 to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Crawford of Spartan Village, East Lansing. Mrs. Crawford is the former Brenda Heeman of Tecumseh. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crawford of Tecumseh.

Gregory weighed in at 8 pounds 8 ounces.

Planners Pass Master Plan

Tecumseh's Master Plan was adopted Tuesday night.

The plan to provide orderly growth in the city's future includes one major change made while the plan was undergoing public hearings.

Designed to lessen the plan's impact on residents of Logan and Pottawatamie Sts., the the change provides a timetable for adoption of a new traffic pattern through the city.

The first stage, determined by the traffic volume, will eliminate parking on and left turns from Chicago Blvd. In the second stage, west bound traffic will be moved to [illegible] and eastbound traffic will remain on Chicago.

The third stage will move eastbound traffic to Pottawatamie St. and develop a mall area on Chicago.

This program is subject to the approval of the Tecumseh City Council and Michigan State Highway Department.

The Master Plan also covers such areas as development of sites to be devoted to playgrounds, open areas and public buildings. Included are provisions for zoning to control height, area, bulk, location and use of buildings and premises.

A. J. Smith, Tecumseh architect, was consultant to the Planning Commisison in developing the Master Plan.

Mrs. Linton Surprised

Mrs. Sam Linton of 108 W. Pottawatamie St. was pleasantly surprised Friday afternoon when several of her neighbors held a birthday party for her on her own patio.

The event was planned by Mrs. John Reed.

Ice cream, cake and coffee were served during the afternoon.

Mrs. Linton received many lovely gifts.

Drive-In Has Western Film

The World's First Christian western, "Mr. Texas" will be shown at the Devils Lake Drive-In, Saturday, Aug. 18, at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday, Aug. 19, at 9:15 p.m.

The Billy Graham film "Mr. Texas" has been given great acclaim than any other Billy Graham film. Redd Harper and Cindy Walker play the lead roles in this unusual film. Also starring are the Sons of the Pioneers.

The drive-in is located at the south end of Devils Lake about 3 miles south of US-223. All are welcome to the drive-in and there is no admission charge.

OBITUARIES

● EDWARD H. GOTTSCHALK

Edward Harmon Gottschalk of 302 S. Maumee St. died last Wednesday on his 69th birthday.

Mr. Gottschalk, a retired employe of Tecumseh Products Co., was rafting on Sand Lake with two grandsons Wednesday when a storm broke. He took the boys, Edward, 12, and William, 10, to shore and shelter.

When the storm ended the boys returned to the raft and found their grandfather lying on the deck.

Sand Lake Fire Department administered artificial respiration but could not revive Mr. Gottschalk. Coroner Edward J. Braun attributed the death to a heart attack.

Edward J. Gottschalk of Tecumseh, son of the victim andn father of the two boys, said his father had a history of heart trouble.

Mr. Gottschalk was born at Paulding, O., Aug. 8, 1893. He had lived in the Holloway and Tecumseh areas many years.

Survivors include three sons, Fred of Monroe, Edward J. of rural Britton, and Paul of Adrian; two daughters, Mrs. Kenneth (Dorothy) Martin of Clinton and Mrs. Leona Gomez of Adrian; 21 grandchildren; six greatgrandchildren; a brother, George of Cecil, O., and two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Taylor of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Mrs. Helen Martin of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. Gottschalk was preceded in death by his wife, Eula in January, 1951; three brothers, Fred, William and Frank, and one sister, Mrs. Bertha Knerr.

The Niblack Funeral Home conducted services Saturday at 2 p.m. Burial was in Ridgeway cemetery. The Rev. William Spencer of Toledo officiated.

JOHN HAMILTON (CENTER) AND MEMBERS OF TEEN CLUB DISCUSS ORGANIZATION WITH REED CITY YOUTH.

City Teenagers Host Reed City Delegation

Eleven teenagers and six adults were in Tecumseh over the weekend to take a good look at Tecumseh's Teen Club.

Such a well-organized, active group as Tecumseh's is a good one to examine when setting up plans of organizing elsewhere.

At least, that's what a group of teenagers from Reed City, Mich. thought.

They heard of Tecumseh's Teen Club, and an interested state trooper there, Jim Purkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Purkey and a 1956 THS graduate, wrote a letter to see if some pointers could be acquired.

The Tecumseh gang promptly invited some representatives down to take a look at Tecumseh's setup.

The group arrived in Tecumseh Friday evening and were entertained at a party at the Tecumseh's Teen Club in the Community Center.

They stayed over night with members of the Tecumseh group and then returned the next morning to tour the Center.

Members of the local group and the representatives from Reed City spent some time discussing the history of the local group, its constitution and exchanged many questions and answers regarding Tecumseh's organization and program.

The 17 left Tecumseh that afternoon, enthused and optimistic.

Along with Mr. Purkey and his family, the teenagers were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Al Shaw (hes also a trooper there) and the news-paper editor in Reed City, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Neaves.

All are behind the move to establish a club in Reed City, located in the middle of the state with a population of over 2000.

Teen Club members who offered to house the teenage guests were Janice Whelan, Pat Lawson, Dan Greene, Jay Osburn and Doug Goldsberry.

Leading Tecumseh's Teen Club this year are president, Tom Dickinson, vice president, Terry Beland, secretary, Pat Lawson and treasurer, Janice Whelan. John Hamilton is chairman of the advisory board.

Anniversary Open House Held Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. George Meads received congratulations from friends and relatives in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon at the Friends Church.

The event was arranged by their children, Mrs. Gary Penrod, Richard and Georgia Meads, and sisters of Mr. Meads, Mrs. Clarence Randolph and Mrs. Ray Campbell.

The Meads have two grandsons, Kirk Allen and Eric M. Penrod.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully arranged table. The cake, decorated by Mrs. Randolph, was cut and served by Mrs. Penrod.

Others serving were Mrs. Charles W. Howe, Mrs. Donald VanHook, Mrs. Maynard Harsh and Joyce Randolph. Carol Campbell registered the guests and Richard and Georgia Meads had charge of the gift table.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Penrod and sons of Chillicothe, O., Tom Gamboe and Mrs. Sarah Pilbeam of Pioneer, O., Clyde Gamboe of Brooklyn, Laura Meads of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meads, Mrs. Chet Nagle and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Meads and son, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Youman and children and Mrs. Willis Kilbourn of Milan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Janes of Lambertville, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Blohm and family of Adrian, Harlan Wilt and David Steffens of Palmyra and Mr. and Mrs. David Robinson and children of Dundee also attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Meads received many lovely gifts and cards.

Stamps Asked for Hospital

The Volunteer Service Council of Ypsilanti State Hospital has initiated a Gold Bell stamp drive aimed at obtaining buses for its patient recreation program.

The buses would be used to take patients from the hospital to such activities as ball games, bowling and swimming trips.

Full or partially filled books and loose stamps can be mailed to Volunteer Office, Box A, Ypsilanti, or given to Mrs. John Hamilton, 413 E. Shawnee St., Tecumseh.

They also may be left at the Tecumseh Herald office or at the Ypsilanti hospital lobby.

Traveling Dinner Ends Season

A mystery night and progressive dinner were featured Aug. 7 at the last summer project meeting of Raisin Cane 4-H Club.

Thirty-six members and leaders met at 5 p.m. at the home of Onalee, Christine, Lawrence and Debbie Cote. Other homes on the tour were those of Gilbert and Frank Belyea; Shirley Chrisman; Jane, Larry and Sue Jenkins; Judy and Sue Barnell and Richard Lowery.

During the tour, the group stopped at voting booths while the leaders cast ballots in the primary election.

Included in the evening were a display of mosaics and a demonstration on photography.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Award To Local Businessmen

Within the next week or so, the Tecumseh school board will decide the purchasing policy to be administered by the school's new business manager.

Since the schools' purchases are considerable each year, this policy is vitally important to Tecumseh shops and stores.

There's evidence that the school board's decision will be favorable to local merchants. We hope so.

We feel, for obvious reasons, that some discrimination in purchases not only can prove beneficial to the schools, but also be a factor in improving our local economy.

For example, if a Tecumseh business bids close for a sale or job, say within five percent or less, we feel that the schools should award the business locally.

Such a policy would insure economical buying by the schools with some leniency toward the home folks. Some out-of-town purchases undoubtedly would be made; however, many would also be contracted locally.

The policy would be fair to all, and certainly acceptable by Tecumseh merchants.

We are not implying that local businesses have not had the opportunities in the past to bid and sell. We know that many are happy with their arrangements with the schools.

We merely hope that the new policy, one to be a guide for the business manager, gives the local merchant a cooperative chance against some of the big, out-of-town suppliers..

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Cook of 500 S. Occidental Rd. announce the engagement of her daughter, Sharon Lee Chase, to Gayle Douglas James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert James of Detroit. The bride-elect and her fiance both are graduates of Clinton High School. Miss Chase, also a graduate of Alexandra Beauty School at Ann Arbor, and Mr. James, a graduate of a Detroit barber college, both are working in Detroit. Their wedding date has not been set.

Drive Short of Goal

Only 64 pints, half the quota, were collected last week at Tecumseh's first blood bank drive.

The remaining 61 pints of the 125-pint quota will have to be taken at the city's next drive, if Tecumseh is to keep pace with its promised participation in the new Red Cross Regional Blood Bank program.

Red Cross has been supplying blood to this community since Aug. 1, in a program offering free blood to any Lenawee County resident, no matter where in the state, nation or world the blood transfusion would be required.

Hospitals normally make a charge for administering the transfusion, but the blood itself will be given free under this program.

In attendance at the Aug. 9 bloodmobile visit in First Methodist Church were Dr. R. G. B. Marsh, Dr. C. L. Cook and Dr. Eleanor Skufis, county health director.

Participating groups were the Gray Ladies, Jaycees Auxiliary and Teen Club.

Volunteers from the Gray Ladies were Mrs. John Quigley, Mrs. Carrol Frost, Mrs. Charles O'Brien, Mrs. Wayne Patton, Mrs. Herman Jones, Mrs. James Tonneberger, Mrs. M. D. Boss, Mrs. Eugene Skinner, Mrs. Marvin Nelson and Mrs. Walter Wonderly.

Auxiliary members there included Mrs. Richard Creswell, Mrs. Bruce Corley, Mrs. Douglas Dunn, Mrs. Dyke Helmes, Mrs. Ray Shelton, Mrs. James Winder and Mrs. Richard Jacobs.

Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Wonderly are members of both organizations, and assisted in the work of both.

Serving as babysitters for the donors were Sherrie Johnston, Pat Lawson, Sherry Packard, Janice Whelan, Sharon Cubberly and Cora Murphy.

Mr. Orrie Gilbert was donor recruitment chairman and Mrs. Nelson was volunteer chairman. Mrs. M. R. Blanden was responsible for supplying the nurses.

Mrs. Maxine Eggleston donated her help to the drive. Flowers for the canteen tables were supplied by Pickard Flower Shop and transportation was furnished by Schneider Bros. and Tecumseh Motors, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Parson of Canton, O., spent last Saturday evening with Mrs. Carl Burch.

Mrs. Burch was hostess for the weekend to Mrs. Flota Mae Alcock of Englewood, Fla.

Thank You To Terry

The Department of Parks and Recreation would like to send a special thanks to Terry Mackin and Kuhlman Concrete, Inc., for donating the material that is being used for the new drinking fountain at Nelson Field.

Maccabee

The 31st Annual Maccabee picnic will be held at Carr Park in Manchester Sunday, Aug. 19 at 1 p.m.

A cooperative dinner is planned with each one bringing own table service and a dish to pass.

All Maccabees, their families and friends are invited to attend.

General chairman, Fred Steinoff is making plans for a fine program. There will be special prizes for all who participate in the sports program.

Deerfield Wins Playoff

The Indians made a strong rally, but fell short of victory last Thursday, losing their Pony League championship playoff to Deerfield by one run.

Deerfield made seven runs on six hits, scoring the winning run on a balk. The team, with a battery of Larry Reau and Tom Hadden, made two errors.

The Indians scored once each in the first two innings and twice in the sixth and seventh. On the scoreboard were 9 hits and 6 errors. Losing battery was Scott Edwards and Jim Greene.

Dick Warner had two hits and a walk and Don Pfeifer made two hits to lead the Deerfield team. The Indians' leading batters were Tim Rinehart, with two singles and a double for four times at bat, and Jim Greene, with a single and a double in three at-bats.

Final league standings are:

Hodges Wins Cub Major League Title

Hodges won the Cub Major League baseball title last week after completing a 14 win, 3 loss season record.

According to their managers, Bryan Goodman and Royce Durkee these boys comprised the best cooperating team they have ever coached. "They're as fine a group of boys as any manager could ask for," they said.

Their two last games of the season were close contests. They lost the first one Monday to Rotary, 4-3, but came out on top, 5-4 in the contest against Union Friday.

In other games last week:

Yanks Win Top Spot in Minors

It was an undefeated season for the Yankees in the Cub League Minors as they concluded play last week with a 9-0 record.

The final game of the season was a good performance by the champs as Mike Henson pitched a no-hitter and the Yankees overpowered the last-place Indians, 28-3.

In other final games last week, the Tigers defeated the Giants, 9-8, Braves over the Dodgers, 9-7 and Pirates over the Red Sox, 11-6.

Church Rummage Sale Set

BRITTON—The annual rummage sale date was set when the Priscilla Circle of the Congregational Christian Church met last Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson at Deep Lake.

Dates for the sale will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6-8.

Members are asked to take their good used clothing and household articles to the former implement store any week day until Sept. 6.

Following a potluck luncheon attended by seven members and four guests, the business meeting was opened by Mrs. Paul Rowlands in the absence of the president and vice president.

Fifty-six dollars worth was reported on the luncheon which the circle served last Monday and the group voted to use the sum to purchase a disposal for the church parsonage.

Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland reported that 12 pair of slippers had been given to Herrick Memorial Hospital and they were very much appreciated.

Mrs. Harold Osterhout gave the devotions and was assisted by Mrs. Hoagland, who presented a brief history of the church.

The group will next meet when the four circles of the church gather at the Fellowship Center for their quarterly meeting Wednesday, Sept. 5 for a noon luncheon and business meeting.

Hanneviks Welcomed

BRITTON — Seventeen members and friends of the Congregational Christian Church eagerly awaited the arrival of the Rev. and Mrs. Gustav Hannevik at the Metropolitan Air Terminal last Thursday.

The Hanneviks spent six weeks vacationing in Norway and England and arrived by jet a few minutes later than scheduled due to a bomb scare in England.

They were thrilled to see so many at the airport and said they had a wonderful trip but were glad to be home.

The Hanneviks will be staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson in Tecumseh until their new parsonage is completed.

Shower Fetes Bette Bailey

BRITTON — Bette Bailey was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower given by her sister, Mrs. Harlan Houpt, in her home recently.

Beverly Speaker of Chicago, roommate of the bride-to-be, was among 16 guests present.

Games were played and those receiving prizes were Nancy Ehlert, Mrs. Gail Smith and Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt.

Kathy Bailey assisted her sister with the serving of refreshments.

Miss Bailey and Larry Robinson of Tecumseh plan to be married Sept. 15 at the Methodist Church in Ridgeway.

Collision Kills Britton Couple

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Culp of Britton were killed instantly in an automobile accident on Rogers Hwy., four miles north of Palmyra Aug. 8 at 11 p.m.

The couple died when their car went out of control and collided with another vehicle, Blissfield State Police said.

The Culp car was being driven north on Rogers Highway when it ran off the road on the right side, and then came back across the road and sideswiped an auto driven by Rosa Kathleen Miller, 18, of Deerfield.

Both cars skidded off the west side of the road.

Nancy Culp, niece of the Culps, was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital suffering cuts and bruises.

Rosa Miller was transferred from the Tecumseh hospital to the University Medical Center in Ann Arbor. Her husband, Howard, 19, was treated for minor injuries and their baby, Eunice, escaped injury.

Floyd Culp was born Feb. 3, 1925 in Jackson county, O., the son of Burt Altman and Minnie Conner Altman Culp.

He was a veteran of World War II and was engaged in farming.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Culp were employed at the Malloch Chicken Farm in Britton at the time of their deaths.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Minnie Culp of Wauseon; a half sister, Mrs. Kathryn Hartman of Wauseon; three half br... Gilbert Culp of Toledo, Junior of Texas and Gene Culp of West Unity and a daughter Marie Culp of Alvordton, O.

Mrs. Luella Jane Culp was born Jan. 7, 1924 in Morenci, the daughter of Benjamin F. and Margaret Bean Belcher.

She and Mr. Culp were married Sept. 21, 1961.

One daughter, Margaret Watkins of Adrian; a sister, Mrs. James Payne of Hudson; three brothers, LaVern Belcher of Osseo, James Belcher of Waldron and Lafayette Belcher of Posey Lake and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Belcher of Hudson survive.

She was preceded in death by her father and one brother, Benjamin F. Jr.

Funeral services were held Saturday in the Everiss Funeral Home. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Morenci.

Child Dies In Accident On Highway

BRITTON — An accident on the Detroit Expressway last Wednesday took the life of eight-year-old Karl Prielipp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Prielipp of 4867 Dennison Rd.

The boy was riding in a truck driven by his grandfather, Albert Prielipp of Britton, when it was hit from the rear by a truck driven by Herbert Boss of Detroit.

Karl was thrown from his seat and underneath the other truck. He died at Wayne County General Hospital.

He, his father and his grandfather were on their way to the Detroit Produce Market. Albert Prielipp suffered slight bruises but the boy's father was uninjured.

A third-grade student in the Britton-Macon Area School, Karl was born March 23, 1954, in Tecumseh.

He was a member of the North Blissfield Lutheran Church.

He is survived by his parents, two brothers, Daniel and Mark, and two sisters, Karlene and Pauline, all at home, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bexton of Ottawa Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Prielipp of rural Britton.

Services were held at the North Blissfield Lutheran Church. Arrangements were made by the Niblack Funeral Home.

Rev. William Weinlander officiated and burial was in the Spiegel Cemetery.

Migrant Work Is Explained

BRITTON—Miss Adriana Asalgado, a staff member of the Lenawee County Migrant Team, spoke Sunday morning at the Britton Methodist Church.

Miss Asalgado told of the work being done in the county and throughout the state for the migrant workers.

She also announced that a meeting of the migrant workers will be held Wednesday evening, Aug. 22, at the Britton Park.

Persons desiring to help or to learn more about the project may contact Mrs. George Forsyth.

Miss Asalgado, who is from Chili, is a student at Scarett College, Nashville, Tenn.

Granddaughter Is Welcomed

BRITTON—Charles Downing of North County Line Rd. received word of the birth of a granddaughter born Friday, Aug. 10.

Renee Lynn Wood was born in Waialua, Hawaii, to Lt. and Mrs. James Wood. She weighed seven pounds three-quarters ounce.

Mrs. Wood is the former Joan Downing.

Lt. Wood is with the Army, stationed at Scholfield Barracks.

Radio Club Members See Buffalo

BRITTON—The Raisin Valley Citizens Band Club, better known as the C B 's, left for the P O N Y Jamboree at Buffalo, N.Y. Friday.

Seventeen cars and house trailers carrying 55 members of the club from Adrian, Tecumseh and Britton left the Britton Park at 1 p.m.

Highlights of the three-day affair were a queen contest, dancing, display of C B equipment, the annual business meeting and the prizes which were given every hour on the hour.

The group also enjoyed a tour of the city escorted by the Buffalo police.

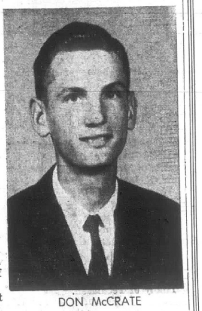
Those attending the jamboree from Britton were Mr. and Mrs. Clare ... Mr. and Mrs. Willard Exelby, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Downing, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Loesch and David, Fred Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Downing.

Don McCrate Joins Navy

BRITTON — Donald McCrate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCrate, enlisted in the Navy on July 24 for a three-year period.

His mailing address until the first part of October is Company 318, Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

Donald is a 1962 graduate of Britton-Macon High School.



DON McCRATE

Janet Beal Is Honored

BRITTON—Mrs. Harold Rohrback and Judy and Mrs. Duane Robertson were hostesses at a bridal shower Sunday afternoon in the Rohrback home honoring Janet Beal.

The 16 guests, all relatives of the hostesses, were from Ottawa Lake, Metamora and Berkey, O., Blissfield, Tecumseh, Milan and Britton.

Miss Beal opened her gifts from an orchid and white table which featured a large silver umbrella trimmed with flowers.

The guests enjoyed the game of snoop and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Harvey Miller for high score and to Jan Davis for low score.

The door prize was presented to Mrs. James Doyle.

Mrs. Charles Dickerson of Milan and Mrs. Glen Davis Jr. of Tecumseh assisted at the coffee service.

Yearly Dance Is Scheduled

BRITTON—The Annual Dance will be held in the school study hall from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Aug. 24.

The purpose of the dance is to distribute the awaited 1962 BRITTONIAN, the school's yearbook.

Admittance to the dance is free with an annual receipt.

The prices for the dance will be 25 cents single or 50 cents for couples.

Music will be provided by records and refreshments will be served.

Rev. John Fills Methodist Pulpit

BRITTON—The Rev. and Mrs. Albert B. John and Susan and Tim were Sunday morning guests at the Britton Methodist Church.

Rev. John, who is a former pastor of the church, conducted the worship service in the absence of the Rev. Paul Sullivan, who is vacationing.

The Johns were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kanous and Linda.

They also called on Lulu Gilmore of Ridgeway.

WILL YOU BE FARMING IN 1970? According to economists, capital requirements to operate a commercial farm will continue to grow. The right to farm will no longer be a birthright, but will belong to those with financial backing, the training and the drive to get the job done. Farmers of the future should specialize in managerial ability and technical knowhow; Farm records, tax accounting, financial administration and basic biological sciences cannot be stressed too much.

SOIL COMPACTION becomes a greater problem as size and weight of tractors increase. Using a special tractor wheel, soil specialist at the University of Minnesota compacted soil equal to 10 years of using the common farm tractor. It resulted in compaction of the soil to a depth of 21 inches. It greatly cut forage yields of oats-alfalfa compared to unpacked areas. Corn forage yields were sharply reduced, but there was little effort on corn grain yields. However, corn in the packed area grew slower and matured later.

IMPROVED BREEDING is the first step toward better performance and higher hog profits. The full effects of feeding cannot result unless animals have the inherited ability to produce superior, meaty carcasses. The genuine meat hog should exceed the following: Weigh more than 200 pounds in 180 days; measure less than 1.5 inches of backfat; have more than 28-inch carcass length; llon eye area of over four square inches; and lean cut percentage of over 52%.

ISOLATE DAIRY COWS as soon as signs of heat are noticed. Confinement keeps cows quieter, increasing chance of conception. It also reduces disturbance to the rest of the herd and helps maintain better herd production.

The 'W' Stood for Water

A thirty-car caravan carried 125 Lenawee County Homemakers on the ninth annual "Know Lenawee County" mystery tour Aug. 1.

The "W" in Operation "W" was revealed to be water and two man-made pools were features of the tour.

After meeting at the fairgrounds the caravan stopped at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen on Taylor Rd., north and east of Tipton where a pool has been developed to conserve water, using land not suited to other purposes.

A beautiful scenic area has been developed where the Allens plan to locate a new home.

The second stop was at the Amos Wilson farm on N. Adrian Rd. where another water conservation project has been undertaken.

The pond constructed by the Wilsons is primarily for recreational purposes, especially for the Tecumseh Friends Church where they are members.

A luncheon was served by the Tecumseh Grange ladies at the hall where Maynard Minier was speaker and toastmaster.

He spoke on soil conservation by means of water control and tree planting.

A film previously shown to the United Nations was presented.

Woodrow Barclay from the United Soil Conservation Department spoke on the water sheds of Lenawee County.

Following the luncheon program the group toured Meyers Aircraft Co.

Mrs. Elmer Wilt, Mrs. Frank Csokasy, Mrs. George Dinius, and Mrs. Wilbur Boyce of the Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club were among those attending.

Mrs. Elwyn Green and Mrs. Robert DeGroot of the Around the Block Extension Club were present.

Mrs. Roy Brosamer and Mrs. Dale Schug of the Holloway Main Street group were also in the caravan.

Blanch Vegetables Before Freezing

If you want flavor, color and texture in the vegetables you freeze at home, proper blanching is a must.

"If the vegetables are not blanched and cooled, they might end up tasting like an old haystack," warns Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at MSU.

Blanching simply means dipping the vegetables into a bath of boiling water for one minute.

Blanch enough vegetables for just one package in one gallon of water, Miss Hershey says, and cool immediately in cold water to stop the cooking process.

The specialist says the vegetables must cool for at least the length of time they heated — and they must be cold to the center.

Avoid overcooking. And don't try to do too many vegetables at once or they might not get heated or cooled through and through.

Blanching stops the enzyme action that makes the vegetables grow and mature, Miss Hershey explained. After the vegetables are picked, this action simply makes the vegetables lose flavor and color and eventually spoil.

And if the vegetables are not heated enough, the enzymes continue to be active during frozen storage.

READ THE HERALD IT PAYS

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

With all the recent publicity given old St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Tecumseh, I would like to call the attention of Herald readers to several important points and to correct what I fear may be a false impression from an interview printed in the Detroit Free Press Saturday, August 4 1962.

First of all, the Vestry of the parish and I, as Rector, have consented to any reasonable workable program which might be presented to the parish for the preservation of the old Church on a site other than parish property.

It is gratifying to find interest in St. Peter's Church from so many people around the State.

We know many residents of the Tecumseh area are interested in preserving St. Peter's as an historic monument and I express more than simply a pious hope when I say, "God willing and men willing it will happen."

It is only fair to point out, too, that if old St. Peter's has this kind of importance as an historic monument, its moving, repair, and restoration are beyond the limited resources of the people of St. Peter's congregation.

To put the hope into action will require leadership and money, both of which will pretty much have to come from outside the local congregation.

Saturday, August 4, I was quoted in the newspaper as saying that the old building is "not worth saving" which sounds rather final if interpreted in one way.

Actually, for 129 years the Church has been worth saving and it still is, though I believe the reasons for saving it are now different reasons than before.

The parish will soon have a fine new building to serve its needs and grace the community, so if St. Peter's is to be saved its "worth" will be for something other than a parish church for the local congregation of Episcopalians.

I say this only to clarify the statement quoted from me by Hiley Ward in his fine article on the Saturday, August 4th Church Page of the Free Press.

I would point out that "worth-saving" has at least two different meanings here: worth saving as a sort of second parish church in light of the new building (no), or worth saving as an historic monument for the benefit of keeping some tangible part of our State's religious heritage and for the teaching of history (yes, if there are enough citizens of Michigan who will do it).

Thanks of all of us of St. Peter's go out to the Tecumseh Herald and to our many friends in the community and in the State who have expressed their best wishes on our building program.

We thank all who have, at the same time, expressed their hope that the problem of saving or razing the old building will be happily solved.

The Church of God must make a strong witness today and go forward. We of St. Peter's parish could have made our way in the old church but thanks to our donors and pledges our witness will, I believe, be stronger and surer for many years to come in the new St. Peter's.

The Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne

Something you should think about if you're about to buy a truck:

If all trucks were built the same way, cost the same to keep up, were worth the same at trade-in . . . then probably the price tag would be your only concern. It can't be, of course, because some trucks have more quality than others. And marks of quality are the real keys to low cost.

Chevrolet trucks, for example, have double-wall construction, which gives bodies and cabs more strength. Cabs are insulated against heat, cold and noise. A big part of road shock, which shortens truck life, is damped out by Chevrolet's suspension system; it also makes riding in the truck a pleasure. Pickup bodies and cabs are separated to eliminate stress between them.

Value such as this has induced more people to invest in Chevrolet trucks every year since 1937.

This can be a good time to buy a modern new Chevrolet truck

Late summer traditionally is the season for all-around savings on a new Chevrolet truck . . . selection is still good . . . deliveries are prompt . . . and Chevrolet dealers are doubly anxious to put you into a new vehicle in order to make way for next year's models. Coupled with the efficient performance a new Chevrolet truck will give you, it seems evident that you couldn't buy at a better time.

Come in and take full advantage of it!

Employment Has Risen

Employment in Lenawee County experienced a significant gain during the past 12 months.

A current survey of Lenawee County establishments which employ eight or more workers, conducted by the Adrian Office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, reported 14,294 individuals employed on July 15, 1962, which included 3518 females.

One year earlier these 230 establishments were employing 12,964 wage and salary workers.

Most of the increase occurred in the 82 manufacturing plants which employ 8870 workers and account for 689 of the 1310 gain in employment.

Unemployment compensation claims correspondingly differ from a year ago when 2565 individuals were claiming benefits during the last week of July compared to 784 claims during the last week July 1962.

Last month the dollar value of benefits paid by the Adrian Office of the MESC amounted to $[illegible] while payments totaled $296,006 in July 1961.

A TRIO OR A QUARTET?

Corn is disappearing fast around here these days, about as fast as it can be put out. A full supply in the morning will be picked clean by early afternoon.

Who or what has such insatiable appetites? Teen-agers, as you might have guessed—four young fox squirrels.

They are not quite full-grown yet. Their heads look oversized, their feet seem enormous and their bodies are not yet filled out.

How they can look scrawny and eat so much is one of the miracles of youth, I guess.

One of the bunch is the proud possessor of a gorgeous tail. It is long and full, almost luxuriant. He manages it quite well. Some of the flips and w[illegible] most [illegible]

When the gang first started coming, they were not together but came in pairs or singly. The last few days, however, all four have dined together occasionally.

Quite a sight to look out and see one squirrel feasting royally on corn and sunflower seeds at the feeder, another busy in the corn-tree and a pair working over the ears of corn which we fasten to the fence.

When one foxy tires of his "restaurant" and moves over to sample his brother's lunch, the displaced squirrel does the same to his sister and we have a regular four-stage chain reaction.

☆

OUR FIRST experience with this family of youngsters came, not while looking through our west-facing picture window, but rather while on the porch.

Mom and I were enjoying a Sunday afternoon out there—she spotted the two little squirrels first. They were quite little, too, rather round and oh, so soft looking.

The two of them were right at the top of the creekbank and so busy that they didn't even notice us. We watched and watched while they ate and ate.

At first we thought they were feasting on mulberries which had fallen to the ground but a closer look showed that they were nibbling on elmseeds.

Imagine, those little bits of elmseeds — how could they possibly find enough eating in one to make it worthwhile? It is no wonder their Sunday dinner took hours and hours.

There was a bumper crop of elmseeds this year, Michigan State University reports substantiate this. There were so many they became a nuisance, to us that is, not the squirrels.

They were in seventh heaven and spent an unbelievable amount of time patietly eating one tiny seed after another.

☆

WHEN THE SEED-eating twosome were nearing the end of their elm-tree treat, and they must have found much nourishment for they grow amazingly fast, but about now, another squirrel appeared, Mr. Gorgeous Tail.

He discovered the feeding station with its corn and sunflower seeds and we discovered that he had a temper.

Grabbing hold of the ear of corn with his mouth, he pulled and shook, but of course, the ear stayed put. This made him furious.

He would keep attacking the corn and finally give up; my, but he could act mad!

The fourth squirrel started appearing around the back-door elm tree. The other three soon joined him and, for some reason, they found this a good spot to hang around.

Actually hang around—quite a common sight is one squirrel in the tree, two hanging upside down on the trunk and the fourth sitting on the steps. Just resting, apparently.

So it is that these days when we see one squirrel, we start looking for more and usually, we end up hosting a trio or a quartet.

Michigan's Fort Mackinac

Mackinac Island, sacred refuge of the Indians and guardian of the Straits of Mackinac, this summer is celebrating the 150th anniversary of the War of 1812.

In that year the British captured Fort Mackinac in a surprise attack on the American garrison.

Fort Mackinac, standing watch atop the limestone cliffs on the Island, was one of the strategic outposts in the British-American conflict of 1812.

The fur trade of the Old Northwest was the prize at stake and Fort Mackinac guarded the Straits through which the great fur fleets had to pass.

Built by the British in 1780-81 after they had abandoned Fort Michilimackinac at present day Mackinaw City, Fort Mackinac was turned over to American forces in 1796, only to be recaptured by the British in the War of 1812.

It was turned back to the Americans in 1815 and remained an active army post until 1895.

Finally the federal government relinquished the fort and the island to Michigan and the state turned a major portion of the island into a state park development.

The fort museum, located in the soldiers' barracks, depicts the original garrison life through period settings complete with mannikins.

Fort Mackinac's tearoom interior has been re-done to create a more accurate Colonial atmosphere with waitresses dressed in authentic costume and through the use of Colonial dishes and furnishings.

Guides dressed as British and early American soldiers are available to assist sightseers.

Visitors may walk, bicycle, ride horseback or take horse-driven "cabs" on their island tours. No automobiles, however, are allowed on Mackinac Island.

Arch Rock, near Fort Mackinac, now features an exhibit depicting the formation of Mackinac Island during successive geological periods over thousands of years.

Mackinac Island's historic reconstructions, exhibits and outdoor attractions will be open until October 1.

Mimeograph Presented to Jaycees

Eighty attended the annual family picnic of the Jaycees August 2 at the park behind Patterson School, originally cleaned up by the Jaycees.

The Auxiliary members presented the Jaycees with a mimeograph machine.

After the picnic, the couples went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wonderly.

Lt. Jay Linquist Spoke of History

Lieutenant Jay Linquist of the US Air Force was the speaker at a recent Rotary meeting.

The Lieutenant is stationed this summer at the University of Michigan to receive special instruction in electronics and other allied subjects.

His talk covered the progress of Aircraft as a US Defense Unit through the US Army, US Navy and finally as a separate unit of our defense program.

Lieutenant Lindquist is under the Air University in the Air Force Institute of Technology.

Dear Mr. Stein:

Being in the real estate business, I feel qualified to know a good deal when I see it. That is why I decided to build an Albee Home. My expectations were justified, and now I would like to invite everyone to see my new home and office in the Irish Hills. Perhaps I can help other people to build a similar home or cottage on one of the lovely lake lots in this area.

Sincerely,

Walter D. First

Michigan State Fair Admits Teachers Free

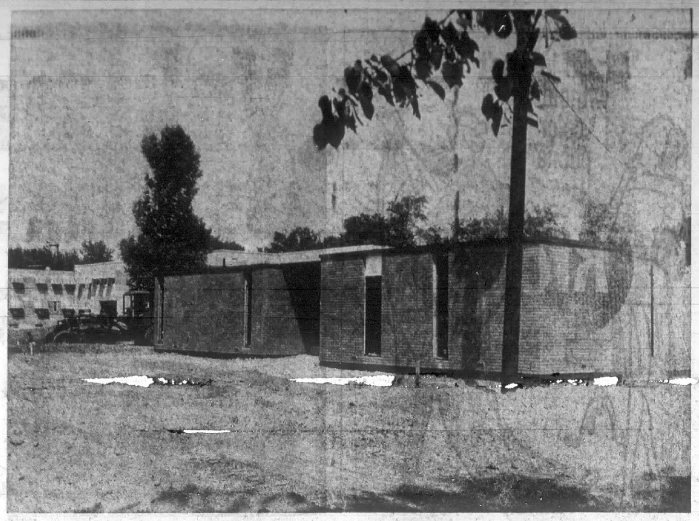
LANSING — Michigan teachers will be able to get in one final day of vacation fun at the Michigan State Fair Friday, August 31 as guests of the Fair before they head back to the classroom.

Twenty-one outstanding state teachers also will receive awards from the Michigan Education Association on August 31 as part of the highlights of the Fair's Teachers' Day.

The Michigan State Fair is expecting school-age children this year to help break a Fair attendance record since most schools in the state will not begin classes until the Fair is over.

The State Fair will start August 24 and end on Labor Day, September 3. This year's Fair is 10 days long.

In the past, the State Fair was held for one week after Labor Day when most students were just heading back to school.



READY BY SEPTEMBER—The new medical building located east of Herrick Memorial Hospital will probably be ready for occupancy in a month, according to Dr. Carlton Cook. He and two other medics, Dr. Richard Coak and Dr. Harold Ocamb and dentist Dr. William J. Adams will set up offices there. Architect A. J. Smith designed the building. The picture was taken from the southeast corner of the building with Herrick Hospital in the background.

WHEN YOU BUY INSURANCE

Sooner or later, everyone is tempted to pick up a "bargain" in protection because of the rate. Too often, the promise of a fast, generous settlement fails to materialize.
When you buy from a local, independent agent you buy from a man who can look you in the eye any day of the week. He is not "out of town" when needed and his business is to help you get a fair and prompt settlement, after a loss.
Bargains in insurance don't exist. But you do get a bargain in service, loyalty and experience when you do business with a local, independent agent. That's us.

Interlochen To Conclude Music Camp

INTERLOCHEN — The 35th season of the National Music Camp will be brought to a close this weekend with a triple bill of musical and dance productions, climaxed by the camp's famed production of Franz Liszt's "Les Preludes".

"Les Preludes," to be presented Sunday night, August 19, at 7:30, is the traditional highlight of the final concert weekend at the camp and combines the talents of camp orchestras, bands, choral and dance groups in a spectacular staging in the rustic Interlochen Bowl.

The program will also include performances of Brahms' Symphony No. 1 and Wagner's Prelude to "Tristan and Isolde" under the baton of A. Clyde Roller, formerly conductor of the Amarillo Symphony, now a faculty member at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y.

For the final oratorio concert Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Interlochen Bowl, the music camp's 450-voice Festival Choir will perform Brahms' Nanie, the Faure Requiem, and the "Serenade to Music" by Vaughan-Williams.

The 35th season has been one of the most successful in the history of the camp.

The summer was highlighted by a return benefit performance by the famed pianist Van Cliburn, who raised $12,000 for camp scholarships, and the performance by a 102-piece Interlochen youth orchestra on the White House lawn.

The Interlochen Arts Academy, a college preparatory boarding school for high school students gifted in the arts will open September 9 with a first-year enrollment of 125.

Foster Plan Needs Your Assistance

Foster homes with foster parents are urgently needed in the Lenawee and Monroe Unit of the State Department of Social Welfare.

A foster home is a substitute home, a secure home for children who have been uprooted from their own homes for various reasons.

Foster parents take the responsibility for the actual day-by day care of the child. Unless the child cared for is 17 years old or a relative, the home must be licensed.

The license is free but it must be obtained in accordance with state law.

The first step residents must make in taking a child into their home is to apply to the Bureau of Social Aid, CO 5-8322 Adrian or write to W .M. Shilling, Child Welfare Worker, % Bureau of Social Aid, 113 W. Front St., Adrian.

TPE CREDIT UNION RIGHT FIELDER IS ALERT FOR THE NEXT PLAY ON THE NEW BALL DIAMOND

New Diamond Ready for Use

"Play ball" is a sound which comes from many points throughout the city during these warm summer months.

With the popularity of the city's baseball program, ball diamonds are usually put to maximum use.

Last month, a new location was made ready for play and offered to the Cub League Commission for use.

Located on the back section of the American Legion property on Burt Street, this new baseball diamond is set in a natural bowl, between a hill and the creek which leads into Standish Pond.

The land is owned by the American Legion which some day eventually plans to build a new Legion house on top of the hill overlooking the field.

The original idea of the Legionnaires was to build a diamond for a Junior Legion team. They did not sponsor one this year, but with the field ready for play, they might do so next year.

Dick Colson heads the committee in charge of the field and was influencial in getting the ball rolling on the project.

John Henderson, city recreation director, said that the city would maintain the field next year and schedule regular games during the summer.

☆

WORK ON THE field began last summer with grading and leveling of the area. The field was seeded this spring and later a backstop was constructed behind home plate. It stands 20 feet high and 50 feet wide.

Twenty-five men volunteered work hours to put the field in playing shape.

Even though the diamond has been used this past month for softball games and Cub League practice sessions, there are a few finishing touches yet to be completed. A fence will be constructed along the creek, and the hillside will be cleared for spectators.

From home plate, the field measures approximately 400 feet to the creek in both deep right and left fields.

The area in back of the outfield will be eventually cleared and open to the public as a picnic site.

Members of the Legion are eager to have this area put to use by the people of Tecumseh.

Marvin Higgins who lives on the Legion property is in charge of scheduling the use of the field.

Final Game Is Aug. 30

The Tecumseh Products Golf League linksmen will play the final round of the season August 30 after their two weeks vacation.

Leading the league going into the final round is the team captained by Robert Beevers with a record of 27 wins and 7 losses.

August 9 the top individual golfer of the evening was Robert Hoekstra who shot an even par, 36.

All wins were two pointers as teams of Robert Beevers defeated Merlin Schultz, Dean Hamilton over Bernard Fisher, Wendell Reum over William Walker, Chuck Newell over Gerald Baker and Danny Goller over Ben Gillies.

Football Physicals

All football candidates, either Junior or Senior High students, are requested to appear at the High School Gym Thursday, August 23 at 9:30 a.m. for their physical examinations.

Club Asks 4-H Agent to Program

Ray Gillespie, Lenawee County 4-H extension agent, was a special guest July 26 of the Tecumseh Top-Notchers 4-H Club.

The group held their summer achievement program in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church.

A style show narrated by Linda Cooley and Judy Pieh was presented.

Rick and Reed Skinner entertained with accordian and guitar and Peggy Loughney played the piano.

Demonstrations on making a relish plate by Pam Zorn and freezing beans by Miriam Puffer and Ruth Warner were given.

Part 2 of the entire program. All members displayed projects for the parents.

Refreshments were served by Rick and Sharyl Gartee, Gurine Schultze and Trudy Curtiss.

Diane Ries, Linda Cooley and Judy Pieh were the program committee.

LENAWEE COUNTY'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

SERVING TECUMSEH, BRITTON, RIDGEWAY, MACON AND TIPTON

VOLUME 111 — ONE HUNDRED TWELFTH YEAR — NUMBER 46 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 23, 1962 | 14 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

TECUMSEH HERALD PHOTO

COUNTY BEAUTIES—Diane Fox (left) and Meredith Munger finished No. 1 and No. 2 in the competition for the role as "Miss Lenawee County Fair 1962." Both are grads of Tecumseh High School, Queen Diane living here and Meredith in Tipton. Diane, who is 22, will now vie for the title as "Miss Michigan State Fair" Tuesday in Detroit. Judging will be based on good looks, poise and personality. Forty girls from all over the state will compete.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

The drive to save old St. Peter's Church in Tecumseh seems to be picking up momentum.

Once vacations are over, the planned community meeting can be staged.

Many folks around the state have evidenced interest in helping out on the project.

From the Michigan Historical Commission comes a letter written by Dr. George S. May, Research Archivist.

He said, "Personally, I am enthusiastic about The Herald's proposal to call a community meeting to make one last try to find a way to save old St. Peter's.

"Dr. (Lewis) Beeseon (executive secretary) and I reiterate that the Historical Commission is greatly interested in the effort."

Dr. May suggests that for the gathering, representatives from the Michigan Tourist Council, the Southwestern Michigan Tourist and Publicity Association and the Michigan Society of Architects be invited.

Free Press columnist Jack Manning has done two pieces on the effort. Jack is determined that Michigan should preserve its historic past and St. Peter's is a vital part of this.

Sunday a Detroit religious radio program told of the drive.

The Toledo Blade has run an article and pictures.

An old friend, Ty Cross, of Consumer Power Co. public relations and a veteran newspaperman, dropped us an informative note regarding the local church.

"In today's Herald you call St. Peter's 'gothic'. It is not.

"It is purest Greek Revival with Gothic window and four small Gothic spires in what might be the base for a tall steeple.

"Greek Revival was the favorite architecture of the 1820's to 60's in Michigan, New York, Ohio and the south, where pillored mansions are still referred to as 'southern colonial.' "

Ty continues, "One reason for saving St. Peter's is, it is such a good example of Greek Revival architecture."

☆

In the rush to get ready for vacation, one phase of the successful Sidewalk Sale was missed —swim passes for the city pool.

Nearly 3,000 were given out by merchants, who received the free admisions through courtesy of the city government.

The pool was so jammed at times that there was scarcely room for one more youngster.

The idea for the passes came from John Henderson, recreation director, who certainly is to be congratulated.

☆

Here's one that would be a real tall tale, except that it's true.

Bob Hanna, playing in a golf match at Tecumseh Country Club Sunday, fired a shot that disappeared in a large tree.

He and Frank Owen looked and looked for the ball, covering about a small block in all directions and spending nearly 10 minutes.

As Frank stood beneath the tree, he felt a ping on his right wrist, then spied a golf ball at his feet. It was Bob's.

The ball had simply stayed in the tree during the search, then obligingly fallen out.

Bob promptly chipped onto the green, won the hole and continued at a brisk pace to snow his match opponent: me.

☆

It's nice having friends in far-away places.

When the Walt Wonderlys took their Florida vacation trip, I dispatched a letter to Roberta Applegate, staffer on the Miami Herald, asking if she'd do a feature on the visitors' junket.

Roberta made arrangements for a picture of the Tecumseh couple at poolside of the Monte Carlo Hotel, then knocked out a real fine story, which appears in this issue.

Miss Applegate is a fellow Michigan Stater.

Top-Notchers Will Exhibit at State Show

Four members of the Tecumseh Top-Notchers 4-H Club will be exhibiting at the State 4-H Show next week at Michigan State University.

Mike Zorn will take his vegetables, Brenda Watson her wildflowers, Miriam Puffer her freezing and Diane Ries will model clothing in the 4-H Style Revue.

Next meeting for the Top-Notchers will be Aug. 28 at the home of Rick and Reed Skinner.

Soliciting by phone by a Representative of the Olan Mills Photography Studio, Springfield, O., proved rather costly here last week.

Representative Alvin Cullifer of Sturgis, was fined $50 for soliciting in Tecumseh without a license, and an additional $50 for employing a minor without a working permit.

Charles Osburn Completes Course in Insurance

Charles Osburn, formerly office manager for Schneider Bros. Garage, completed a two weeks insurance course last Thursday at Michigan State University.

The course, attended also by other licensed agents, was held at Kellogg Center.

Mr. Osburn will work out of the Jack Osburn Real Estate office on E. Chicago Blvd.

Moon Over Miami

By ROBERTA APPLEGATE
Special to The Herald

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Moonlight swimming in the serene sea to the tune of a palm tree's rustle was one of the high points in the week-long vacation Mr. and Mrs. Walt Wonderly enjoyed at the Monte Carlo Hotel here.

"The full moon that came out of the ocean was twice as big as any moon I ever saw," Norma Wonderly said.

They swam and danced under the palms, in the moonbeams, until 2 a.m. one night, they reported.

The Wonderly's first trip to Florida—and first to the ocean side—was their reward for winning a one-week vacation in a contest sponsored by The Tecumseh Herald during Michigan's snowbound winter months.

They flew via Delta Airlines and were guests of the Monte Carlo.

Norma and Walt were pleasantly surprised at the warmth of the salt sea, where they spent a good deal of their time. The near 90-degree days didn't bother them, although after the cool Michigan summer they did develop tender spots from the sun.

"It seems about three times as hot as it does at home," Walt said. "But we enjoyed it." There were cool breezes at night, and rooms were air conditioned.

☆

THEY WERE amazed to find that the hotel pool is only a few feet from the surf. Unlike many guests who confined themselves to sunning on the edge of the pool, they enjoyed hopping from pool into the ocean.

They reported that the staff of the Monte Carlo Hotel, was "perfectly wonderful."

"They welcomed us with a basket of fruit in our rooms, they were so courteous and thoughtful, they helped us in planning exciting things to do and they didn't have their hands out for tips all the time."

Although it was tempting to stick around the comfortable hotel, the Wonderlys took advantage of some of the other activities available in this subtropical area.

☆

THEY WENT to the Miami Seaquarium world's largest tropical marine aquarium, where they had been invited as guests of the management after the latter had learned of the contest the Wonderlys had won.

They were especially interested in Caroline Snowball, the world's only white bottlenose porpoise in captivity. It had just been captured by the Seaquarium crew after an exciting seahunt off South Carolina.

"It was wonderful," they said.

They took a bus to see some of the famous mansions — "Millionaires Row"—in Miami Beach, and a cruise up the Inland Waterway, through mangrove swamps where smugglers once lurked, to Fort Lauderdale a few miles north.

With a couple from New Jersey, whom they met at the hotel, they t.. a quick motor tour of the area.

The twist contest at the hotel charmed them one night, and Norma and Walt were delighted that a teenage couple from Detroit were the winners.

Of course, they didn't forget their three sons left behind with aunts in Michigan—nor the aunts and friends. Florida beach towels (handy in Michigan, too, if temperatures ever get high enough) seashell - decorated straws and other typical Florida gifts were on their shopping lists. Unhappily, there was one sour note—Walt's watch disappeared one night when he was swimming.

Even so, they reported—"This was more than we expected. It was even better than the dream."

Drives 100, Fined $100

Carl W. Bailey, 7204 Blood Rd., was charged with reckless operation last week when Tecumseh police chased him south of Rogers Hwy. at speeds exceeding 100 mph.

He reportedly pulled into the center of the highway when local police attempted to pull along side. He ignored both siren and flashing red light in the chase.

The 22-year-old youth, a serviceman, was finally stopped just north of the Deerfield Rd.

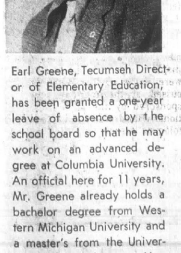
Appearing before Justice Ernie Oliver, he was fined $100. Unable to pay, he was confined to the county jail.

22-MAN COMMITTEE GATHERS

Tackling Problems

The 22-man Tecumseh Community Development Committee will hold its first gathering Monday evening at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

Appointed by the City Council, this group will look into problems affecting the area and possibly work out an Urban Renewal program.



Earl Greene, Tecumseh Director of Elementary Education, has been granted a one-year leave of absence by the school board so that he may work on an advanced degree at Columbia University. An official here for 11 years, Mr. Greene already holds a bachelor degree from Western Michigan University and a master's from the University of Michigan. Mrs. Greene, who teaches in the Clinton System, will remain in Tecumseh.

The idea was broached last month by Councilman Royal Welch and received ready approval from city fathers.

Selecting members for the committee, to represent all phases of community living, took several weeks.

In its broad approach, the group will:

► Ascertain and maintain community development programs designed to promote all necessary elements of industrial, commercial, residential, transportation facilities.

► Study revision of tax structures as a means to encourage community development.

Mayor Harold Easton will serve as chairman and his fellow Councilmen Mr. Welch, Carl Lamb, Bob Bonner, Gene Tuckey and John Hamilton are also on the committee.

Others include:

Charlie Butler, Paul Clauda, Joe Galazzi, Dwight Helms, Don Martin, Herbert Maynard and Pat Meadows.

James McKenna, Ed Nelson, Tom Riordan, Karl Schneider, Fred Worden, Fay Whelan, John Zeigler and Cal Zorn.

Mrs. Robert Smith Attends Session for Beauticians

BIG RAPIDS — Mrs. Robert Smith, 750 N. Union St. and some 45 other beauticians from various areas of the state attended an advanced cosmetology workshop Aug. 11-14 at Ferris Institute.

Hair styling, make-up salon management, advertising and display, and human relations were some of the topics discussed at the four-day session sponsored by the Michigan National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association and the college's Collegiate Technical Division.

9 Year Old Wins

Cathy Babcock, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Babcock of 305 Adrian St. received a second place award at last week's county fair for her sour milk chocolate cake entry.

She was entered in the Jr. Ladies under 15 division.

Charlie Allen of Allen Rd., is a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Gravel Pit Is Priced at $4,500

By JIM LINCOLN

Another snag in city's plans to dispose of storm water in the Tecumseh Acres and Sunset Meade areas occurred Monday night at Council meeting when City Manager Ed Nelson told councilmen that Charles O. Ireland was asking $4,500 for his old gravel pit on Occidental Rd.

Council for several years has planned on using the pit, no longer worked, for draining the two Tecumseh residential sections of storm water.

City's plans in the past—and apparently now— are to run storm sewers to the pit and fence it in. Officials who have checked the pit have voiced opinions that it will adequately hold the storm water.

Although Council has never made a concrete offer for the pit, values placed on the pit are considerably less than the selling price being asked.

☆

A REQUEST from Larry Coscarelli, owner of Larry's Grill in downtown Tecumseh, for a tavern and SDM license to sell beer was vetoed, when Council split 3-3 on a motion not to oppose issuing one more tavern license.

Mr. Coscarelli said that he planned to sell beer along with his restaurant business.

☆

IN OTHER business, Council:

► Awarded the city's gasoline business to Beach Bros.

► Scheduled a section of Pottawatamie and Adrian St. for curb and gutter.

► Accepted the Planning Commission report, including the adoption of the master plan.

► Approved purchase of a sewer rodding machine for $4,871.05.

► Set next Council meeting for Sept. 4.

Approximately 35 residents attended the meeting, most of them to voice objections to the master plan section, which involves one-way streets in the future for Logan and Pottawatamie Sts.

GEORGE ROMNEY

Romney Coming Sept. 7

Tecumseh area Reublicans mapped plans Tuesday evening for two important coming events:

► Appearance of George Romney here Sept. 7 for a dinner and address.

► The election campaign.

"Romney's Day in Lenawee" will open at 9 a.m. in Deerfield and climax with an afternoon tour of Tecumseh Products, a dinner at the First Baptist Youth House and downtown speech.

The GOP candidate's talk will be a street affair, to be made from a platform set up downtown.

Mrs. Yale Kerby and Royal Welch were named co-chairman of the dinner, which will be limited to 200 guests.

☆

TECUMSEH chairman, Del King, reported that the former Bancroft Cleaners and Fabricare Center next to Adrian Federal Savings & Loan will be local campaign headquarters.

Co-chairmen named to prepare events for headquarters were Mrs. Robert Murray and Tom Riordan.

The headquarters will open about Sept. 1 and serve Tipton, Holloway, Raisin, Clinton, Ridgeway and Macon as well as Tecumseh.

☆

CHAIRMAN KING was re-elected for another year as were the other local officers.

Vice-Chairman — Mrs. Royal Welch

Secretary—Mrs. Richard Walker

Treasurer—Jerry Stoner

Nursery To Open

Tecumseh Nursery Center will organize for the fall session at 10 a.m. Friday, Sept. 7, in the Sunday school rooms of First Presbyterian Church.

All parents interested in enrolling their pre-schoolers, ages 3½ to 5, are invited to attend. Those who cannot attend may seek information at HA 3-4972 or HA 3-4724.

TO GERMANY — Janet Lawhead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lawhead of 515 E. Russell Rd., left Tuesday for Germany, where she will teach under the US Air Force dependents program. (See story, page 3 of second section.)

'62 Picnic

Annual picnic of the Southeast Area Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters will be Sunday, Aug. 26, in Memorial Park at Milan.

The dinner will be at 12:30 p.m., with members taking a dish to pass and their own table service. Shelters are available, in case of rain.

Irene Bryant Marries James Fagan

Irene Bryant of Brooklyn and James L. Fagan of Detroit exchanged wedding vows Aug. 11 in Britton Baptist Church.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Bryant of Brooklyn, formerly of Tecumseh, and Mrs. William J. Fagan and the late Mr. Fagan.

The Rev. Jack Sorensen conducted the rites from a chancel graced with a tall wedding basket of white gladioli, flanked by lighted candles.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza appliqued with Chantilly lace. The redingote skirt extended to a chapel train. Her tiara held a short veil, and she carried a cascading arrangement of snowdrift mums, centered with yellow roses and backed with ivy strands.

Mrs. Donald Potter of Peck was matron of honor, wearing a light blue sheath with an overskirt of nylon embroidered with blue flowers. Her open-crowned picture hat matched her gown, and she held a crescent arrangement of white flowers centered with ink.

Two sisters of the bride, Mrs. Noel MacGregor of Cheboygan and Edna Mae Bryant of Brooklyn, joined Ruth Elaine Clark of Dundee as bridesmaids. Their ensembles were like the honor matron's, but embroidered in a lighter shade of blue, and they carried bouquets of pink flowers centered with blue.

Donald Potter was best man, and ushers were Noel MacGregor, Tom Farnsworth of Detroit and Gary Williams of Tecumseh.

A reception for 125 guests was in the Presbyterian Church parlors at Tecumseh, and a buffet dinner for relatives was held in the bride's home afterward.

Mary Alice and Louise Stutesman of Tecumseh poured at the reception.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to northern Michigan, Mrs. Fagan was wearing a brown tweed suit with an orange chiffon hat and matching blouse.

They now are at home at 3506 Pine Grove in Port Huron.

Mrs. Fagan is a registered nurse, having graduated from Jackson Junior College and Foote Hospital. Her husband, a graduate of St. Joseph High School, served two years with the Army and now is in the Coast Guard.

Highway Deaths Are Expensive

During the past five years 113 people were killed in motor vehicle accidents in Lenawee County.

Using the most recent yardstick established by the National Safety Council the estimated total cost to society of these fatalities is $20,340,000.

James M. Hare, Chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission recently explained the technique used by the National Safety Council in arriving at this figure.

Mr. Hare said, "Accident costs are one of the most useful measures of the importance of accident prevention work. No statement on this subject is complete without some reference to the financial loss which is incurred.

"The calculable costs of motor-vehicle accidents are wage loss, medical expense, overhead cost of insurance, and property damage," Mr. Hare pointed out.

"Last year these costs averaged about $180,000 per death for all accidents — fatal, nonfatal, and property damage. This 'per death' total includes the cost of one death, 37 injuries, and 250 property damage accidents."

MRS. RAY CROSIER

Sandra Schneller, Ray Crosier Exchanged Vows Saturday

Wedding rings and vows were exchanged Saturday in the candlelight nuptials of Sandra Yvonne Schneller and Ray Crosier.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neville Hart, 115 W. Brown St., and the groom is the son of Mrs. Ray Crosier of Detroit and the late Mr. Crosier.

The Rev. Julian R. Gresham performed the rites in First Presbyterian Church. The altar and chancel were aglow with cathedral candles lighting arrangements of white gladioli and mums and pink carnations.

Escorted by Mr. Hart, the bride approached the altar in a gown of white silk organza detailed with Alencon lace and iridescent pearls and crystals. A chapel train extended from the sheath gown.

A crown of iridescent pearls and crystals matching her gown caught her bouffant fingertip veil of French illusion. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds centered with three white orchids and edged with ivy.

Her only jewelry was a diamond pendant, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. H. W. Dillon, organist, presented preludes of classical favorites an dtraditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Ronald T. Hetherwick.

☆

ATTENDING the bride were Barbara Murray of Dearborn, maid-of-honor and sorority sister of the bride; Mrs. Clare Coxey of North Muskegon, another sorority sister, and Charlene Crosier of Detroit, sister of the groom.

They were gowned alike in pink silk organza sheaths with white embroidered organza overskirts piped with the pink. Their shoes and hair bows with veils matched the pink.

The honor maid carried a natural wicker wedding ring clustered with white fugi mums, pink rosettes and pink frosted grapes, outlined with green velvet leaves.

The bridesmaids' wicker rings were decked with Nile green fugi mums and pink grapes.

☆

BEST MAN was Steve Rickel Jr. of Zionsville, Ind. Thomas Rogers of Detroit and Ronald T. Hetherwick of Toledo, fraternity brothers of the groom, were groomsmen.

Ushers were Allan Fenrich of Livonia, cousin of the groom, and Gene Mahalak of Detroit and David Lindemann of Belleville, fraternity brothers.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman were hosts at the church.

The pink-and-white theme was repeated at the reception in Tecumseh Country Club. A white cloth on the cake table was draped with pink and clusters of pink and white mums.

The five-tiered cake was topped with an arrangement of pink rosebuds and snowdrift pompons, graced with miniature ivy. The cake was served by Mrs. Jerry Spafford of Grand Rapids and Mrs. H. H. Hanna of Tecumseh.

Joan Ososke, Judy Taylor and Judy Fenrich of Detroit and Judy Parish of Maumee, O., served punch. Coffee and tea were poured by Mrs. Harry Crouch of Toledo, Mrs. James Kesler of Bryan, Mrs. Wilbur Claxton of Britton and Mrs. Philip Colgrove of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Don Cobb was serving hostess. Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Fenrich of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Jens Touborg of Tecumseh were hosts at the reception.

Janet Martin and Mrs. Steve Rickel Jr. had charge of the guest book and gifts.

A highlight of the reception was a serenade to the newlyweds, given by their sorority and fraternity.

☆

THE BRIDE is a graduate of Maumee (Ohio) High School. She attended the University of Wisconsin for two years and received her bachelor of science degree in education from Eastern Michigan University, where she was affiliated with Sigma Nu Phi social sorority.

She has been teaching in the Cherry Hill school system.

Mr. Crosier will receive his bachelor of science degree in business administration and his commission as a lieutenant in the Army from Eastern Michigan University in January. He is a member of Delta Sigma Phi social fraternity.

After a 10-day trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will make their home in Ypsilanti.

Sharon Ost Henkel Weds Larry Kanous

Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church was aglow with candlelight Aug. 11 as Sharon Ost Henkel of Tecumseh, escorted by her father, approached the altar to become the bride of Larry E. Kanous of Britton. The Rev. K. F. Koeplin performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Ost of 523 Ormsby St., Adrian, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Kanous of 9447 Monroe Rd., Britton.

The bride donned a gown of Chantilly lace over ice blue taffeta, styled with a four-tiered skirt which swept to a chapel train under a satin butterfly bow. Her shoulder-length veil was caught by a crown of pearls and crystals. She carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias and ivy.

The bride asked her sister, Beverly, to be maid of honor, and the groom's sister, Linda, to be bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in forget-me-not blue, street-length frocks of chiffon over taffeta. Their pearl and crystal crowns held small blue illusion veils.

The honor maid carried a basket arrangement of white snowdrift mums centered with tiny white roses and outlined with strands of ivy. The bridesmaid's bouquet was similar in design and composed of snowdrift and crystal white mums.

Breena Henkel, three-year-old niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a floor-length organdy gown and carrying a tiny white wicker basket of flowers. Four-year-old Larry Rhae Henkel escorted her as the ringbearer.

Dale Monagin of Britton was best man, assisted by Frank Vallie of Britton. Larry Ost of Adrian, brother of the bride, and Charles Hill, brother-in-law of the groom, were ushers.

After the ceremony, a reception for 300 guests was held in Tecumseh Products Union Hall

Decorations of blue and white carried out the wedding color theme.

Hosts at the reception included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Maves of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas VanZant of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Henkel of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moore of Britton.

Among those assisting were Mrs. Carl Henkel and Mrs. Charles Hill, both of Ypsilanti, serving cake; Mrs. Dale Monigan of Britton, at the guest book, and Mrs. DavidOusterhout of Tecumseh and Mrs. Harold Anderson of Clark Lake, serving hostesses.

The bride is a graduate of Adrian High School and is a senior at Adrian College, majoring in home economics. The groom, a graduate of Britton High School, is an electrician with the Industrial Electric Co. of Adrian.

After a two-week trip to New York and the New England states, along with a visit to the Canadian National Exhibition, the couple will be at home at 604 Orchard Dr., Tecumseh.

School Classes Open Sept. 4

BRITTON — School will officially open for instructors at Britton-Macon on Friday Aug. 31, when there will be a teacher's conference and organizational meeting at 9 a.m. in the school cafeteria.

Classes will start for students on Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 8:30 a.m., for all but the kindergarten.

Parents of Kindergarten children, who did not register last spring will register on Tuesday, Sept. 4. The regular classes for kindergarten will start on Wednesday, Sept. 5.

All Kindergarten children living southeast of the Wabash Railroad tracks will attend classes in the morning and those living northwest of the tracks will attend classes in the afternoon.

School officials prefer that parents put their kindergarten child on the bus the first day of school (Wednesday) rather than bring them to school.

"If you do bring your child please leave him or her in the room with the teacher as they will adjust to the routine of school easier," states Supt. William Saxton.

Cafeteria lunch will begin Wednesday, Sept. 5, for all students and teachers. Students who do not carry their lunches are expected to eat in the school cafeteria. There will be no change in the price of school lunches.

"The driving of automobiles or motor vehicles by students during the noon hour will not be permitted," Mr. Saxton notes.

"If a student wishes to drive his or her car he or she must obtain permission from the school office," he adds.

NEWS of Britton

Dairy Judging Won by 3-Lad Britton Team

BRITTON—Last Thursday at the Lenawee County Fair seven of Britton's Future Farmers of America placed high in the County Livestock Judging Contest.

David Prill placed first in the dairy judging contest.

With the scores of Jim Miller and David Houseman added to his the Britton team won the honors of the best dairy judges in the county.

They competed with seven other FFA chapters and Four 4-H clubs from Lenawee County.

Winners in beef judging from the Britton FFA Chapter were Bob Knudson, David Houseman, and Lee Wagner, all of whom had perfect scores of 100 points.

Roger Bortel, Terry Faust and Russ Lutton had perfect scores of 100 points in the sheep judging contest.

The contests are held annually at the County Fair. There are two divisions, one for dairy which has two classes of animals, the other is market livestock which includes beef, sheep and swine.

Scores of the three highest club members are added together and the club with the highest scores can purchase a trophy or banner.

Prize money is divided between the top six contestants in each of the five above mentioned areas of the contest.

All of the students were enrolled in Vocational Agriculture this past year at the Britton-Macon Area School under the instruction of Ronald Fritch, vo ag teacher.

Arthur Gray, 416 E. Chicago, is looking for a person or organization which would like to have and preserve two old, old newspapers.

One is a copy of "Brother Johathan," dated Jan. 1, 1846. The paper, printed on a single sheet of newsprint of tablecloth size, was published in New York and is full of drawings, satirical poetry and serious art work of religious significance. Weird stories are included, along with notes on the current social world.

The other paper is the New York Herald, dated April 15, 1865, and carrying the story of President Lincoln's assassination. There is no indication that this paper is a reprint.

The Vern Manwarings wonder where the highway patrol was last Sunday. The family car was halted on US-27 near Lansing with two flat tires.

They followed State Police directions to lift up the car hood and tie a white cloth to the radio aerial. They waited for an hour without aid then Vern walked a half-mile to a farmhouse to call for help.

These were the same two tires which were blown this summer when the Manwarings drove over a seven-mile stretch of highway strewn with roofing nails.

Nadine Cheix of Paris, France now seeing the United States, spent most of August with the family of Dr. Robert Murray.

Nadine and Mrs. Murray made a swing through Michigan, so that the guest could view our state, even visited Beaver Island. While walking along the beach there, Nadine lost a gold ring which had been given to her by her father.

Despite a frantic search, it couldn't be found. Mrs. Murray placed an ad in the Island's newspaper and also told Robert Malloy, an employee of the ferry boat which takes folks there from Charlevoix, about the loss.

A package arrived from Mr. Malloy, a few days after the tourists returned here, with the ring. There was no explanation. Mrs. Murray is sending Mr. Malloy a $5 reward and asking how the ring was found.

Mr. and Mrs. William Deis of rural Adrian announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Kay, to Charles John Hassenzahl, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hassenzahl of S. Occidental Rd. A Dec. 8 wedding is planned.

QUIP

People get the most kick out of life who do the least kicking.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Goodin of 11888 Macon Hwy. announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara [illegible], to Donald Lee Young, of Ann Arbor, son of Mrs. Bertha Johnson of McDougal, Ark. The bride-elect is a 1960 graduate of Tecumseh High School. Both are working in Ann Arbor. The wedding date has not been set.

Alternate Camping in Ontario

Lana Callihan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Callihan, left Tuesday morning for Forrest, Ont., where she is attending Camp Basanquet for 10 days.

This is a Senior Girl Scout Round-Up for alternates of the National Round-Up, which was held in Vermont and is attended by girls from United States and Canada.

Lana, a senior girl scout, was selected by the Tri-County Irish Hills Girl Scout Council on the basis of achievement and ability.

The trip to Camp Basanquet is taken by bus from Jackson.

Lana has had Mrs. Howard Morris for leader for the past eight years. Her troop is sponsored by Chapter AJPEO.

All things are possible to God, divine Mind. This is the theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" to be heard in Christian Science church Sunday.

Cathlyn Cornell Speaks Vows

TIPTON — Cathlyn Ann Cornell and David Nelson Patterson exchanged wedding vows Saturday afternoon in Tecumseh Presbyterian Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Morris A. Cornell of 4371 Monroe Rd., Tipton, and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Yaxley of Willoughby, O.

The Rev. Julian Gresham performed the rite in a setting of white flowers, golden candelabra and emerald foliage.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, the bride was wearing a gown of French lace styled with short sleeves and a scalloped neckline. Her elbow-length veil was caught by a crown of lace and pearls.

She carried a crescent arrangement of white butterfly roses centered with gardenias and edged with miniature [illegible].

Mrs. Leroy Betzol[illegible], matron-of-honor, gowned in a mint green sheath with a bodice covered with lace to match the bride's gown. A Dior bow of matching green was on her head, and she carried an arrangement of Nile green fugi mums and coral rosebuds.

The bridesmaids, gowned like the honor matron in mint green, carried crescents of tiny coral pompons centered with white fugi mums and outlined with green and white foliage.

They were Tina Peet of Detroit, Sharon Burmeister of Detroit, Mrs. Charles Jameson of Adrian and Lynne VanWinkle of New York.

Gerald Wolff of Willoughby, O., was best man. Ushers were Douglas Patterson of Willoughby, brother of the groom; Thomas McCartney of Willoughby, Thomas Waters of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Charles Jameson of Adrian.

A reception was held in the church parlors for some 150 guests. The color scheme of green, coral and white was used throughout the rooms.

The bride has a bachelor of science degree from the University of Michigan School of Dental Hygiene, and the groom is a graduate of Defiance College.

He is a junior in law school at Ohio Northern University, and is affiliated with Delta Theta Phi law fraternity.

After a wedding trip to Florido, the couple will be at home at Lima, O.

MRS. DAVID NELSON PATTERSON

Food Coloring Gets A-OK

Cooks who have been using red food coloring for their devil's food cakes will be happy to know that they have not been endangering lives.

And although cochineal,—an ingredient in "red velvet cake"—is made of ground-up insects, it too is safe, according to Wallace F. Janssen, director of the division of public information, Department of Health, Education and Welfare Food and Drug Administration.

Mr. Janssen, answering a letter from Herald Society Editor Dorothy Grigg says cochineal has a long history of use as a food color.

Of the newer coloring substances, he writes:

"Food colors used in the home usually contain only a small amount of certified coal-tar color, approximately 3% dissolved in water and propylene glycol.

"The red would contain FD-&C Red No. 2, 3 or 4, with possibly some FD&C Yellow No. 5 or 6 added for brightness. These coal-tar colors have been tested for safety and are from batches that have been certified for food use.

"In the opinion of our scientists, there would be no hazard in using the two ounces of food coloring called for in the cake recipe. They have stated, however, that the same color intensity could very likely be obtained with a much smaller amount of the coloring substance."

Church Notes

Two Guest Speakers on Sunday

W. F. Webb of Toledo, O., will be the speaker at the 10 a.m. service at the Tecumseh Friends Church.

Mr. Webb is the area representative for the Child Evangelism Fellowship. He is also a member of the Christian Business Men's Committee and travels extensively in the interest of both organizations.

Speaking at the 7:30 p.m. service will be Burton Lamkin, a representative of the Michigan Temperance Foundation.

His sermon on the subject of alcohol problems and the Christian faith will be entitled "What Will You Have?"

Mr. Lamkin is a science teacher at Tappan Junior High School in Ann Arbor. He is a graduate of Albion College and also attended Boston University School of Theology.

He served as Youth Director at West Side Methodist Church in Ann Arbor for three years before joining the speaker's staff of the Michigan Temperance Foundation.

Methodists Will Honor New Minister

The Rev. and Mrs. Donald Porteous will be honored Sunday, Aug. 26, with a reception in the social rooms of First Methodist Church.

The pastor and his wife, who arrived here this summer, have recently returned from a vacation.

The reception, sponsored by the Pastorial Relations Committee of the church for all church members and friends, will welcome the Porteous family to the church and the community.

Ah, sweet vacation. For two whole weeks employees of Tecumseh's largest industry, The Tecumseh Products Company, have been able to spend their time pretty much as they chose.

Some just waited long enough for Dad to cash his check and then started on the long awaited trip to Northern Michigan, the Eastern states, some who like the Walter Wonderlys, winners of the Florida trip, went south.

Other vacationers armed with tools, paint brushes and lots of energy tackled do-it-yourself jobs at home or cottage.

Any way it's spent, most of the [illegible] had it but agree that it's the shortest two weeks of the year.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITORS:

I read with little surprise the big black headlines, "Water Unsafe at Macon" and also about the sewage disposal system which was questioned at the Macon School.

This system did not work when it was accepted from the contractor. The tile field would overflow down the street in front of two or three houses.

To solve this problem they tiled from the new tile field to the old school building storm drain. This in turn filled the basement, toilet rooms and all of the old buildings.

Now that made a wonderful septic tank that was within less than 10 feet from the well.

Now less than three weeks before school starts they have a problem that was called to their attention two years ago.

They Win Blue Ribbons

Tecumseh area youngsters scored heavily in the blue ribbon department at last week's Lenawee County Fair.

In addition to the winners pictured in this week's paper, those receiving top awards included:

Gregg Smith—reserve champion fat lamb and reserve champion pen of lambs.

Mike Johnson—first in junior showmanship of sheep

David Bush—second in junior showmanship of sheep

Greg Smith and Dean Kirkland — one of four demonstrations in the county to go to the State Show. The demonstration was related to sheep equipment.

Bill Nelson — Sweepstakes winner in woodworking.

☆

BLUE RIBBON winners from the northeast area of Lenawee County, including Tecumseh, were listed by the county Extension office as:

'Y' Plans Student UN Trip

A five-day tour of the United Nation's and New York City will be sponsored by the Adrian YMCA.

The tour, for any tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade students in Lenawee County, will be held on Nov. 7 through Nov. 11.

Students will sit in on the regular United Nations sessions. In order to better understand the workings of the United Nations and the current problems being discussed, special briefings have been arranged.

These briefings, at the UN headquarters, will be conducted by the UN staff people.

In addition, students will dine in the UN delegates dining room.

While in New York City, the students will stay at the YMCA and YWCA. On Saturday when the UN is not in session there will be shopping and tours of the city. The group will return Sunday, Nov. 11.

Registrations will continue to be accepted until Oct. 1st.

Addition information may be secured at the Adrian YMCA by calling CO 3-2151.

RUTH ANN COATES

Her Move Is to England

It is quite a trip from Michigan to England, but Ruth Ann Coates is eagerly awaiting the move.

She will be teaching military dependents in England this fall under the Air Force program.

Miss Coates left McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey August 22 to embark on her new job.

She plans to do some traveling during the vacation holidays.

A 1952 graduate of Tecumseh High School, Ruth Ann received her bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University in 1959.

She has been teaching second graders in Grandville, Mich. for the past couple of years.

Miss Coates is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coates of 1301 E. Monroe Rd.

Area Obituaries

● MRS. E. T. DRAKE

Mrs. Cora Ruth Drake, 78, of 212 N. Oneida St., died at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday in Herrick Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient for the last five months.

Mrs. Drake, the daughter of Edward and Aula Belle Duffield Cullin, was born March 12, 1884, in Bowling Green, Ind. She married E. T. Drake Dec. 10, 1905, at Bowling Green.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and the Order of the Eastern Star for more than 50 years.

The funeral was planned at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 23, at the Green-Dunn funeral home, with the Rev. Julian Gresham officiating. Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.

Mrs. Drake is survived by her husband; three sons, Harold and Austin of Fostoria, O., and Dwight of Tecumseh; three daughters, Mrs. Carl (Aula) Link of Findlay, O., Mrs. G. W. (Ruby) Opdycke of Chula Vista, Calif., and Mrs. Jack (Mary) Hanna of Tecumseh; 11 grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. Elmer Hicks of Oakland City, Ind., and Mrs. Mary Miles of San Diego, Calif.

Three sisters and four brothers preceded her in death.

● MRS. FREDERICK HELM

Mrs. Margaret M. Helm, 46, of 6307 Milwaukee Rd., died at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday in Herrick Memorial Hospital. She had been ill three years.

Born March 9, 1916, in Dearborn, she was the daughter of Albert and Martha Nicoli Tyer. She married Frederick Helm April 30, 1938, in Dearborn.

The Helms lived in Dearborn before moving to this area. Mrs. Helm was an active member of Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Ridgeway.

The services will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday in Proctor Funeral Home, with the Rev. Thomas J. Drobena officiating. Burial will be in Cadillac Memorial Park at Wayne.

Surviving Mrs. Helm are her husband; a son, Nelson, of Britton; a brother, Norman Tyer of Dearborn; a sister, Mrs. John Hope of Dearborn; a grandson, and several nieces and nephews.

● ROBERT C. BERRY

Robert C. Berry of Adrian, brother of Mrs. Samuel Garno of 211 N. Van Buren St. died at 6:45 a.m. August 16 in Bixby hospital.

He had been in failing health the last several months.

Mr. Berry was born June 11, 1891, in Riga township, the son of Samuel and Linda Berry.

He first married Marian Ash-Jan. 17, 1920, and she preceded him in death in 1951. Later he married Mrs. Linnie Cosby at Angola.

She survives with one son, Robert Dale Berry of Adrian; one daughter, Mrs. Harold Roesch of R 2, Adrian; five brothers, Bert of Chicago, Russell of Lafayette, Colo., Raymond of Napoleon, William of Arizona and Arthur of Deerfield and another sister, Mrs. Mabel Kline of Deerfield.

Six grandchildren also survive.

He was preceded in death by one daughter, Ida Marie Berry, three brothers and three sisters.

Funeral services were held August 18 at the Braun Funeral Home in Adrian.

● CHARLES JOHNSON

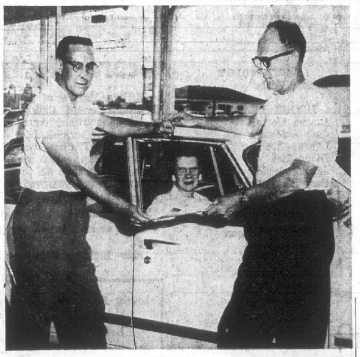
Charles Johnson, 81, of Adrian, step-son of Mrs. Adeline Johnson of Tecumseh and brother of Mrs. Velda Shook of Tecumseh, died Monday at Bixby Hospital, where he had been a patient since September.

The funeral was Wednesday afternoon at Braun Funeral Home, with burial in the Fairfield Cemetery.

Mr. Johnson, a retired farmer and employee of the Simplex Paper Co. for many years, has 84 direct descendants.



Faraday Has No Part of Parent Firm's Problem

Newest industry in Tecumseh, Faraday, Inc., is in no way effected by present re-organization of its parent firm, Tele-Tronics, Inc. of Philadelphia.

Frederick W. Morden, vice-president and general manager of Faraday, recently told employees:

"These are substantial evidences that Faraday's business affairs and continuing progress under the present local management are in no way affected by re-organization proceedings recently instituted by Tele-Tronics.

"Faraday has full backing of all interested parties in maintaining its status and activity as a self-contained operating entity, and in continuing with its management programs.

"The standing of Faraday employees with respect to the company is unchanged," he added.

Grid Hopefuls Start Workout Under Tom Fagan

A sure sign that summer is nearly over occurs each year when the local high school'ers pull on helmets and jerseys to prepare for the next grid season.

That time is here now.

Football practice for the Tecumseh Indians will open Monday, and for the first time in four years, the Indians will start workouts under a new coach.

Tom Fagan, former successful Clinton mentor, will probably greet 70 or more hopefuls Monday in the first of many twice-a-day practices.

This week, 25 grid prospects are at a conditioning camp on Silver Lake and staying at Jack Osburn's cottage, donated by the local real estate agent to the coaches.

The limited number of boys at the camp in no way detracts from the attention and consideration that others will receive once practice gets underway, Coach Fagan reports.

Tecumseh's new coach will have an usually large number of lettermen returning, but preseason predictions still are not too optimistic.

The Indians slipped badly last year after three tremendous seasons under Dunc Lectka, who is now in the athletic department at Michigan State University.

Tecumseh should have experience, but little speed and only average size.

During the next two weeks, the backfield undoubtedly will get considerable attention as will several newcomers up from last year's junior varsity.

A scrimmage on Sept. 4 with Saline has been tentatively scheduled. Two practices a day will be held until school starts.

Two Muskies Go 41 Pounds

Tecumseh fishermen did themselves proud at Rice Lake in Ontario last week.

Between them, they hauled in 87 pounds of muskies in two days.

Police Sgt. Gene Skinner, 611 N. Union St., landed two giants, one 20 and the other 21 pounds. Both measured 44 inches long.

Troy Wallace, 213 S. Oneida St., pulled in a 19-pounder and also one going eight pounds.

Dave Mack, 5340 E. Monroe Rd., accounted for eight and 10-pounders.

Sgt. Skinner and his wife, Doris, also came home with their limit of walleyes, which averaged three pounds.

Getting a musky to hit the fisherman's line is one thing, landing him another.

Sgt. Skinner explains that when one hits, the boat is turned in a circle to tire out the fish. This takes up to 20 minutes.

When it comes to the top of the water, he's reeled in next to the boat and then clubbed with the back of the gaf hook, then gaffed.

If a musky, which has powerful jaws and razor-sharp teeth, can be pulled in any sooner, he will attack humans in the boat.

Use of Oral Polio Vaccine Explained

Many times this summer people in this community have called the Lenawee Health Dept. asking why this community is not having a mass oral polio immunization program.

The reasons are several:

First of all, the use of this type vaccine has limitations. The oral vaccine is an enteric (intestinal) virus and immunity results if the person's gastro-intestinal tract (bowel) becomes infected with this virus.

If the person receiving the polio virus has another enteric virus (which are prevalent in summer months) immunity to the polio virus will not develop and the person and doctor have no way of determining this without special lab studies.

The Michigan Department of Health lab has isolated other enteric viruses from this area. When the Salk vaccine is injected into the person's muscle, it hurts, but it is in-immunity and protection will follow.

The oral vaccine is recommended for use in communities where 80% of the pre-school children are not adequately immunized, since it is known that these are the communities likely to develop epidemics.

The immunization survey completed in this county in June revealed that more than 80% of the two-year-olds had been adequately immunized.

A survey of the five-year-olds will be done in September.

The chief use of the oral vaccine is in prevention of polio epidemics when the type of polio virus causing the epidemic is known.

There have been no epidemics of polio in Michigan this year.

Many mass immunization programs have been conducted as a good public relations "stunt". The sponsoring group assumes no responsibility for keeping accurate and permanent records nor plans for an effective continuing permanent program.

Immunization for protection against paralytic polio, and other diseases for which there are effective vaccines, is a medical procedure which can best be accomplished for most people, especially in this community, in [illegible] family physician—the most qualified person to choose what vaccine to use, when to give it and keep accurate records of these immunizations.

Garden Club Asks Public To Exhibit

Tecumseh's Little Garden Club will invite the public to participate in its flower and handicraft show from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sept. 8 in Community Center.

Club members will present their arrangements in "World's Fair Impressions." One of the floral divisions will be open for public participation.

Arts and Crafts handiwork from the public also will be shown.

Persons may call Mrs. Donald Ketteman at HA 32079 for information on the floral arrangements. Mrs. Robert Murray, HA 33357, and Mrs. Douglas Dunn, HA 3-4525, will have information on the handicraft exhibits.

A committee will meet at the Community Center Saturday, Aug. 25 at 12:30 p.m. to complete plans for the Arts and Crafts exhibit.

Area arts and crafts groups are invited to send representatives to this meeting.

US-12 Has Long History

LANSING—Probably the oldest traveled route in Michigan is the one traveled by what is now US-12.

It runs southwestward from Detroit through Coldwater and Niles to the southwest corner of the state. Until recently, it was known as US-112.

The trail was believed to have been originally carved out by herds of buffalos in their migrations across the lower Peninsula. Later, the Indians took it over, and then the white men.

The first American to cover the distance from Chicago to Detroit on this trail was Lewis Cass, the Governor of Michigan during its territorial days.

In 1820, Cass had led a party of explorers into Northern Minnesota. On their return eastward, the party arrived at Green Bay, Wis. and split up.

Most of them returned to Detroit through the lakes, exploring the shoreline as they went, Cass and two of his men went south to visit Chicago.

Then to get back to Detroit, they came overland on horseback, passing through southern Michigan on the route of the buffalos and Indians.

As governor, Cass knew the vital importance of good roads in opening up the land to settlement.

Four years later, the route was surveyed and put on the map. Eventually it was improved so that it could handle horse-drawn wagons and played a big role in the early history of Michigan.

To Teach in Germany

Janet Lawhead daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lawhead, left Tecumseh Tuesday, for Rheinmaine, Germany to teach under the United States Air Force program.

She has been taking a six weeks program at Seina Heights in Adrian this summer.

Miss Lawhead taught first grade in Schulthorp, England, last year for the Air Force.

She is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Olivet Nazarene College at Kankakee, Ill. She taught two years in Battle Creek before going to England.

Miss Lawhead will leave the states from McGuire Air Force Base near Philadelphia, Pa.

Holiday vacations have provided opportunities for many trips into other countries of Europe by the young teacher.

Democratic Reps.

Selected to attend the Democratic State Convention in Grand Rapids Aug. 24-25 were Leland Bush and Frank Wrobelewski along with 28 others from the county.

Election took place at the county convention last Wednesday.

Hoben Selected New Chairman

Richard L. Hoben of Adrian was elected county chairman of the Republican Party August 15 to succeed Charles Trickey, Jr. who declined a second term.

Other officers elected were Mrs. M. M. Halley of rural Tecumseh, vice chairman; James Hadden of Adrian, secretary and Mrs. Walter Hutchins of Hudson, treasurer.

Among the 18 delegates elected to the state convention to be held in Detroit Aug. 24-25 are Mrs. Raymond Platt, Mills Swick, Mrs. Yale Kerby and Mrs. Royal Welch.

The trophy she holds is for "outstanding horse and rider of the year." The ribbons on Red Fury's bridle are for reserve champion model and champion overall horse. Diane's entry also won a bridle in train class.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

You may be interested in knowing that I have dropped a note, copy of which is attached, to the Detroit Free Press regarding Jack Manning's column in which he mentioned the historic St. Peter's Church in Tecumseh and your efforts toward its preservation.

Congratulations to you and the good people of Tecumseh who are involved in this project.

Your very truly,
E. H. Luther
212 Michigan Avenue West
Jackson

(Editor's note: Here is Mr. Luther's letter to the editor of The Free Press.)

Dear Sir:

It was heartening last Sunday to read Jack Manning's column and see that someone does "give a hoot" about our past. You are to be commended for publicizing the efforts in Tecumseh for the preservation of the historic St. Peter's Church.

While there is, of course, danger in becoming so wedded to the past that we have no view to the future, still we do need something in the way of a sea anchor to give stability to our lives.

A few years ago when we were first organizing the Jackson County Historical Association, a mother of some young children called me and took me very much to task because the Association had not yet acquired anything in the way of a museum. Her feeling was that she wanted her children to grow up with some roots in the past and she felt the community should provide that possibility.

So thanks to you and to John C. Manning.

Your very truly,
E. H. Luther

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

I am writing to you on behalf of the Michigan Society of Architects, regarding the preservation and possible restoration of a very important part of our Michigan architectural heritage, St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Tecumseh.

I have a copy of your paper, dated July 26, 1962, in which you have an article discussing a possible meeting on this subject.

Mr. Charles H. MacMahon AIA, President of the Michigan Society of Architects has appointed me to follow through on any active part the Society may be able to offer.

If there is to be a meeting, would you please let me know. If you have any additional thoughts, or questions, please feel free to contact me.

Richard C. Frank AIA,
Director, Michigan Society of Architects.

TO THE EDITORS:

Everyone wants to be happy. In this, we all agree. The wise among us know that we need love to be happy. The more the love, the greater the happiness.

How do we find love? Christ told us to love God above all things, and to love our neighbor as ourself. But suppose love isn't present in some social situations. What can we do? Here, I think, is the answer:

When love seems absent, use this lure:

L—love
U—understand
R—respect
E—enjoy

This love bouquet will surely benefit those who give and those who receive it. Love becomes mutual and grows with the giving and receiving.

Love is a sort of magic. Burbank believed that love caused his plants to prosper. Love becomes a wish of well-being which is like a prayer. The powers of love are truly fabulous!

A woman has more charm and beauty when she feels love. A man also prospers and finds his true stature through love. Children develop best only with an abundance of love. We all need love. We can have it for the luring.

Respectfully yours,
JOHN J. TRAUTNER

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THEY LAUGHED AT US

A hot, muggy morning, it was perfect weather to be on our tree-house type screen porch. There were things to do inside however, and I was stuck for a while.

After all, bookshelves which are inside would be a little hard to settle if we were outside.

Ida and I decided to work real hard, concentrate on matters at hand but my, isn't it hard to determine what should go where?

I don't know how long I'd been hearing the noise but finally I soaked in—there was something different going on outside.

A shrill, high-pitched squeaking, quite loud. Who or whatever was causing all the commotion must be near.

I looked out and I should say it was near—right on the feeder! Three very young tufted titmice.

The adult titmouse is such a trim, slick bird, every feather in place and always looking "straight out of a band-box." Not so the younger members of the family.

They were ragged and all fluffed out, every feather seemed to be awry. To call them tufted was almost a mistake. The tiny little top-knots were almost non-existant.

One did make a feeble attempt at raising his and how sad. His 'tuft' consisted of two very little and very scrawny feathers. A far cry from the cocky hat a grown-up titmouse wears so proudly.

☆

BUT WE HAD work to do. It hardly seemed that the young titmouse excitement had let up before another noise was distracting us.

We looked, but this time the noise-makers were not so easy to spot. The sounds were loud and rather coarse; it was definitely not a kingfisher and neither did it sound quite like a flicker.

A flicker it was, though, and finally he flew to the fence so we could see him holler.

Suddenly there were flickers all over—the one on the fence, one in the wren-tree, one in the grass and Mother F. swooped by the window to land just out of sight. Wow!

From very close to our open window the big bird started calling and there was really more similarity between the voices of the old and the young than we had realized.

Somehow a flicker's call reminds me of raucous laughter, does it you?

When the 'fence-sitters' flew to the wren-tree, it was quite a sight. The two young birds clung to the tree-trunk and were about as close together as they could get.

Screaming loudly, their mouths were of course open and, in true baby birds begging fashion, their wings quivered back and forth.

They didn't get fed though, Mother flicker had other ideas.

This was apparently a training day.

☆

SHE CALLED and coaxed—to us it sounded like laughter but the 'kids' knew she meant business. Riding herd on such a boistrous family must be hard but she kept things fairly well under control.

The squawkers came out of the wren tree and all four birds ant-hunted through the grass.

They then explored the fence and, when the lessons were over, it was each for himself back up into the trees.

Needless to say, the noise which accompanied all this activity was something to hear.

Appearance-wise, the young flickers were [illegible] ed than were the titmice.

Instead of being rough and ragged, their feathers were smooth and trim. Their yellow under-parts were equally as bright as any adults but their hats gave them away.

Not big bright crescents of red but small very dull, well, it was hard to even see the youngster's back-of-the-head markings.

So it is that we stayed inside to work but the job didn't get done. There were too many interruptions—the flickers made fun, they laughed at us.

Courts Are Simplified

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles about the proposed new Michigan Constitution.)

The concept and philosophy of a unified state court system—from the supreme court down through local courts of limited jurisdiction — are embodied in Article VI of the proposed Michigan Constitution.

All Michigan judges continue to be non-partisan elective officials and the governor may not name appointees to fill judicial vacancies.

It was the convention's judgment that the present system which permits the governor to appointees to run for election with the incumbency label had an overwhelming tendency to result in what amounts to an appointive judiciary.

Under the proposed constitution, vacancies in the judiciary may be filled by supreme court appointment from among retired jurists in the state.

These appointees would be ineligible for election to the posts to which they are temporarily named.

☆

A SIGNIFICANT addition to the present judical system is the establishment of a nine-member intermediate court of appeals with a jurisdiction immediately below the supreme court.

The new court is intended to speed administration of justice in the state. Judges would be elected from districts and would sit in divisions of three at various locations in the state.

Justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners would eventually be eliminated by the proposed Judicial Article. Their offices would continue for not more than five years after adoption of the new document.

Within this period, the convention reasoned, the legislature would be able to re-evaluate the state's judicial processes and set up by law a system of local courts of limited jurisdiction.

The Article specifically prohibits judicial compensation based on court fees.

Provision is made for the reduction of the supreme court from eight to seven justices. Incumbent justices may become candidates for re-election by filing an affidavit of candidacy, thereby increasing the stability and political independence of the court.

Present practice requires supreme court justices to be renominated in political party conventions.

☆

THE NEW DOCUMENT requires that all judges must be attorneys. An exception is made, however, for incumbent non-lawyer judges of probate who may be candidates for re-election.

Terms for probate judges are increased from four to six years.

The new constitution makes it possible for probate courts to be organized in districts to serve more than one county if such a proposal has the approval of the voters of each county involved, voting separately.

While there was no great interest in this proposal among the smaller counties represented at the convention, delegates felt that latitude in the Judicial Article might be useful in years to come.

The convention recognized the quasi-judicial character of the numerous executive agencies of state government who are empowered to make decisions affecting private rights or licenses.

The new constitution provides for direct review of such decisions by the courts. Excepted from this provision are appeals from decisions of the state tax commission fixing the value of property for tax purposes or determining an appeal from a decision of a county tax allocation board.

The new constitution gives the supreme court general superintending control over all courts in the state and such appellate court shall [illegible] powers do not include, however, the right to remove a judge.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

QUESTION: Since I am planning for my retirement later this year, could you offer any information now that would help me when I apply for my social security retirement benefits?

ANSWER: First, check with your social security office to see what records might be needed before you actually apply for benefits. Second, we suggest you submit your application as much as three months before you retire. These two steps will help us process your claim quickly and get your first check to you soon after you retire.

√

QUESTION: I retired at the beginning of this year and wanted to apply for my social security retirement benefits, but a friend told me I would need to bring my birth certificate with me. I have not been able to get one so far and I don't think I will be able to get one in the future. Should I apply anyhow?

ANSWER: You should not put off applying for any reason. A delay may mean a loss of benefits to you. Once you apply, the people at the social security office will be glad to assist you in getting necessary proofs.

√

QUESTION: Right now, I'm "between jobs" and I've exhausted all my unemployment benefits. Since I will be 62 in two months, could I apply for my old-age benefits now until I find another job?

ANSWER: By all means. But remember your benefit will be reduced from what it would have been had you waited until age 65 to apply. However, if, when you are between 62 and 65, you do not receive all of your benefit checks because of employment, an adjustment will be made and the reduction will not be as great.

OLD Mr. BOSTON

YOU'RE MAKING A BIG MISTAKE IF YOU'RE NOT DRINKING 80 PROOF GIN!

If you think higher proof means higher quality — that's a mistake.

If you think you have to pay more money to get a better gin — that's a mistake.

If you think the gin most Englishmen drink is more than 80 proof — that's a mistake.

You should know, to begin with, that America is practically the only civilized country in the world that drinks high-proof gin. The British, who perfected gin, know that gin has an ideal taste and flavor balance, and they prefer it at milder, smoother 80 proof. Here's the whole story:

80 PROOF GIN TASTES BETTER

"Proof" is no measure of quality. It's a measure of alcohol content alone. (100 proof means 50% alcohol.) Alcohol itself has no flavor. The pleasant taste of gin comes entirely from the herbs with which it's distilled.

The best test of gin is to drink it straight or on-the-rocks. You'll find 80 proof gin has the big taste advantage of 80 proof mildness — with the same full flavor of higher proof gins.

80 PROOF GIN COSTS LESS

Gins are taxed by the U.S. on their proof or alcohol content, only. The lower the proof — the lower the taxes, and the lower the cost to you. When you buy an imported label, you add the cost of shipping and duties. That pushes the price even higher, without giving you 80 proof quality.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER MARTINIS

It makes them extra dry, as you like them, but not extra strong. Twenty years ago, the 3-to-1 Martini was standard. Today, with the trend to dryer Martinis, they're made 6-, 7-, even 8-to-1. As a result the modern Martini has climbed from a smooth 76.5 proof to an overwhelming 84 proof! Solution? Mix with 80 proof gin. It gives you the same full, dry gin flavor, but it returns the Martini to its original, more moderate proof.

80 PROOF GIN MAKES BETTER TALL DRINKS

When you mix a tall drink, like a collins or a gin 'n tonic, you dilute the strength of the gin "to taste." You also mix for balance of flavor. 80 proof gin will give you better balance. You don't have to drown it to drink it.

HOW TO MAKE DRY MARTINIS MAKE MORE SENSE

Using Standard 86 Proof Dry Vermouth	Using 90 Proof Dry Gin	Using 80 Proof Dry Gin (or Vodka)
3 – to – 1 (Traditional)	76.5 Proof	69.0 Proof
5 – to – 1 (Dry)	81.0 Proof	72.6 Proof
8 – to – 1 (Extra Dry)	84.0 Proof	75.1 Proof

(The "standard" proof for today's bottled Martinis is a moderate 67.5 proof.)

OLD MR. BOSTON IS THE FINEST GIN YOU CAN BUY

It's vacuum distilled at an unusually low temperature in special glass-lined stills. Only at such a low temperature, is it possible to capture the most delicate essence of the herbs. This is one reason for Old Mr. Boston's flavor distinction. It is America's first and largest-selling 80 proof Dry Gin!

Caution Machine Users Against Solvent Fumes

State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis advises users of coin-operated dry cleaning machines to beware of garments and fabrics which retain a solvent odor after cleaning.

Several incidents have been reported, including one in Michigan, involving infants and young children being overcome by fumes from the dry cleaning solvent, perchloroethylene.

One automobile accident has been attributed to a driver being affected by the fumes.

Dr. Heustis said that heavy articles, such as drapes, small rugs, and some coats are likely to retain the solvent fumes if the machine is not functioning properly.

He urged coin-operated dry cleaning machine customers to call for assistance from the attendant, if articles are not completely dry, or if they retain a strong odor.

Articles that are still damp or retain the odor should be hung outside to dry, and under no circumstances should be placed in a closed automobile or small room.

About 450 coin-operated dry cleaning establishments are located in Michigan. The state [illegible] conducts an active program of inspecting such installations, and health department approval is required before the State Fire Marshal will issue an operating license.

The health department also exerts some control over which machines are installed in the state, through a testing program of all new equipment. Of the 35 to 40 different makes of coin-operated dry cleaning machines, only 11 have been approved as meeting performance standards established by the Michigan Department of Health.

FISHING WAS FINE—Three pals have fished almost every day at Globe Pond this summer and they have done pretty well. Standing is Mike Garcia, 9, who'll go into the fourth grade at Patterson School. In the center is his brother, Marvin, and at right, Chuck Randolph. Both Marvin and Chuck are 14 and will enter the ninth grade at Tecumseh High School next month. In photo below the older boys show off their catch of one Thursday morning, two carp. They hasten to add they don't eat them. For bait, the boys use dough balls, a combination of corn meal, flour and water. Chuck lives at 138 E. Chicago Blvd. and the Garcias reside at 305 E. Chicago Blvd.

$1,265,000 Help Keep Up Highways

During the past year, Lenawee County and its communities received $1,265,162 as their share of Michigan's gasoline tax and registration fees.

The breakdown shows:

Lenawee County	$ 950,242
Addison	6,720
Adrian	140,501
Blissfield	23,678
Britton	5,319
Cement City	6,831
Clayton	5,886
Clinton	11,067
Deerfield	9,556
Hudson	23,624
Morenci	17,186
Onsted	6,324
Tecumseh	4,228
TOTAL	$1,265,162

The Michigan Trucking Association points out that this industry paid in nearly $386,000 of this amount.

Of the state's total $7,436,849 for the Highway User's Tax, trucks paid $2,268,239. In addition, trucks paid $42,012,000 in Federal Users taxes.

Fire Damages Car

Defective wiring caused a fire and excessive damage to a 1962 automobile owned by David Henning of Britton August 15.

Tecumseh firemen answered the call at 9:30 a.m. on the Tecumseh-Macon Rd. The blaze had started while Mr. Henning was traveling to Tecumseh.

Certificates Go to Safe Drivers

Arthur Bowser of Tecumseh, Donald Dart of Palmyra and Albert Bender of Adrian were presented safe driver certificates last week.

The certificates were given in recognition of two years of driving without accident for Protane Gas Service.

Governor Must Be Able To Work With Others, Must Not Be 'Controlled'

George Romney believes the primary issue in the campaign for governor is the best possible use of the office of governor for the betterment of all the people of Michigan.

The Republican nominee listed what he considers the "bedrock aspects" of the governor's role in Michigan as:

1 — The governor must have the capacity to work with others, especially other elected officials;

2—The governor must have the ability and the willingness to work for all the people of Michigan for his entire term of office;

3—The governor must be absoluetely free from control or domination by any narrow interest or group of interests;

4—The governor must use his office to unify the various conflicting elements in our state;

5—The governor must possess the insight and the humanity to care about the problems and the hopes and fears of the individual citizens who make up the Michigan public;

6—The governor must have a conscientious and constant concern about the frugal use and management of the public funds derived from the people through taxation.

"A good governor encourages cooperation by accepting primary responsibility for the results of the government he leads. The poor governor stimulates resentment and antagonism by name-calling and unjustly blaming others for his lack of leadership," Mr. Romney has said.

"When an administration bows and scrapes before narrow, selfish interests of any group of the population at the expense of other groups, it does that special group no favor.

"Sooner or later, the entire state will suffer, and the favored group will be hurt along with the rest—perhaps even more than the rest, as employment declines and governmental costs become more burdensome."

Lintons Treated for Head Bruises

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Linton of 108 W. Pottawatamie St. were treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital after suffering head bruises in an accident August 14 on Rogers Hwy. near Sutton Rd.

The accident occurred when the Linton car swayed over the center line as it was being driven north, colliding with a car driven south by Roy W. Wagner of Palmyra. Mr. Wagner had slowed down near a car parked on the berm with a flat tire.

The Linton car bounced off the Wagner vehicle and collided with the parked car owned by Donald Bailey of Clinton.

No summonses were issued.

Old Church To Be Topic at Session

Will old St. Peter's Episcopal church be moved to a new location and restored as an historical monument to Tecumseh's past?

This is the question that will be tackled Thursday, Sept. 6 at a community meeting in the basement of the new library at 7:30 p. m.

The general public is welcome. Being invited are Episcopal bishops and officials of the Diocese of Detroit, along with the rector of St. Peter's and officers of the local parish.

EDITORIAL ON THIS PAGE 8, NEXT SECTION

Others being asked include members of the Michigan Historical Commissions, a representative of the Michigan Society of Architects, officials of the Michigan Tourist Council and the Southeastern Michigan tourist and publicity Association.

Herald Co-Publisher Tom Riordan will serve as moderator.

Old St. Peter's, which was constructed in 1833, has a rich historical background. Among donors for the building were Pres. Andrew Jackson, Daniel Webster, Henry Clay and other eastern dignitaries.

It is Michigan's first Episcopal Church and the oldest of any denomination in continuous use.

Tourists continually visit the community to see the famous landmark. One gasoline station operator on Chicago Blvd. says few days pass without someone stopping to find out where St. Peter's is located.

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Ever hear of an editor named Swift Lathers?

He's an institution in Michigan newspapering, having for 48 years produced the smallest paper in the world, page size 5¼x7¼".

Swift's sheet is known as the Mears Newz. If you never have heard or seen it, you're really missing a treat.

While on vacation earlier in the month, we passed through the town of Mears and stopped at the home of Mr. Lathers.

He was dressed in his usual garb — a bright blue shirt, with white cuffs and collar, neatly set off with a red tie.

Swift always appears this way, explaining that as he walks about the area, especially along his beloved sand dunes opposite nearby Silver Lake, people will recognize him and give Swift a lift.

There are 1,700 weekly subscribers to the Mears Newz, who receive the most unique brand of journalism seen in the entire world.

The headline on page one always has the same ending, "Rummage Sales are ripe in the Land of Mears."

"Arks from Arkansaw are ripe in the Land of Mears."

"Falling Pears are ripe in the Land of Mears."

The copy that follows, which might run two and one-half pages without a paragraph, need not necessarily have anything to do with the heading.

Swift's work might be called essay in nature, always pungent, lending itself to a good belly laugh here and there, spiced with an ad for the Oceana County Fair, Hansen's Clothes in Hart, Van's Body Shop in Shelby or Wilson's General Store in Mears.

Here's a touch of Swift's offerings:

A couple of weeks ago I learned that there was some kind of meeting going to be in session that evening in one of the rooms at the Mears school for the purpose of hatching up a zoning ordinance and that a certain outside organizer would be there. I went down to the school and found a room with a map on the wall, partly drawn with crayons to fence off different areas. On the wide shelf edge of the inner window I saw a lot of text books grouped according to their kind and I became interested in a reader with many pages devoted to pictures and descriptions of pioneer life with log cabins, etc., and the hand loom and equipment that the early settlers had to deal with. I took one over to a desk to read until the committee arrived and I decided that when the organizer got to organizing and waxing eloquent I would hold up one of these books and tell him there were 23 of them over on the side shelf, so the log cabin days couldn't be completely abolished and maybe a settler had a right to be a pioneer and build a cabin yet, like he could afford, as best he can and without any high-falutin' overlords standing over him with a whip and telling him he had to make it 576 square feet of floor space like in the Pentwater plains or he would go to jail for 90 days. By and by, perhaps there were seven people in all. It was apparent that this was no first meeting. The organizer must have worked on these people before. I began to realize that this state organizer traveled

New Guinea Next Stop For Wagners

The Rev. and Mrs. Merlyn D. Wagner left Sunday from Willow Run Airport for Waboy, New Guinea, where they will spend five years as Lutheran missionaries.

Their last week state-side was spent vacationing at East Tawas, Mich. with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Voelker of Effingham, Ill.

Also vacationing were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner and daughter, Charles Wagner of Tecumseh and the minister's wife's sister, Eileen of Effingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Ohm (nee Janice Wagner) flew home from California to bid farewell.

Others spending some time in the Tawas area were the Rev. and Mrs. K. F. Koeplin, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Ohm of Woodville, O. and Mr. and Mrs. Veril Lidster of Britton.

3,100 Storm Schools

Tuesday morning, more than 3,100 youngsters in the Tecumseh School District will scrub up to start the 1962-'63 school year.

For sometime, each new school year sets enrollment records and another is contemplated again.

At the school board meeting Monday night, Supt. James McDowell reported 41 new pupils had already enrolled in the elementary grades.

The high school has 19 new students and the junior high, seven.

This increase of 67 probably will be offset to some degree by a few drop-outs. The high school enrollment is expected to be just short of 900, the level at which schools are then classified as Class A.

Other stories pertaining to the new school year appear on pages 4 and 5 in this section and page eight of the second section.

Off for a Year in Paris

By MARJORIE COMFORT

Cancer knows no boundries. Neither do researchers looking for cancer cures.

Dr. Malcolm Bagshaw, a Tecumseh native, has been such a researcher. His work has taken him on many cross-country trips.

This summer it will take him to an international conference in Canada, then to a year's study in France.

He and his wife, Muriel, who also is a physician, hae been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bagshaw of 615 W. Chicago Blvd. Dr. Malcolm left Sunday for Canada, where he will deliver two technical papers before the International Congress of Radiology. Mrs. Bagshaw will spend several days at this Montreal conference, then return to Tecumseh to help her children pack for the trip to France.

The children are Cassandra, 13; David, 9, and Sarah, 5.

☆

SINCE GRADUATION from Tecumseh High School, Dr. Bagshaw has taken undergraduate work at Wesleyan University in Connecticut, received his medical degree at Yale, and specialized in radiology at the University of Michigan.

He currently is associate professor in the department of radiology at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., and director of the division of radio-therapy at the university.

Part of his work is in treating cancer patients, and the rest is in basic research in the treatment of cancer.

He has worked with the aid of several research grants, currently one from the U. S. Public Health Service. He is a co-principal investigator in a $2.5 million project to set up a radiation research ward.

This currently is paying for a 15-bed hospital ward, including the high costs of bombarding cancer cells with radio-active rays.

Dr. Bagshaw estimates this cost at $5,000 per patient.

☆

NOW ON a sabbatical leave from Stanford University, Dr. Bagshaw will deliver two papers this week before sections of the international conference which is expected to draw some 8,000 radiologists to Montreal, then go on to Quebec and LaVal University, where he will read another technical report.

One of the papers is on specific radiation treatment of cancer, and the others are on Dr. Bagshaw's special project, how to increase the radio-sensitivity of cancer cells so they can be more easily treated by radiation.

His year's study at Institute Gustav-Roussy, in Paris, will be this same field.

When Dr. Bagshaw is out of his office, he's apt to be either in the air or on snow-covered slopes.

Skiing is an interest shared by the entire family. Even little Sarah donned skis last winter, as the family traveled to Squaw Valley, Lake Tahoe and other ski resort areas not far from their California home.

☆

A NEWER interest is in soaring.

Dr. Bagshaw became interested in flying in the early post-war years, when he flew in power planes with Jim Smith, Tecumseh architect.

As Jim developed his interest in powerless flight, he spread this enthusiasm to Dr. Bagshaw.

Dr. Bagshaw finally took his first sailplane ride with Jim last summer. He promptly joined a gliding club near his home, and became part-owner of a Ka-8, a German sailplane.

Now he has to make a difficult choice. The best soaring weather in his part of California comes during the skiing season.

"Soaring is a complete change from my work. It's a sort of intense relaxation," he commented.

"We have several airline pilots in the club. They'll land their huge jets, then drive out to the field we use and go soaring, even before they go home," he added.

The Bagshaw family actually contains two doctors. Mrs. Bagshaw is a pedriatrician. She is a graduate of Connecticut College for Women and Yale Medical School. Part of her work in pediatrics was done at the University of Michigan.

Meeting in undergraduate days, the couple married and continued their parallel studies together.

Mrs. Bagshaw also is working at Stanford, in the department of psychology. Her current work —a combination of psychology and neurology—is in trying to determine what effect the various parts of the brain have on behavior. She works with monkeys in this research.

Attention Is Focused on Industry

Attention was focused on industry at the first gathering of the Tecumseh Community Development Committee Monday in city hall.

Formed by Council, members of the committee represent most facets of the city.

As its first order of business, the group elected Pat Meadows, president of the United Savings Bank, as chairman.

Fred Worden, vice-president and general manager of Faraday, Inc., was chosen vice-chairman.

Royal Welch, a councilman and owner of a dry cleaning plant, was selected as secretary.

☆

EIGHT TWO-MAN subcommittees were named by Chairman Meadows to contact local industry on a two-point program:

1. Determine how this committee can be of assistance to existing plants.

2. Ask local industries to report any of their suppliers who might be looking for a new location.

Various plants and men who will contact them are:

Tecumseh Products — Karl Schneider and Don Martin

Faraday — Fred Worden

Meyers Aircraft — John Hamilton and Mr. Meadows.

H. W. Tuttle & Co. — John Zeigler and Harold Easton.

R & S Manufacturing — Paul Clauda and Gene Tuckey

Bruce Foundry — Herb Maynard and Dwight Helms

TECO — John Zeigler and Harold Easton

☆

A GENERAL discussion covered business and civic climates of Tecumseh with committeemen agreeing that the city has many advantages.

They recognize some weak points and will work to improve these.

The committee decided to contact:

1. Consumer Power Co. for help on new plant locations.

2. General Telephone Co. for a self-help survey.

3. University of Michigan for surveys on industrial, commercial and civic improvements.

Mr. Zeigler was asked to obtain data concerning participation of the federal government in Urban Renewal projects.

Objective: 8,400 To Be Examined

So far, 250 residents have been examined in the second phase of clinical checks in the Tecumseh Community Health Study. By the time it is complete, more than 8,400 area folks will have gone through the clinic. About 90 persons each week is the pace. A story and pictures about the clinic appear on the front page of the second section.

Parents Win Board Promise

By JIM LINCOLN

A settlement between the Tecumseh school board and a group of residents from the Sutton area was reached Monday night when boardmen assurred parents that their children would not have to go to West Branch School next year.

The residents, accompanied by their attorney Clyne Durst of Adrian, also obtained promises from the board that several, minor improvements would be made at West Branch before classes start next Tuesday.

Sutton area parents told board members, that they felt they were being discriminated against and asked numerous questions about placement of pupils in the different buildings.

They also asked about integrating their children in the other schools, and what they considered substandard facilities.

☆

SUPT. JAMES McDOWELL was authorized to approach the Clinton school board about returning $1,500 in tax money which the Clinton schools received off property not in its district but in Tecumseh district.

New township assessor Art Eaton caught the error last spring and notified the local schools.

☆

IN OTHER action, the board:

► Accepted the city's offer to use the swimimng pool for instruction in September and next May and June.

► Agreed to take insurance bids for bonding all teachers and employees.

► Learned that assessed evaluation in the school district has dropped by $539,000.

Boy Breaks Arm

Philip Otter, eight-year-old son of Mrs. Robert Bagdon of Murphy Rd., broke his right arm when he fell from a tree Monday.

Bill Gillett, Rotary District Governor, is holding a three-day conference with clubs in Tecumseh, Blissfield and Clinton, and Adrian. Tecumseh members met at the Country Club Tuesday, the board of directors and 23 chairmen of Community projects in the afternoon and the full membership in the evening. A full program has been planned for the year with several community projects scheduled. E. Berndt, Bill Short of Adrian and Gene Stafen of Jackson, guest of Vern Manwaring were present.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Busses are all shined up, the schools are gleaming, many teachers have new degrees and the cafeteria is prepared for the onrush of students Sept. 4.

The students are ready too, even though they would never admit it. Vacation is wonderful but its time to return to the books and as one young lady stated "really knuckle down."

Mrs. Julia Homan of E. Hampton, Conn. is a house guest this week in the home of her sister, Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw.

Kathy Kish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gaza Kish, is houseguest of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gerten, of Blissfield over the Labor Day weekend. The Kish family recently returned from a vacation at Houghton Lake.

The Carl Hale family have returned from a summer in California where Mr. Hale attended a six weeks math course at the San Jose State College. One of the highlights of their summer was attending the United State-Russian track meet at the University of Stanford where several world records were set. They watched a Russian boy high jump seven feet and five inches.

Joseph O'Pravil, Sr. of 9702 Hewlett Rd. has returned from a two month stay in Czechoslavakia.

Ron Mykenstrum, Jr. and Edsel Brooks are touring the western states for three weeks. They will visit the World's Fair before returning to their homes here.

Kathryn Jewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Jewell, has returned for a ten day visit with her sister and other relatives at Smith's Creek.

Cpl. Charles Spreeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spreeman, of Murphy Highway, called his parents from Camp Pendleton, Cal. saying that he has returned from Thailand and is hospitalized with a drainage tube in his shoulder. He is able to be about the hospital but would not elaborate about his injury. He said that Thailand is a dirty place.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hartsell and Larry returned Sunday from a two week vacation in the upper peninsula. Mrs. Fred Marsh spent a week in Pontiac with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Dernberger. Mrs. Aura Schultz of Milan was a recent houseguest of Mrs. Marsh.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Covell and children, Alice and Richard, just returned from a two week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Covell and family of American Falls, Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manchester of Red Mill Dr. were in Dover, Del., the weekend of Aug. 19. They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schwartz, and attended the baptism at Dover Presbyterian Church of their granddaughter, Jamie Sue Schwartz.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey O'Dell of Coral Gables, Fla. visited his cousin, Mrs. Clarence Keller, and his aunt, Mrs. H. O. Peters, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dermont Poley have returned from a summer at Forest Lake, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGlasson of La Fayette, Ind. were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair A. Morse were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dick in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Herbert Lohr and children, Jimime, Linda and Marilyn, of Mt. Pleasant, were recent guests of Mrs. Lohr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester [illegible] sted.

The visitors also dropped in at Wolf's Tire & Appliance to chat with Bob Wolf, who is Mrs. Lohr's brother.

Winifred Finisy of Bronson was a houseguest last week of Mrs. Rose Service while visiting other friends in the city. Sunday guests of Mrs. Service were Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Michaelson of Royal Oak.

Mrs. Clifford McClure and daughter, Carol, and son, Daryle and family spent Tuesday at Put-In-Bay, O.

Neil DePuy spent the weekend at Charlotte attending the wedding of his granddaughter, Sandra Jean DePuy, to Gary Michael Saturday evening. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendel DePuy.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Fogelsong Jr. and family have returned from a 7,500-mile trip to Los Angeles. They visited the Black Hills, the Bad Lands, Yellowstone Park, Glacier National Park, the World's Fair at Seattle, and many places of interest in San Francisco and southern California.

They were guests of Mrs. Fogelsong's brother for a week and en route home they saw Mark Twain's home in Hannibal, Mo. and Lincoln's birthplace in Springfield, Ill.

Aircraft Co. Making Tops for Mutts

A $356,717 army ordnance order is "in the works" at Meyers Aircraft Co.

Meyer's boat division is making 476 aluminum tops for Military Tactical Trucks—known as the Mutt.

This vehicle is the successor of the "jeep."

The tops, which fit so snugly to the Mutt that not even a powerful blast of water can penetrate, are officially called "winterization kits."

They are being shipped to Colorado, will be used for Arctic service in Greenland, Alaska and northern Canada.

The Mutt is an amazing vehicle, has four-week drive with each wheel independently driven. It has lugs on each hub where parachute shrouds can be attached and the Mutt dropped from planes.

Production on the tops began two weeks ago and will continue until November.

Meyers added 20 persons to its work force for the project.

DON LUDWIG OF DETROIT ARMY ORDNANCE (LEFT) CONGRATULATES OTTO MEIERS

Dianne Fuller Marries Rodney Bradish

Wedding rings and vows were exchanged by Dianne Roberta Fuller and Rodney Michael Bradish, Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Joseph Bradish of Adrian.

White gladioli and yellow Fuji chrysanthemums were used on and in front of the chancel. Each side of the altar was lighted by cathedral candelabra with potted palms at the base.

The pews were marked with white gladioli and yellow Fuji chrysanthemums with white satin bows against a background of Emerald foliage.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess gown of white silk organza over taffeta.

Rose patterned Alencon lace appliques outlined the wide scoop neckline and short [illegible] sleeves, and [illegible] a traditional floral motif design in a sweep pattern on the floor length skirt and chapel train.

A jeweled lace crown caught the bouffant veil of silk illusion which extended the length of the gowns train.

Her only jewelry was a pearl set in a crown of diamonds on a slender silver chain, gift of the groom.

Her cresent shaped bouquet of white Fuji chrysanthemums and white butterfly roses was accented with yellow sweetheart roses, white nylon tufts and white satin streamers with lovers' knots.

☆

IN IDENTICAL gowns of white organza and matching lace pill box hats were Sue Fuller, maid-of-honor and sister of the bride, Jean Ann Hoag, Jackie Dunn and Nancy Smith.

All wore pale yellow linen shoes and carried yellow Fuji chrysanthemums, yellow Goldilock roses and gold angel feathers tied with green velvet tubing in crescent design.

The maid-of-honor's bouquet differed with a centered bittersweet Henryi Lily and deep bronze angel feathers.

Serving the groom as best man was George Griffith, Adrian. Ushers were Maclyn Bradish, brother of the groom from Huntington, Ind.; Lannie Higley, Whitemore Lake and Larry Meiers, Adrian.

Mrs. Fuller chose a sheath dress of Dior blue peau de soie for her daughter's wedding. French floral beaded embroidery marked the waist line and matching hat.

Mrs. Bradish chose a blue lace jacketed dress. Both wore corsages of pink rubrum lilies and pink Carol Amling rosebuds.

☆

AFTER THE ceremony a reception was held in the Baptist Youth House where decorations were in shades of yellow, talisman and gold.

Linen covered tables were garland with Smilax with pedestal arrangements of white gladioli, yellow carnations and Fuji chrysanthemums. A bridal ring of smilax encircled the wedding cake.

Hosts at the church were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Laidlaw. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Charles O'Neill, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Hugh Walter, Mrs. Leland Hubbard, Helen Miller, Carol Ann Lowe, Pamela Musch and Arrel Fuller.

Guests from away came from Mt. Clemens, Hillsdale, Ann Arbor, Adrian, Detroit and Huntington, Ind.

When the newlyweds return from a Northern Michigan honeymoon they will make their home in Ann Arbor where the bridegroom is completing his work as a commercial artist and the bride will enter her sophomore year in University of Michigan School of Nursing.

from place to place and must get a large salary from the state to get his committees into line, and probably I would be the fly in the ointment if I asked any questions from the opposite point of view. But I thought the negative side ought to be presented too. So when the time came I asked the organizer things like these: Was he aware that the population of Oceana county was 2,000 less in 1950 than it was in 1910? Did he know that the population of Weare township was 30 more in 1940 than it was in 1960? Did he know that Elbridge lost 80 in population in the ten years before the 1960 census? In fact five townships in Oceana had lost population according to the 1960 census and the city of Hart had lo[illegible] between the 1950 and 1960 countings. And did the professor know that just lately 120 people in Pentwater township had signed a petition asking the township board to repeal the ordinance in its entirety? In view of all these things there was no overcrowding that would make these stern ordinances necessary and the passing of these ordinances with their stern penalties would drive prospective settlers away and further reduce our population. Why should man have his hands tied behind him so he cannot use his hammer and saw to build himself a roof over his head I was fighting these things to preserve the liberties of the people and doing so without charge and in the name of liberty and the rights of humanity, and he was drawing a sizeable salary from public funds to go around making speeches to indoctrinate county boards of supervisors with his lineup. An Abraham Lincoln could not be born in Ferry or Elbridge or Weare or Pentwater, because the humble log cabin that Abraham's father was able to build would not pass muster in size or grandeur with the demands of the town boards, and the building inspectors would tell the covered wagon to drive on and get out of their township. And look at this book that I picked up over on that shelf showing the log cabin and the humble life of the pioneer. Is the day of the pioneer over with? Has it become a crime to build a shelter o[illegible] children's heads, the best shelter that we can afford?

Born to Ken Robinson, a grandchild. He eats ham in Birmingham.—Goldie Lovell's roof has been painted as bright as an aluminum blowpan.

When Melba Robins came to church on the first day of the week she had with her the elder daughter, Virginia, who learned to be an airplane hostess and say hello to the clouds. She has seen a lot of California.

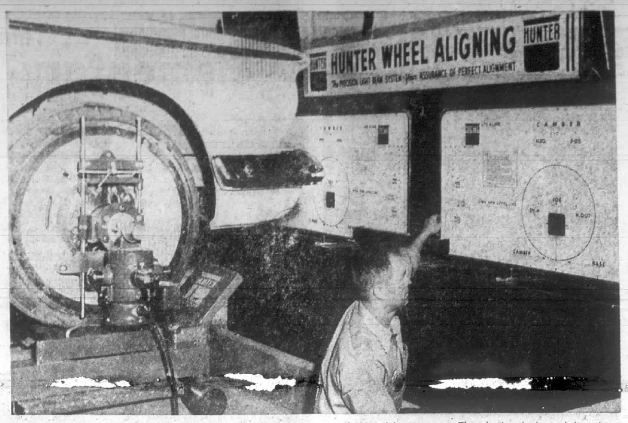
Henry Ogden, who used to rattle nails in his father's hardware in Shelby long ago, was at Silver Lake Sunday with his wife and young son.

J. H. Hildebrandt and Mrs. were telling me about the grandkids. One boy goes to Yale, one girl learned to be a nurse. One grandchild specialized in dramatics and wears a robe or a toga in some of Mr. Shakespear's plays.

Girls' dresses, $1.99 up. Girl's shorts, girls' sweaters. Saddle wear. And clothes for men and boys. Hansen's Clothes, Hart.

When I saw Judy Wojcik and found how she spelled her name, I didn't know if she was named after a radio station or if a station was named after her. Al Glatz was with her and if he is a reporter he could write a column and call it Glatz Blatz.

Yep! We sold that schoolhouse but have another, a better one, near McLaren Lake. It would make a good summer cottage. Clarence Loree, land man, Hart.



NEW EQUIPMENT AT WILSON'S—Don Wheeler, mechanic at Wilson Motor Sales, tries out the new Hunter Wheel Aligning unit, which was recently installed at the local Plymouth, Rambler agency. The device is keyed by electronic light beam projectors, which are placed on front wheels of the auto being serviced.

Walt Nichols is heading "south" —he's taking over management of a luxury theatre in Avon Lake, O., which is a few miles east of Cleveland. Walt and his lovely wife, Jet, will be moving to their new home next week.

Walt managed the Strand here for 23 years.

SOON UNDER ROOF—St. Peter's new Episcopal church building is now taking shape and will soon be under roof. Parishioners now can visualize the long, high open-beam effect of the nave, with the raised altar at the north end of the room. The new limestone church is expected to be completed in October.

Family Gathering Fetes Mrs. Beland

"I thought I must have fainted because it just couldn't be true" said Mrs. Clare Beland in speaking of a surprise her six children arranged in her honor Friday.

The six arrived from their homes far and near, from costal states both east and west, without their mother knowing their plans.

Mrs. Beland and her husband were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kirkland for dinner, a ruse to get them into the city from their Sand Lake summer home.

It was there that sons and daughters enveloped their surprised mother in their arms to celebrate her 75th birthday anniversary, which actually occurred in March.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Allen and Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan came from Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Umbarger from California, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Larson from Bethesda, Md., Mr. and Mrs. Max Umbarger from Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richert from Grosse Pointe.

It has been 21 years since the family has all been together, and this time they spent the weekend at the Kasno Motel before the Maryland couple had to leave by plane Sunday night.

Mrs. John Teufel, sister of Mrs. Beland, was among the fifteen attending and entertained the group for luncheon Saturday.

That evening they had a dinner at the Bostonian, where tables were delightfully decorated and an arrangement of 75 roses was presented to the happy guest of honor.

Bridal Shower Held in Garden

Beverly Scheffler of Macon was honored at a bridal shower in the garden at the home of Mrs. Edward Brandes in Wyandotte Sunday.

Mrs. Ray Gray, godmother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Matilda Brandes, grandmother, were the hostesses.

An afternoon of games was enjoyed by 48 relatives and friends and a buffet dinner was served.

READY AND WAITING—Bookshelves are ready and waiting for Tecumseh Library to move into its new quarters this past weekend. The library will be closed for three weeks while the books and other materials are arranged and the library facilities prepared for the public. The doors will open Sept. 10, with a public dedication and open house Oct. 7.

Elementary School Hours Set

Tecumseh elementary schools will open Tuesday.

Hours are:

► Kindergartens, 9:30 to 12 and 1:30 to 4.

► Grades one, two, three, four, five, and six in the city will be 9 to 12 and 1 to 3.

Ridgeway and Tipton schools grades one, two, three, four, five, and six will be 9 to 12 and 12:45 to 2:45.

Children starting kindergarten will not meet until Wednesday, Sept. 5 at the scheduled times.

Parents of kindergarten children are requested to pin a note on the child, giving the child's name and address the first day.

These parents are requested to meet the child's teacher Tuesday, Sept. 4 and pay the $3 book fee at this time.

Kindergarten bus drivers will make home calls sometime between Wednesday morning, August 29, and the night of August 31, to acquaint parents of their school bus routine.

The bus schedules and routes will be much the same as last year, and is presented in another article in this issue.

KINDERGARTEN SCHEDULE

School Bus Schedule

Bus services for Tecumseh public school pupils will be about the same this fall as last year.

Due to the austerity budget, the fact that the state no longer provides for the purchase of busses and only approximately 70% of the actual operating expenses, the Board of Education reduced bus services last year.

State Law says that pupils in grades kindergarten through six may be required to walk up to one-half mile to scheduled bus routes and pupils in grades seven through 12 up to one mile.

Following this will reduce the length of bus routes as well as grouping pupils so that fewer stops must be made.

Back-tracking will be eliminated unless absolutely necessary. Parents of pupils requested to join groups at pick-up points are asked to co-operate fully so that the money saved in this program can be used for educational purposes or reducing the school debt.

All bus runs as far as opening morning pick-ups are concerned will remain the same as last year.

Changes to be made regarding children walking to scheduled bus routes will be made the second morning.

There will be a few changes in regards to the night bus routes but the drivers will explain these changes to the riders as they get on or off their morning run.

Following is a list of the buses with the driver's name, and the general area served:

Bus No. 1 — Jack Hallenbeck — Sutton area high school and grade school.

Bus No. 2 — Agnes Woods — Tipton area high school and grade school.

Bus No. 4 — Harold Anderson — Tipton area high school and grade school.

Bus No. 5 — Mrs. Bernice Williams — Airport area high school and grade school.

Bus No. 12 — Bill Tipton — Brookmeade and trailer court area high school and grade school.

Bus No. 13 — Mrs. Bessie Adams — Holloway area high school and grade school.

Bus No. 14 — Mitch Mobley — Town area high school, Greenhouse, hospital, Comfort-Green Rd., grade school.

Bus No. 15 — Mrs. Jo Fowler — Russell & Ives Road area high school and grade school.

Letters To The Editors

TO THE EDITORS:

Never have I felt the need of tranquilizers for mixed emotions as badly as I did upon our return recently from a wonderful week's vacation at Chautauqua, N. Y., to learn the following:

1—Believe it or not, after five or six years' time the City of Tecumseh had replaced our crumbled curb and gutter (due to a bad span of cement, according to its own admission five year's ago).

2—That a freakish storm had caused tragedy and the loss of lives nearby.

3—That Walt is leaving us.

4—That sidewalks are being repaired all over town. I asked for that years ago. How about some tree pruning along the public sidewalks to go with the new?

Did you ever walk down our streets on a dark or rainy night? One gets brushed or swished with the dripping branches because the foliage is so dense that the street light does not penetrate.

5—The receipt of so many letters from organizations including the local church asking for contributions this time of the year.

6—That our editors favor the restoration of old St. Peter's Episcopal Church, one of the few historical landmarks remaining in Tecumseh.

Why can't the Episcopalians give the equal of the cost of razing the building toward a fund for preserving it? I like the idea of a museum provided in connection with the church's preservation for our local area or county. Let's preserve the best of the past, add to it the worthwhile things of the present and, thereby, lay a good foundation for the future.

All of the above just about put me in bed.

I have many things in mind about which I wish to write later. Be thinking about what we mean by "Better Education." I can't get a good definition of that expression, especially from the youth. Does it mean all A's and B's now since they got the millage by four votes?

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler (Mrs. T.)
311 W. Shawnee St.

TO THE EDITORS:

At the August meeting of the Michigan Historical Commission members discussed with great interest your proposal to call a meeting of interested individuals and groups to discuss the fate of the present St. Peter's Episcopal Church building.

I have been asked to inform you that the Commission would be receptive to invitations to participate in such a meeting, and that those commissioners who do not have previous commitments for the date on which you call the meeting, will plan on attending the meeting if you wish to invite them.

If you plan on following through with this idea, and if I can be of any assistance to you, let me know.

Sincerely yours,
George S. May
Research Archivist

TO THE EDITORS:

Times have sure changed. Back in the early 1930's Tecumseh was practically a ghost town. That is, until the townspeople and Mr. Herrick worked so hard and got the Produets in operation.

It was such a nice, quiet, pleasant, friendly village; houses were so in demand and they certainly are not now.

But as the town grew so did some of the people's heads. They wanted a city, but after they became a city they couldn't, and still can't, quite cope with city problems. Their only answer seemed to be to raise taxes; and about every two years they raise them again.

Now houses are no longer in demand because every month more and more people are giving up their homes in despair and moving away, because they cannot pay such high taxes and still put food on the table for their children and clothes on their backs.

Then as if that weren't enough they added insult to injury, by revising the book rental plan. I thought I was one of the most irritated people in town when I read the revision in the Aug. 16 paper; but my temper really went soaring when I read the Adrian Telegram Aug. 23 and compared the two prices. In case you haven't compared them they are as follows:

Adrian
Kindergarten	$1.50
1-4	3.00
4-10	5.00
Senior High	8.00

Tecumseh
Kindergarten	$3.00
1-7	6.50
7-8	7.00
Senior High	8.00

It is true books for my 8th and 10th graders would be more than $15.00, but I also would have books to trade in on them or to keep if I so desired, plus the fact if one of my children or someone else's child got a spot on them I would not have to pay out the price of another book before my child could get its report card so I could find out if he or she passed the grade.

When the program went into effect I gave the books of my three older children, as did the rest of the parents and was happy to do so. Now my question is, why something cannot be done to lower the rental fee instead of raising it? I dread to think of what it will be when my grandchildren are in junior and senior high.

I would certainly appreciate hearing how more of the parents feel about the subject.

Yours truly,
Mrs. D. W. Morley
711 Ternes Rd.

SHARON KAY BISHOP

MRS. RONALD RICHARDS

Nurses Degree to Two

BRITTON — Sharon Kay Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nilwen Bishop, 6328 Ridge Hwy., and Mrs. Ronald Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Spohr, 4682 Downing Rd., were graduated Sunday from the Riverside Hospital School of Nursing at Toledo.

Miss Bishop, a graduate of Tecumseh High School, and Mrs. Richards, a graduate of Britton-Macon High School, were among 20 who took part in ceremonies at St. Mark's Episcopal Church.

They received their diplomas for completing the three-year Riverside nursing education program from Marjorie A. Roselle, director of nursing.

Mrs. Richards will complete her work at Riverside Hospital Sept. 8. She and Mr. Richards will make their home in Detroit.

After graduation from Britton-Macon in 1958, Mrs. Richards attended Jackson Junior College for a year before beginning her nursing training.

The Spohrs honored their daughter at an open house Sunday in their home. Guests attended from Tecumseh, Blissfield, Adrian, Azalia and Britton.

The Bishops also entertained at an open house for their daughter Sunday.

Many relatives and friends attended to congratulate Miss Bishop. Refreshments were served from a table decorated in the pink and silver theme, class colors.

Miss Bishop has accepted a position at the Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, O., and will assume duties there Sept. 17.

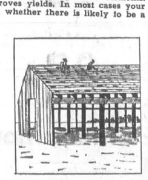
READ THE HERALD IT PAYS

HARVEST-TIME ACCIDENTS. Don't get in too big a hurry during harvest that you fail to take necessary caution. First step in safe operation of harvesting machinery is to put it into good mechanical condition before harvest begins. Be sure shields and other safety guards are in place before you take the machine to the field. Stop all machines before unclogging, greasing or adjusting them. A corn picker is very efficient at picking corn. It is also very efficient at picking hands and feet.

MINOR ELEMENTS are a good fertilizer buy, but only if you need them. They aren't recommended by most experiment stations unless you know you have a specific minor element shortage. If you're having problems getting high yields, and you think lack of minor elements is the cause, try a few check plots with fertilizer containing minor elements. Watch results carefully to see if it improves yields. In most cases your extension agent can tell you in advance whether there is likely to be a minor element shortage in your area.



NEW BUILDING? What kind of roof will you put on it? The most widely used roofing material today for farm buildings is galvanized metal. "Galvanized" means that the metal has been coated with zinc. This protects the base metal from rusting, and adds many years to the life of the roof. However, the zinc will deteriorate after several years and should be painted. In Illinois tests grey metallic zinc paint with a second coat of aluminum paint gave best results. Paint when 5% of base metal shows.

FEED EFFICIENCY IS BETTER on high producing livestock. Your best animals may eat the most, but they are paying you back more too. This should be kept in mind when culling out your breeding herd, as well as when selecting new breeding stock.

Bible Worker To Speak

The Rev. Elton Baird, worker with the Rural Bible Mission, will be the guest speaker for all services at the Onsted Baptist Church Missionary Sunday, Sept. 2.

He will give an account of work in the schools, summer camp and vacation church schools.

The pastor of the church, the Rev. Frank Thompson, and his wife and son, Frank, and daughter, Judy, left Wednesday morning for Greenville, S. C. where Frank will enroll as a student in the Bob Jones University.

Well known in Tecumseh because he has been employed for the past 14 months at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Frank has a life-long plan and desire to become a medical missionary.

The Rev. and Mrs. Thompson and Judy will return to Onsted via New York, where they plan to visit his sister and family.

Service Times Change Sunday

Services at the Presbyterian Church will return to the regular schedule this Sunday.

Beginning Sept. 2, church school will begin at 9:45 and the worship service at 11.

Nursery facilities and supervision are available during the worship service.

Cribs and play pens are provided for infants and supervised play activity for toddlers.

Parents are invited to use these facilities each Sunday.

God's Power

How the works of Christ Jesus proved his sonship with God and illustrated what God's power can do for man will be brought out at Christian Science church services Sunday.

Drive-In Church

Labor Day weekend winds up the 12th season of Drive-In programming at Devils Lake.

In addition to the regular Saturday and Sunday programs there will be a special Friday program.

Fridays program begins at 8:30 p.m. with the film "Centerville Awakening."

The film "Flight 107" which is another new release will be shown Sept. 1, at 8:30 p.m. and Sept. 2, at 9:15 p.m.

Staff members just returning this week from Florida will give a first hand report of the Drive-In progress there.

Gary Hanna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanna, has completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. and has been assigned to communication school at Fort Monmouth, N. J. He was home for 13 days en route.

Annual Flower Show Will Be at Center

Members of the Little Garden Club are anxious to have residents of the community participate in three of the four stages of their annual flower show.

It will be held Saturday, Sept. 8, from 2 to 8 p.m. at the Community Center.

Open to all ages is a flower arrangement class with the theme of "The American Way" and Horticulture groups or singles of home-grown flowers, vegetables or fruits.

Any interested in the above may call Mrs. Donald Ketteman, [illegible].

Arts or crafts exhibitors, juniors or adults, may call Mrs. Robert Murray HA 3-3357 or Mrs. Douglas Dunn HA 3-4525.

Garden Club members will enter arrangements under the theme World's Fair Impressions in 10 classes:

- Space Needle
- Monorail
- Gay Way
- Dominion Monarch
- Christian Pavilion
- Children's Center
- International Fountain

Old Auto Festival Sept. 15, 16

Twelfth Annual Old Car Festival, the country's foremost antique automobile event, will be presented in Greenfield Village on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 15-16.

The two-day program will feature more than 300 vintage vehicles, 1899 through 1925, in a living panorama of automotive history.

Last year more than 26,000 spectators witnessed the event. The combination of bright, shiny cars maneuvering about picturesque Greenfield Village with colorfully costumed passengers makes the Festival one to be remembered by visitors and participants alike.

Awards for accuracy of restoration are given in two classes, autos of 1899 or earlier through 1916 and those built between 1916 and 1925. Cars also take part in various contests such as coasting, cranking and obstacle driving.

For those who like to study automobile history, there will be more than 150 different makes at the meet, many of them almost forgotten names.

The Festival is sponsored jointly by Greenfield Village and the Flint Chapter of the Veteran Motor Car Club of America with cooperation of the Horseless Carriage Club of America, the Antique Automobile Club of America and the VMCCA.

Carson House, Jr. returned home Sunday from Camp Storer near Napoleon, where he has been on the camp staff teaching sailing the last two months.

BLOCKING TIP — Coach Fagan gives some instruction on blocking to two of his backs, Craig Rosacrans (holding blocking pad) and Dan Greene. Blocking and tackling are still the most important phases of football and the gridders will get plenty of practice in these departments before the opening game here with Willow Run on Sept. 14.

St. Elizabeth Adds Male Faculty Member

Classes at St. Elizabeth will begin Tuesday, at 9 a.m.

From Tuesday until Friday the students will be dismissed at noon.

Corlly LaRee of Petersburg is a new member of the faculty this year and will teach math and science in grades, six, seven and eight.

He received his education at Eastern Michigan University.

Teachers of the sixth and eighth grades will cooperate with Mr. LaRee in departmental work.

Teachers will meet for a faculty meeting Tuesday afternoon at 1 p.m.

Those on the staff are:

FIRST—Sister Mary Donalda, OP

SECOND—Mrs. Thomas Riordan

THIRD—Mrs. Carmen Alafita

FOURTH—Sister Alice, OP

FIFTH—Sister Maura Laurine, OP

SIXTH—Sister Catherine Laurine, OP

SEVENTH—Corlly LaRee

EIGHTH — Sister Maureen Therese, OP

Speeder Gets Fine of $100

Drivers soon will learn that it's pretty difficult to outrun the Tecumseh police.

Ray E. Martin age 27 of 5503 Macon Hwy., was arrested last week after a chase over paved and gravel roads, just northeast of Tecumseh.

At one time Martin missed a curve, managed to get back on the road and took off again.

Charged with reckless operation, he was fined $100 by Justice of Peace Ernest Oliver.

Violent Rain Hits Picnic Area

Sixty members and guests attended the annual summer picnic of the Exchange Club at the shelter area behind the sixth tee at the Tecumseh Country Club Aug. 20.

A violent rain storm at 7:15 p.m. dampened clothing, but not the spirits of those present.

A joint meeting with the Kiwanis Club will be held Thursday, Sept. 6, at the Boston Lunch restaurant at 6:30 p.m.

Plans are in progress to install the Documents of the Freedom Shrine in the new library.

The first fall meeting of the club will be held at the Eagle Hall at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 10.

City Makes $3,000 Offer for Land

A $3,000 offer was approved by Council on a 4-2 vote Monday to purchase the unused gravel pit along S. Occidental Rd. owned by Charles Irelan.

Mr. Irelan, who attended the session, told Council he wanted $4,000 for the property, which is approximately three acres in size.

He said he would consider the Council offer.

The city is seeking the land to use if for overflow from storm sewers in the southwest section of the city following heavy rains.

Barretts of Britton Are Hosts

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Barrett and Carol entertained at the annual family picnic Sunday.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barrett and family of Sturgis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barrett and family of Milan, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Barrett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Barrett and family.

Others were Roger Partridge of Tecumseh, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barrett and son, and Mrs. Margaret Maschino and son, all of Britton.

Goodwill Auxiliary To Meet

The new season's first meeting of the Goodwill Industries Auxiliary will be held in the chapel room of the Goodwill Industries building on W. Maumee St., Adrian, at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 10.

Claud Whitehead, the new executive director of Goodwill Industries of Southeastern Michigan, will interpret the ideals of Goodwill.

Mrs. Oscar Morse will present a book review, after which tea will be served by Mrs. Ed Starkey and her committee.

All who are interested in the rehabilitation of handicapped persons are urged to be present by Mrs. L. B. Kuney, publicity chairman.

OBITUARIES

● MRS. EVA W. SNODDY

Mrs. Eva W. Snoddy, wife of Jack Snoddy, 10427 Lenawee Rd. Monroe County died at 10 a.m. August 28 at Herrick Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for five days after several months of failing health.

Mrs. Snoddy was the mother of Mrs. Rollo Conlin, wife of the State Representative.

She was born Oct. 19, 1879 at Arrowsmith, Ill.

Her marriage to Mr. Snoddy occurred in 1902 and the family came to the Britton area in 1917.

She was a member of the Britton Congregational Church and the Dorcas Class.

She is survived by her husband and daughter, one granddaughter, Mrs. Jeane Johnson, and one great grandson.

She was preceded in death by two sisters and a brother.

Services will be held at the Niblack Funeral Home Thursday at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Ronald Corl officiating.

Burial will be in the Tipton cemetery.

—o—

● JOSEPHINE A. McGARRY

The Rosary will be recited Wednesday at 9 p.m. in Collins-Corkery Funeral Home for Josephine McGarry, 81, who died Monday at a Morenci Nursing Home, where she had been a patient for about a year.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at St. Elizabeth Church and burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.

Miss McGarry was born and spent most of her life in New Haven, Conn. She was the daughter of Michael and Mary R. McGarry.

She was employed in the textile plants in Connecticut for many years.

Until recently she made her home with her brother, Frank McGarry, at Sand Lake, where they moved several years ago from Detroit. He is the only survivor.

Carl Hale, veteran Tecumseh teacher, is again helping tutor football candidates as an assistant coach.

Fire Razes Grange Hall

Fire virtually destroyed the old North Adrian Grange Hall at Carson and Shepherd Rds. about noon Friday.

The blaze consumed the roof, a large section of the rear of the building, parts of the sides and front and did considerable interior damage.

Tecumseh firemen were called about 11:40 a.m. Friday after the Adrian Township fire truck broke down. When the local firemen arrived, the roof already had toppled in.

A small creek, about 400 feet from the building, supplied just enough water for the local firemen to extinguish the blaze. A water tank truck from Palmyra also was summoned.

Some chairs, tabels and cooking utensils were saved.

Return from Trip to West Coast

Mrs. Neil Pearson has returned from a five-week trip to the West Coast, Yellowstone Park, San Francisco and the Rocky Mountain National Park. She was accompanied by her cousin, Margaret Blashill of New Brunswick, N. J.

Celebrates Her 94th

Thirty-three guests greeted Mrs. David Beck August 22 on the occasion of her 94th birthday anniversary at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Lott.

A beautiful floral piece from the Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian Church was among her lovely gifts received by the honored guest.

Mrs. Albert Jahn and Mary McWilliams assisted the hostess.

A decorated cake, the gift of Mrs. Rose Service, was featured during the refreshment hour.

Clauda Wins Golf Crown

Paul Clauda is Tecumseh Country Club's new champion.

He won the crown Sunday in the club's annual links finals, besting Frank Rice, 2-1.

Mrs. Robert H. Moore took the ladies crown, topping Mrs. Willis Porter, 2-1.

In the men's 36-hole match, Mr. Clauda turned the tide on the 35th hole.

In other men's divisions:

Duane Roller won the first flight, when Dick McLain, manager of Dearborn Inn, had to work and was forced to forfeit.

James McDowell took the second flight, beating Lou Marvin, 1-up after 19 holes.

Keith Des Ermia snagged third-flight honors, dropping Bob Hanna, 5-4.

Wallace MacGeorge grabbed the fourth-flight title when he topped Elmer Krueger, 8-7.

In remaining ladies' contests:

Mrs. Bill Keith won the first flight, stopping Mrs. Chet Beach, 2-1.

Mrs. Bob May captured the second flight, taking Mrs. Glenn Lehr.

Mrs. Alfred Shrob paced the third flight as she defeated Mrs. Jack Hanna, 5-4.

FEMININE FINALISTS—In the women's division, Mrs. Robert H. Moore (center seated) took the Tecumseh Country Club championship Sunday. Runner-up was Mrs. Willis Porter (left). Mrs. William Keith (second from left) captured the first flight; Mrs. Bob May (second from right), second flight; and Mrs. Alfred Shorb, third flight. Back row: Mrs. Chet Beach, runner-up first flight; Mrs. Glenn Lehr, runner-up second flight; and Mrs. Jack Hanna, runner-up third flight.

Bowling League Holding Session for Team Captains

A captains' meeting of the Tuesday afternoon bowling league was called by Mrs. Harold Auten Wednesday to appoint a committee to elect a new president.

Mrs. Auten is retiring due to accept a teachers contract.

Any group of four or five girls interested in bowling this year is invited or any girl interested in joining an organized team may call Mrs. Orville Bishop, HA 3-3874 or Airport Bowl.

The league will bowl from 1:15 p.m. to 3:15 so the mothers with youngsters in school can be home before their children.

TECUMSEH SCHOOL MENU

Tuesday, Sept. 4—Pork bar-beque on bun, potato chips, green beans, apple sauce and milk.

Wednesday, Sept. 5—Hot dog and bun, baked beans, sliced tomatoes, fruit cobbler, and milk.

Thursday, Sept. 6—Pizza pie or spaghetti with meat sauce, buttered vegetable, Waldorf salad, rolls, butter and milk.

BLOCKING ANGLE—New Tecumseh High football line coach, C. Ray "Fig" Newton, shows the proper blocking angle for a forward wall assignment. Coach Newton is a 1960 graduate of Adrian College, where he played football and basketball. Last fall, he almost made the Dever Bronco professional football team in the American Football team, surviving until the third cut. He returned to Adrian and accepted a teaching assignment at the junior high there. He also assisted Coach Tom Fagan, who then handled Clinton High. When Mr. Fagan was signed for the Tecumseh grid assignment, he asked to have Mr. Newton as his assistant.

TESTS STRENGTH—Wallace Brown, 207 Iroquois St., who with his family went through the Health Study clinic recently, tests his arm strength while Mrs. Ann Pfister, clinic supervisor, reads the gauge.

Clinic Visits Start Again for Residents

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of current articles pertaining to the Tecumseh Community Health, only one of its kind conducted in the world. It is written by one of the doctors who works on the Study.)

BY DR. MILLICENT [illegible]

People of Tecumseh are now being asked to return for a second medical examination, just about three years from the time of their first visit to the clinic in the basement of Herrick Memorial Hospital.

As before, trained interviewers will first visit families in their homes and ask questions about each person's experience of health and diseases.

Families will be visited, as near as possible, in the same order as in the first round of examinations.

Special attention will be paid to illnesses or disorders which have occurred since the first examination.

However, there are also questions about illnesses which occurred before that time, because it was not always possible to get all the details about all previous disorders during the first clinical examination.

In addition to the health questionnaire, there is another which deals with physical activity at work and during leisure. This will be left for all adults to complete themselves.

☆

AS BEFORE arrangements will be made at the time of the interview for families to come to the clinic at their convenience. Appointments can be made for the family to attend together or small children may be brought to pediatric clinics.

Physicians from Ann Arbor will review and supplement the medical histories and do physical examinations. This part of the clinic procedure is essentially the same as before.

A number of new investigations and tests have been introduced. The most important of these are directed towards measuring the fitness of the cardiovascular system and finding early evidence of impairment.

New equipment has been purchased and installed in the room at the foot of the stairs.

An eight channel recorder and a magnetic tape recorder give records of heart action on film and tape.

In addition to the standard electrocardiogram, with which those who came for examination in 1959-'60 are familiar, tracings are obtained from extra leads on the chest and back.

Recordings are made at rest, during mild exercise, and again at rest after exercise.

The exercise consists of stepping up and down on a low bench at a standard speed for a period of three minutes.

If there is any question about the advisability of such exercise, it will not be done and in young children and older people only the resting electrocardiograms will be obtained.

Two readings of the blood pressure will be made and the circulation in the arms and legs will be measured by recording pulsations on two different machines.

☆

MUSCLE STRENGTH is estimated in both arms as shown in one of the accompanying photographs and grip strength is also recorded in each hand separately.

Measurements of body build include standing and sitting heights, weight, body width and skin fold thicknesses to distinguish persons who are truly overweight from those who have a heavier body frame.

The test of lung function is again a simple one and involves taking and holding a deep breath before blowing out rapidly into a mouth piece.

The new equipment will, however, afford much more information about the amount and flow of air and provide a better assessment of lung function.

As before, a glucose drink will be offered and the body's ability to cope with sugar will be indicated by the amount of sugar in the blood one hour later.

Laboratory investigations on the blood specimen will include determinations of hemoglobin, cholesterol and other fatty substances, blood groups, and several other tests for factors of importance in arthritis and heart disease.

A more extensive x-ray examination is now offered to all over six years of age, films being made of the chest, hands and neck.

☆

COMPLETED records are returned to Ann Arbor and reviewed by the study's Staff physicians who weigh all the findings carefully and assign diagnoses from all the information collected

Reports will again be sent to the private physicians of those who participate in the study and consultation with the private doctors will be recommended whenever the findings make this advisable.

Analysis of the data collected can be expected to provide even more valuable information this time than last since there has been a longer period of observation.

This will continue to be increasingly true with each succeeding examination.

The staff of the Tecumseh Community Health Study enjoy and appreciate the cooperation and friendliness which the people of Tecumseh have always given.

Study officials hope sincerely that further meetings during this new round of examinations will serve to strengthen the mutual feelings of goodwill.

LUNG FUNCTION—Bradley Brown blows into machine which measures the vital capacity of his lungs. Reading the graph is Brent Richards of the clinic staff.

Rain Alters Class Party Plans

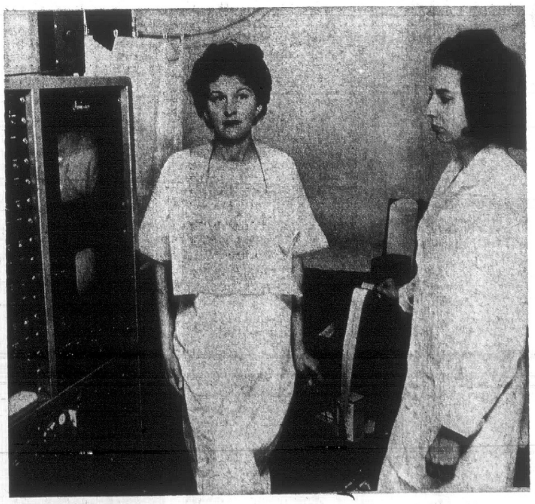
Rain changed the plans of the Power Class of the Tecumseh Friends Church A party originally planned to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Chase, Russell Rd., was moved to the basement of the church.

Members of the class and two guests enjoyed a hot dog supper.

The business meeting was followed by devotions in the charge of Richard Butler, recently returned from active duty with the Reserve Unit.

The class enjoyed activity games, games of guessing and musical games. Arnold Wilson and Norman Feller won prizes.

Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sommers and Mr. and Mrs. Chase.



CHECKING HEART—Mrs. Wallace Brown steps up and down on low platform in mild exercise during electrocardiogram recording of her heart action. Barbara West of the clinic staff watches staff watches.

Corn Picking Time Nears

Silage making is now in full swing and corn picking time is not far away. Corn is a major crop in Michigan and top yields add to farm profits.

Now is the time for farmers to check yield results and plan ahead before planting time rolls around next spring. Although corn yields have been steadily climbing in the state, there's still plenty of room for raising even more feed per acre. That's the opinion of scientists at Michigan State University.

Farmers can see the latest in corn breeding research together with many of the latest management practices for improving yields on Sept. 6. That's the date of the annual Crops-Soils Field Day at MSU.

E. C. Rossman, farm crops researcher, will explain progress being made in the development of hybrids with multiple-ears on each stalk. Rossman is also selecting varieties with resistance for corn leaf blight and corn stalk rot.

Effects of soil insecticide treatment on corn and cover crops which follow will also be shown. Researchers have tested new information on the spacing of corn both in and between rows.

Soil survey information will be explained at another tour stop. Profile properties and slope of the land can affect the use, management and productivity of soils.

Arthur Collingsworth Back From Trade Missions

Arthur Collingsworth is home after a month's work for the Brazilian government.

Arthur, who was graduated in June from Tecumseh High School, spent three weeks at the Chicago International Trade Fair, working in public relations at the Brazilian pavillion there.

The next two weeks were occupied in Minneapolis, at a trade show connected with the Minnesota Aquatennial.

To rest from this work, he spent the next week visiting a cousin in Janesville, Wis.

Arthur reports a "wonderful but hectic" time with the delegation. He was the only American—and the only non-Portugese speaking member—among the 20 Brazilians.

"I tried to keep up, with my smattering of Spanish and French, but when they started talking rapidly, I got lost," he commented.

He intends to study Portugese, the national language of Brazil, when he enters the University of Michigan this September.

If you plan to drive in Canada, see us for an insurance card, now required by several Canadian provinces.

Sooner or later, everyone is tempted to pick up a "bargain" in protection because of the rate. Too often, the promise of a fast, generous settlement fails to materialize.
When you buy from a local, independent agent you buy from a man who can look you in the eye any day of the week. He is not "out of town" when needed and his business is to help you get a fair and prompt settlement after a loss.
Bargains in insurance don't exist. But you do get a bargain in service, loyalty and experience when you do business with a local, independent agent. That's us.

Takes Post at University

Richard Pearson has accepted a position as assistant professor of law in the University of Connecticut and will move his family to Wethersfield, Conn. soon.

Mr. Pearson, son of Mrs. Neil Pearson of 501 W. Pottawatamie St., has been offered a teaching scholarship at Yale University graduate School of Law, but has decided to accept the position at U. of C. and later get an advanced degree from Yale.

He graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1946, from the University of Michigan in 1950 and after two years in the US Army he continued his studies at the University of Boston, graduating cum laude in 1956.

While there he was a member of the Moot Court Team and on the editorial staff of the Law Review.

He has been with a prominent law firm in Concord, N. H. for the last six years.

Mr. Pearson recently served as chairman of the commission to rewrite the adoption laws for the state of New Hampshire.

He and his wife have two children, Anne Marie and Thomas Richard.

Young Ambassadors Arrive

EAST LANSING—Five international farm youth ambassadors arrived in Michigan last week and immediately set out to meet families who will host them for the next several weeks.

The International Farm Youth Exchange delegates or "IFYE'S" as they are called, will have a two-month stay in Michigan. All will return to their homelands in late November.

"The IFYE program, sponsored by the nation's 4-H clubs, seeks to improve international understanding through personal contact," points out Mary Wood ward, assistant state 4-H Club leader. "Success of the effort helped encourage the Peach Crops."

About 2,700 young people have travelled to or from America under IFYE sponsorship in the past 15 years. Nearly 20,000 families have been hosts.

A total of 62 Michigan youths have gone to roughly 40 countries, while 123 delegates from nearly 50 nations have come here.

☆

TE-CHUNG HUANG of Taiwan (Formosa) will stay with families in Newaygo, Ingham and Lenawee counties.

A local 4-H leader at home, he has spent all his life on a 35-acre farm which grows sugar cane, rice, peanuts and cotton. Water buffalo provide the power.

In Lenawee County, Te-chung Huang will stay with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kibler of Sand Creek from October 12-23.

Ramraghunath Chowdhary of India will visit Alpena, Lapeer and two other counties. A cattle breeder, he lives on a 150 acre irrigated farm.

Asghar Bahrami Salmasi of Iran went to Calhoun County. A community development worker in an Iranian village, Asghar will later visit Van Buren, Tuscola and Branch counties.

Richard Bailey of Venezuela will be in Hillsdale, Kent and Lenawee counties. He hails from a 5,000 acre ranch which raises Brahma cattle.

Mr. Bailey will be living with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Williams of Clayton from September 24 to Oct. 11.

From Spain, Jaime Vinals is visiting Missaukee and Muskegon counties. He lives on a 5,000 acre crop and livestock farm near Barcelona.

☆

ALL FIVE will interrupt their farm visits to attend the 47th annual State 4-H Show at Michigan State University, August 27-30. Here they will join four other IFYE's who came to Michigan earlier this summer.

Many of the delegates will also attend the annual Michigan City-Rural Youth Conference at Camp Ohiyesa in Oakland County, Sept. 22-23. Emphasis at this year's conference will be on international understanding.

Four Michigan youths are now abroad as IFYE's. Beverly Malnar of Ewen in the UP is delegate to Japan; Sharon Ries of Tecumseh, in Formosa; Jeannie Stewart of Cheboygan in Turkey; and Ferdinand "Bud" Thar of Decatur is in Israel.

Robert Harter of Carson City will go to Nepal next month as the fifth delegate from Michigan.

NEWCOMERS

Who Have Moved to Tecumseh

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Loop Jr. have just settled down in their new home at 9383 Tecumseh- Clinton Rd.

The family moved here from Monroe, where Mr. Loop was employed by Gruber's Food Markets for 13 years. He now is with the Michigan Auto Club, working in the Adrian office.

The family's chief hobby is camping. They have recently turned in their camper trailer on a 15-foot house trailer, purchased at Paul's Trailer Sales.

In their three years of camping experience, they have travelled to many parks and forest areas in Michigan, and made one trip to a Canadian park.

The Loops have two sons, Gregory, 5, who starts kindergarten this fall at Herrick Park, and Jeffery 3.

Drive Defensively Over Coming Weekend

With hundreds of thousands of motorists swelling traffic volumes on Michigan highways Labor Day weekend, the State Police will operate special patrols from noon Friday to midnight Monday.

Last year, 24 persons died in 20 fatal accidents over the 78-hour Labor Day weekend, an average of one death every three hours and 15 minutes.

This was an increase over the average for the five-year period of 1957-'61, which was 17 deaths, or one every 4 hours and 36 minutes.

"Because Labor Day will be the only long weekend holiday of the summer and closes the vacation season, it is expected traffic will be unusually heavy if the weather is right," Commissioner Joseph Childs said.

"This should be sufficient caution to drivers to drive defensively. And those who will be crowding resort centers should be doubly alert when crossing highways. The holiday can mean either pleasure or pain. It will mean pleasure if safety rules are followed."

All pass days for State Police officers have been cancelled for the weekend. In addition, assistance will be given by 106 members of the National Guard.

40 Attend Style Show

Forty persons attended the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary style show Aug. 22 at the St. Elizabeth School Auditorium.

Models for the style show were Hilda Dotson, Mrs. Jerry Barton, Mrs. Dean Craig, Mrs. Rader Butler, Mrs. Ken Zornow, Mrs. Walter Wonderly and Mrs. Jim Mull. Narrator was Mrs. Dyke Helms.

Hats and purses were furnished by the Osborne Department Store.

Intermission entertainment included the Aowakiyas Twirlers and songs by Mrs. Lee Prettyman and Mrs. James Danforth, accompanied by Dexter Bailey on the piano.

Jaycee Auxiliary State President Mrs. Jenks Clary gave a short talk about "what it means to be an auxiliary member".

Local President Mrs. Ric Creswell conducted a short business meeting.

Mrs. Ray Shelton is chairman of the Fall Regional meeting Sept. 17 in the St. Elizabeth School Auditorium.

Refreshments committee members were Mrs. Ken Zornow, Mrs. James Rundell, Mrs. Jerry Barton, Mrs. James Hite and Mrs. Roger Butler.

Hunters Are Eager Already

Although hunting season is still sometime away, a lot of sportsmen are looking ahead to those pleasant fall hours in the wide open spaces.

Michigan has about three-fourths of a million small-game hunters," according to Charles Shick, Michigan State University extension wildlife specialist. "Some of these will hunt on public land and commercial shooting preserves, but most will go to private land."

Most farmers are reasonable people, Mr. Shick has found. A 1958 survey showed that four of five would allow at least some hunting on their property. However, farmers do have some pet peeves about hunting.

For one thing, they like to be asked. They can't help getting annoyed when dogs and hunters sneak up on them in their own fields. It pays the hunter to get acquainted with a few farmers well before hunting season.

Second, they don't like groups of more than three or four. No one likes to feel he's being invaded.

Third, they despise "road hunters" who stop their cars and bang away indiscriminately from the road. Ask permission to really hunt and this won't be necessary. Shick advises.

"Tens of thousands of responsible hunters figure to have a good year," Mr. Shick states. "The pheasant crop should equal or exceed last year's fair-to-good harvest. The rabbit picture looks even better than last year, when cotton tail hunting was excellent.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

THROUGH THE CAR WINDOW

A ride through the country these days affords much good looking. The countryside is so pretty—the grain fields, already harvested, are enjoying a much-deserved rest; the fruit orchards are bee-hives of activity as apples and peaches reach the peak of their plump, juicy goodness; most of the corn is such a rich, lush green and so very, very high.

One disquieting factor on the otherwise lovely countryside is the heart-breaking sight of so many dead or dying elm trees. The skeltons are everywhere. The ravaging Dutch elm disease is truly laying waste to some of our finest old trees.

But Mother Nature in her boundless wisdom lets few things become total waste. For years we have all bemoaned the raid decline of the wood-boring bird population, especially the big red-headed woodpecker. The preoccupation with neat and clean wood-lots is partially to blame; such neatness destroyed the birds' nesting sites and dinner tables. Now, however, with so many dead elm trees, it will be interesting to see if the redheads don't stage a come-back.

ANOTHER family of birds is using these trees. The birds of prey find them excellent lookout posts. This is not the time to go into a long discussion about the value of these birds; suffice to say that more and more people are realizing the importance of such pest controllers.

While traveling the Ohio Turnpike a few weeks ago, we were amazed at the number of hawks perched high in the bare tops of dead trees. They must make wonderful spots from which to see unwary snakes and rodents. Whizzing along at turnpike speed does not let one do much specialized bird-watching; we just called them hawks and didn't worry about what kind.

Along this same road, while pulled into a service area for gas, we looked up at the pretty, late afternoon sky and could hardly believe our eyes. Three large groups of birds were passing overhead—geese!

The V's were unmistakable but what were they doing heading south? The station attendant said that he had been seeing flocks all day.

I haven't had a chance to look it up but isn't the first part of August early for such goings-on? Let's hope the geese were just over-anxious and not harbringers of an early cold spell.

☆

BUT BACK to pleasanter, warm-weather-type things. We were driving east of town not long ago and were pleasantly surprised by a great blue heron. He flew across the road not far from the car. Flopped might be a better word than fly because, as his wings beat up and down, it was quite a laborious job.

In true heron fashion his long legs streamed behind and his long neck was pulled in—his white head rested on his bluish-gray shoulders.

This was as close as we had seen a great blue in some time. They used to be fairly common on the creek. Misty early mornings would find them silently stalking breakfast along the water's edge. Once this year Dad saw a big white head bobbing along, but our only view is the one described above.

So it is that usually we bird-watch through the house windows, but it can be very exciting through the car windows.

Janet's Letter from Greece

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the second letter which Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graham have received from their daughter, Janet, who is on tour with the University of Michigan Russian Study Tour. She graduated from Tecumseh High in 1960. This letter was mailed from Greece.

"Aug. 6, second day in Athens. You may need a magnifying glass to read this but I have to cram it on this little scrap of paper — ten for 1 drachma, or 3 cents.

We were in Lisbon last Tuesday. It's a monarchy or something, and the bus driver could only take us around the lovely streets and parks, and the sparkling, antiseptic new university buildings, and the lovely "winter garden," covered with bamboo, HUGE, with stone grottoes and streams and goldfish, and stone steps, acres of it, all filled with green light filtering through the green-painted slat roof.

We got glimpses of white-jacketed policemen on pedestals and women in rags carrying huge baskets on their heads, sidewalk cafes with little circles of multi-colored chairs, wide avenues with fountains, rows of troops running in unison along the side of the road.

We saw the NATO radio station, three or four acres of white stucco buildings with orange tile roofs, almost solid with antennae, radar, wires, etc.

People at every stop sold beautiful hand-embroidered tablecloths, cross-stitch roses and bouquets and pictures.

The river into the city goes between high cliffs but is very wide. We got up at four and watched the sunrise over the sea, as the pilot boat signalled away and drew up alongside.

A castle passed on one bank, and on the other a huge statue of Christ with extended arms. Little white villages with orange tile roofs nestled in the hills.

Two of the fellows walked instead of taking the tour, and refused shoeshine after shoeshine. Finally a man asked for a cigarette, and whomp!

The next thing they knew, their left foot was on the stand being polished, and tap-tap, and they had tops on their toes and the man was saying, "One American dollar, please."

☆

FRIDAY, NAPLES, and nobody wanted to go on the tour. Ocun and I left the boat at 7:30 and headed for a castle on a hill by the most direct route.

We followed a one-car alley for 45 minutes, then it turned into stone steps, a road, and more winding stone steps.

Skinny little children wandered through the street, laundry hung from window to window, vegetables and fruits were heaped on little tables outside doors. Girls hung out of upstairs windows and called to Ocun, even though he was with me.

There were dozens of poor little icon-shrines on walls, with a picture and some tinfoil decoration, with a dried flower pinned on or a candle burning underneath.

People glared at us as we passed and drivers made no attempt to avoid running over us.

We climbed the staircase, at least a mile of it, three-foot long, six-foot wide stone steps about seven inches high, with the sun beating down on us and the smell of garbage and sewage, and people emptied slop buckets out of windows after we were past.

At the top, instead of a path into the castle grounds, we found a city street, a bus, and a juke box playing 'Hit the Road, Jack.'

The Roman castle WAS the hill, with little shacks built against its walls for seven or eight people in each windowless room, and one seventh century building made into a museum. Did we see Naples! . . . .

☆

WE HAD GOTTEN wrong directions to the pier, and arrived just as they blew the whistle three times. That night we stopped at Messina, and though we couldn't get off, it was an impression that will stick with me.

It was dark, and there were mountains around the harbor with one or two lights twinkling on their peaks and little scattered clusters where there must have been villages, but not a single building visible.

The main part of the lights were scattered closely at the very foot of the mountain on the edge of the water.

Three U.S. men-o-war were in the harbour, completely invisible except for a huge triangle of white light where their rigging was strung with light.

There was a crowd on the pier, but our deck was so high there was no noise, so we just saw a quiet crowd standing in the eerie white light, and seven horses waiting patiently with carts to take passengers to their hotels.

It was so beautiful we couldn't say anything and I can still see it when I close my eyes. I hope I never see Messina in the daytime.

We had little bon voyage cakes for dessert that night, and the little ensemble came and played Should Auld Acquaintance.

Saturday we almost all slept through Malta, where we were not to be allowed to get off. Alyosha says it was worth looking at from the boat, but we hit him whenever he does . . . .

☆

VASSILII, THE waiter, who got his tip Sunday morning, brought us the double desserts (ice cream AND cake) which he had brought ever since the one time Osip asked for both, and he said, 'This the las' a la mode I serve you.' We all got very emotional.

We pulled into Piraeus at about one, and stood in the hot sun by our baggage til three, got to Athens at four . . . .

August 8, 1:30 a.m. (really) Thurs. I'll save Greece til another letter, or til I get home. There just hasn't been time to write.

We sleep 1:30-5 p.m., then 2-7 a.m. because the Greeks siesta. You NEED it, the temperature here is never below 100 I'll bet. Atrocious!

Saw the Acropolis at night and daytime, wonderful 'play'. Then another evening, from across the valley, in which they change lights on the hill and have a dialogue history of it. Terrifically effective. It gave us goose bumps.

Swimming twice in the Aegean, bought a Greek skirt and peasant blouse, part of my gift money. Walked in back streets with AMAZING pastry shops (they have the best honey I've ever tasted, and they soak everything in it) and actually know our way around some of this huge city.

Ten this morning we board ship again and the summer begins! When you get this letter I should be in Odessa. Off to Russia! Whee!"

Retirement Site Asked for Teachers

SALINE — MEHA Village, a retirement community for Michigan educators, will be built near here, if approved this September at a membership meeting of the Michigan Education Home Association.

Already approved by the association's building committee, the village would contain housing and community facilities for 300 residents by 1965.

The planned growth calls for a population of 1,500 within a decade.

The association has an option on a 210-acre farm just north of the Saline High School property.

A lake and two stocked trout ponds are envisioned for the property. By the lake will rise a 12-story center containing health, recreation, dining, entertainment and shopping facilities.

Residences will surround the center, and a nine-hole golf course will be on the outer edges of the property.

Financing of the proposed community already is underway through voluntary contributions from teachers throughout Michigan.

Wins Trip

Bob Karle, sales manager for Tecumseh Motors, Inc., has won a four-day trip to Nassau in a nationwide Ford sales contest.

The local salesman and his wife will fly to the famous vacation spot on Sept. 8 and stay four days at the Emerald Beach Hotel.

The contest consisted of selling the most cars and trucks over an agency's quota.

MRS. CAL ROHRBACK

Rohrback-Beal Vows Spoken

BRITTON—The Congregational Christian Church in Britton was the scene of a late summer wedding Saturday evening when Miss Janet Beal became the bride of Cal Rohrback. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. O. Hannevik.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Beal and the late John M. Beal of Britton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rohrback, also of Britton.

Mrs. William Raeburn was the organist and she accompanied Mr. William Hetrick of Dundee as he sang "Oh, Promise Me" before the ceremony and "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Pyramid arrangements of white gladioli stood at either side of the altar. Cathedral candelabra, each holding seven candles, arranged with sprays of palmetto foliage and white gladioloi were at either side of the chancel.

Marking the entrance to the altar stood white china vases of white gladioli and white fugi mums. Bouquets of huckleberry foliage and satin bows marked the entire carpeted aisle. Single cathedral candles stood at the aisle entrance.

☆

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her mother, was escorted down the aisle by her uncle, Russell Cheever of Tecumseh. Her gown of crystal taffeta was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, shortsleeves and fitted basque bodice. The bouffant skirt was deeply box pleated, with a full bustle back, accented by two large cabbage roses, flowing into the chapel train.

Her matching headpiece was a cluster of taffeta roses misted with pearls. It held bouffant silk illusion veiling. She carried white pinnochio pompons, designed in a cascade arrangement. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Sandra Beal of Britton was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Judy Rohrback, sister of the bridegroom and Mrs. Ronald Leonard of Adrian and Jeannine Skinner of Ypsilanti, former roommate of the bride.

The gowns had lavender bodices that were sleeveless and fashioned with scoop necks, and full white eyelet skirts detailed with a lavender rose in the center back.

Their headpieces were also fabric roses with nose veil. The dresses and headpieces were made by Mrs. Bernard Bishop of Ridgeway.

They carried large rosettes of violet velvet ribbon and nylon tulle, centered with gardenias and cascades of purple grapes. The flower girl was Jan Frayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Frayer of Britton. Her dress and bouquet were miniatures of the bridesmaids.

☆

DONALD Dickerson of Britton was the best man. Ushers included Willard Mason of Blissfield, Duane Robertson of Troy and Jerry Benedict of Williamston. Kevin Jon Beal, brother of the bride, and John Robert Lorenz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Lorenz, were the ringbearers. They carried the rings on white satin pillows made by the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Cheever.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Tecumseh Community Center for 400 guests Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gripton and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ash were hosts and hostesses. A four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a small urn of miniature white grapes. Garlands of lemon leaves and clusters of white grapes were used at the base. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Duane Robertson, sister of the bridegroom, and Lorna Dicks.

Nancy Fitchett of Detroit and Laura Crick of Stevensville, former college roommates of the bride, presided at the punch bowls. Mrs. Jerry Benedict of Williamston registered the guests and Miss Lois Neidlinger of Brooklyn and Mrs. Patrick Brower of Ypsilanti were in charge of the gifts. Mrs. Ronald Cheever of Britton poured coffee and Mrs. Russell Cheever of Tecumseh cut and served the groom's cake. Mrs. Donald Dickerson served the ice cream.

☆

FOR THEIR wedding trip the bride wore a blue sleeveless sheath with black patent accessories and a mauve cymbidium orchid corsage.

The new Mrs. Rohrback was graduated from Britton-Macon High School in 1960 and from a Michigan State University floriculture course Aug. 16. She will be employed at the Vine St. Flower Shop in Adrian.

The groom is also a graduate of Britton-Macon High School in 1960 and will be a junior at Adrian College this fall.

After Sept. 1 they will make their home at 4200 W. Maple St., Adrian.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rohrback were hosts for the rehearsal supper Friday evening.

45 Scouts, Leaders Trek to Canada

By ROBERT AUTEN
Scoutmaster

BRITTON—It's all over, it was awfully hard to wait for and everyone worked hard for it to happen.

It turned out to be the greatest experience in the fellowship of scouting that we have ever had.

Of course you all know what we are talking about, the Britton Boy Scout trip to Dog Lake, Canada.

This article is written in appreciation to everyone who helped to make it possible: To all who had patience during the selling campaigns, the fund-raising [illegible] attended our wrestling show.

A special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Yarckow and the Boy Scout Mother's Club.

Our group numbered 38 boys and seven adults. We started on Saturday, Aug. 4, in six cars and one pick-up truck, generously donated by Charles Studnicka. If you remember your last vacation, packing for your family, you can imagine the fun of packing for 45 for an eight-day trip.

Our group was an exception in one respect, compared to other scout groups that take trips, in that our boys included all ranks and ages from 11 to 19.

☆

WE LEFT at 7 a.m. from Britton Park, where all the parents had gathered to see the boys off.

Of course we had to make a little noise as we left. No one should be sleeping at that time, anyway.

Our caravan included Bud Furgus, Raymond Kahle, Dick Vallie, Paul Cook, Elwood Tucker, Raymond Auten and Bob Auten.

We had a two-way radio communication from the first to the last cars.

Our time was scheduled so that we stopped often and we were never pressed for time.

At noon we had sack lunches and in the afternoon we visited the shrine at Indian River.

This is the location of one of the worlds largest Crucifixs.

By supper time we were at Kincheloe Air Force Base at Kinross, Mich.

We were billeted in the camp gym. We ate our next three meals at the Air Force mess hall.

These meals were excellent, costing 22c for each breakfast and 40c for other meals.

We were provided a tour of the base and were given a demonstration in fire fighting by the base fire department.

Everyone visited the control towers.

☆

THIS IS also a Strategic Air Command base and many of the world's largest military jets are stationed here.

Sunday morning everyone attended the church of his faith.

After dinner we headed for White River, Ont.

Many of the boys had their first experience of crossing the Straits on the ferry into Canada, and later on their first train ride.

Our group followed Route 17 along Lake Superior, which is certainly a beautiful drive.

Our only experience with mosquitos was at White River. They nearly carried off some of the smaller boys.

Monday morning all of our gear was loaded on baggage cars at White River for the last 80 miles by rail.

Our stop off point was Gatiles, a post half way between Chapleau and White River, just a number on the railway.

When the train left we were certainly stranded with piles of equipment along the track.

Here we were met by Ray Chappell, a guide from Dog Lake who spent the next 4½ days with us.

All of our equipment was carried to boats that were waiting for us and in a short while camp had been built.

There were a total of 21 tents, a kitchen unit and a supply tent.

During our stay everyone spent many hours fishing and enough fish were caught for dinner each day.

Prepared over an open fire, these walleyed pike were delicious.

☆

OF COURSE no fishing trip is complete without a contest, and Clark Griffin was the official judge.

Ronald Heiden caught a 27-inch, six-pound walleye and Dick Sommers caught a 27-inch northern to take the honors.

Keith Crutchfield and Terry Auten caught the next largest [illegible].

Wednesday and Thursday our guide had arranged for an extra trip. Sixteen went each day on a trip to Misanabi by launch and from there by truck to a planing mill, a saw mill and a gold mine.

This was a most interesting day.

The boys were shown the effects of fire to the forest and the terrible damage that results.

Most everyone left the mine with a piece of gold-bearing rock.

Gold is worth $35 an ounce, and this mine produces about 300 pounds a month.

Our evenings were spent around the camp fire, one of the most interesting times of the trip. Our guide told stories of the land, hunting and fishing stories, about the history and the wars that were fought here.

There were stories about wild animals and Indians, and best of all Walter A[illegible] sang freshly-burnt pop corn over the fire for everyone.

☆

WE HAD wonderful weather all week and were on a beautiful sand beach. The swimming was wonderful, although it was colder than we were used to.

During the week Carl Bower and Ray Kahle were lucky enough to spot a moose and were able to get within 150 feet of it.

Everyone helped with the cooking and detail. It is surprising how good the meals tasted, or perhaps everyone was pretty hungry.

It seemed way too short, but it was time to leave.

We were sure people on the train wondered where we came from as we stopped the train and loaded for our return trip.

Saturday we stopped at the Soo and watched the boats go through the locks.

It was a busy day and ships from many nations were passing through.

Saturday night was spent at Kincheloe again and Sunday we returned home.

A wonderful trip, however we're sure that some were a little home sick.

Our experience will never be forgotten and it is a shame that more cannot enjoy these adventures.

Have you ever spent a night in the woods with your son? Marveled at Nature's mysteries, the beauty of God's world?

The companionship of being together is a memory never to be forgotten.

Try it—not next year, but now—and you will never forget your adventure.

Rev. Sorensen Accepts Post at Kalkaska

BRITTON — The Rev. Jack Sorensen of Britton has accepted the pastorate of Calvary Baptist Church of Kalkaska.

He will assume his new duties the first week of September.

His farewell message here will be delivered the morning of Sept. 2.

Rev. Sorensen has served the Britton Baptist Church as pastor for six and one-half years, moving his family to Britton from South Lyons in April, 1956.

The Sorensens have a daughter, Shirley, and two foster children, Philip and Marilyn Smith.

A farewell party for them has been planned by the congregation and will be held in the Britton-Macon School dining room Friday, Aug. 31 at 7:30 p.m.

Get-Together Is Success

BRITTON — One hundred ten friends and relatives helped to make Art Van Wormer's fifth annual get-together a real success.

The gathering was held at the Britton-Macon School cafeteria last Sunday, starting with a pot-luck dinner at 1 p.m.

Later a softball game was played and the youngsters enjoyed the swings and play equipment on the grounds.

Art's sister, Alice Jacobs of Tampa, Fla., was present, as well as a group of friends from Skateland at Perrysburg, O.

Other guests came from Manchester, Adrian, Tecumseh, Milan, Monroe, Lambertville and Britton.

Others were from Toledo, Perrysburg, Oregon, Metamora, Lyons, Defiance and Hamler, O.

Anniversaries Are Observed

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. David Younglove and daughter Barbara entertained Sunday at a triple wedding anniversary dinner in their home.

The honored guests were the Younglove's daughters and sons-in-laws.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rutherford of Manchester observed their seventh anniversary Aug. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Judkins' second anniversary was Monday, Aug. 27.

The entire group surprised Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams of Aberdeen, Md. when they all talked to the couple by telephone and congratulated them on their fourth anniversary, which was Sunday.

League Meets

BRITTON—Seven young members of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church attended the Michigan District Walther League Convention Saturday and Sunday at the Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

Those attending were Joyce Billau, Sherry Squires, Donald Davis, Ron and Jim Miller, and Paul and Joel Schaffer.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

An Independent newspaper, published every Thursday morning at 117 S. Evans Street. Entered at the Post Office in Tecumseh, Michigan as second class matter.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Good Boy, Auggie!

For a while, they had Michigan Republican wondering if George Romney was as terrific a candidate as first expected.

But it seem to have vanished. It took a member of the opposition to do it.

When August Scholle was quiet for a prolonged period — at least 10 days and that's prolonged for Auggie—the GOP got a mite nervous.

Then Auggie let fly, as only he can, lambasting Mr. Romney "as just another car salesman," adding a variety of other uncomplimentary things.

Just the tone of August's lament made it perfectly clear that friend Auggie is really scared. He knows now that his hopeful, Gov. John Swainson, just isn't going to repeat.

Auggie's words gave him away—as they always do.

It brings back memories of his classic foot-in-mouth remark following the Constitution vote which A[illegible] opposed, something to the effect that naturally it was approved, after all Democrats are working people, they didn't have time to vote."

Auggie's friends all pretended they didn't know him after that crack, but he's the sort of fellow you can't stay mad at very long. He's just too entertaining.

As advocates of a Romney victory, we are certainly happy that Auggie will continue to be the spokesman for the opposition. He has managed to line up more Romney votes to date, than many a Republican precinct captain.

And he does it in such a nice way. Auggie always leaves 'em laughing.

Meeting Set on St. Peter's

A community meeting has been set to consider the possible moving and restoration of old St. Peter's Church.

Interested folks will gather in the basement of the new library Thursday, Sept. 6 to discuss possible avenues of approach.

Time is running short on the project, since the building must be removed from its present site or dismantled by October so that the next church can be completed.

This newspaper has been a strong advocate for saving the historic structure, which is an important part of our community's past. Other people—including folks from throughout the state—are also concerned.

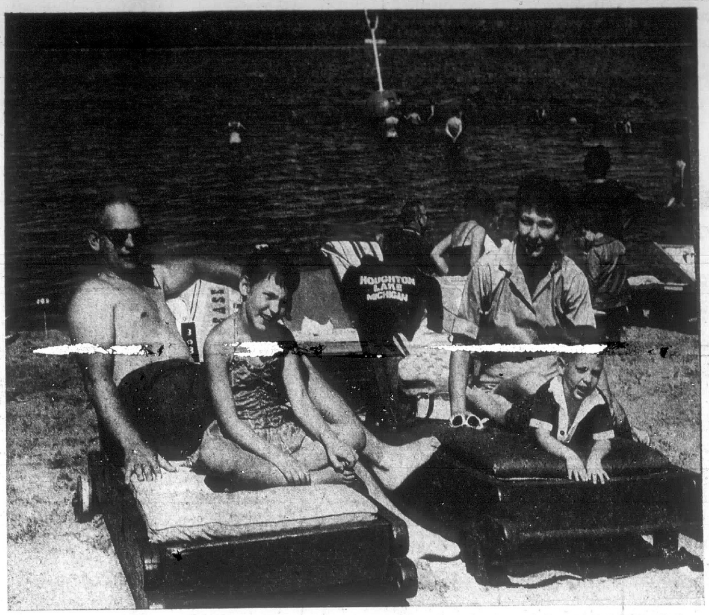
Several weeks ago The Herald presented the possibility that the church might be moved to a lot, owned by the city, east of the Community Center. It seems an ideal location.

In a new foundation for the church could be incorporated a Tecumseh museum, a place to bring together objects of importance to our history. It could not only include items from the early days, but also more modern things, such as models of the first refrigeration compressors made by Tecumseh Products, a firm that has greatly shaped community history.

Based on the interest of the Michigan Historical Commission in the preservation of St. Peter's, it would seem a foregone conclusion that should the project be completed, the state would erect an historical marker on the highway in front of the museum and restored church.

St. Peter's has long been an attraction to tourists. This could become an even greater pull with a combined museum.

If you are interested in seeing St. Peter's preserved, attend the gathering.



VACATION FUN — Taking life easy on their summer vacation were the Raymond L. Stockingers of 956 Carson Hwy. Mr. and Mrs. Stockinger and their children, Debbie and Ernie, were snapped while relaxing on the beach of Houghton Lake, where they spent their vacation at Johnson's Rustic Resort. There were a wide variety of activities to enjoy in addition to sun bathing and swimming — running from golf to tennis.

Thomas Brooks Serving Aboard Aircraft Carrier

EASTERN ATLANTIC — Thomas E. Roberts, interior communications electrician fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade W. Roberts of Britton is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Forrestal. This ship is a unit of the Second Fleet and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization striking force which participated in special exercise "Riptide III," last week.

The unit joined more than 40 other ships, together with aircraft from four NATO nations for the four-day exercise in the Eastern Atlantic.

Simulated nuclear and conventional strikes by carrier-based aircraft were conducted as well as other [illegible].

The purpose of the special exercise was to test and develop the readiness of the participating naval forces operating as a coordinated force.

Romney Speaking Here Friday

GEORGE ROMNEY

An outdoor rally in downtown Tecumseh will climax George Romney's "day in Lenawee" Thursday.

Starting at 7 p.m., the rally in honor of the Republican candidate for governor will be held in front of local GOP headquarters, which open this week in the former Bancroft Cleaners, next to Easton's service station.

Prior to the talk, Mr. Romney will be guest of honor at a dinner in the Baptist Youth House at 5:30. Diners will be limited to 200 for the meal.

A parade, led by the high school band, will start at 6:30 from the Youth House and move through downtown.

The GOP hopeful will arrive in Tecumseh at 2 p.m. and tour Tecumseh Products Co., spending about one and one-half hours there. He'll then rest until the dinner hour.

Mr. Romney is scheduled to arrive in Lenawee County at 9 a.m. in Addison. He then goes to Hudson and Adrian, where he'll tour Stubnitz-Greene and then speak at a luncheon in the Adrian Eagles.

After leaving Tecumseh, he'll make one final Lenawee stop, in Palmyra.

VOLUME 111 — ONE HUNDRED TWELFTH YEAR — NUMBER 48 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1962 14 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long & Short

By TOM RIORDAN

For 129 years, she has stood, through good times and bad, peace and war.

People have come from many miles to view this Tecumseh landmark.

A president of the United States contributed to its construction.

Now, it must make way.

This, of course, is old St. Peter's Episcopal Church, erected in 1833, Michigan's oldest house of worship in continuous use, No. 1 church of its denomination in the state.

With a new St. Peter's rapidly nearing completion, the original church must soon be moved or dismantled.

When one reads the history of St. Peter's, much of Tecumseh's past is recounted.

Musgrove Evans, founder of the community in 1824, himself a Quaker, helped the original congregation by suggesting the Rev. W. N. Lyster of Cleveland, O. be invited to serve as first rector of St. Peter's.

It was a wise choice. One of the Rev. Mr. Lyster's first suggestions was that a church be built.

He made a trek through the east, collected donations of $2,000 to help pay for a building.

Mr. Lyster's subscription list included Pres. Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Gov. Wise of Virginia and United States Senator Thomas Benton.

The corner stone for St. Peter's was layed in 1833 and the church of Greek Revival Architecture was soon serving the community. It has been in use ever since.

Over the years, there have been interior construction changes, but the famous exterior has always remained as it was built, except for a few changes in color—once a deep brown.

Originally, the pews faced the main entrance of the church and there were galleries running along three sides.

In 1868, the present chancel was built, the galleries removed and the pews turned around to face the west.

Eventually, the outside was returned to its original white.

Is St. Peter's worth saving?

The publishers of this newspaper certainly think so.

We feel that to allow St. Peter's to be dismantled is to default a part of our community's history that should be preserved if at all possible.

We recognized that the old church must be moved to make way for completion of the new.

Placing the 133-year-old building on a foundation which would serve as a museum, at another location, seems the logical solution—if the necessary funds can be obtained.

A public meeting, sponsored by The Herald, to discuss the fate of St. Peter's will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 in the new library.

Council Ponders New Tavern

By JIM LINCOLN

Possibilities of another tavern in Tecumseh improved Monday night when Council voted 4-3 as not being opposed to the issuance here of one more liquor license.

Councilmen Carl Lamb, Terrence Mackin, Gene Tuckey and Royal Welch approved the motion, apparently basing their vote on the grounds that city officials should not interefer in private enterprise.

According to the State Liquor Commission, Tecumseh is entitled to five licenses for operating taverns. There now are three.

Councilmen opposing the measure were Harold Easton, John Hamilton and Robert Bonner. Hamilton remarked another tavern would not be conducive to the welfare of the city's youth.

Mayor Easton said that he questioned other non-interested parties before he reached his decision.

Police chief Murrel Clark was requested to conduct an investigation of Larry's Grill, site for the tavern, and report back to Council.

Council also:

Granted a renewal of a sidewalk license to Weston Haeussler.

Appointed Richard Meyer to the Recreation Board.

Heard a report from Community Center director John Henderson that 39 tables had been contributed to the center. They were donated by Tecumseh Products Co., which replaced its cafeteria tables.

The tables, 42 inches square, will be used in the Glass Room for games and dining.

Thespians Gathering on Sunday

First general meeting of the Tecumseh Players will be held Sunday evening at 8.

The meeting will be in the second floor of The Sage Building. The entrance is between the Kerby diner and Eberhardt's insurance agency on W. Chicago Blvd.

Membership committee will be on hand to welcome all persons interested in joining the group, whether as actors, stage hands, promptors, seamstresses, carpenters or ticket salesmen.

Major topic of discussion will be the list of plays for the coming season, as prepared by the reading committee and board of directors.

Products Picnic Set on Saturday

The annual Tecumseh Products Co. employees picnic will be held Saturday, Sept. 8, at the UAW Youth Summer Camp on Sand Lake.

Gates will open at 8:30 a.m., with the annual baseball game to start at 10:30.

Free coffee and doughnuts will be furnished by the cafeteria. Those attending should bring their own picnic baskets.

The afternoon's program will include games for children and adults, starting at 1:30, with cash prizes awarded. Other entertainment will follow.

Employees are asked to take their badge or union identification.

Win Prizes

Onalee Cote and Bill Osburn, members of the Raisin Cane 4-H Club, were first-place winners at the State 4-H Show in Lansing August 27.

Miss Cote won the blue ribbon in flower arrangement and Bill won first in mosaics.

Public Invited

Anyone interested in the fate of the old St. Peter's Episcopal Church is invited to a public meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 6. The meeting will be in the basement of the new library, across from the Junior High School on N. Ottawa St.

The meeting is sponsored by The Tecumseh Herald, in the hope that the building can be preserved.

County Bulls Take Prize

Two Lenawee County farms were represented in the top awards of the Hereford breeding show at the Michigan State Fair.

Some 107 head of cattle were shown before a crowd of 250 interested spectators.

Individual class winners included Tecumseh's Broadview Farms senior yearling bull, HP Silver Return 2, and a junior yearling bull, CEK Mixer Return 55, shown by Haarer's of Saline.

School Bells Ring Change in Weather

School bells are chiming out their September song, and the tune couldn't be better.

After a long spell of hot-weather vacation listlessness, students have come to life with the brisk winds and brilliant sunshine.

There's change in the air, change of activities along with the change in season.

As fall clothes start coming out of the closets, the trees start putting on fall color as well.

Next week will bring the beginning of high school football, a real sign of the season.

Tecumseh Public Schools opened with 2,972 students, and enrollment is expected to reach 3,000 with late registrations.

The breakdown includes:

Senior High—822
Junior High — 423
Elementary — 1,727

The Tecumseh Herald's camera went back to school with the children. Pictured on this page are some of the eager faces from the first-grade classroom of Mrs. Leo Neitling at Herrick Park.

Dentists Fit Grid Players

Ninety Tecumseh High School athletes were fitted with football tooth protectors last week.

Drs. D. L. Phelan, Robert Mohr, Robert Laidlaw and Robert Murray provided this service free of charge.

Just this year the protective mouth pieces became compulsory for high school football players in Lenawee County.

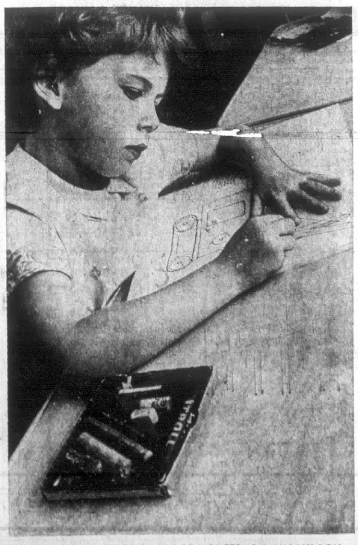
It was made mandatory in Tecumseh three years ago.

About 600 here have used the equipment without a single dental injury.

About 70 from Boysville and Britton-Macon schools were fitted with the mouthpieces by the same four dentists Tuesday.

Each mouth should be fitted properly by a dentist so that fragile teeth may be protected as well as having pressures relieved in certain areas.

Dr. Murray, president of the Jackson District of the Michigan State Dental Association, are pleased to co-operate in the program.



DEBORAH FOGELSONG CONCENTRATES ON WORKBOOK

Hot Lunch Prices for Students Dropped 5c by School Board

The Board of Education has authorized a reduction of 5c per hot lunch for junior and senior high pupils.

New price will be 35c and will remain so as long as the program is self supporting.

In the past, the cost of the junior and senior high lunch has had to be increased partially to offset the losses in the Patterson, Tipton, and Ridgeway hot lunch programs.

This was caused by insufficient patronage.

"It is hoped that a sufficiently large number of pupils will eat regularly at the cafeteria that the program can be operated at 35c per plate," a school official stated.

State and Federal aid, both in money and surplus foods, enable schools to provide a wholesome lunch at reasonable prices.

The school is not allowed to operate at a profit nor is it expected to lose money.

"Parents of the pupils could be of great service to the schools if they would encourage their children to keep their word concerning attendance for hot lunches," the official said.

Each morning pupils are requested to signify whether they intend to eat at the cafeteria. If the weather is bad, a large number say they will eat at the cafeteria, but if the sun comes out, many simply walk out and go other places to eat.

This is unfair to the cafeteria since food has been prepared and if not purchased is wasted.

The schools have tried many ways to remedy this situation, but only through personal cooperation will this problem be solved.

Milk will be available through the Federal program at reduced prices as usual in all the elementary schools. Pupils bringing lunches may buy milk at 4c per carton for white, and when available, chocolate milk.

Macon School Water Gets OK by Health Department

Water supply for Macon School was given approval last week by the Michigan Department of Health.

Earlier, a sample taken at Macon was judged unfit for drinking.

It turned out that an inspector had gone to the building, which had not been used in one year, drew off a sample from the reserve tank.

This water had been there 12 months and proved to be stagnent.

School officials asked for another check, after the tank had been drained and the pipes flushed.

The second test was made Aug. 28 and the water found all right for drinking.

Supt. James McDowell explains that even with routine checks made of school's water following summer vacation, the pipes are first drained before being checked.

PTA Meeting Is Wednesday

Ridgeway-Macon Area PTA will have its first meeting of the school year Wednesday, Sept. 12.

An open house at Macon School will be at 7 p.m., then the group will move to Ridgeway School for an open house and a business meeting at 8 p.m.

Officers will be installed, and new teachers introduced. This also will be membership night.

Nancy Lamson, Howard Schmidt Exchange Vows

Nancy Lamson and Howard A. Schmidt were united in marriage Sept. 1 at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Britton by the Rev. Thomas Drobena.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Lamson, 1102 Willow St., and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schmidt, Sr., 208 W. Cummins St.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums were used on the chancel and in wedding baskets flanking the altar.

Esther Kloepper accompanied Janice Campbell as she sang three selections.

The bride entered the white carpeted aisle on the arm of her father in a floor-length sheath gown enhanced with a removable chaped train of peau de soie [illegible] lavender, purple, pink and blue blossoms.

The bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. She carried a crescent of Rubrum lilies and white Snowdrift pompons on her white prayer book.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a pearl and orange blossom cap extending over the forehead.

☆

DONNA LAMSON was her sister's maid-of-honor and Patricia Upell and Mary Schmidt, sister of the group, were the bridesmaids.

They were identically attired in gowns of wood violet nylon mist fashioned with basque waists and flowing panels from draped necklines.

The maid-of-honor wore a bouffant floor length dress and the bridesmaids were ballerina length. They carried crescent arrangements [illegible] with dark blue streamers.

She carried a petite basket of lavender and blue florets and the ring bearer, John Baugh, carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

The bride's attendants wore headpieces of horsehair braid embroidered with seed pearls securing circular veils matching their gowns.

☆

DONALD MOORE served as best man and the ushers were Bruce Schmidt and Robert Brady.

A reception for 250 was held at the Products Union Hall, where a six-tiered cake topped with a nosegay of lavender pompons and blue delphinium florets was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyal Baugh were the hosts to guests from Holland, Manchester, Detroit, Ypsilanti, Blissfield, Adrian, Clinton, Ridgeway, Britton, Tecumseh, Monroe, Holloway and cities in Missouri and Iowa.

Following a trip to northern Michigan, the couple, both graduates of Tecumseh High School, will make their home in Paul's Trailer Court.

A rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the Bostonian.

Missionaries Visit Here

Recent guests at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. David Holly and family, 1211 Shady Lane, were Mr. Holly's sister and her husband, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans for the last 4½ years have been serving as missionaries on the island of Mindanao in the Philippines, under the auspices of International Missions.

They arrived at the Metropolitan Airport in Detroit Aug. 29, having flown from the Philippines by way of Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan and Hawaii.

During their stay here Mr. Evans spoke at the Sunday morning service at the Grace Bible Church, where Mr. Holly is the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans left Monday by automobile to visit relatives in Lorain, O. and Reading Center, N.Y.

They will spend the next year, before returning to the Philippines, ministering in churches and missionary conferences in various parts of the country.

Among these appointments is a week-long missionary conference sponsored in a cooperative effort by the Grace Bible Church and four other Lenawee county churches the last part of October.

What, ho, Washington?

The Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Collins, pastor of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church here, wonders what can happen next.

He sent a letter to a parishioner who lived on the same [illegible] route for 15 years.

The envelope came back marked "Unknown."

Father Collins checked the local post office to find out what the score was.

Seems that he had addressed it 1102 Sutton Rd. Rte. 3, Adrian, and the number is actually 1105 Sutton Rd. The Adrian post office refused to deliver such a grossly misaddressed piece.

Correcting the number by three digits was not good enough A completely new envelope had to be started, with, of course, a brand new four-cent stamp.

Earl Greene commented on the column last week about Swift Lathers, publisher of the Mears Newz.

In the Thirties, Earl taught in Shelby, which is next door to Mears. Everyone in the area knew the color of Swift's clothing had great significance, Earl reports.

Dark blue coat—for the blue of Lake Michigan.

Light blue shirt—for the blue of heaven.

White cellulose collar—for the purity of nature.

Red tie—for the red of the setting sun.

Green corduroy pants — for the green of nature.

Earl also added that Swift's paper had unique subscription rates—50c for one year, $1 for six months and $2 for three months.

A delightful little publication was brought to the attention of The Herald this week.

It is a cook book, filled with recipes and stories written by Alaska students of the Shishmaref Day School and published exclusively by the Alaska Crippled Children's Association in Anchorage.

The story of the cook book is an interesting one. The teacher, Isabelle B. Bingham, encoxed the hesitant children to write how their mothers prepared, cooked and kept foods gathered in summer for winter use.

Among the recipes are some for soups made of reindeer, duck and caribou, seal and bear feet, berries, fish and greens, all written up in amusing style of children.

Sourdough hot cakes and doughnuts and Eskimo tea are also featured.

This book is the property of Virgil R. Schneider. Anyone may have one by air mailing 60c to:

Helen Lowry of W. Logan St. brought a huge beefsteak tomato to the Tecumseh Herald office Tuesday.

It tipped the scales at two pounds and she informed us that it was one of many.

The tomatoes were raised in ground that had not been used for gardening for several years. Perhaps this added to success of the crop.

Linen Shower Planned

Bette Bailey will be honored at a linen shower Sept. 6 at the home of Mrs. Robert Stone when guests will be served dessert and coffee upon arriving.

Those on the guest list are:

Mrs. Albert Bailey
Mrs. Ellsworth Robison
Mrs. Stanley Robison
Mrs. Harold Lewis
Mrs. Ted Braun
Mrs. Kenneth Rogers
Mrs. Ted Robison
Mrs. Gertrude Robison
Mrs. Wayne Blanchard
Mrs. Robert Long
Mrs. Edward Bailey

Miss Bailey's marriage to Larry Robison will be solemnized Sept. 15.

School Brings Warning

Mary had a little lamb,
It's fleece was white as snow,
And everywhere that Mary went
The lamb was sure to go.

It followed her to school one day
To traffic it was new.
O drivers, please use special care
Or she will have lamb stew.

Child traffic fatalities are not, however, something to speak lightly of, Tecumseh Police Chief Murell Clark, comments.

He explained that kindergarten and first-grade youngsters are largely unschooled in the fundamentals of traffic safety and unaware of dangerous situations.

The police department strongly urges all drivers to do their part to help protect the lives of children by driving carefully, particularly around schools and residential areas.

To remind motorists to drive carefully, "school's open" posters are being displayed on car bumpers, utility poles and in gasoline stations.

Legion Auxiliary Installs

Officers of the American Legion Auxiliary were installed Thursday, Aug. 30 with the local ritual team and Mrs. Charles Howe as installing officer.

The ritual team formed an arch with colored gladioli as the incoming president, Mrs. Marvin Higgins, was escorted to her chair. The flowers were presented to her.

The past presidents formed an arch with red roses, as the outgoing president, Mrs. Dennis Goller, was escorted through the line to her chair. Past president Mrs. Fred Marsh presented the roses to Mrs. Goller and welcomed her into the Past President Parley. A past president pin was given to Mrs. Goller from the auxiliary.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Frank Gray.

Mrs. Goller presented her officers with a gift and thanked the auxiliary for the support given her through the year.

Mrs. Goller presented a life membership pin to Mrs. Charles Howe, as a gift from the auxiliary.

Mrs. Higgins named her committee chairman for the year.

Noes Win in Saline Millage Vote

SALINE — The Saline Area School District's first try for an operating millage was defeated Tuesday by voters.

The vote was 486 no, 336 yes, with 2 ballots spoiled.

The school board's request for 3.85 mills was designed to continue present school programs. Although the district's tax base is growing with new construction, it is not keeping up with the increased enrollment, according to school officials.

No action was taken immediately on changing the school program to fit present school aid and tax funds.

Lynn Cooley Will Marry Dick Stephenson

NEW HOLSTEIN, Wis.—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooley of New Holstein announce the engagement of their daughter, Lynn, to Richard Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephenson.

Freedomland Has New Spot -A & W Stand

Something new has been added this year to Freedomland, New York's famed family entertainment center.

"Although it isn't a ride or an exhibit it's already proving to be one of the top attractions in the park," enthuses "Bud" Ruettinger Operator of Tecumseh's A & W Root Beer Drive-In.

It's the new Freedomland A & W.

Freedomland, located in the Bronx in the northern part of New York, covers 250 acres which embrace a full-scale "map" of the United States.

According to the A & W official, the new A & W has one of the top spots in the park.

Situated near the entrance to the Stadium which houses the famous Dancing Waters and "must see" attractions, the A & W's bright orange building is also clearly visible to riders on the cable car sky ride.

No. 1 Problem — Leadership

Michigan citizens sense an upheaval in the air because they are fed up with 'do-nothing government" in the state, Republican gubernatorial candidate George Romney said.

"They want an end to promise big, produce little government," Mr. Romney adds. "They want leaders who can produce positive action, not empty promises."

The people know, Romney notes, that the No. 1 problem in Michigan is special interest government and behind-the-scenes manipulation.

Michigan desperately needs more jobs, he continues. This cannot be brought about until the "bickering and name-calling," which has plagued the state for several years with its fiscal mess, stops in Lansing.

"Leadership, special-interest government, jobs, fiscal mess, stalemate and stagnation which prevent adequate state services—these are the issues of this campaign," the Republican candidate points out.

The Romney administration, he said, will consist of dedicated men and women working to rebuild Michigan and not just seeking re-election.

"The people will have a government free from special interest domination, determined to restore Michigan to her former greatness, and completely devoted to the kind of problem approach, sound policy judgment and clear-headed action that will enable us to clean up the sorry mess we're in.

"I know from my experience that reasonable men, even when they hold widely divergent views can work out their differences and solve any problem with cooperative effort under competent leadership," he concluded.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP FOR FLORENCE — "There, I was", said Mrs. Charles Howe telling about her astonishment when she was presented with a life membership pin at the meeting of the Underwod-Orr American Legion Auxiliary August 30. Retiring president Mrs. Dennis Goller, right, made the presentation following the installation ceremonies conducted by Mrs. Howe. She has been a member of the auxiliary for 36 years holding all of the offices and committee chairmanships of the local unit and the district including district president. She is also a past department chaplain. Mrs. Howe organized the unit ritual team and has been the advisor for the past eight years. Members were pleased to surprise her with a reward for faithful service to the unit.

Landscaping Talk Open to Community

The Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary has invited members husbands as well as all interested men and women of the community to attend their first meeting this fall, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 11, in the Fellowship Center of the First Presbyterian church.

Charles W. Cares Jr. will present a lecture illustrated with slides on landscape design in relation to home and Community.

His talk will be the first part of the program, so those who can not stay for the whole evening will be able to hear him. There will also be time for questions from the audience.

Mr. Cares has been travelling across the country talking in landscape design seminaries for laymen sponsored by the Federated Garden Clubs. He is associate professor of landscape architecture at the University of Michigan, with degrees from Allegheny College, Michigan State University and Harvard University. He is a member of the Society of Landscape Architects.

The president, Mrs. Carlos Koisely, would like all members to attend as the next project under consideration of the auxiliary is to landscape the hospital grounds.

Everyone attending is invited to have coffee following the meeting served by auxiliary hostesses Mrs. Howard Furry, Mrs. Orrie Gilbert and Mrs. James Danforth.

Wrestling To Benefit Youngsters

A professional wrestling match will be staged Saturday, Sept. 15, in Tecumseh High School.

Designed to aid a scholarship fund for needy youngsters, the 8:30 p.m. event is sponsored by the Adrian chapter of the National G. I. Forum.

Started in Texas among Spanish-speaking veterans, the organization has spread into 28 states and now is open to any American citizen. Non-veterans must be approved by vote for membership, but an auxiliary and a young-people's group have grown from the original body.

Main event of the evening's wrestling will be a match between "Leaping Larry" Chene and "La Bestia." A midget bout and a mixed tag team bout with midgets and heavyweights will be featured.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Late Labor Day advice from Charles M. Schwab, one of this country's most successful men. He said, "Work hard. Hard work is the best investment a man can make."

This seems especially appropriate thinking for the students beginning another semester of their education this week.

The cooler weather Tuesday helped to turn over a new leaf for all of us. Autumn truly seems like a new beginning this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kunkle and daughters, Marcia and Nancy, attended the wedding of their son and brother, John, to Mary Leone Hooten in Memphis, Tenn. Sept. 1 at the Our Lady of Sorrows Church.

Thirty attended the Yeary family reunion held Sunday at the Patterson Park when Allen Yeary of Tazewell, Tenn. was the honored guest. Mr. Yeary will be 88 years old this month. He is the father of Shelva Yeary of 122 W. Brown St. The elder Mr. Yeary is visiting his son and other relatives in the area, most of whom attended the picnic. They are the families of James Brown, Orbin Herrell, Jesse Yeary, Ed Braden, Leonard Brooks, Shelva Yeary and Arnold Burchett of Cincinnati. O.

Mr. and Mrs. John Surratt, Ann and George have returned from a trip to LaGuna Beach, Cal., where they visited Mr. Surratt's sister and her husband. Paul Surratt accompanied his family back to the city and will resume his studies at Western Michigan University.

Mrs. Lillian Jones was among 39 who were graduated recently from the Ann Arbor Practical Nurse Education Center in Ann Arbor.

Curtis Nolan, son of Mrs. Neil Pearson, who has been assistant manager of Acme Quality Paints in Saginaw, has been transferred to the Battle Creek store where he has accepted the position of manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jewell and family of Washington, D. C. spent the weekend with his parents, Mr and Mrs. Al Jewell. Daughter Helen Jewell of Port Huron and son Alfred of Ogden, Utah were also guests, as were Mr. and Mrs. William Every, in the Jewell home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Bilby and Richard and Mr. and Mrs. Fay Dowling arrived home Monday evening after an eight-day trip to Canada and northern Michigan.

Ray Sluyter returned Saturday from Camp Algoquin, Burt Lake, and attended a gift show in Detroit Sunday and Monday with his mother, Mrs. Ray Sluyter Sr.

Gretta Porter of New York City spent from Saturday until Monday afternoon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Porter.

Frank Lasky has returned from a three-week stay with his son, Raymond, and his wife and baby in California.

Mrs. Hugh Walter is in Newaygo, visiting her sister.

A birthday party for Dale Allen Driscoll, 1, and Michael Higgins, 16, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Driscoll Monday with 19 attending. Dale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Driscoll and Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Higgins. Homemade ice cream was enjoyed during the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Siwik, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crosby and family and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gray and son were also present.

Francis Hewlett arrived home Saturday after an extended visit in California.

About 50 attended the fifth annual picnic of the Missionary Baptist Church held Monday at the Britton Park. Following the potluck meal, horse shoes and baseball were played. The Rev. Paul Revlett arranged the festivity.

Thursday the family of Mrs. Walter Stutesman gathered at her home on S. Maumee St. Lt. and Mrs. James L. Stutesman of Fort Kobbe, Panama Canal Zone, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stutesman and David of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howder of Ironwood, Mary Alice and Louise were all present.

Lt. Stutesman and his wife left by plane Monday night to return to the Canal Zone. Mr. and Mrs. Howder will remain in the area and Mrs. Howder has accepted a position teaching English in the Onsted High School.

Sunday Mrs. Stutesman accompanied her daughter, Mary Alice, to Detroit, where she enrolled at the Bible College.

Margaret Lowry has returned to the city after a month's visit with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Jones, and family in Henderson, N.C.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ries were their daughter, Mrs. William Swanston and Jackie Dale of Long Branch, N.J.; Ann McFadden, Mrs. Roberta Smith and children of Keansburg, N.Y., and Judy and Louise Ginn of Toledo.

Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Ries of Blissfield and Mrs. Sally Lair of Adrian.

Child Study Group Plans New Year

Child Study Club I will have its first meeting of the fall at 8:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 10, in the home of Mrs. Norman Bailey at 209 N. Maumee St. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Stanley Kruse.

The program will include a report led by Mrs. Arthur Schwartz. Mrs. Hugh Des Ermia and Mrs. Keith Barron are in charge of favors.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITORS:

I wish to say many thanks for the help your paper has given me through the year.

I certainly wish to thank Mrs. Dorothy Grigg, society editor, for her help. She has been very kind and never too busy to listen to me.

Mrs. LaVern Seizert,
Publicity Chairman,
Legion Auxiliary

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

This letter is a little past due, but after being in Florida a week, it takes two weeks just to get adjusted to Michigan weather and working again.

We would like to thank the Tecumseh Herald and all the Merchants who participated in sponsoring the Florida Trip. It really was worth while and as many people know, we never could have gone on our own, as our three sons come first. On the other hand it certainly was nice to sit down and eat a meal without jumping up and down.

The people in Florida take their time, are not in a hurry to go fast. Their pace is much slower; we walked down the street the way we do here and people turned around to see where we were going in such a hurry. It really is hard to slow down, but twice as hard to speed back up here.

We were also surprised to find the residents in Florida aren't from the South. Most of them are from the North and have moved South to live. (Can't blame em....)

For us the first flight was amazing. Neither of us had flown on a "Big" plane. You can hardly make anyone believe you are going 150 m.p.h. in ten seconds from a standstill — on take off. We ran into a small storm going and a larger one coming back. We also saw lightening below us. It certainly is like floating on a cloud.

As far as the Monte Carlo Hotel was concerned, there's no nicer one in Miami Beach. We would recommend it highly for anyone who is interested. It's pool is the only one that's lighted at night, and the water in the ocean and pool at night is as warm as bathwater.

We would like a special thanks to go to Mr. and Mrs. Pickard who gave us the roses in March and also a beautiful corsage of mums and roses and a boutonniere for the flight. Their thoughtfullness was greatly appreciated. If anyone would like to see the pictures of us, taken at poolside they are at Pickards Floral Shop.

There is one recommendation that we would like to make. That $100.00 be included in the trip. This would take care of the Florida Sales Tax on the Hotel and which would help buy food. Then the trip would be "All Expense Trip". There is an income tax, that has to be paid by all winners, which most people do not think about. That in itself takes quite a bit.

P.S.

Once again thanks to all the Herald Staff for their co-operation.

Walt and Norma Wonderly

TO THE EDITORS:

Once again it is time to send the money for another year of enjoyable reading.

Each week I look forward to the arrival of The Herald. I often read news in the paper that the folks neglect to write us.

We have had Michigan visitors here this summer. It's lots of fun to show off this wonderful country. Anyone from "home" would be welcomed here.

Thanks for the remainder and we'll be looking forward to continue reading the Herald.

Mrs. William J. Starkey

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

I am very sorry to miss your public meeting next Thursday evening regarding the preservation of old St. Peter's Episcopal Church. I'll be roaming around the state of Illinois all week.

My hope is that everyone will rally 'round the Episcopalians and show them that they have something too precious to tear down.

Why can't they consider it a missionary project with all the dioceses contributing? The Methodists preserved old St. George's in Philadelphia in like manner.

Mrs. T. Rentschler

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

Why not a Dad's Club for Tecumseh High School?

Interested fan.

—o—

TO THE EDITORS:

I have just read the John Manning article in the Free Press concerning St. Peter's Church.

This beautiful building must be a source of joy and inspiration to anyone passing through your town. It has been to me.

I am interested for another reason. As a child I was an avid listener to stories my grandfather, the late Anson Dickinson, told of pioneer days. His father, the Rev. Anson Dickinson, unitarian minister, Ogdensburg, N. Y., settled in Kedgies Grove in 1826. He worked as a carpenter in Tecumseh, where he 'suffered a fever" and died in 1834, leaving his wife and five children in the wilderness.

My grandfather's mother, Eliza Carpenter Dickinson, told him stories of two remarkable men his father knew, Gen. J. W. Brown and Rev. Lyster.

So here is my check. Sorry it is so small, but a drop starts the ocean.

Arts Join Flower Show

The Little Garden Club extends a special invitation to every member of the community to exhibit a special craft, hobby or art at the Flower and Art Show at the Community Center this Saturday, Sept. 8.

Space can be reserved for exhibits by calling Mrs. Robert Murray at HA 3-3357 or Mrs. Douglas Dunn at HA 3-4525. Mrs. Rick Kureth is in charge of the staging for the crafts and art exhibits.

Anyone having horticulture displays may call Mrs. Don Ketteman at HA 3-2079, Mrs. Earl Baldwin at HA 3-4972 or Mrs. Richard Hammel at HA 3-7135. There will be a junior division also.

Young and older entrants are invited to show their talents in flower arranging in the class "The American Way." These arrangements should be about 15" by 16" or less. So space can be saved for them, call Mrs. Ketteman.

All arrangements should be at the Community Center by 10 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 8 and may be removed at 8 p.m. when the show closes. Craft exhibits should be taken to the center between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Friday.

In the past visitors have come from as far as Detroit, Monroe and Toledo to attend the show, and been impressed by the collection of talent from our community. This has encouraged the Little Garden Club to make this an annual event.

Admission is free and the show will open at 2 p.m.

Punch and cookies will be served.

Serviceman Home to Wed

Specialist 4/C Paul E. Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Scott of 419 W. Cummins St., arrived by jet Saturday at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

Specialist Scott, stationed with the military police in Frankfurt, Germany, is on 30-day leave, and will spend it honeymooning with his new bride.

The serviceman and Margaret Bayless, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Bayless of 502 W. Chicago Blvd., will be married Saturday, Sept. 8, in Tecumseh Friends Church.

Specialist Scott, who has been in Germany the past year, has re-enlisted for another three-year period. He and his bride will leave for Frankfurt the latter part of September.

Former Gangster Speaks

[illegible] Mensik of Chicago will speak at the opening fall rally of the Teen Life Crusade, Saturday, Sept. 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Adrian Armory.

Mr. Mensik was converted to Christian living after a life of juvenile delinquency and gangland crime.

Having been associated with some of Chicago's most notorious criminals, Mensik's new life has led the Chicago Police Department to destroy his finger-print file and all records held against him.

His conversion Mr. Mensik immediately began working in rescue missions and prisons.

He was invited by the Commissioner of Prisons in Canada to tour the prisons of that country and preach the gospel to the inmates.

He has worked steadily along this line in the Chicago area and in surrounding states.

Other features of the rally will be congregational singing and special music.

Teen Life Crusade is a denominational organization dedicated to the task of meeting the spiritual needs of the youth of Lenawee county. The pastor of Grace Bible Church, the Rev. David Holly, invites anyone interested to attend the meeting.

TIPTON NOTES

The Cornpoppers Farm Bureau Group will meet Saturday, Sept. 15 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Whelan. The topic will be "Net Farm Incomes". Members are to bring a pie.

√

Tipton Grange will meet Friday, Sept. 7. A potluck supper will be served at 7:30 p.m. Members are to bring a dish to pass, sandwiches and dessert.

√

Two new teachers at the Tipton School will be Mrs. Lucille Bailey of Onsted, 1st grade and Mrs. Lois Shaw from Ridgeway teaching the 6th grade. Other teachers are Mrs. Doris Tonneberger, 2nd grade and also Principle, Mrs. Myrna Edwards, 3rd grade, Mrs. Mable Young 4th grade and Mrs. Doris Jones 5th grade.

√

Milk will be sold at noon for 4 cents a carton. The noon hour supervisors will be Mrs. Margaret McMicheal and Mrs. Juanita Cox. Mrs. Jones will be in charge of the safety patrol.

√

√

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Munger returned home Sunday after spending 9 weeks at Topton, N. C. where they have opened a gift shop called "The Old Depot." Jerry Tuffey from Topton is a guest of the Mungers for an indefinite period.

TIPTON NOTES

Mrs. Walter Beck returned home Monday from Herrick Hospital where she has been a medical patient.

√

The Franklin Garden Club will be held Tuesday, Sept. 11 at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Cameron. There will be a 12:30 luncheon. Karl Pauli of Erie, Mich. will be the guest speaker.

OBITUARIES

● WILLIAM P. ROGERS

Services were held Wednesday at the Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton for William Rogers, 41, of 510 Tecumseh Road, Clinton who died Saturday at Tawas City as the result of a heart attack.

Mr. Rogers was in the northern part of the state on a fishing trip over the Labor Day weekend.

He was an employee of the Tecumseh Products Co.

Born in Chicago March 12, 1921, he was the son of Chester and Mary Krawish Rogers.

While in service he married Irene Ogden of Clinton June 9, 1945.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Rogers was a member of Camp A, 770th Division, of the Armed Forces, an honorary member of the Clinton Jaycees and a member of the Congregational church.

Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters, Bonnie, 15, and Penny, 12; four brothers, Bert of Clinton and Charles, George and Raymond, all of Chicago.

Three sisters, Mrs. Isabelle Regner and Mrs. Geneieve Denniss of Oaklawn, Ill., and Mrs. Gertrude Hansen of Springfield, Ill. also survive.

The Rev. Paul McKenna officiated and burial was in the Riverside cemetery.

● MRS. T. RAYMOND MILLS

Services were held Wednesday at the Collins-Corkery Funeral Home for Mrs. Raymond Mills, 72, of 630 Raisin Center Highway.

She died Saturday at Herrick Memorial Hospital, where she had been a patient for several days.

The daughter of James and Carolyn Cupples, she was born Nov. 28, 1889 at Spring Lake.

Her husband preceded her in death in 1949.

Mrs. Mills was a teacher in New York City, Detroit, Ludington and Tecumseh, spending most of her time in the Lenawee area.

She was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary.

She is survived by four cousins.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham officiated and burial was in the Brookside cemetery.

Golf Standings Hold

Only two points separated the first three teams of the Tecumseh Products Golf League, but the teams held their positions for their final two rounds Aug. 30.

Robert Beevers' team kept first place by defeating Bernard Fisher's group, Chuck Newell's team won over Wendell Reum's, Dan Goller's team took two from Dean Hamilton's, William Walker's group won over Ben Gillies' and Merlin Schultz's team defeated Gerald Baker's.

Two members tied for low score of the season, with 35's. Chuck Newell had an eagle 3 on the 5-par No. 5 hole.

Final Standings were:

	W	L
Beevers	29	7
Newell	28	8
Goller	27	9
Reaum	21	15
Walker	16	20
Schultz	14	22
Hamilton	14	22
Gillies	12	24
Baker	10	26
Fisher	9	27

New, Fall Fabrics Need Proper Care

Fall's big harvest of new fabrics needs proper care or you may be rationing your clothes before spring.

Finding that your new stretch pants are too long when you take them off the hanger, for instance, may just ruin your ski weekend.

Stretch fabrics have a tendency to "grow" when hung, according to a Michigan State University clothing specialist, so store them flat.

Washing or dry cleaning will restore the original shape, but . . . perhaps too late for the holiday.

"Before buying new fabrics and garments, make sure you know their cleaning and storing requirements," says Margaret Reed. "Such information can prevent heartbreaking calamities.

"Laminates are here again this fall, particularly in sportswear," Miss Reed says. "They usually dry clean or launder well. However, some women have found that the outer fabric may shrink or the two fabrics may come apart.

"This it not a result of the laminate, but of the quality of fiber and weave of the outer fabric and the kind of adhering process used. Your best guarantee is to buy from a reputable dealer."

☆

COTTON SUEDE, especially popular because of this year's western influence, should be dry cleaned just as suede leather is, the specialist says. Washing may cause fading, shrinkage or damage to the sueded surface.

Following label directions is usually the safest method.

If your cotton suede garment is water-repellent, remember that this finish must be reapplied to the fabric after each dry cleaning just as it is to other fabrics, Miss Reed points out.

Also, because suede tends to fade, store it in a dark closet and don't place it in the sunny window of your car when traveling.

"Even more natural furs are being imitated this year," she says, "but the synthetic furs are also being used as a fabric on their own. They are finding wide use as trims as well as for entire garments.

"Remember that just as 'fake furs' looks like the real thing, they must also be treated like the real thing. Furs require a dark closet for storage and have a 'don't crowd me' atittude. Tight packing can break hairs and cause creases."

Romantic Harvest Moon Appears Next Thursday

Romantic Harvest Moon will make its first appearance at 11:12 p.m. on Sept. 13 and its a good bet that many of its advocates will stay up to welcome it in.

The peculiarity of this full moon, as distinguished from other occasions when the moon is near full phase, is its slight delay in rising for several nights in succession.

Due to this small retardiation, the evenings at harvest time are well supplied with moon light and attract much attention.

On the average, the moon rises nearly an hour later each evening, but this delay varies considerably during the year due to the angle that the moon's path makes with the eastern horizon.

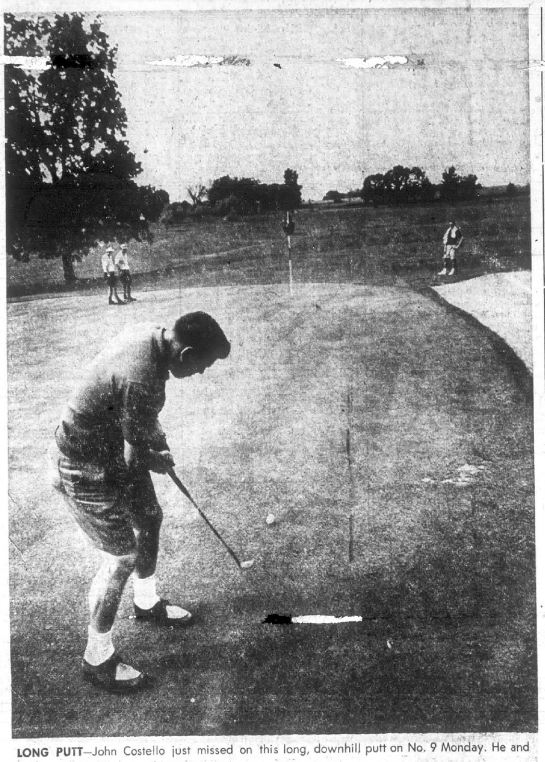
In the autumn, this retardation is the shortest of the whole year, being around 20 minutes in contrast to more than an hour in the spring, and hence becomes very noticeable.

Auto Rolls at Speedway

Dick Carr of Tecumseh rolled his car down the straight-way during the semi-finals at the Manchester Speedway August 25. A lot of excitement ensued but no one was hurt.

Dick Crup of Hudson was the first heat winner. Other winners were:

Second — Tom Strauss, Litchfield
Third—Dick Crup
Fourth — Bob Brown, Manchester
Pursuit—Dick Crup
Consolation—Jerry Cole, Litchfield
Semi—Ed Hage, Ypsilanti
Feature—Harold Schill, Manchester
Powder Puff — Jean Schill, Manchester



LONG PUTT—John Costello just missed on this long, downhill putt on No. 9 Monday. He and partner Frank Rice won the tournament.

Senior Citizens Join Corps

Do the "golden years" of retirement quickly tarnish?

For many retired persons this is tragically true, according to Gary D. Hansen, director of the Michigan Commission on Aging.

"Men and women who have been busy and active during their working years soon discover that retirement isn't the idyllic life they had imagined," he said. "They soon become bored with doing little or nothing. Reading and television are helpful diversions, but they can't fill the entire day.

"Retired people need something useful to do. It's important to them psychologically to feel that they are still a vital part of their community."

To make the retirement years full and meaningful, Mr. Hansen continued, is the purpose of the Senior Service Corps, which the Commission on Aging is sponsoring. The Corps, working through information and referral centers, will provide job and volunteer service opportunities for men and women 60 years of age and over.

The recruiting goal of the Senior Service Corps is 10,000 members during the next year, Hansen revealed.

"We feel that the corps will utilize the skills and talents of senior adults, which unfortunately are untapped at present. We believe that the corps will be mutually beneficial to members and the communities they live in. Many jobs which younger people do not have time or talent for, will be done. Needed volunteer services, now unmanned, will be performed, and the Senior Service Corps members will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are highly valuable and vital to their community."

Persons can join the Senior Service Corps by sending $1 membership dues and a card listing their name, address, phone number, age, sex and past or present work experience or volunteer service to:

WATCH OUT EARTH—When burley lineman Steve Fretwell takes off after a loose football he goes all out. It's a wonder the poor little pigskin survives after being crushed by about 215 pounds of bone and muscle—but like the boys, the footballs are rugged, too. Steve is a tackle on the 1962 edition of the Tecumseh Indians.

Relationship of God, Man

Indestructible relationship of God and man will be emphasized at Christian Science church services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on "Man" include the following verse (Psalm 18): "It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect."

'QB' – A Busy Man

One of the busiest fellows on the modern T-formation football team is the quarterback—the QB. He handles the ball on almost every play, runs, passes, spins, fakes. That's Tim Sisson's job with the 1962 Tecumseh High eleven, which opens its year Sept. 14 with Willow Run on the Indian gridiron. In the top photo, Tim shows the viewer what the football looks like to a halfback about to snatch it from him. In the other picture, Tim tosses a shot pass to End Norm Tucker. Both of these lads are veterans, and should play key roles for Coach Tom Fagan. Incidentally, these Herald pictures were made with a 21mm wide angle lens, which can cover a sweep of 92 degrees. In the top shot, the camera was only inches away from the football.

Dickinsons Are Surprised

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Dickinson were surprised on their golden wedding anniversary, August 27, at the home of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Dickinson, on W. Pottawatamie St.

The senior Dickinsons arrived home at 4:30 from three weeks spent at Douglas Lake to find a note pinned to their door asking them to go to their son's home for dinner.

Featured at the buffet table was a cake decorated with a gold horse shoe with the numerals 50 in gold made by Mrs. Raynor Kerr. Yellow sweet peas further enhanced the pretty white cake.

Mrs. Mahlon Sebring also assisted Mrs. Dickinson with the arrangements.

The Sebring family Mr. Kerr and grandsons, Tom and Tim, were also in attendance.

Two beautiful money trees were presented to the honored couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Lang nee Janet Dickinson and sons, James and Frederick, spent the past three weeks at Douglas lake with her parents.

BABY PICTURES

Technically I suppose this title is a bit misleading. Misleading that is, unless we divide a bird's life into but two stages, babyhood and adulthood.

The pictures I have been taking lately are not of newly-hatched birds an hour or two out of the egg—this type of picture would be physically impossible for me to get and besides, at such a tender age most birds are far from attractive.

However, the young birds we have been entertaining, and photographing, at the feeding stations are so amusingly young that, with your permission, I am going to call them babies.

August is always blue-jay month around here; no matter [illegible] have or have not visited us earlier in the summer, we always know that the eighth month will be busy.

Have you ever seen a bald-headed blue jay? Believe me, it is quite a ridiculous sight.

Baldy is beginning to feather out now and although still not a good looking bird he is certainly improving.

When he first started feeding, from the shoulders down everything was normal; his blue and white feathers were bright and so pretty. From the neck up, however, was a different matter; his black eyes seemed over-sized and buggy, his head but for a few little feathers was bald and his long scrawny neck was completely naked. [illegible] even, have loved him?

☆

THIS IS not our first experience with a bald baby blue. We have pictures taken several seasons ago and although it is hard to imagine, I think those two were in worse shape even than this year's.

Gradually the head feathers grow in of course but my, some funny pictures are available during the feathering out process.

Another good subject is a baby begging for food. There always seem to be sparrows screaming at their bedraggled parents but they aren't too exciting.

A baby blue jay, though, is a different matter. Their mouths are enormous and the inside is fiery red.

The best picture I have of a baby bluejay head-on is marred by a defect in the film. I keep trying to get another but it is amazing how almost impossible it is to get a bird in the middle of the feeder and then have him open his mouth and look right up at the camera.

So far my best shot of a baby blue this year is a back view.

His wings are partially spread and the sun adds an almost sparkling quality to his beautiful coloring.

His head is turned just enough to show how terribly big his mouth is—it's not at all hard to look at the picture and know exactly the noise that was going on as it was taken.

☆

YOUNG MR. Cardinal is a feeder regular. He is a bit shy of the flash but instead of flying away, he usually just hops to the other side of the feeding tray.

There, he flips his top knot and glares at us for having interrupted his lunch. This top knot is a riot—it consists of two straggly little feathers.

He is apparently quite proud of them, though, and at the slightest provocation shows them off.

Mr. C's black mask is well developed but really, that two feathered top knot makes him look like a Dick Tracy character, Flat Top.

He has other trouble, too. His red suit is dull with large patches of even duller brownish-gray showing. What is it they say about some youngsters having trouble growing up?

So it is that the camera has been busy lately—we have been having fun with baby pictures.

Gradys Visit Aboard Ship

BRITTON — Joyce Grady of Inglewood, Calif., formerly of Maple St., Britton, spent two days in San Francisco, recently when she greeted her brother, Navy Airman Gerald Grady aboard the USS Hancock.

Joyce was accompanied by Mrs. Grady and daughter Lisa Jo.

The families of the men were allowed aboard the flight deck of the ship.

Joyce spent two days with her brother and his family before returning to Inglewood by plane.

A picture of Gerald being greeted by his wife and daughter, whom he had not seen for over six months, appeared in a San Francisco newspaper, and a copy of it was received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Grady.

He expects to be discharged before Thanksgiving Day.

One Year

BRITTON—Jeffery Robert Osterhout was honored on the anniversary of his first birthday at a dinner party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osterhout, in their home.

Guests included grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell of Holloway and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osterhout of Britton.

Other guests were Lois Vince of Holloway and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tucker of Britton.

Osterhouts' Anniversary Celebrated

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osterhout and Yvonne entertained at a family dinner Sunday.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Osterhout and family of Sand Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Newell and family of Deerfield, Harlan George of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur George and family of Tecumseh and Mrs. Grace Raeburg of Deerfield.

Those from Britton were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bush and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Osterhout and two children and Russell Cadmus.

The gathering also shared in honoring Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Osterhout's wedding anniversary, and the birthdays of Wendell Osterhout, Jeffrey Osterhout, Paula Newell and Larry and Myra Bush, which takes place in a two-week period.

Guests Win Card Prizes

BRITTON—Two of the three guests won prizes last Thursday evening when Mrs. Charles Fairbanks entertained the G8 Club in her home.

Filling in for the euchre session were Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, who was the winner of the high score prize. She also won a prize for the most lone hands.

Mrs. Raymond Auten also filled in and received the low score prize.

Mrs. Fay Hindes was also a guest for the evening.

The group will meet next with Mrs. Jim Johnson, who will soon be moving to Monroe.

Fall Schedule Begins Sunday at Britton Church

BRITTON — Fall schedule of services in the Congregational Christian Church begins Sunday.

At the 10:30 morning worship, the Rev. Gustav Hannevik will speak on "Footprints of God through the Centuries."

The Choir under the direction of Mrs. William Raeburn will sing.

Sunday School will begin at 11:15.

The staff has recently held two planning sessions for Rally Day and Promotions, to be held Sept. 30.

NEWS of Britton

Sorensens Are Guests

BRITTON — The Rev. Jack Sorensen and family were guests of honor Friday at a pot luck dinner held in the school cafeteria.

Rev. Sorensen, pastor of the Britton Baptist Church for the past six years, has accepted a pastorate in Kalkaska and plans to leave Wednesday, Sept. 12.

Seventy-five persons were present for the farewell dinner which followed a program presented by members of his church. The Rev. Bob Howder was master of ceremonies and introduced a duet by Mary Alice and Louise Stutesman, accordion solo by Ruth Elaine Clark, solo by Edna Mae Bryant and a reading by Mrs. Annabel VanVorst.

Group singing preceded the program.

Rev. and Mrs. Sorensen were presented with an automatic coffeemaker and electric fry-pan from the group.

Shirley Sorensen and Marilyn and Philip Smith were each presented with a zipper-enclosed World Bible.

Rummage Sale Is Scheduled

BRITTON—Members and fellow workers of the Congregational Christian Church are reminded of the Church rummage sale at the former implement store on the corner of M-50 and Britton Hwy.

Sept. 6-8 are the dates for the sale and the committee asks that all merchandise be brought in before Saturday, Sept. 8.

Household items such as used appliances, toasters, irons, dishes, bedding, curtains and draperies are needed, as well as good used clothing and toys.

Ladies dress shoes are not needed, but there is a demand for flats and tennis shoes.

Bride-Elect Given Party

BRITTON — A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Bette Bailey was given last Wednesday by her aunt, Mrs. Harrison Bailey, and daughter Judy at their home in rural Hudson.

Games were played and prizes awarded to Mrs. Frank Glenn and Sandra Bailey of Tecumseh and Kathy Bailey of Britton.

The honor guest opened many gifts from the 18 guests who were present from Wayne, Hudson, Tecumseh and Britton.

Girls Have Joint Party

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Downing and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cheever entertained at the former's home for the pleasure of their daughters, Linda and Priscilla, who were celebrating their 16th birthdays.

Thirty young people enjoyed an evening of games and dancing.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses and featured a twin heartshaped birthday cake baked and decorated by Mrs. John Houseman.

Russian Children Appeal to Janet

JANET GRAHAM

EDITORS' NOTE: This is the third letter Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graham have received from their daughter, Janet, who is on tour with the University of Michigan Russian Tour. The study group was to have final examinations in Amsterdam Sept. 3, arrive in New York Sept. 4, and Janet was expected home in Macon Wednesday, Sept. 5.

(Postcard: Aug. 14) What a trip! The ship was beautiful and our hotel real luxury. Ballet, Swan Lake, our first night here, and besides my first ballet, my first Russian friends. We said 'American' to one man and BANG we were so surrounded we nearly suffocated. Monday, [illegible] and Lenser Camp where the kids treated us like movie stars. We fell in love with them, and all came home wearing the little pins they gave away, "In memory."

(17th, Hotel Intourist, Kiev.) I've got a little extra time on my hands — like the whole day. I'm ill, so here I sit while everybody else goes to see a Soviet factory. Oi! Be a great chance to talk to Russians, if I weren't on the 5th floor of a hotel and they on the street below.

The CCCP is doing its best to keep us too busy to talk to Russians. We have a total of about two free hours a day, and all excursions, etc., are in private busses. But we have made some friends and gotten in some talking.

Better start where I left off.

ATHENS WAS amazing. Osip and I walked at least seven or eight miles a day, he says, down little back streets, looking in shops and really feeling like tourists because we couldn't even read the signs. Once in a while one was readable because of the alphabet similarity but completely unintelligible still.

I couldn't resist buying a hand-embroidered skirt and blouse, the skirt of which is now on the way home with a broken zipper — day after I bought it. But I'd never have been able to tell the shopman I wanted my money back, and why, although I've become so good at saying no to beggars and peddlers [illegible] we no more compunctions. I've also learned to beware of thieves and only one managed to cheat me, and that was because he did it so brazenly (and only six cents) that I had to laugh and have it to write home.

I paid 12 drachmas by cab to the American Express Office, and then the driver on the way home wanted to charge me 16. He had no meter at all, so rather than try to argue I gave him a 20. He gave me 2 in change and said, "No have no more," and I could tell that although he'd been conversing with me a moment ago, he would now have not a word of English at his command. Robber! But you have no idea what the equivalent of 6 American cents will buy in Greece for a real Greek (they have tourist prices too). He could at least feed his whole family for a day with it.

"When we got to Piraeus we had to sit from 11 a.m. 'til 2:30 p.m. in the customs house. We were so hot and tired [illegible] dirty and dirty that the director sent some guards to move us into another room because (word for word quote) "He does not like your dishevelled appearance."

There was not a single chair in that building and we stood all those hours because the floor was too dirty to sit on. We bought loaves of bread and tore them up and munched, and cool green grapes and little pears. They helped a while but by the end of two hours we were snapping at each other.

I have never in my life been in such honest-to-goodness misery. The Olympia was sitting in the harbor on its way back to America from Haifa and I would gladly have forfeited all the rest of my money just to get on that wonderful boat and head back to N.Y. But it passed, as things do, and the ocean breeze was cool on the Litva. We had a girl waitress who couldn't be any older than I and who sternly asked us why we didn't eat our breakfast (when not a one of us could down anything past the first mouthful).

Even Ida Maximovna, who it turns out, is 62, asks the waitresses' pardon when it's too hot to eat the soup, or something.

☆

IN ODESSA we drove to the hotel and stood in the lobby and paired off for rooms. I was involved in the intricacies of suitcases and when I turned around, I was the only girl without a roommate and Jim was the only boy. I went to my assigned room and washed up and much to my surprise, in walked Jim with a slip assigning him to the same room! We were [illegible] and straightened them out about the "difference between" and our whole group spent the rest of the day in sudden fits of laughter whenever they thought of it.

Swan Lake that night, just beautiful! And whenever we answered 'Americans' when someone asked for a match, there was suddenly a huge crowd asking about schools, homes, money for the trip, etc.

Monday at the beach, same thing. They were delighted with my pictures, and thought Grandma and Grandpa were my mother and father. They wanted to know why my sister isn't married yet, and what my brother plans to be, and do we exploit our farm workers, and will I write to them.

At the pioneer camp, we heard a concert and suddenly they were to me a bunch of American kids singing in a group under American trees, with Mr. Bennett leading them. All I could think was I don't WANT our children to kill each other! Still when I remember that evening, tears spring up. A little girl sang English songs for us and they asked us to sing for them. We applauded each other wildly, and they asked for our autographs and addresses, and pinned little pins on us.

You've never seen such a beautiful collection of kids in your lives. Ninety percent of the Ukrainian girls have huge thick shiny braids to below their waists, and the boys have curly hair and great dark eyes. They're small people (showers are only 5'5" high and our tall boys are having problems), and so straight and firm when they're young.

We visited a kolhoe T[illegible] and met the president, a hearty, handsome man, named Benedikt Branislavich Gavrilkevich. He told us about the place, and about their culture programs, and showed us beautiful horses, and the place where they make wine. We saw a sanatorium too, where everyone gets 26 free days, just like a huge resort.

☆

IT IS great to be someplace where we can understand some of the language. And although we're still not fluent enough to concentrate on accent, grammar and speed, when some of us get going with real Russians we can speak almost their speed a lot of the time, reasonably correctly grammatically, and express an idea even when we don't know the word.

A lady on the train told me I express myself very well, after I explained something to her, and I felt about 10 feet tall. But is my accent bad! Grownups tactfully tell us, "You speak Russian very well," but the kids at the camp said consolingly, "You don't speak Russian very well, do you? But never mind, you'll learn."

11:30 now, and I'm going to learn vocabulary 'til supper and when we spend the day on the beach tomorrow I'm going to be able to express more.

I'd better quit, the poor censor will have quite a time even with this.

☆

I should probably be home on the 5th and am I homesick for the refrigerator. Have it full of vegetables, because I'm going to eat raw fruits and vegetables all day from the 5th to the 9th to be able to handle school again.

I especially want grapes and tomatoes and carrots and raw peppers. We are missing absolutely everything necessary to a good diet. Here, they've given us the same fried potatoes, little pieces of meat, and bread, bread, bread every meal. They have the most wonderful, thick bread, almost like very un-sweet pound cake, same consistency. And they load the table with it, and we, with our huge appetites from all the traveling, are eating the equivalent of a loaf of bread each, per day.

Oh yes, and have milk, by the gallon! There's been none since the last morning on the Olympia and won't be 'til home. And lots and lots of orange juice.

Two more plane trips, both easier than Detroit-N.Y., but both stormy, everybody sick but me. We get tired, but not too tired to love Russian human beings, and American ones too. See you not soon enough.

The engagement of Judith Ann Kempf to Dean R. Pilbeam is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kempf of 500 W. Kilbuck St. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pilbeam of 10333 Pennington Rd. A winter wedding is planned.

Dr. Rentschler Attends Clinical Refresher Course

Dr. Truman Rentschler of Tecumseh will attend the annual clinical refresher course of the Chicago College of Osteopathy, Sept. 6 through 8.

The course will feature reports from the Chicago Osteopathic hospital staff on current developments in clinical osteopathic medicine and workshops on practical problems in office practice.

Dr. Rentschler is a graduate of the college.

All-Star Squads Drop Two

In an exhibition baseball game at the Lenawee County Fair, Clinton defeated a Tecumseh Pony League All-Star squad, 8-5.

Included on the Tecumseh squad were:

PITCHER—Randy Dotson

CATCHER—Jim Green

INFIELDERS — Larry Roe, Lynn Feldman, Dick Warner, Mack Meyers and Doug Gillis.

OUTFIELDERS — Randy Work, Tom Rinehart, Gordy Gibson, Bob Donahoe, Ken Bagby and Jim Biscupski.

The All-Star squad was coached by Curtis Belcher assisted by Rhinehart Radant.

☆

ADRIAN defeated the Tecumseh Cub League All-Stars, 4-3, in extra innings at the Fair.

The All-Stars from Tecumseh included:

PITCHER—Gary Rutledge

CATCHER—Chuck Gillis

INFIELDERS—Garry Easton, Rick Durkee, Cecil Stanley, Gerald Slick, Buddy Work and John Bolden.

OUTFIELDERS — Jim Upell, Randy Robinson, Jim Goodman, Louis Caterina, Jim Mobley, John Hamilton and Steve Ring.

John Snyder was the coach.

Drivers Must Take Extra Care

With the reopening of schools in Michigan, more than two million students will be in the daily traffic flow, State Police report.

Motorists are cautioned that extra care is again required to avoid accidents in school and residential areas and where they see the familiar yellow school buses.

About 193,000 children are going to school for the first time.

Less experienced in traffic than older students, some of these first-timers may impulsively neglect their own safety in crossing streets and roads.

☆

CITING THE need for increased vigilance whenever there are children in or near traffic, the State Police point out that 104 children under 15 years of age were killed in car-pedestrian accidents in Michigan last year and another 3,504 injured.

In the same age group, 24 bicyclists were killed and 1,581 injured.

Traffic in the vicinity of school buses is especially hazardous in rural areas. In 496 rural school bus accidents last year two children were killed and 347 other persons, including adults, injured.

Michigan law requires motorists to stop from either direction when rural school buses stop to receive or discharge passengers.

A new point for motorists to bear in mind is that rural school buses must be stopped on the roadway.

This is in accordance with the state attorney general's opinion announced earlier this year.

Previous procedure was for a rural school bus to be stopped completely off the main traveled portion of the road when possible to do so.
